The following organizations will receive grants in 2017:

- PrimeLife Enrichment Inc. $240,000

Kenley and Richardson receive Sagamore of the Wabash

Indiana's Governor and Vice President-elect, Mike Pence, presented Indiana State Representative Kathy Richardson and Indiana Senator Luke Kenley with the Sagamore of the Wabash Award. Richardson and Kenley are both Noblesville residents. Richardson represents District 29 in the Indiana House of Representatives and is the Hamilton County Elections Administrator. Kenley represent District 20 in the Indiana Senate. The Sagamore of the Wabash award is presented by Indiana's Governor as a personal tribute usually given to those who rendered distinguished service to the state or to the governor.

Main Street announces new leadership team for 2017

Noblesville Main Street is proud to announce the 2017 Executive Committee after recent elections confirmed officers for the coming year. Craig Crosser of Nova 29 Property Management will assume the role of president of the Board of Directors. Jackie Bell of Primrose School and previously the NMS Promotions Committee chair will step into the vice president's role. Darren Peterson of Peterson Architecture returns to the Executive Committee as treasurer after a year serving as chair of the Economic Development Committee. Finally, Jessica Billingsley from Church, Church, Hittle & Antrim will retain a position on the Executive Committee as secretary.

"I look forward to working with Chris Owens and the Board of Directors in 2017. As the president of the board, I am excited to be a part of the Executive Committee and to assist the board and Chris in our programming that helps makes Noblesville a one-of-a-kind Indiana city," said Craig Crosser, 2017 President of the Board. "My goal for 2017 is to continue valued partnerships with current members and sponsors, while reaching out and recruiting future members and sponsors by highlighting how Noblesville Main Street enhances the quality of life in Noblesville."

Additionally, the group has promoted their executive director, Chris Owens, to a new role as chief executive officer as a result of continued growth of the organization. "Over the last two years, Noblesville Main Street has experienced significant growth and extended the organization's reach as a vital contributor to the vibrancy of the community. The promotion to Chief Executive Officer better comprises the robust responsibilities of the top management position of our organization," said Alaina Shonkwiler, 2016 Vice President of the Board. "Chris Owens produces a large volume of work that encompasses an assemblage of talent, tasks and time, and the Board greatly appreciates the level of professionalism and passion he shows in his role. Chris' leadership of Noblesville Main Street has proven a valuable and recognizable asset in collaborative downtown initiatives with our many community partners and this promotion is a recognition of his efforts."

"I've said it many times, it is my distinct honor to serve my community through this role. I appreciate the recognition of our Executive Committee and Board of Directors. I also realize we are standing on the verge of great things in our downtown in terms of development in the midst of preservation. I am honored to lead this group into the future to make a positive impact on our home."

In a little more than two years at the helm of Noblesville Main Street, the fruits of Owens' efforts can be seen in a vastly increased membership base and dedicated efforts toward branding the organization both online and in the community. Recently

Hern moves to County Council

By FRED SWIFT

Jeff Hern, the Fall Creek Township trustee, is moving to a new political job next month. He will become a member of the Hamilton County Council. There, he will be sitting with Rick McKinney. McKinney was the victim of a campaign sign theft in which Hern has been charged.

The sign caper created big news in May with allegations of theft being leveled against Hern. Hern has been charged with Criminal Mischief and Marion County Superior Court Judge Linda Brown has set a hearing date of January 18th. Brown was appointed Special Judge due to the recusal of Hamilton County judges. Hancock County Prosecutor Brian Eaton has been assigned as the Special Prosecutor for the case.

Before Hern takes his council seat in January, he must give up the trustee job. He has announced his resignation and a caucus of the Republican precinct organization in Fall Creek has been called to elect a new trustee.

GOP County Chairwoman Laura Campbell has set that caucus for January 14 beginning at 10 a.m. in the Fall Creek Township Building at 116th and Brooks School Road. The new trustee will fill out the current term which runs through December 2018. Committeemen from all 37 township precincts will be eligible to vote.

Any Fall Creek registered voter could run for the trustee position, but folks already involved in Republican politics are the most likely candidates. Those interested must file by Jan. 11. One or more of the Township Board reportedly may run.

