Who is the leader in the Nickel Plate Railroad story?

By FRED SWIFT
We've all heard the old saying about 'too many chiefs and not enough Indians.' But, in the case of the troubled Nickel Plate Railroad it looks like too many Indians and not enough chiefs, or maybe no chief at all. No trains can currently run on the Nickel Plate rails through Hamilton County. Safety is the concern, and who will want to pay the cost of making it safe seems to be the problem. Let's count the Indians. First there is the Hoosier Heritage Port Authority which owns the tracks and has declared the railroad unsafe. Then, there is the Indiana Transportation Museum which has operated trains on the railroad for more than 20 years, but has little money. Then, we count the City of Noblesville, the City of Fishers and the county government which together formed the port authority in the 1990s to save the rail line from abandonment. They obviously have some money. Add to these the Hamilton County

Tourism Bureau which counts the Nickel Plate as a tourism asset, and wants to see trains running. Cicero folks who want a dinner train to run, the Arcadia Arts group that wants visitors in Arcadia, the new Atlanta train market which wants to see real trains, and the Tipton County Economic Development group that wants to encourage business. So, who is the overall leader, spokesman or chief in this story? It's hard to tell. County commissioners had the subject on their agenda Monday. "We're exploring all the options," said Commissioner Mark Heibrandt. The others involved are presumably exploring the options too. That's encouraging, but someone needs to pull the options together and come up with a plan to proceed. But, there are problems besides money. The railroad runs only to about 18th Street in Indianapolis on the south because the interstate cut the line there. The Nickel Plate runs as far north as Tipton, but does not connect to the east-west rail line at that point. So, this limits trains to about 38 miles, not enough to really go anywhere except for the local excursion rides like the Fairtrain, Polar Bear Express or dinner train. But,

Fishers Police to get new parking garage, headquarters
By LARRY LANNAN
LarryinFishers.com
A new parking garage for the Fishers Police Department will break ground this spring, and officers will be moving into a new headquarters building before the end of 2018. That's what Chief Mitch Thompson told the Police Merit Commission this week, assuming construction schedules go as planned. RQAW is handling the architecture work and Hagerman Group appears to have the inside track to construct the building, under a public-private partnership arrangement with the City of Fishers. Also during the meeting, Assistant Chief Ed Gebhart updated the commission on the CrimeWatch phone app, unveiled in May of 2016. Fishers police report there are now over 4,000 users. Once registered, a Fishers resident can snap a picture and report suspicious activity, with an officer in the area receiving the information real time.

Blood donation opportunity in Carmel Feb. 27

During Red Cross Month in March, the American Red Cross encourages eligible donors to join in its lifesaving mission by giving blood.

Hamilton County residents can donate blood from 2 to 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27 at Harvest Bible Chapel, 14550 River Road, Carmel.

Since 1943, every U.S. president has designated March as Red Cross Month to recognize how the Red Cross helps people across the country and around the world. Red Cross Month is a celebration of supporters, who are the face of the Red Cross in their communities and bring hope to people facing emergencies.

Blood donor Timothy Sheely knows the need firsthand. His wife required 12 units of blood during emergency surgery following the birth of their son. "If it had not been for blood donors, she might not have survived," he said. "Thanks to generous blood donors,

I still have a wife and my kids still have their mom. I can't possibly thank those people in person, but I can give a little piece of me back with each donation for the greater good."

The Red Cross depends on blood donor heroes across the nation to collect enough blood to meet the needs of patients at approximately 2,600 hospitals nationwide. Donors of all blood types, especially type O, are needed to help those rely on blood products.

Make an appointment to become a hero to patients in need by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting redcrossblood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

How to help

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states (16 with parental consent where allowed by state law), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood donors can now save time at their next donation by using RapidPass to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, prior to arriving at the blood drive. To get started and learn more, visit redcrossblood.org/RapidPass and follow the instructions on the site.

that's enough to sustain the popular local excursions and historic interest in railroading.

It seems too bad after saving the railroad at a time when trains were vanishing from the American landscape, that the Nickel Plate would now disappear. And, it could. There has been talk of pulling up the rails and converting the rail bed into a walking and bike trail. Of course that would cost money, too. But, this is apparently one of the options on the table.

It's been nearly a year since trains have been able to run. So, for the sake of local business and the enjoyment of our people young and old, let's hope there is positive action soon to get the Nickel Plate back on track.

Boys swimming sectionals...

Many county swimmers easily advance to finals

The boys swimming state tournament began Thursday with sectional preliminaries, and there were no surprises among the big county schools.

At the Noblesville sectional, the Millers joined Carmel and Westfield in qualifying all 27 of their swims for Saturday's sectional finals. The defending state champion Greyhounds will have all 27 of their swims participate in the championship heat, and will be top seeded in nine events.

Drew Kibler earned the first seed in the 200 and 100 freestyles, with Wyatt Davis the top seed in the 500 free and backstroke. Andrew Couchon is rated first in the 50 free, with Stefano Batista leading the way in the breaststroke. Carmel also holds the first seed in all three relays.

Westfield has the remaining two top seeds, with Nicholas Brauer first in the individual medley and Matthew Carr the butterfly leader. The Shamrocks moved 19 of their swims to the championship heat, with the other eight qualifying for the consolation heat.

Noblesville placed 18 swims in the championship heat, with the other nine to swim in the consolation heat. Cameron Kramer is the Millers' highest individual seed, taking third in the 500 free. Noblesville's 200 and 400 freestyle relays are also both seeded third.

