The County Line

Looking back at the history of public transportation

By FRED SWIFT

Public transportation, sometimes called mass transit, has become an issue of interest for Hamilton County. Advocates of the service are gearing up for the start of new bus routes in Marion County and hopes of providing service to our county.

It is interesting to look back at the history of transportation for the public locally.

Longtime residents like myself can well recall when two bus lines served commuters from Hamilton County to downtown Indianapolis. The ABC Coach Lines and the Sheridan Bus Company provided dependable transportation to Indy for years. ABC's route from Anderson to Indianapolis came through Noblesville and then south on Allisonville Road.

There was a stop at the Diana Theatre Building on North 9th Street and at the Butler Oil Station at 116th and Allisonville, along with other stops along the way if someone was standing at the roadside.

The Sheridan bus came south from Sheridan to Westfield and on to Carmel and Home Place. It would also stop along the route for riders waiting at roadside.

Both bus lines ended their routes at the downtown Indianapolis bus terminal on Market Street a block west of Monument Circle. Hundreds of commuters rode these buses in the 1950s and 60s. By the 1970s, however, with two-car households and better roads, bus riding dropped off to the point that service was discontinued.

Before the bus service there was the interurban which was similar to what is called light rail today. These electric powered vehicles, similar to a streetcar, traveled on a main

Noblesville announces events for Federal Hill Commons' first year

As Federal Hill Commons nears completion, the City of Noblesville is happy to announce the various special events the downtown park will host in its inaugural year.

"We are very excited about adding more green space and this park to our community. We have a great list of new programming and events to showcase the flexibility of this new amenity," Mayor John Ditslear said. "It is amazing how the floodplain space has transformed and the unique elements that have been incorporated into Federal Hill Commons."

The grand opening of Federal Hill Commons will take place Saturday, April 29. The event will feature a ribbon cutting ceremony, the Rugged Brothers Band from 6 to 7 p.m. and headliner the Wright Brothers from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Free attractions include inflatables, balloon artists, face painting, a trackless train and a photo booth.

A few rocks and a lot of nice

By JANET HART LEONARD

It was Friday morning and Mom and I were waiting at the surgery center for her to have a procedure on her esophagus.

She leaned back on the pillow and told me that she had a restless night. She woke up in the wee hours of the morning and thought about how she would live her life differently, if she had the chance. I knew this was going to be interesting.

She said "well, I definitely would have married your dad and even sooner than we did. (Remember they married at 16) 63 years just wasn't enough time to love each other.

She said they had found out early in their marriage that they were unable to have children and thought they would just go through life as a couple. Then a few years before they turned 30 they decided they wanted to adopt. After two unsuccessful adoptions where a mom changed her mind and a baby died, they received a call that a baby was born. That little baby girl would arrive at their house that afternoon, September 7, 1955. I was three days old. She said she was glad that baby wasn't given to someone else. I told her that I was glad too.

She said she would have collected more rocks. I always knew she loved rocks. I just didn't know how much. She has collected very unusual rocks that she has brought up to Indiana from the family farm in Kentucky. She said they had a fresh water spring at the back of the house that had the best tasting water and the prettiest rocks. She found an unusual rock when she was a little girl and planted it in the garden thinking it would grow. She said it never did.

I remember one vacation where we stopped along the roadside in South Dakota and there were rose quartz rocks blanketing the side of the mountain. Several of them found their way to Indiana for Mom's rock garden.

Then she told me that she wished she had been nicer to people. Her saying that really took me by surprise. Anyone who knows my mother knows that she is nice. I mean she is that lady who shows up with a fruit cocktail cake if you have a death in the family. She calls you if she hears you aren't feeling well to tell you that she is praying for you. I always believed that she had a hotline to God. Her Bible sits right by her recliner and the pages are worn. She has always lived her faith. I always thought "Thou shalt be nice" was the 11th commandment.

My mom has never been one to talk bad about people. She would just say, "well, they are funny turned." Our family knew what that meant. She didn't think they were nice. She always thought there was a reason someone acted the way they did and she was not one to judge them.

