80,000 visitors expected in Atlanta

By STU CLAMPITT
The Reporter

The population of Atlanta is only 750, but this weekend this little northern Hamilton County town will welcome 80,000 to 100,000 visitors at the 44th Annual Atlanta New Earth Festival.

The Reporter had the opportunity to speak with Atlanta Clerk-Treasurer Robyn Cook about what visitors can expect at the longest-running and largest festival in Hamilton County.

There will be over 600 vendors lining Atlanta’s streets, which Cook says is nothing new.

“For the last 20 years we have seen at least this many vendors, but over the last several years the types of vendors have been slowly changing,” Cook said. “We see more farmers’ market items. We will have vendors with natural soaps, natural lotions, honey and similar items. This year we have a great deal of boutique clothing vendors.”

KAR to bring $80M headquarters to Carmel

The REPORTER

KAR Auction Services, Inc., a global vehicle remarketing and technology solutions provider, today announced the development of a new Carmel-based corporate headquarters and campus. The 13-acre site will host a new 250,000 square-foot office building featuring an open floorplan and broad collaborative workspaces. The building was designed to reflect both the company’s rich auto auction history and their international and technology-driven growth. Nearly 1,600 of KAR’s 17,400 employees are located in Indiana and the new location provides space for an additional 400 jobs.

“We want to give our employees a workplace that reflects our entrepreneurial culture and inspires them to create and innovate the moment they walk through the door,” said Jim Hallett, chairman and CEO of KAR. “The new campus will give us the additional space necessary to increase our workforce as we expand our global footprint. And it will help our company, the city and the state attract and retain some of North America’s best and brightest talent.”

KAR has made central Indiana home for nearly 30 years and currently has 10 auction and office locations in Carmel, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Plainfield and South Bend. Over the past five years, the company has expanded operations to more than

Carmel gives fire fighting history a local home

Fire fighting history has a home in Hamilton County. It’s found at the Carmel Fire Buffs Museum located at 210 First Ave. SW, Carmel. Nine classic fire trucks and other firefighting equipment from the 1920s to the 1960s are on display for the public in the only such collection in central Indiana aside from one in Indianapolis.

Guardian Towing will sponsor the live entertainment stage at this year's New Earth Festival.

While the vendors have told Cook this is the event that puts them in the black for the year, the festival also helps the Town of Atlanta in many ways.

"It is a kickoff to Christmas shopping for many people," Cook said. "But it helps us too. Our general fund budget is not that large, so this festival helps us fund things that we otherwise could not do."

Trimming trees, the purchase and removal of abandoned properties, help with fire department funding and other local projects are paid for with funds from the festival.

Cook wanted to emphasize the importance of the sponsors and volunteers who make this festival happen every year. One of those sponsors, relatively new to the area, is Mr. Muffin's Trains.

"Mr. Muffin's Trains used to be located in Carmel," Cook told The Reporter. "They decided to relocate to Atlanta and hit the ground running. They are a godsend to this town. They bring 200 to 300 people every Saturday to their shop where they run model trains. That shop is tied to an online business where they ship model train and accessories all over the country. They have a gigantic model train setup; you have to see it to believe it. They also have a retail shop on the other end of Main Street."

A big draw for Hamilton

County visitors is the live entertainment. That is made possible by the sponsorship of Guardian Towing.

"The entertainment sponsorship started at our 40th anniversary," Cook said. "We decided we wanted to do something new and we wanted to do it right. In order to fund that we started a sponsorship program. Guardian Towing is a local towing company that started about three years ago. They support other events and school programs in the community as well. The way he looks at it is that his business touches people all over Hamilton County and he can give back to the community by sponsoring the Guardian Towing Stage."

Guardian Towing's owner, Jai Cook, confirmed this is part his way of repaying Hamilton County for welcoming his business to the area.

"God has blessed my business with the support of customers from all over Hamilton County and beyond," Jai Cook said. "Sponsoring the entertainment stage at the festival is a way for me to be able to give back that brings much enjoyment to thousands in our community."

The Public Health, Safety and Awareness Area, sponsored by County Commissioner Christine Altman, is an interactive learning area which features the Fire House, IU Health, local, county and state law enforcement agencies, gun safety, drug and domestic violence awareness and more.

"As County Commissioner, I see firsthand that the needs and issues of Hamilton County are as diverse as each community is – from the rural, small towns to the ever-developing larger cities. One thing we ALL have in common is our health, safety and well-being. The Public Health, Safety and Awareness Area at the Atlanta New Earth Festival is an opportunity for all residents to learn about and speak one on one with the different agencies and organizations that are available to them. It's an honor for me to sponsor this area and help our county residents connect with the resources that are there for them," said Hamilton County Commissioner Christine Altman.