State law provides that the committeemen of the party of the departing official shall be entitled to choose his successor.

The caucus will be closed to the general public which is legal, but not required. Chairwoman Campbell says closing the meeting will help ensure that no participants will face undue influence.

The 10 major news stories for 2016

By FRED SWIFT

As the year comes to a close, it's time to review the Top Ten Hamilton County news stories of 2016. Fortunately, crime and carnage did not make big news locally as they did in some communities. The following are my picks for the major stories of the year.

The big national election in November tops the list. It had effects at the state and local level as a Donald Trump landslide made Gov. Mike Pence the next vice president and made possible the election of Todd Young to the U.S. Senate. Young grew up in Hamilton County where his parents still reside. The GOP won all state and county races, but oddly in Hamilton County, Trump did not lead the ticket. Here, he ran several thousand votes behind other Republican candidates while leading the sweep statewide.

The Indiana Bicentennial was the second major story of the year, being celebrated in our county with tributes and programs all during the year. Special attention was paid to events at Conner Prairie where, in 1820, officials met to choose a site for a new state capital. The local historical societies offered exhibits on the county's contribution to state history, and the County Tourism Bureau took the lead in coordinating the county's contribution to the bicentennial including the popular local segment of the statewide Torch Run.

The announcement last summer of a state highway grant of $100 million for rebuilding State Road 37 was huge news, especially for motorists who drive the congested highway every day. Grants of this size are very unusual, and will, with local contributions, allow the highway to be converted to a non-stop freeway from Noblesville to I-69. Work should begin late next year or in 2018.

Growth and development continued unabated in 2016 with Hamilton County again having the most rapidly increasing population in the state. More new subdivisions, apartment projects and business developments like IKEA, Blue Sky, Grand Park expansion, Midtown District in Carmel and a planned recreational complex and fieldhouse east of Noblesville were announced or underway during the year.

Sad news came with the suspension of rail traffic on the Nickel Plate. There was no Fair Train, no Polar Bear Express or other excursion trains provided by the Indiana Transportation Museum. The museum, headquartered in Forest Park, experienced internal dissension which in turn led to the Hoosier Heritage Port Authority suspending permission to use the rail line until safety corrections are made. It remains uncertain when those corrections can be achieved.

In sports, the county saw two state high school football champions crowned. Westfield, in Class 5A, and Carmel in 6A, won spectacular victories in front of huge crowds at Lucas Oil Stadium. It was a first for Westfield and the 8th for Carmel.

James T. Neal died in September at age 95. He had guided the Noblesville Daily

Ledger for nearly 40 years and contributed greatly to the community. He was a founding member of the Boy's Club and Noblesville Parking Inc. which created public parking lots in downtown Noblesville. A West Point graduate, he was involved in Republican politics for many years including a term as state chairman. He also served as interim chairman of the Butler Journalism Department following retirement from the Ledger after the paper won the Hoosier State Press best daily newspaper award.

Unfortunately, Hamilton County suffered along with the rest of the state from increasing cases of heroin addiction and deaths this year. Officials fear the number of overdoses and deaths is under-reported as more people fall victim to the hazardous drug. Few want to talk about the problem despite the need to take steps to stop the

Indiana Senate Page Program applications now available

State Senator Luke Kenley (R-Noblesville) announced the Indiana Senate is now accepting applications for the Page Program.

This full-day interactive program gives students in grades six through 12 the opportunity to tour the Indiana Statehouse, observe session debates on the Senate floor, and assist staff with age-appropriate tasks. Students will also meet with their state senator.

"Serving as a Senate page gives students a chance to see state government up close," Kenley said. "I hope students in Senate District 20 will take advantage of this opportunity to learn about public service."

The 2017 Senate Page Program will run from Jan. 23 through mid-April. Positions fill quickly, so it is important to sign up early. Pages are scheduled for Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays during the legislative session starting at 8:30 a.m. and dismissing at 3:30 p.m. Groups serve together on Wednesdays. Serving as a page is considered an excused absence from school.

Ending 2016 letting it go

By JANET HART LEONARD

"The older you get, the more you realize you have no desire for drama, conflict, or any kind of intensity .

You just want a cozy home, a nice book, and a person who knows how you drink your coffee."

