Noblesville Schools appoints Dr. David Mundy Associate Superintendent

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Tuesday that Dr. David Mundy, superintendent of Sheridan Community Schools, has been appointed associate superintendent of Noblesville Schools. The associate superintendent position will have responsibility for both human resources and operations across the district.

Mundy's appointment will fill the vacancies created by the departures earlier this year of Dr. Steve Stephanoff, former assistant superintendent and HR director, and Jeff Bragg, former operations director. During the staff transition Robin Phelps, executive director of business, has been serving as interim operations director, and Marnie Cooke, director of marketing and communications, has been serving as interim human resource director. Mundy will begin transitioning to the new role immediately, but will not officially be on board at Noblesville until July 1.

"Dave is such a highly respected member of the education community," said Dr. Beth Niedermeyer, superintendent, Noblesville Schools. "He quickly rose to the top of our selection process based on his proven leadership ability, solid human resource and operations background, and passion for the Noblesville community. He has a strong personal drive for action and I'm confident he will be a valuable addition to our leadership team."

Interchange remains under construction through July . . .

Campus Parkway traffic pattern at I-69 Exit 210 shifts to double-crossover diamond today

The REPORTER

The Campus Parkway interchange at Interstate 69 Exit 210 has been shifted into its new double-crossover diamond traffic pattern.

In order to implement the double-crossover diamond traffic pattern, Milestone Contractors temporarily closed Campus Parkway access over I-69 and some interchange ramps Tuesday night. Electronic message signs and police directed motorists to the Ohio Road overpass to cross over the interstate during the overnight traffic pattern change.

Campus Parkway was expected to be open to traffic in a double-crossover diamond pattern by 6 a.m. today.

Interchange construction continues

The Campus Parkway interchange will remain under construction and is expected to be fully open to traffic in its permanent configuration in July. Shifting traffic into the double-crossover diamond pattern now is intended to improve traffic flow during the remainder of construction.

Multiple traffic lane shifts will be required in the upcoming months to complete remaining construction of the new interchange design. Each phase of remaining construction will bring the interchange closer to its final traffic configuration and capacity.

For more information about the new double-crossover diamond interchange at Campus Parkway, as well as diagrams of the remaining traffic phases, go to <http://www.in.gov/indot/3441.htm>.

About the double-crossover diamond interchange

Two similar interchanges have been constructed with success in Indiana. The first was at I-69 and Dupont Road in Fort Wayne, and the second was built at I-65 and Worthsville Road in Greenwood.

This interchange design may appear unusual, but by following signs, pavement markings and traffic signal instructions, drivers find these interchanges easy to navigate.

Drivers that currently turn right at the

I-69 and Campus Parkway interchange will continue to do so.

Traffic signals, signs and pavement markings will briefly shift traffic to the left side of the road at the bridge across I-69. This allows left-turning traffic to flow more freely as it enters and exits I-69.

Through traffic on Campus Parkway will shift back to the right side of the road at the next traffic signal.

Added travel lane construction

Reconfiguring Campus Parkway at I-69 to a double-crossover diamond interchange is part of the $92 million I-69 Major Moves 2020 project adding a travel lane to each direction of I-69 between State Road 37 (Exit 205) and State Road 38 (Exit 219). In addition, other improvements are being made to rehabilitate existing bridges, pavement and drainage structures on the 15-mile stretch of interstate.

Two lanes of traffic in each direction of I-69 are currently shifted to accommodate construction of the additional travel lanes. Signs direct large trucks to use the left lane while traffic is shifted toward the right shoulder through the work zone. The speed limit is reduced to 60 mph and further reduced to 50 mph when workers are present.

For more information about the I-69 Major Moves 2020 project, visit <http://www.in.gov/indot/3440.htm> and subscribe to receive project updates via text or email.