Hamilton Heights qualified all three relays for the championship heat, and the Huskies' outstanding sophomore Jared Holder also advanced to the championship heat in the 50 free and the backstroke; he is seeded second in the latter event. Heights also sent four more swims to the consolation heat.

Guerin Catholic will have all three of its relays in the consolation heat, with senior Hugh Ross reaching the consolation of the 50 free after at 16th place finish in the preliminary race.

Over at Hamilton Southeastern, both the Royals and Fishers sent all 27 of their swims on to the Saturday finals. The Tigers advanced all 27 swims to the championship heat, while HSE qualified 26 to the championship heat, and one to the consolation heat.

Fishers has six top seeds, including two from Kyle Haflich in the individual medley and the backstroke. Other Tiger first seeds are Joseph Moser in the 50 free, Drake Stallworth in the butterfly, Nolan Yorkman in the 500 free, and all three Fishers relays.

Hamilton Southeastern has one top seed: Zack Teffeteller leads the way in the 100 free.

University is competing at the Lawrence North sectional, and a Trailblazer senior is in the mix. Brody Davison is seeded second in the 200 free and third in the 500 free.

University also sent its medley relay to the championship heat, and qualified five more swims for the consolation heat.

Miller gymnasts place second in regular-season finale

The Noblesville gymnastics team finished second in a three-way meet Thursday, which also finished the Millers' regular season.

Noblesville scored 96.05 points, behind Franklin Central's 101.80 and ahead of Sececina's 83.625. Esma Taylor finished third in the all-around with a score of 32.675, and also had the Millers' highest scores of the night with an 8.625 on vault and an 8.425 in the floor exercise.

"We continue to be very solid and consistent on vault, which is right where we want to be as we prepare for the big sectional battle next weekend," said Noblesville coach Jody Ramey.

Freshman Grace Kwiatkowski had Noblesville's highest place, taking second in the uneven bars with a 7.875.

"As we have our eyes on peaking at the sectional competition next week, we look at this competition as a practice for the big competition," said Ramey.

The sectional takes place next Saturday, Feb. 25, at Lafayette Jeff. The top three teams advance from the sectional to the Valparaiso regional.

Heady announced as Marian men’s basketball coach

Scott Heady, Carmel High School's boys head basketball coach, was officially announced as the men’s basketball coach at Marian University on Thursday.

Heady, 55, had been with the Carmel Clay Schools district since 2010, as both a head coach and PE teacher.

“I have one of the best high school basketball coaching jobs in the country here at Carmel,” Heady said in a press release issued by Carmel Clay Schools. “I am fortunate to be moving on to what I believe will be one of the best small college basketball jobs in the country. This is a tremendous opportunity at Marian University and I’m looking forward to the new challenges of coaching at the college level.”

Heady has an overall coaching record of 350-164 over 22 seasons. His record with the Carmel boys’ basketball team to date is 134-37. Heady helped lead Carmel to four Metropolitan Interscholastic Conference Championships (2012, 2013, 2014, 2015), four sectional championships (2012, 2013, 2015, 2016) and back-to-back Class 4A state championships in 2012 and 2013.

“I will miss everything at Carmel,” Heady admits. “Just being a part of Carmel High School and Carmel Basketball has given my family and I memories that we will cherish forever. We have enjoyed a high level of success, but I’ve also been so fortunate to coach high-character, talented, selfless, student athletes on all our teams.”

Pacers fall to Washington, head into All-Star break

The Pacers have now dropped six in a row as they head into the All-Star break, after they were defeated by the Washington Wizards in Bankers Life Fieldhouse, 111-98.

"Tonight's loss looked a little flat," Pacers head coach Nate McMillan said. "Maybe we're a little fatigued."

In the early going the Wizards' offense was firing on all cylinders. The visitors made four from long range, including three from Otto Porter Jr. to jump out to a 14-4 lead with 7:38 left in the opening period.

Indiana fought back throughout the quarter to eventually cut the lead to four with just seconds remaining, but Porter Jr. struck again, and his buzzer-beating triple gave the Wizards a 34-27 advantage heading into the second quarter.

In the second, the Pacers struck first, cutting the deficit to just two, 37-35, forcing a timeout with 9:23 remaining.

But over the next six minutes, Washington outscored Indiana 20-7 to build a 57-42 lead with 3:08 to play in the first half.

Over the final three minutes, Indiana was able to make a little headway into Washington's lead to trail by 10, 62-52, heading into the locker room.

In the third, every time Indiana would make a push, Washington responded. The Pacers got within five early in the quarter, and Washington answered with five straight to push the lead back to 10.

With 5:38 to go in the period, a Glenn Robinson III three-point play got Indiana within eight, but by the 3:26 mark, Washington led by 13, 82-69. When the third was said and done, Washington was still ahead by 13, 90-77.

In the fourth, Indiana kept getting close, but couldn't quite break through. After cutting the lead to seven with 6:41 remaining, the Wizards answered with a Bradley Beal

3-pointer and John Wall jump shot to push the advantage back to 12.

The Pacers got within eight with 5:13 to play, but once again Wall was up to the task, nailing a jumper to give the visitors a 104-94 lead with 3:58 left.

Indiana wouldn't threaten Washington the rest of the way en route to its sixth straight defeat.

"We're just not playing well," Pacers point guard Jeff Teague said of the team's recent struggles. "Everybody needs to take a step back from basketball, get back, focus and come back with a new sense of urgency."

For Indiana, Myles Turner finished with 17 points and nine rebounds. Paul George added 17 points and seven boards.

Washington was led by 25 points from Porter Jr. Wall had a double-double, compiling 20 points and 12 assists.