From Lessons Learned in Life.

Some people seemed to have signed up for a life long drama class. Some people enjoy a high intensity discussion that differs from the opinion of others. Some people seem to carry around a virtual bucket of water to throw on any idea that does not conform to their liking. Some people take offense to the the least little thing that is not going their way. Some people take great delight in pulling you into their misery.

"Nope, not going there." "I'll take my drama in a good book or tv show." "Your opinion differs from mine. It does not necessarily make you totally right nor me totally wrong. It makes us friends who disagree, not enemies." "Please keep your water off my ideas." "I won't take offense to your actions if you don't take offense to my thinking they are unacceptable." "I appreciate the invitaion into your misery but I must decline the offer."

Don't you wish you could say some of these responses when you are dealing with people? I have found it easier to walk away...as I have gotten older. I have found it easier to voice my opinion when needed and hold back my opinion when it isn't necessary...as I have gotten older. I have found it easier not to wear myself out trying to please everyone...as I have gotten older. Getting older does have its advantages. many things are easier.

Getting my brithes in a bunch over what is non of my business is a waste of time and effort. I have enough plates to spin and agendas to juggle. I'm not about to borrow trouble that isn't mine to worry about.

I have found that I can't fix everything. I can't make everyone happy. I can't please some people.

If, at the end of the day, I have made someone smile, then it's been a good day. If, at the end of the day, I know I have done my best, then I give myself an A for effort. Breath in a deep breath and let go of the stress of the day. I say the Serenity Prayer.

If someone has hurt me I have learned to weigh the value of the relationship. Is this an ongoing hurt? Are they truly sorry? Was the hurt intentional? Will the offense matter in five years?

As I enter in to 2017 I I have cancelled my subscription to the drama of others. I have learned that life is too short to live in constant chaos and upheaval. I have learned that walking on egg shells around some people is not worth it.

The best days are spent at home, curled up with an afghan, reading a good book and drinking a cup of coffee that my husband made for me, just the way I like it.

My best advice for 2017 is to let go of the stress of 2016 and give yourself permission to enjoy the hope and promises of 2017. And Enjoy your coffee!

New Year's Resolution...

Don't forget your annual company meeting

By CARLA V. GARINO, WEBSTER LEGAL LLC.

If you own a small business, you are probably aware that one of the advantages of operating your business as a corporation or a limited liability company (LLC) is the ability to shield your personal assets from business creditors. However, many business owners do not realize that there are a number of steps that should be taken to maintain this liability protection. Among these steps are "corporate formalities." You should be aware of these formalities because, as a business owner, you are responsible for ensuring compliance. In fact, you can be at risk for losing this personal liability protection if you, among other things, fail to observe the required corporate formalities. In a lawsuit, a plaintiff can attempt to "pierce the corporate veil" to reach your personal assets.

The Indiana Supreme Court has laid certain factors for Courts to consider in determining whether a plaintiff has met its burden to pierce the corporate veil: (1) undercapitalization; (2) absence of corporate records; (3) fraudulent representation by corporation shareholders or directors; (4) use of the corporation to promote fraud, injustice, or illegal activities; (5) payment by the corporation of individual obligations; (6) commingling of assets and affairs; (7) failure to observe required corporate formalities; or (8) other shareholder acts or conduct ignoring, controlling, or manipulating the corporate form. Aronson v. Price, 644 N.E.2d 864, 867 (Ind.1994).

In Indiana, corporations are governed by the Indiana Business Corporation Law ("IBCL") and LLCs are governed by the Indiana Business Flexibility Act ("IBFA"). The IBCL actually requires shareholder and directors to hold annual meetings while the IBFA is more relaxed in its corporate requirements. However, whether your company is a corporation or a LLC, the Courts apply the above factors in determining whether a plaintiff is able to pierce the corporate veil. Therefore, holding an annual company meeting is not only good practice but important for maintaining corporate records and observing corporate formalities.

What is an annual company meeting? A company meeting is an opportunity for the shareholders or members for a LLC to discuss a variety of topics including the operations of the company, goals and budgets, and the appointment of directors and officers.