Lane closure starts Thursday night at eastbound I-465 exit ramp to U.S. 421 / Michigan Road

The REPORTER

Milestone Contractors plans to temporarily shift southbound traffic lanes on U.S. 421/Michigan Road and close one right-turn lane on the eastbound Interstate 465 Exit 27 ramp starting Thursday night.

Starting at 9 p.m. on Thursday, crews will close one right-turn lane on the eastbound I-465 exit ramp to southbound Michigan Road as work begins to widen the exit ramp for an additional left-turn lane. This phase of construction is expected to last until July, and two left-turn lanes and one right-turn lane will remain open on the eastbound exit ramp.

At the same time Thursday night, up to three lanes of southbound Michigan Road will be closed during overnight hours to paint temporary lane markings and shift traffic to the left, toward the median. These overnight lane closures are expected to end before 6 a.m. on Friday.

About the project

Milestone is the prime contractor on a $1.4 million construction project adding turn lanes at the I-465 and U.S. 421/Michigan Road interchange on the north side of Indianapolis. The project seeks to increase capacity and improve traffic flow at the interchange by:

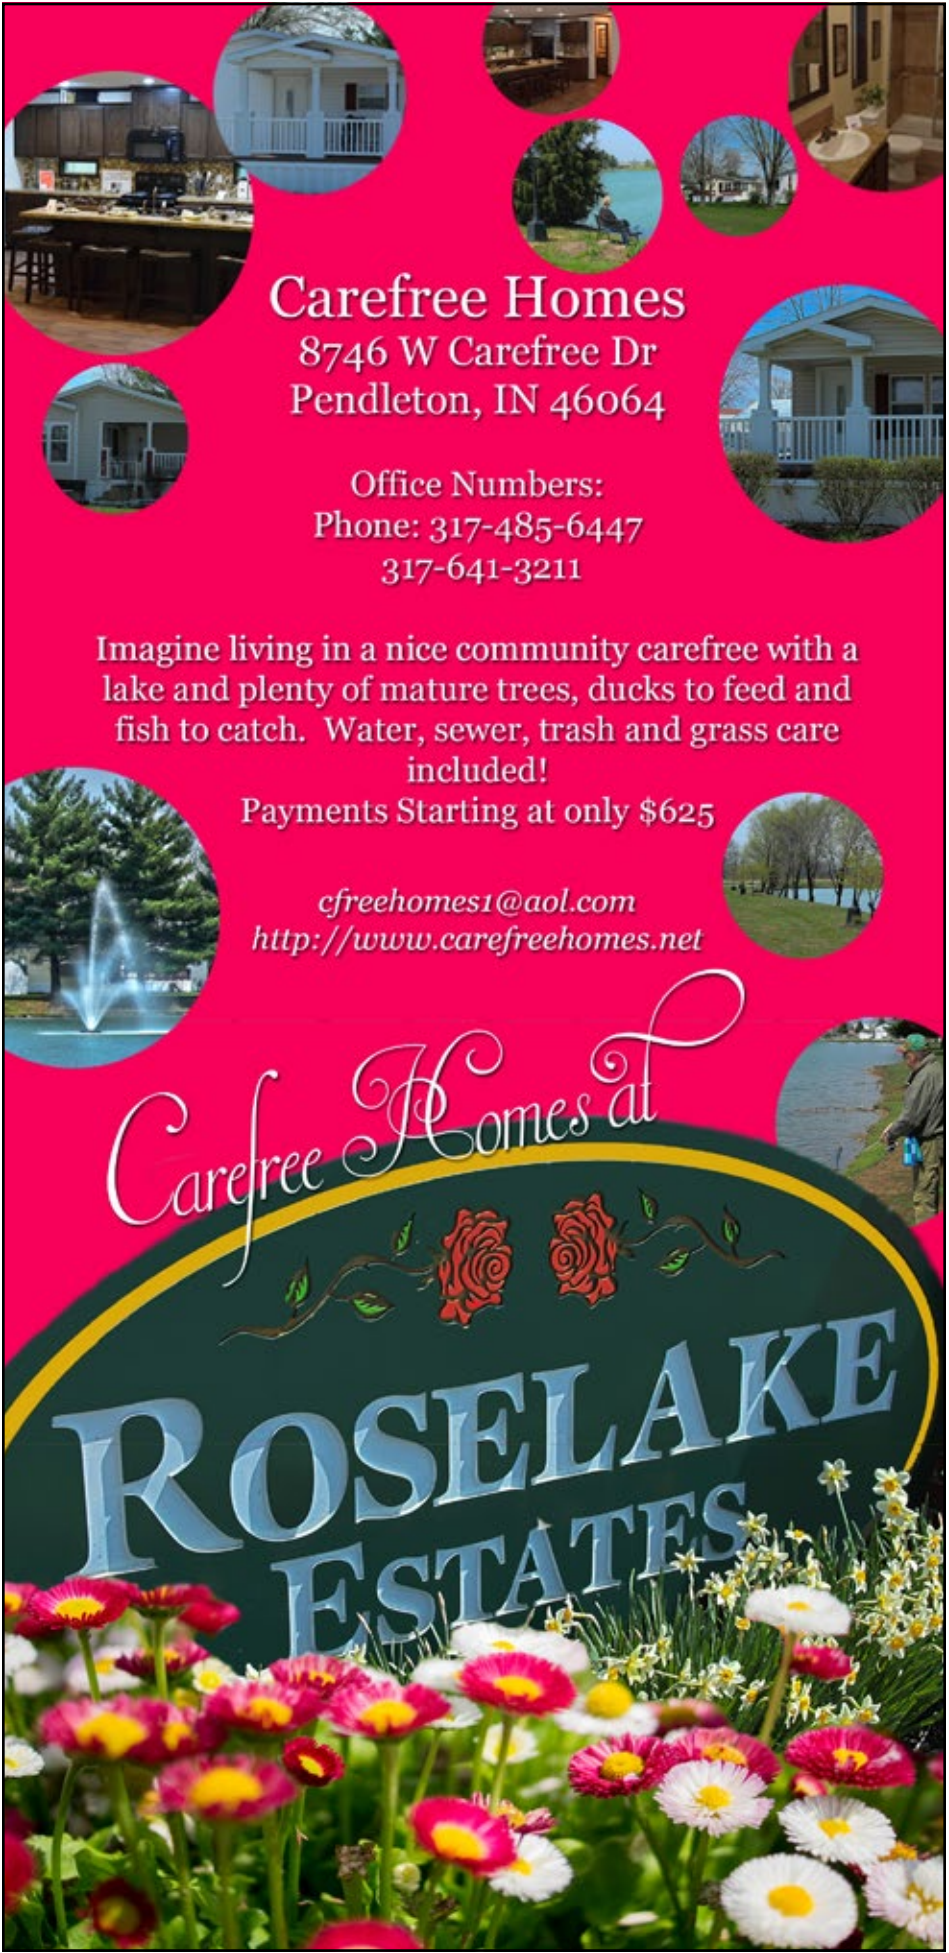

- Lengthening the existing northbound Michigan Rd. right-turn lane to eastbound I-465,
 - Adding a second left-turn lane on southbound U.S. 421 to eastbound I-465,
 - Adding a third left-turn lane on the eastbound I-465 exit ramp to northbound U.S. 421
- All interchange ramps are planned to remain open during the project. Some lanes at the interchange will be temporarily closed, narrowed or shifted to maintain traffic and provide space for construction.
- Specific schedule updates and traffic restrictions will be announced in advance of each phase of the project. Construction is anticipated to be complete by November.

Safe summer driving tips for teens, young adults

StatePoint

Warm weather means more young drivers on the road as they head to summer jobs, parties and embark on road trips. Often, young drivers feel invincible, but they shouldn't take their safety for granted.