After her procedure she told the nurse, "you sure are nice". I don't think the nurse knew how big of a compliment that she was given. The warmed up blankets might have played a big part in that statement by my mom.

We headed home and I said a prayer to thank God for giving me such a nice mom. I only hope I can be half as nice a lady as she is. And I think I'll be collecting some rocks.

COUNTY LINE

track through Hamilton County north to south from Atlanta, through Arcadia, Cicero and Noblesville where the main station was located in what is now the Rowland Printing Company at 9th and Clinton Streets.

From Noblesville the interurban took a diagonal southwest path to Carmel and then south to Home Place and into Indianapolis at Broad Ripple. The service was extremely popular from the beginning of the 20th century until the late 1930s when the public's love affair with the automobile killed off ridership.

Now, we are looking at another effort to bring mass transit to the area. Voters in Washington and Clay Townships will likely be facing a referendum next year to decide whether they wish to increase their local income taxes to partially pay for a public bus travel.

This first phase of what supporters hope will be a more widespread service would bring rapid transit buses from Indy through the Carmel and Westfield areas as far north as Grand Park. Will it become a reality and, if it does, will it be successful this time? To make it succeed commuters would have to be facing high gasoline prices, scarce downtown parking or severe traffic congestion.

As the trite but true saying goes, only time will tell.

NPD

Thompson were promoted to the rank of lieutenant and Patrolman Dennis Coffey was promoted to the rank of sergeant. The appointment became effective on January 30, 2017 and all three promotions became effective on January 2, 2017.

Capt. Trump was hired by NPD on January 7, 2002. Prior to her recent appointment, Capt. Trump served in the Support Division as the operations manager. Capt. Trump will now serve as a deputy chief overseeing the agency's Criminal Investigation Division.

Lt. Busalacchi was hired by NPD on August 9, 1999. Prior to his recent promotion, Lt. Busalacchi served in the Criminal Investigation Division as a sergeant. Lt. Busalacchi will continue to serve in the Criminal Investigation Division.

Lt. Thompson was hired by NPD on January 3, 2005. Prior to his recent promotion, Lt. Thompson served as a field supervisor in the Patrol Division. Lt. Thompson will continue to serve in the Patrol Division as a shift commander.

Sgt. Coffey was hired by NPD on February 25, 2008. Prior to his promotion, Sgt. Coffey served in the Patrol Division as a patrol officer. Sgt. Coffey will remain in the Patrol Division as a field supervisor.

Advancement to the rank of sergeant and lieutenant are merit promotions within the Noblesville Police Department. Patrol officers and detectives are eligible to apply for the sergeant promotion process while officers currently holding the rank of sergeant are eligible to apply for the lieutenant process. Interested candidates for either process must submit to a formal evaluation process. The process is comprised of a number of components to include a written examination, oral interview, assessment exercises, and a review of past performance. The process is extremely competitive and is administered every two years in order to establish an eligibility list. A one-year probationary period is required of all officers who are promoted.

Appointments to the rank of captain are made by the Chief of Police and those appointees serve at his/her discretion.

"We are constantly adding events and we believe we have a great list of events for the first year. Our plan is to 'walk before we run' but we hope to gain some real momentum with this park in 2017," Bennett said.

In addition to previously announced Summer Concert Series, Federal Hill Commons will host its own live music events with its Tribute Concert Series. The series includes 16 Candles on June 3; Classic Rock Experience on July 15; Jai Baker on August 11; and Separate Ways featuring the Fishers School of Rock Band on September 16. Like the Summer Concert Series, these shows are free to the public and run 7 to 9 p.m.

"The Tribute Concerts will pay homage to those we love to hear in music and provide an eclectic variety of music to accommodate all interests," said Assistant Parks Director Mike Hoffmeister. "We think it will be a great compliment to our Summer Concert Series."

Additional information about the park will be released closer to the grand opening. For more information, visit www.federalhillcommons.com.