How to plan a company meeting? First, each shareholder or member must receive written notice that the meeting is taking place. Prepare an agenda and include it with the written notice. You might also want to include a copy of the minutes from the last meeting, along with an update on the company's progress, including financial statements. If shareholders or members are able to review this paperwork ahead of time, they can come prepared to ask questions and provide important feedback.

Indiana law allows annual and regular meetings to be held inside or outside of Indiana at a place stated in the company bylaws. If a place is not stated or fixed in the bylaws, annual and regular meetings are to be held at the company's principal office. Alternatively, these meetings may be held by means of remote communication, such as Skype, if provided for in the bylaws.

Minutes of company meetings should also be kept. Under the IBCL, corporations are legally required to keep a written record of the meeting. Minutes content typically includes: time and place of the meeting, attendance and chair of the meeting, any actions taken, and the signature of the recorder and date. Keeping these minutes, even if you're a sole owner of your company, can help you stand up in court and protect your limited liability shield if needed.

There are a number of other corporate formalities and additional steps that should be taken in order to shield corporate members from personal liability. An attorney can help guide you through this process and handle much of the procedural work.

Take time to refresh

By SHARON MCMAHON, CNWC

"I think we would be much better mothers if we gave ourselves personal time without feeling guilty." Sarah Blakely, Founder of Spanx

I can hear it now – "What in the world is "Spanx?" I do not consider myself at all to be a betting person but I am willing to go out on a limb here and guess that if you are asking that question you might just be male. Most of us females, whether or not we have Spanx in our closet, are very familiar with the term!

Getting back to the quote above (although I am not using Mark Twain, Albert Einstein or President Eisenhower for my quote this week; Ms. Blakely heads a multi-billion dollar company born from a pair of cut off pantyhose!) I believe this topic to be very timely and considerable. You may not be a mother, but I am sure you had one, are married to one, related to one – or at least know one! Many of us are/were "working mothers" as well (interesting term huh?) because we held jobs or professions outside our home responsibilities. In addition to the "home and hearth" there are extended family member responsibilities – parties for nieces and nephews, parents' and grandparents' needs, family reunions, holiday planning, etc.

I pondered whether or not this topic would fit with my general themes of fitness and nutrition and concluded that absolutely the need for personal time is a major component of our health and well-being. Now more than ever, after a hotly contested divisive election, we need to take time to reflect calmly and refresh ourselves. Time to walk, to participate in a fitness class or even workout at home often seems like taking time away from our families and those who depend on us. Making sure that we, as women, are getting the same nutritional needs met that we determine for our families is vital as well. Whether women are employed outside the home or not, the energy required taking care of families is monumental. Adequate sleep is another area in which women are sometimes deficient as we continuously place the needs of children, spouse, and other family members ahead of our own. We must make caring for ourselves part of caring for others.

There is much merit in meeting these responsibilities, but the pressure women have experienced to "do it all" can take a toll on our physical and mental well-being. All forms of media play a significant role in this mindset as well. Interestingly, statistics have shown that depression can be closely related to the amount of social media time in which women engage "...messaging aimed at women in the online space simply replicates the offline gender norms that women's magazines, TV and movies have been preaching for decades and that female consumers have alternately embraced and struggled against." (www.forbes.com – J. Maureen Henderson) Frankly, readers, there is so much research available on the subject of social media use linked to depression that I do not have the space to include the many sources here. Scanning Facebook to find out how perfectly everyone else's life is progressing may not be the most positive way to spend one's free time, leaving less time and energy to pursue an active life. In short, let's take care of ourselves and we will enjoy the benefits of being more healthy, stable, and happy – and our families will reap the benefits as well. Don't try to be the queen of organizing, fashion, Facebook, decorating and mothering, all rolled into one neat package, to the exclusion of your own personal time. Take a walk, read a book, talk to friends and family, stretch, lift weights, pet a dog or cat, write in your journal – so many ways to enjoy your personal time without guilt! Start 2017 off right - Breathe deeply and enjoy!

Noblesville Holiday Tournament...

Tigers beat Millers for third place

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Another Noblesville Holiday Tournament is in the books.

This year, two Hamilton County teams played each other, squaring off in the event's third-place game. Fishers beat the Millers 59-52, overcoming a Noblesville first-quarter lead to take third place. In morning games, the Tigers fell to Pike 92-45, while the Millers were edged by Crown Point 62-59.