Many experts say driver safety begins with tires, as they are the only thing connecting a car to the road. To help teens and young adults stay safe on the roads this summer and all year long, Cooper Tire & Rubber Company and the National Organizations for Youth Safety (NOYS) offer these tire safety tips.

- Check tire condition. Damaged tires can shorten tire life and even cause tire failure. Visually check tires for cuts, cracks, splits, punctures and bulges. If any of these conditions are spotted, or if there are any doubts about the condition of the tires, have them professionally inspected.

- Check tire pressure. Proper air pressure improves fuel consumption and helps prevent uneven wear of tires. It also offers drivers better control, which is important for those with less experience behind the wheel. More than 50 percent of American vehicles have at least one under-inflated tire, according to a Rubber Manufacturers Association survey.

To test pressure, wait until tires are cool -- a minimum of three hours after driving. Then, remove the tire's valve cap and press the top of a tire pressure gauge firmly on the valve stem. A reading will pop up on the gauge. If the reading is lower than the recommended level, add air and check again. Once the recommended pressure is reached, replace the valve cap.

- Check tire tread. Proper tread depth helps maintain traction, improves handling of the vehicle and prevents hydroplaning. To check it, insert the edge of a penny into the most worn groove of the tire tread, with Lincoln's head down and facing the driver. If the top of Lincoln's head is covered by tread, there is at least a minimum acceptable amount of tread. If the top of his head is visible at any point, it's time to replace the tire.

- Make it a habit. Technology can prepare young drivers for safer driving. For example, the free Tread Wisely app from Cooper Tire and NOYS, informs users how to check their tires using helpful videos and allows them to set automatic monthly reminders to perform tire checks. Other videos on the app instruct young drivers how to change a flat tire, what to do if they are in an accident, and how to handle other issues on the road. The app also includes a unique "I got there" feature, which reminds young drivers to let parents or friends know after they make it to their destination safely, using pre-loaded text messages.

More tire tips and information about the Tread Wisely app can be found at TreadWisely.org.

"As a parent, you can't help but worry," says race car driver Johnny Unser, whose teen daughter Loni uses the Tread Wisely app. "However, you can give your kids the tools and information they need to succeed out there on the road."

TEACHERS

teachers were chosen at the elementary level to reflect the fact that approximately 50 percent of Noblesville Schools teachers are at the elementary level.

Selection focused on master teachers who excel at putting Noblesville Schools' mission and vision into action. The winners regularly demonstrate the highest levels of quality instruction for their students and leadership among their peers.

Some examples include:

- Molly Hass encourages her students and peers to demand more of themselves and is regularly learning and growing alongside her students. She fosters an exceptional level of collaboration and innovation in the classroom, all while mentoring new teachers, leading high ability instruction, and encouraging building-wide professional development for other educators.

- Sherrie McGovern brings out the best in students and other teachers through her outreach and energy. She has developed a STEM club, robotics challenges and Maker Space at Stony Creek, in addition to her work co-teaching in classrooms, leading professional development for faculty, serving on district leadership committees and connecting with at-risk students.

- Natalie Parrish embraces new initiatives like co-teaching and flexible seating, and is a leader among her peers. She masterfully differentiates instruction for her students, successfully serving challenging learners as well as high performers. Her students consistently exhibit the highest growth in performance measurements and she is a teacher mentor, technology leader, and positive problem solver.

- Dave Ferris successfully generates excitement for, and deep understanding of, upper level math concepts through creative, hands-on activities connected to real world learning. He is respected locally and nationally as an AP trainer and master teacher. His students far exceed national averages on AP exams and he is a leader of professional development among NHS teachers.

The winners will be honored at an upcoming school board meeting, Noblesville Education Foundation teacher recognition dinner and district employee recognition breakfast.

As the overall district honoree, Parrish will also participate in the state Teacher of the Year competition.

Noblesville Schools employs approximately 650 teachers.

Former Millers basketball coach...