According to Cook, the health and safety area was also the brainchild of Deputy Clerk Jennifer Farley.

Plan ahead for festival traffic

The REPORTER

The annual Atlanta New Earth Festival takes place this weekend, Sept. 23 and 24. A large influx of traffic is typical during the festival so watch for congestion and allow for extra travel time if driving along State Road 19 or 296th Street this weekend. Many local streets will be closed during festival hours on Saturday and Sunday. Sheriff's Office deputies will be in the area to assist with traffic as well as to provide security during the event.

Make sure to stop by the Sheriff's Office booth at the New Earth Festival. Along with information and other items, the Indiana Sheriff's Youth Ranch will be selling raffle tickets for their truck.

FESTIVE WEATHER

"Rain or shine there will be crowds,"

Atlanta Clerk-Treasurer Robyn Cook told The Reporter.

According to our good friend Paul Poteet, Indiana's Weatherman, rain is not going to be an issue for the New Earth Festival. Poteet tells us this weekend looks warmer than average with temperatures reaching as high as the upper 80s and plenty of sunshine both days. To stay up to date on your festival forecast, visit www.PaulPoteet.com and watch this week's edition of "Hello, Hamilton County" Thursday night on www.Facebook.com/HamiltonCountyReporter and www.ReadTheReporter.com.

"It grows every year and we love it. We have it on Main Street," Cook said. "This year the Bloodmobile will be at the festival doing a blood drive. This area of the festival is all about resources that are available for citizens."

This year the festival is also partnering with Good Samaritan Network on a festival food drive.

"That too was Jennifer's idea," Cook said. "Nancy Chance will have her Good Samaritan Network people collecting cans and dry goods at parking locations, at the stage and at the public health and safety area."

Cook told The Reporter the Good Samaritan Network (GSN) is a project begun by Nancy Chance to unite several charitable organization in one place. All the resources that are available for charitable and outreach projects are reachable in one location. Thus, the network can connect people with the right organization for their individual needs.

According to their website, www.gsn-live.org, GSN is a collaborative/network of non-profits in Hamilton County. GSN utilizes two serving approaches, direct and indirect services, and in part is designed to ensure efficiency and communication among the different agencies, social services, nonprofits, local government, pantries and businesses – as together they serve the needs of Hamilton County residents who are at-risk or underserved.

The Kids' Fun Zone will have inflatables, sweet treats and games. It is sponsored by Bill Clifford for Hamilton County Sheriff.

"Bill is going to bring a military truck where kids can climb, play and get their pictures taken," Cook said.

Clifford said his sponsorship of the New Earth Festival is about community involvement.

"My campaign for Sheriff is not about me, but rather being involved with our community," Clifford said. "I am 150 percent committed to putting the needs of our community first and helping out with the Atlanta Earth Festival is a great opportunity to give back. In the service of others is where I receive a sense of calm."

Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt sponsors the New Earth Festival smartphone app.

"When the Town of Atlanta introduced their sponsorship program for the Atlanta New Earth Festival five years ago, I was proud to support this event and have continued to sponsor each year. Atlanta is the smallest community in Hamilton County yet they have been playing host to our longest running and largest festival for the past 44 years," Heirbrandt said. "I enjoy attending each year and seeing the tens of the thousands of visitors and hundreds of vendors, not only from our county, but across the state and beyond. It's a privilege for me to partner with the Town and be part of this great tradition."

According to Cook, the app is a very useful tool for navigating the New Earth Festival.

"That was another brainstorm of my wonderful deputy Jennifer," Cook said. "The app is where you will get all the information you want about the festival: who to contact for public safety, the vendors, entertainment and sponsor bingo."

Sponsor bingo is a game played on your smartphone through the app. You visit the sponsors and they give you a bingo number. The first few people to get BINGO will win prizes each day.

When asked about the name and history of the festival, Cook told The Reporter, "The festival started on Main Street in 1974. One of the business that helped start it was called 'A Touch of Earth.' Everything at the first festival was handmade. Originally it was the first week in October, but in time it was moved the fourth weekend in September."

This weekend, the 44th Annual Atlanta New Earth Festival has plenty to offer. Visit www.atlantaindiana.com or call (765) 292-2626 for more information.

students who tour the facility each year. They are allowed to climb into the trucks for a "hands on" feel of the vehicles. Visiting hours are irregular, but generally if the doors are open, visitors are welcome.

The museum is housed in what was once Carmel's only firehouse, built nearly 70 years ago entirely by volunteers and community contributions. After the death of longtime fire chief Donald Swails, it was named in his honor. The building was replaced as fire headquarters in the late 1980s by a new, larger facility.