Nolan Ginther
 Noblesville

The Millers got off to a great start in the third-place game, scoring the contest's first nine points. Ginther had six of those points, with Max Flinchum throwing in a 3-pointer as well.

Fishers got on the board when Jamil Turner-Hall made a layin at the 3:01 mark, and 3s from Turner-Hall and Joe Counts helped get the Tigers to within 15-10 at the end of the quarter. Fishers took the lead in the second period, with Counts pouring in two more 3s, and Turner-Hall making consecutive layins late in the period. Jason Slain helped out with a rebound basket, his second one of the game. The Tigers led 26-21 at halftime.

Jamil Turner-Hall
 Fishers

"The one thing we had talked about that I felt that we didn't show against Pike was poise," said Tigers coach Joe Leonard. "And things started to fall apart a little bit. We wanted to keep our poise, even though we went down."

"It was déjà vu all over again," said Millers coach Brian McCauley. "We got a tremendous start for the second time against Fishers. And then the second quarter, we really struggled."

Joe Counts
 Fishers

Fishers continued to roll in the third quarter, leading 46-31 by the end of the period. Counts hit two more 3-pointers, bringing his total to five for the game, and then converted a traditional three-point play with 11.3 seconds left in the quarter. McCauley said that Counts "came in and just absolutely torched us in the second and third quarters."

"And then the fourth quarter, we came and really re-focused," said McCauley.

Noblesville did indeed come roaring back in the beginning of the fourth quarter, using a 12-2 run to cut Fishers' lead to 48-43. Corby Mertens hit two 3s, McGwire Plumer scored off a steal, and Ginther began the run with a pair of foul shots, then made a short jumper at the end of the run.

Slain's layin pushed Fishers back ahead 50-43, and the Tigers' lead remained around that margin for the rest of the game. The Millers kept it close, with Flinchum getting another 3-pointer with less than a minute to go.

"Jason Slain, I'm proud of him because he doesn't get much playing time, but he's one of those kids that works hard every day," said Leonard. "And then you give him an opportunity, and he makes the most of it."

Counts scored one more basket in the fourth, bringing him to 22 points for the game, a season high. Turner-Hall added 18 points. Armaan Franklin was solid on the boards, with seven rebounds.

"Now legs are going to be tired after three straight games in two days," said Leonard. "You just hope you can put the ball in the bucket and obviously Joe Counts did today."

Ginther was one of three double-figure scorers for the Millers, leading with 19 points. Flinchum scored 14, while Mertens drained three 3-pointers on his way to 11 points. Ginther pulled nine rebounds, while Plumer handed out five assists.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES

Fishers hung with Pike for the first half of the first semi-final, but the Red Devils dominated the second half, sending the Tigers to a 92-45 loss.

Fishers trailed by just 13-12 after the first quarter and 28-22 at halftime. But Pike's outside shooting started heating up, with the Red Devils pouring in 34 points in the third quarter and 30 more in the fourth, including four 3-pointers.

Turner-Hall scored 17 points and had three rebounds for Fishers.

In the second semi-final, Noblesville was down 22-14 after the first quarter, although it was staying in contention thanks to its outside shooting: Mertens had a pair of 3s and Plumer threw in one.

The Millers made a huge 16-4 run that took up most of the second quarter. Flinchum scored seven points, including a '3,' and Plumer tied the game by making a steal and subsequently scoring an easy basket. His layin seconds later put Noblesville up 30-26.

Crown Point responded with a 12-2 run that gave it a 38-32 halftime lead. Sasha Stefanovic (who was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player), hit two 3s, including a buzzer beater to put his team up six.

The back and forth continued in the third quarter. Noblesville started it with seven unanswered points, five of them from Rico Duncan (a putback and a 3). Another 8-2 run put the Millers on top 47-44 at the end of the third quarter; Ginther helped out by making all four foul shots during that run.

Noblesville led by as much as 51-44 with 6:22 remaining in the fourth, but the Bulldogs came back, tying the game at 55-55 with a 3-pointer by Dominic Tomich, who gave CP a 57-56 lead with a jumper a few seconds later.