Leah Wooldridge named Noblesville HS Athletic Director

Wooldridge

Noblesville Schools announced today that Leah Wooldridge has been named athletic director for Noblesville High School (NHS), replacing Mike Hasch who left the position earlier this year. Assistant athletic director Tony Oilar has been serving as interim athletic director during the transition.

Wooldridge was selected from approximately 50 applicants and brings 13 years of education leadership experience to the position, serving as principal at Franklin Community High School, as well as athletic director at Taylor Junior/Senior High School in Kokomo. She has been a basketball coach at NHS and Anderson High School, with multiple Coach of the Year and championship honors, as well as a recruiting coordinator at Ball State University and the University of Detroit Mercy. As a player, Wooldridge was an Indiana high school basketball semi-state champion, a University of Michigan basketball team captain, and an NCAA tournament winner.

“Leah brings a long list of impressive accomplishments to the role of athletic director, not least of which are her proven abilities as a strong leader, team player and mentor for our coaches and athletes,” said Jeff Bryant, principal of Noblesville High School. “We’re excited to welcome her back to NHS and are confident she will continue to raise the bar for our athletic programming.”

“I also want to thank Tony for his dedication serving as interim director,” added Bryant. “He is a true professional and his work behind the scenes has made this transition seamless.”

Wooldridge holds a bachelor’s degree from the University of Michigan in sports management, a physical education degree from Ball State University and a master’s degree in school administration from Anderson University.

Girls track and field sectional...

HSE takes team championship, four new records set

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The conditions were just right for some good running at the Hamilton Southeastern girls track and field sectional Tuesday, and the athletes delivered.

The Royals defended their team championship in another typically close battle with Carmel. Southeastern scored 141 team points to the Greyhounds' 135, with Fishers in the mix as well. The Tigers placed third with 112 points.

Noblesville finished fourth, but tied with HSE for the most individual event wins; both schools claimed blue ribbons in five events. If that wasn't enough, there were four new sectional records set during the event.

"The competition came out. It was a great, great night," said Royals coach Julie Alano. "Lots of sectional records."

Alano noted that Southeastern also had a new school record in the pole vault: Kennedy Drish topped 11-8 in the vault, one of HSE's five victories.

"And we had some other good PRs in sprint events," said Alano.

Two of the Royals' blue ribbons went to Camille Christopher, who triumphed in the 100 and 200 dashes. The junior Christopher finished ahead of Fishers freshman Tamia Perryman in both events, and both will advance to next Tuesday's regional at Lafayette Jeff, along with all the other top three finishers in each event.

"Camille looked really good in winning the 1 and the 2," said Alano. "That was huge."

Another big win was in the discus, where Valerie Obear triumphed with a throw of 115-8. And then there was Mia Mackenzie, who set a new sectional record in the 300 hurdles. Her time of 45.33 lowered the longtime standard of Mary Steffel (1999, 45.40 seconds) by 0.07 seconds.

"I thought it was overall a good meet," said Mackenzie. "I've been working on a lot of stuff this week, and I think I accomplished most of it."

Carmel had one event win, the 3200 run, where freshman Phoebe Bates clocked in at

Boys golf

Westfield wins HCC again, Millers' Compton is medalist

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The Westfield boys golf team has accomplished much over the past few years, and added something new to that list on Monday: Defending a conference championship.

The Shamrocks, ranked No. 1 in the state, made it back-to-back Hoosier Crossroads Conference titles by winning this year's event at Bear Slide. Westfield carded 298. Zionsville finished second with 308, and third-ranked Noblesville placed third with 308.

"It was a great team score for us," said Shamrocks coach Josh Bryant. "Ethan Lutz leading the charge with 72. Anytime you get that out of your first score, it's really, really good."

Lutz tied with Noblesville's Mitchell Compton for the lowest score; Compton won a one-hole playoff to earn individual medalist honors.