The Swails station was then taken over by the Fire Buffs organization. The group's volunteers, headed by retired Assistant Chief Jim Martin, work almost constantly restoring equipment and upgrading the building and a large garage behind. The most recent project involves restoration of a former CFD truck rescued from a Kentucky junkyard. Financing the operation has come largely from the Clay Township administration which granted $80,000 to improve the property. The upgrades include a terrazzo floor in the main building and new overhead doors on the multi-bay garage. Terry Prather, treasurer of Fire Buffs, says talks are underway to acquire the garage from the city which also owns the firehouse, but leases it to the volunteer organization for $1 a year.

The museum is virtually in the heart of major redevelopment along the east side of the Monon corridor, but officers feel the old firehouse is safe. Prather says the Fire Buffs enjoy good relations with the city and township. Besides local government help, financial assistance is always appreciated and some is received from groups or individuals.

Special Olympics Indiana names Noblesville Schools as Unified Champions

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Monday that Special Olympics Indiana has named all 10 of their schools as Unified Champion Schools, the only district in the state to have all of their schools receive this honor.

The recognition is designed to highlight schools that make inclusion of students with disabilities a priority. Specifically, Special Olympics Indiana looks for schools that excel in inclusive student leadership, whole school engagement, Unified Sports® and fundraising.

Jeff Mohler, Special Olympics Indiana's Chief Operating Officer, commented, "Noblesville Schools has been the shining example of what an inclusive educational culture can be and should be. Their students benefit because of dedicated school administration and devoted teachers who see the value in all students. Noblesville Schools should be commended for this achievement of being the first school district to earn the Unified Champion Schools status."

"We are passionate about serving the academic, social and emotional needs

Olympics bowling fundraiser are just some of the initiatives we have pursued to ensure students with special needs feel included among other students and in our school community."

All 10 Noblesville schools will receive a four-foot by six-foot banner to hang in their gyms commemorating the accomplishment. Noblesville Schools' unified Olympic games event has also been highlighted in a Special Olympics Indiana video that will be shown statewide.

BUDGET

work session, held before the regular meeting. Brad DeReamer asked why there was no pay raise for the city council members and the city judge, when all other city employees, including the elected city clerk and the mayor, were included in the five percent pay increase.

Council Finance Committee Chairman Eric Moeller said he surveyed fellow council members and determined there were not five votes (a council majority) to pass a pay increase for city councilors. DeReamer and Councilman Pete Peterson argued forcefully in the work session that the council should not get so far behind in the pay scale that a large percentage increase will be needed in the future, as happened in 2017.

When the salary ordinance was up for council consideration, DeReamer made a motion to provide a five percent 2018 pay increase for the city council members and the city judge. That measure passed 5-2, with Eric Moeller and Cecilia Coble casting no votes. Council members John Weingardt and Selina Stoller did not attend the council meeting.

This allows the amendment to pass and become a part of the first reading version. However, the salary ordinance can be amended once again when a final vote is taken in October.

Just because the salary ordinance amendment allowing the council pay raise passed, it may not be enacted next month. For example, Councilman Todd Zimmerman told LarryInFishers he voted for DeReamer's amendment only to allow Weingardt and Stoller to weigh-in and vote on the amendment next month. Zimmerman indicated he is not in favor of the 2018 council pay hike, but voted yes only to allow a final vote including all council members next month.

Fadness told council members his 2018 budget proposal includes a $37.9 million cash reserve. He expects the budget will trigger a 1.5 cent property tax rate increase per $100 of assessed valuation. The mayor estimates homes valued at between $100,000 and $250,000 will see property taxes rise between $10 and $25 next year.

The mayor provided data showing Fishers with the lowest property tax rate among the state's 15 largest cities and one of the lowest tax rates in Hamilton County.

KAR

300 locations in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the United Kingdom and added more than 5,000 jobs, including 700 in Indiana.

KAR is further deepening its Indiana roots and planning for future global growth with this approximately $80 million project. KAR's new headquarters and campus will house the company's innovation, technology and data as a service divisions and serve as the US headquarters for TradeRev, KAR's mobile app-based auction subsidiary.

"I'm excited to celebrate KAR Auction Services' continued commitment to growing its global footprint in Indiana," Governor Eric Holcomb said. "Businesses from across the world recognize our state's business-friendly environment, robust talent pipeline and reputation as the technology hub of the Midwest. We'll continue taking Indiana to the next level, ensuring we're the best place to grow jobs and a business."