Flinchum's layin put the Millers up 58-57, but Stefanovic pushed the Bulldogs ahead by hitting foul shots with around 28 seconds left to go. Crown Point was able to hold on from there.

Four players scored in double figures for Noblesville. Flinchum led with 16 points, while Duncan and Mertens each had 12; Mertens threw in three 3-pointers. Plumer scored 10 points and made four steals. Ginther scored nine 10 points, along with seven rebounds, six steals and two blocks. Nixon Williams grabbed six rebounds and made six steals.

In the championship, the 'Hawks held off the host Tri Titans 50-45. Sheridan led 24-21 at halftime and extended its advantage to 41-33 after three quarters.

Holiday Hoops at Vincennes...

Guerin Catholic beats UHS for third place

Will Morris drained a 3-point shot with four seconds in regulation, and his Guerin Catholic basketball team went on to defeat University 61-54 Friday evening. The victory earned the Golden Eagles third place in the McDonald's Holiday Hoops Tournament at Vincennes Lincoln.

There were six lead changes in the first half, and the teams went to the Alice Arena locker rooms deadlocked at 24-all. University (8-3) made 6-12 from behind the 3-point arc, while Jack Hansen had 13 points for GC.

Aided by an 8-0 run early in the third quarter, the Class 1A No. 3 Trailblazers led the entire second half until the Morris' shot tied the game 49-49. Emerson Halbleib scored 10 points in the second half to lead the UHS offensive charge.

Coach Pete Smith's GC squad never trailed in the overtime. Zach Munson, who scored 10 points in the contest, nailed a 3-point shot from the right corner. Shortly after that teammate Luke Godfrey made a pair of free throws after a Joey Weas steal to ignite the team's 12-5 advantage in the overtime.

Hansen finished with game-high totals of 30 points and nine rebounds as the Golden Eagles (6-5) held a 31-19 advantage on the boards. Weas and Munson grabbed six caroms apiece.

"It was tough coaching against such a good friend," said GC coach Pete Smith. "His team wanted it worse than our team; I thought University played well for most of the game. Jack was a real force though, and we finally kicked it up a notch intensity-wise down the stretch."

Josh Alford led a trio of double figure scorers for Brandon Lafferman's team with 14 points. Halbleib and David Howard tallied 13 and 11 points, respectively. Each team committed six turnovers in the contest, but five of the Blazers turnovers came in the final stanza and OT. They entered the tournament as defending champions of the eight-team event.

"The whole trip was good. We played three of the best teams we've played all year; we played two 3A schools and a 4A team," said UHS coach Brandon Lafferman. "We accomplished what we needed to, win or lose, playing some tough teams to really prepare us for the end of the season. We just didn't execute some of those things that we wanted to do (in the final minute), which allowed them to make it to OT."

Both teams are back in action on Friday. Guerin Catholic hosts Bishop Chatard in a Circle City Conference game, with University playing at Tindley, the No. 5-ranked team in 1A.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES

Guerin Catholic lost a one-point nail biter to 2A No. 7-ranked Indianapolis Howe 72-71 Friday morning in the first semi-final of the Holiday Hoops Tournament.

The game saw six lead changes and 13 ties. Guerin Catholic held the game's largest lead at 30-22 midway through the second half. The Golden Eagles however lost the lead at the start of the fourth quarter, and could only get it tied during the final stanza.

Hansen scored a school record 44 points, breaking the previous record of 40 set by Jordan Rapp in the IHSAA Regional Championship game in 2010. The junior also grabbed 14 rebounds. Matthew Godfrey scored in double figures with 13 points, and Guerin Catholic (5-5) made

24-25 free throws, while the Hornets also attempted 25 and converted on 17. "It was a physical game, and we fought hard to stay in front of their quick guards," said Coach Pete Smith. "We got in a position to win and we just didn't quite get it done. But again, I was real proud of the effort."

In the second semi-final, University was overwhelmed by Crispus Attucks 66-37. The Tigers jumped out to an 8-1 lead, although the Trailblazers closed to within 13-10 by the end of the first quarter, thanks to six points from Howard.