Don't let the 'quick fix' mentality undermine your health efforts

By SHARON MCMAHON

"Everything is hard before it is easy."
- Goethe

When I read/hear/view about all the wonderful "weight loss" programs that abound in our Western society today, I am saddened by the number of people who literally buy in to the multi-billion dollar industry which frequently promises miraculous results, and in a very short time of course! To the best of my knowledge (and in my Christian belief) authentic miracles are recorded only in the Holy Bible. And to the best of my memory (although I am not a biblical scholar!) weight loss is not recorded as one of those miracles...

That brings me to the topic of this article. We have become a society which expects, and even demands, instant results. From the growing/preparation of our foods - having the "dream home" - to wrinkle removers and everything in between, we want it now. Generally, the effects of smoking, eating poorly, a sedentary lifestyle and inactivity take a while to actually become visible. Yet the general population expects remarkable results in a short period of time. Lose 20 lbs. in a month - sure! Nine inches off the hips in a matter of weeks - why not!

It seems to me, with the number of fitness centers, weight-loss programs, workout DVD's, and the high-tech fitness equipment available, that 70% of Americans should not be overweight. ¹ Let's take a look at some of the possible reasons why this might be the case. Grocery "super stores" are filled to the brim with many aisles of processed, sugar-heavy, chemical-laden items. The next time you are tempted to toss one of these items in your cart, be sure to check out the expiration date. The further out the date, the more wary you should be of that particular "food" product. Additionally, if you live in any area of the country that claims to be a city or town, you don't have to travel far to access a "fast food" establishment. Although it is true that some of these provide salads and some pseudo-healthy alternatives, too many of us frequent them far too often.

There is a modern, proverbial adage, "if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is" and I do believe this in relation to the above topic. People are frequently derailed when they find they are unable to obtain their fitness goals in a short period of time, and/or stay consistent with the healthy lifestyle required to maintain their goal. Don't let the "quick fix" mentality undermine your efforts and determination to be healthy, fit, and energetic. You can do it!

Prepare, Polish & Publish event set for March 29

Published author, ghostwriter, and blogger Susan Sparks presents Prepare, Polish, & Publish on Wednesday, March 29 at 5 p.m. The public is invited to this special author event, hosted by the Atlanta branch of Hamilton North Public Library, located at 100 South Walnut Street, Atlanta.

Sparks

With her background in print, radio, and speeches, including a career in Navy Public Affairs, Sparks offers experienced writing tips and advice to help authors and would-be writers to "prepare, polish, and publish" their writing. She believes that everyone has a story but few people tell it. Getting off the starting block is one of the obstacles to sharing a story, and Sparks has learned ways to inspire and equip others to get in the "writing race"

Business associates may be interested in this presentation, as businesses have stories to tell as well. Knowing which stories to choose and how to tell them can inform and draw in potential customers and clients. Success lies in learning what a reader really wants.

Prepare, Polish, & Publish with guest author, Susan Sparks is March 29 from 5:00-6:30 p.m. at the Atlanta branch of the Hamilton North Library.

Sheridan Rotarians hear about post-stroke speech therapy

Do you know what APHASIA is? It is the loss or impairment of the ability to use or comprehend words. It is quite common among stroke victims and can also occur with other types of brain traumas. This devastating condition is the third largest cause of death among the elderly and each year nearly 800,000 people in this country suffer a stroke.

This past week Sheridan Rotarians had a program about aphasia from a real expert in the field. Rotarian Fred Sturdevant’s daughter Megan Sutton was our guest speaker. Megan is a speech pathologist with extensive experience working with stroke victims. She works to help these afflicted individuals regain their use of speech through a variety of methods learned over the years. A new approach pioneered by Megan and her colleagues in her home town of Vancouver, BC uses a series of computer apps (tactustherapy.com) to reinforce the hands-on therapy she gives her patients. Megan is also a co-contributor on a new book ("Healing the Broken Brain" – available on Amazon) about aphasia therapy. At the present time she is preparing to travel extensively across America and Europe promoting her new book and her computer applications for stroke recovery. Sheridan Rotary tries to present interesting programs twice a month to its members, and non-members are always welcome to attend. The club has formal meetings on the first and third Tuesdays of each month with a dinner at 6:15 and guest speaker at 7 p.m. The meetings are held in the Community Room of the Sheridan Public Library. On the remaining Tuesdays of each month, the club members are involved in community projects such as leaf and trash removal in the parks, working to put on community meals, doing community construction projects and sometimes just cleaning up an eyesore.