Westfield had four players make the All-Conference team by virtue of a top 12 individual finish at the meet. After Lutz, Josh Kehl finished fourth with 74, Noah Shanteau tied for fifth with 75, and Andrew Lewis was part of a four-way tie for eighth place with a 77.

"We got seniors playing pretty good," said Bryant. "Josh Kehl and Noah Shanteau's games have been getting better and better."

The Millers had three All-Conference players. Compton led the way, followed by Clay Merchant, who tied for fifth with his 75, and Parker Deakyne, who placed 12th with 78.

"I think I played really good," said Compton. "Obviously there's a couple shots left out there, a couple putts left on the edge. Overall, I think it was a pretty good round,"

Hamilton Southeastern placed fourth as a team with a 320. Drew Alexander finished seventh with 76 and Jake Hutmacher tied for eighth with 77; both earned All-Conference honors.

Fishers finished fifth with a 331. Shivom Patel was the low man for the Tigers with an 80.

'Hounds finish second at MIC meet

Carmel hosted the Metropolitan Conference meet at Prairie View on Monday.

The Greyhounds shot a score of 286, two-under par, for the day. Yet Carmel finished second to Center Grove. The Trojans carded an unbelievable 270 - 18 under par. Center Grove's top four players all finished under par, with the fifth score right at an even-par 72, and all five Trojans made the All-MIC team.

The 'Hounds did pretty well, too. Nick Dentino finished fourth with a three-under par 69, while Cole Harris placed sixth, scoring a one-under par 71. It was both players' first time on the All-MIC team. Kevin Stone also earned All-MIC honors for the fourth time, tying for seventh with an even-par 72.

Clay Stirman and Eli Hedrick rounded out Carmel's scoring, each shooting 74.

In addition to the top three finishers in each event, the next best four times from all the sectionals that feed into the Lafayette Jeff regional also get to move on.

Fishers had two event wins. First up, the 4x100 relay team of Amaya Poole, Danielle Harrison, Kayla Crose and Perryman won that event in a new sectional record time of 47.61.

"It's honestly crazy," said Crose, a senior. "I've grown up being an alternate freshman year, and being able to actually improve and get better. It's an amazing feeling to be able to come out and do this. We work hard at practice for this."

Kamya Lapsley, a junior, joined the Tigers' relay team in the winner's circle with a first-place finish in the 800 run.

After that comes the Millers, and their five event wins. Noblesville started the meet with a win in the 4x800 relay, then Shelby Tyler took off - literally.

Tyler set a new record in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 8-1/4 inches. The sophomore bested a 25-year old record - Liz Shannon's jump of 5-8 had been the mark to beat since 1992. Tyler beat it with room to spare.

"That's been a big goal of mine for a while, and my coaches keep pushing me with it," said Tyler, "and it really helps to have their support."

Abi Little took the 1600 run, while Maria Anderson triumphed in the 400 dash. Both Millers also ran on the 4x8 with Susanna Sharples-Gordon and Kat Dombroski Little and Anderson ended the meet how they began it - with a win in the 4x400 relay. The two joined Anna Hazelrigg and Lillian Walter to give Noblesville blue ribbon No. 5.

Westfield took home two events. Emily Robertson edged out Mackenzie by .01 seconds - 14.86 to 14.87 - to take home the 100 hurdle race. Jada Caldwell finished first in the shot put with an impressive throw of 41-0.75.

Sheridan's Brittany Welch also got in on the record fun. Welch set a new mark in the long jump, leaping 18 feet, 1-1/2 inches to run away with the blue ribbon.

"Last year I went to the regionals and I get 18 and a quarter, so this is definitely my longest jump," said Welch. "I did really well. In the trials, I kept improving by an inch, and my last trial run I improved by two inches."

Guerin Catholic senior Megan Slamkowski finished second in the 1600 and will move on to the regional, as will Hamilton Heights freshman Markaela Pugh, who placed third in the 200 dash. Both the Golden Eagles and the Huskies have a handful of potential callback times as well.