Alford scored early in the second period on a driving layup to cut the Attucks lead to 13-12. But the Tigers allowed University only two more points in the remainder of the quarter to take a 25-14 lead into the locker room at halftime. Attucks then cruised through the second half.

Halbleib led UHS with 10 points. Attucks would go on to win the tournament, 86-80 over Howe.

FIRST ROUND GAMES

Guerin Catholic led from start to finish in defeating Southridge 51-37 in Thursday's first round.

The Golden Eagles got out to a fast start as Munson scored seven of his nine points in the first quarter to give the Golden Eagles a 17-10 lead. Both teams struggled shooting in the second quarter but GC managed to outscore the Raiders 8-4 to lead 25-14 at halftime.

There was no let up for Guerin Catholic (5-4) after the intermission, making 6-12 field goals in the quarter while taking a commanding 42-23 lead early in the fourth quarter before Smith pulled his starters.

"They (Southridge) ran a good motion offense, and I felt overall we defended them well after the first quarter," said Smith. "The guys started jumping to the ball. Offensively neither team shot well, but we dominated the boards in the first half and had good execution in the third quarter."

Nine of the ten GC players scored, led by Hansen's 10 points. He registered his fifth double-double of the season, grabbing a game-high 11 rebounds as the Golden Eagles held a 39-27 advantage in the rebounding stats. Matthew Godfrey passed out six assists, had three steals, and was a major factor in the team having a season-low six turnovers.

University defeated the host Alices 49-33 to advance to the semi-finals. The 1A No. 3 Trailblazers were down 10-9 after the first quarter, then moved ahead 17-12 by halftime. The 'Blazers then stormed through the third quarter to take a 41-26 lead, and maintained that advantage through the fourth.

Alford scored 22 points, going a perfect 8-of-8 from the field and making 5-of-6 free throws. Halbleib was solid on defense, with seven rebounds and five blocked shots. Alford pulled six rebounds, while Zach Hodgins dished out six assists.

points, pulled six rebounds and dished out five assists.

"He had a tremendous tournament," McCauley said of Ginther. "All-Tournament performance with his defending, his rebounding, his scoring, his leadership. He's a tremendous Miller basketball player, and kind of personifies Miller Basketball."

Ginther was indeed named to the All-Tournament team from Noblesville, with Turner-Hall earning that honor for Fishers. Pike won the championship game, beating Crown Point 67-62.

Fishers is now 5-4 for the season, and plays at Ben Davis on Tuesday. Noblesville is 4-6, and will host Muncie Central next Saturday, Jan. 7.

FIRST-ROUND GAMES

Last year when hosting the Noblesville Holiday Tournament, the Millers boys basketball team was not liking the letters "O" and "T."

Noblesville was dealt overtime losses in its first two games last year at this time. This year, the Millers put those awful memories aside and won in overtime in its first-round game with Chesterton Tuesday afternoon. Noblesville used defensive grit and near-perfect free-throw shooting to get past the Trojans 63-57 and move into the semi-finals.

"It feels a lot better than last year," said McCauley. "So I was proud of our team. We showed good toughness there. We outrebounded them, that was a big key."

The Millers asserted themselves in the fourth quarter. Down 40-39, Noblesville got seven quick points, as a Flinchum 3-pointer was followed by layins by Ginther and Plumer. Another Flinchum 3 - his fourth for the game at that point - put the Millers up 49-42.

"That was big," said McCauley. "That gave us that separation that obviously we needed, because they ended with their own little run."

The Trojans went on a run of their own, scoring eight unanswered points to jump ahead 50-49. Plumer made a pair of foul shots to get Noblesville back in front 51-50 with 2:18 left to go. A Chesterton free throw tied the game at 51-51 with 1:18 left. The Trojans got the ball back and worked the clock down to try for a final basket, but their last two shots didn't go.

Once in the extra period, the Millers took control quickly. Mertens made a layin to get Noblesville ahead, then a key defensive play led to two points: Flinchum made a steal, was fouled and drained the resulting two free throw opportunities to put the Millers up 55-51 with 1:08 left.

From there, Noblesville sealed the game at the line. Rico Duncan stepped up big time, making all six of his foul shots in the OT. Mertens made a couple free throws as well, giving him a total of 19 points for the game.