If you would like more information about Rotary or would like to attend a formal meeting, please contact any Rotary member or stop by the library and visit with club president Steve Martin. And remember that our guest speaker programs begin at 6:45 p.m. and do not require any permission to attend; they are open to the public. Our program for Tuesday evening, March 21 will feature Sheridan Schools Superintendent Dr. Dave Mundy who will talk about the upcoming school referendum.

Sheridan genealogy is available at the Museum on Main Street

Did you know Sheridan has a museum on Main Street? It is not real big and it is not manned by highly paid professionals, but it competently tells the story of who we are and where we came from here in Sheridan.

The Executive Director of the museum is Sheridan’s own Jim Pickett. He is skillfully assisted in his work by all the members of the Sheridan Historical Society, but most especially by Stuart Neal and his sister Mary, and Winona Moss. These four people man the museum when it is open to the public on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 1 pm to 4 pm. They will answer your questions, give you lots of information about the hundreds of items on display and they will entertain you with humorous observations about our community.

If you are into Sheridan genealogy, you need go no further than Mr. Pickett. Jim sits at his desk surrounded by literally thousands of obituaries of Sheridan community folks. Being life-long residents of Sheridan, Jim and his helpers probably personally know any family you are interested in researching and can be very helpful if you are not sure of particular individuals within a family. Generally speaking, if you just know the last name, Jim and the others will take it from there and be able to provide you with a whole host of other family members, where they lived, who their children were or still are, who they married, where they worked, and best of all, they can probably provide you with interesting tales related to the family. This is one of the advantages of being from a small community like Sheridan.

Jim Pickett, Executive Director of the Sheridan Historical Society’s Museum on Main Street in Sheridan, sits surrounded by binders full of community obituaries.

In addition to doing genealogy research, Jim and the museum crew can entertain you with great community stories, often backed up by the thousands of pieces of memorabilia and old pictures located in the museum. They have a collection of Sheridan school yearbooks going back over a hundred years and they have all the graduating class composite photographs saved from the old Adams building.

The museum is run under the auspices of the Sheridan Historical Society for the benefit of all those who value our cultural heritage. One of the Society’s highlights is the restored Boxley Cabin in Veterans Park. George Boxley founded our community in 1830 when he settled here to escape a death sentence in Virginia for trying to incite a slave rebellion a few years earlier. While speculation persists, there is no actual evidence that Boxley was involved in the underground railroad which existed in nearby Westfield. At the present time, volunteers are needed to act as docents at the Boxley Cabin during the summer months so if you want to contribute to our community in an easy and meaningful way, let us hear from you.

Another venture of the Society is the annual 4th graders visit each fall. With the able assistance of retired 4th grade teacher and Society president Ron Stone, the Sheridan 4th graders are given a special field trip around the community as part of their Indiana history studies. The kids visit the museum for a talk with Jim and his staff; they walk over to the post office for a tour; they walk to the library where director and Society vice president Steve Martin gives them a tour and talk about Andrew Carnegie; and then they end up at Veterans Park for a visit to the restored Boxley Cabin.

The Sheridan Historical Society is an integral part of the Sheridan Community. In addition to the museum, the Society organizes the annual Boxley Lecture Series cultural program in February and organizes the annual Bluegrass Festival in Veterans Park. Beginning this year the Society will partner with the Hamilton County Parks Department to bring bluegrass aficionados the new Hamilton County Bluegrass Festival on July 7 and 8 at Bishop Park in Arcadia in place of the Sheridan Bluegrass Festival.

Hoosier State Relays are Saturday...

County schools will have many qualifiers

Qualifying for the Hoosier State Relays wrapped up this weekend, and schools across Indiana will now prepare for the big meet, which is scheduled for Saturday at Indiana University.

A large number of Hamilton County athletes will likely be in the lineup on Saturday. There are two divisions, for boys and girls each: Large School takes the schools from football classes 4A, 5A and 6A, while the Small School division consists of classes 1A, 2A and 3A. The top 24 qualifiers in each event earn a spot at the relays; except for the high jump and pole vault, which both take the top 18 qualifiers.

Here is a list of qualifiers, based on results posted to the Direct Athletics website. Please note that this is an unofficial list.

Carmel swimmers finish NCAAs strong in relays

The three former Carmel swimmers that competed in this week's NCAA Women's Swimming and Diving Championships at the IUPUI Natatorium ended the meet Saturday where they began: With success in the relays.

Veronica Burchill, a Georgia freshman, was part of the Bulldogs' runner-up 400 freestyle relay team, which finished in 3:08.97. Amy Bilquist, a California sophomore, led off the Golden Bears on their way to a third-place finish, with a time of 3:09.08. Texas, which featured freshman Claire Adams, placed ninth in a time of 3:12.65.

All three women competed in individual events. Adams placed 10th in the 200 backstroke final (1:51.50), with Bilquist 14th in that same event (1:52.03). Burchill finished 22nd in the 100 freestyle preliminaries, clocking in at 48.34 seconds.

Fishers boys lacrosse wins tight game

Overcast and cold were the weather conditions for the Fishers' boys lacrosse team's fourth game of the 2017 season at Reynolds Tiger Stadium on Saturday. The Tigers played host to Hilliard Davidson High School traveled from Hilliard, Ohio (a suburb of Columbus) for the Wildcat's first game of the season. The game would not disappoint the fans in the stands braving the weather, with Fishers winning 8-7.

The Wildcat's attackman David St. Clair (4 goals, 1 assist) would score first at the 6:18 mark of the first quarter and seize the momentum for the Wildcats. The Tigers would fight back and Senior attackman Joe O'Connell (five goals) scored at the 5:04 mark of the first quarter to tie the game at 1-1. Junior Goalie Isaiah Dunnuck (nine saves) made two key saves during the quarter to keep the Tigers tied at 1.

The Tigers would start off strong in the second quarter scoring another three goals to create a four-goal run. The Wildcats would score a goal at the 7:02 mark in the second which made the score 4-2 but the Tigers would score another two goals by Joe O'Connell and senior midfielder Joel Smyth (two goals).

The second quarter would be the most productive offensively for the Tigers as they outshot the Wildcats 16-5 in the quarter. Isaiah Dunnuck would tally four saves in the quarter keeping the Tigers in the game.

The Wildcats took control early in the second half by scoring four unanswered goals by winning four straight face offs and with patient and efficient possessions. The Wildcat run would force the Tigers to call a timeout and regroup. The Tigers would reclaim the lead at the 6:27 mark in the third quarter as senior attackman Justin Wilson would find a cutting Joe O'Connell for his fifth goal of the game. Isaiah Dunnuck would tally another two key saves in the quarter.

There were many scoring opportunities for both teams in a very tight fourth quarter. The best offensive play of the quarter and arguably the game was when senior midfielder Cameron Gieselman made a terrific feed to a cutting Joel Smyth to give the Tigers an 8-6 lead. Wildcat attackman Alex Van Voorhis (one goal, one assist) would score to bring the Wildcats within a goal at the 3:45 mark or the quarter. The final minutes of the quarter would be tense as the Tigers would turn the ball over at the three-minute mark of the fourth and would not get possession back for the remainder of the game. The defense led by senior defensemen Parker Smith (five ground balls, three takeaways), Zach Celentano (three ground balls, one takeaway) and Branden Stoeffler (three ground balls, three takeaways) would play outstanding pressure defense to seal the victory for the Tigers.

The Tigers face St. John Vianney from Missouri at Reynolds Tiger Stadium at 1 p.m. today.