"Really proud of Rico," said McCauley, who called Duncan's overtime free throws "crucial."

Another key point to the Millers win was the free throw shooting. Noblesville was 16-of-18 for the game, including 10-of-11 in overtime.

Flinchum wound up with four 3-pointers on his way to 18 points; he also threw in a pair of downtown shots in the first quarter. Mertens had three 3s overall, and joined Ryan Barnes and Grant Gremel with five rebounds each.

Fishers had to come back from an 18-9 deficit after the first quarter, and was still down 21-12 early in the second. The Tigers blasted back with an 11-1 run, led by six points from Jeremy Szilagyi, who hit a 3-pointer, then converted a traditional three-point play to put his team up 23-22. Turner-Hall started the run with a three-point play of his own, and Franklin helped out with a rebound basket - noteworthy because that was one of his nine rebounds in the game.

"We were really worried about their height, and they were very, very tall," said Leonard. "And we have some height, but it's not as active as their height. I think our guards really got going and got after them. We also started switching on their 'any' screen, and that really helped us."

The momentum from that run led Fishers to a 28-23 halftime lead, which it extended to a 43-30 third-quarter advantage. Szilagyi drained two more 3s in that period, with Turner-Hall adding another five, including yet another three-point play. The Bull Dogs got within 51-46 late in the fourth period, but free throw shooting clinched the game: Willie Jackson was 4-of-4 in the final 36.4 seconds.

Turner-Hall led the scoring with 18 points, while Szilagyi had 14 points, including three 3s. After Franklin's nine boards, Terry Hicks helped out with five rebounds. Szilagyi and Reid Stephens each grabbed three steals.

"That's what we say to them," said Leonard. "If you're not scoring, then what are you going to do, because if you don't do anything, you got to come out, because you're not scoring, right? So those guys, they kind of get that."

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF PRELIMINARY DETERMINATION
Notice is hereby given pursuant to Indiana Code 6-1.1-20-3.5 that the Board of School Trustees (the "Board") of Hamilton Heights School Corporation (the "School Corporation") did, on December 22, 2016, make a preliminary determination to enter into a lease and issue bonds for the renovation, improvement & efficiency project consisting of the renovation of and improvements to Hamilton Heights High School, including site work, renovation and demolition of portions of Hamilton Heights Middle School and the renovation and expansion of the Hamilton Heights Elementary School and Hamilton Heights Primary School (the "Project"). The lease will be for a maximum term of 25 years with a maximum annual lease rental of $5,004,000. The maximum annual lease rental has been estimated based upon an estimated principal amount of bonds of $55,815,000 and estimated interest rates ranging from 2.30% to 5.40% and total estimated interest costs of $23,421,019.
As required by Indiana Code 6-1.1-20-3.5(b)(1), the following information was available to the public at the public hearing on the preliminary determination: (i) the School Corporation's current and projected annual debt service payments divided by the net assessed value of taxable property within the School Corporation, which is 13.28%; and (ii) the sum of the School Corporation's outstanding long term debt plus the outstanding long term debt of other taxing units that include any other territory of the School Corporation divided by the net assessed value of taxable property within the School Corporation, which is 11.19%.
The School Corporation's current debt service levy is $4,456,254 and the current rate is $0.5908. After the School Corporation enters into the proposed lease and the bonds are issued, the debt service levy will increase by a maximum of $5,004,000 and the debt service rate will increase by a maximum of $0.6634; however, with existing debt being paid off, the total school tax rate is not anticipated to increase. The Project involves the opening of new school facility space; however, the cost of the new school facility space will be offset by the demolition of space and more efficient remaining space. Therefore, the School Corporation does not expect to annually incur an increase to operate such new facility space. The purpose of the lease is to provide for the construction of the Project. To the extent that general obligation bonds are issued to fund a portion of the Project, the total principal amount of the lease bonds will be reduced by the principal amount of the general obligation bonds so that the total principal amount of all bonds issued to finance the Project will not exceed $55,815,000. If a valid petition pursuant to Indiana Code 6-1.1-20-3.5 is received by the School Corporation, the proposed debt service or lease payments must be approved in an election on a local public question held under Indiana Code 6-1.1-20-3.6.
Dated December 26, 2016.