"It is very exciting to see another corporate headquarters built along our rapidly growing Meridian Street corridor," said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard. "The city of Carmel has worked hard to foster a strong business climate focused on our quality-of-life strategies and keeping our local property taxes among the lowest in the state. Today's announcement by KAR is evidence that Carmel is taking the right steps to create jobs and attract major private investments. We look forward to watching KAR grow and succeed in Carmel."

The new corporate offices will be located two miles south of KAR's current headquarters on the northeast corner of Illinois and West 111th streets, reaffirming the company's longstanding commitment to Carmel and central Indiana. The campus will feature a three-season outdoor courtyard and will incorporate design ideas from KAR employees across the globe.

Construction on the new campus is scheduled to break ground in early 2018 with a target move-in date in the second half of 2019. The development team assisting KAR with this project includes CBRE Group LLC, Ginovus LLC, Ice Miller, PURE Development, RATIO Architects, Shiel Sexton and US Realty.

Royals get big Senior Night victory

The Hamilton Southeastern girls soccer team had a perfect Senior Night Monday, blasting McCutcheon 9-0.

The Class 3A No. 7 Royals scored their first goal 34 seconds into the game, when Maddie Dalton sent in a cross that Izzy Wallace headed in. Wallace assisted the next goal, sending a ball to Layla Brown, who made good on a shot to the bottom corner.

Southeastern scored two more goals in the first half to make the score 4-0 at half-time. Molly Harris assisted both of them, with Claire Wilkinson and Lydia Self scoring the goals.

Ava Keaffaber got the next two goals, assisted by Brown and Wallace. Wallace then assisted a goal by senior Katie Reed. Taylor Pozzebon made the next goal, assisted by Nathalie McLeish. Harris then finished the scoring with an unassisted goal.

Seniors Saanika Kamat, Ellie Gerstner, Rylee Nichwitz, Grace Barton, Carly Count, Katie Reed and Claire Eichorst earned the shutout defensively.

The Royals travel to 3A No. 11 Zionsville tonight for a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game. Southeastern is 4-0 in the HCC, so a win would give the Royals the conference title.

A battle between two county teams in the top 10 of 3A was halted due to lightning on Monday.

No. 3 Carmel was leading No. 6 Noblesville 2-0 with 35 minutes left in the game before play had to be stopped. The contest will be re-started at 6 p.m. tonight, at the Greyhounds' Murray Stadium.

Sheridan was a 4-1 winner over Eastern on Monday.

fourth minute of the game, and then found the back of the net in the 45th minute.

Ashton Wilson scored an unassisted goal just before halftime, and junior Hannah Lugenbeal added her own unassisted goal in the 47th minute. Lugenbeal also earned Player of the Game honors.

The win ensures that Sheridan will finish second in Hoosier Heartland Conference play.

The Blackhawks played University on Tuesday, falling 7-2. The Trailblazers scored their first goal two minutes into the game, with Kenzie Allen playing a ball to Tessa Hudson for the first goal. Hudson scored again minutes later, off a Lily Snyder assist. Hudson added two more goals in the first half.

Royals-Eagles showdown ends in 1-1 tie

Tuesday's boys soccer showdown between the top two teams in Class 3A featured great defense for 79 minutes, followed by a wild one minute of offense.

No. 2 Hamilton Southeastern hosted No. 1 Zionsville in a big Hoosier Crossroads Conference game that was also HSE's Senior Night game. The contest ended in a 1-1 tie, making the Royals 4-0-1 in conference play. However, the result gave HSE a share of the conference title.

The game was marked with solid play all the way. Both teams had their scoring opportunities, and there were several close calls. Southeastern goalkeeper Michael Flores-Rodriguez was solid in the box, making critical saves and a key deflection in the game's 16th minute.

The Royals broke through with 44.5 seconds left, when senior Darian Ghaffari made a laser kick into the net. Southeastern held a 1-0 lead. But the Eagles got a free kick opportunity just a few seconds later, and the ball was deflected into the net with 26.6 seconds left.

"I'm awfully proud," said HSE coach Chris White. "We're without three starters tonight, and I thought our guys really played well. Thought they deserved a win, just came up a little short. It was a great game between two top teams."

The Royals have two more games remaining in the regular season, both on the road. Southeastern plays at Lawrence North on Thursday, then travels to Noblesville next Tuesday.

After a scoreless match, Sheridan finally got past Carroll in penalty kicks Tuesday in a Hoosier Heartland Conference game.

Neither team scored during regulation or overtime. The first set of PKs ended in a 3-3 tie. The Blackhawks broke through in the second set, with junior Walker Casler making the winning shot. The final penalty kick score was 6-5.

The 'Hawks will play at home today against Taylor in a continuation of an HHC game that was halted due to lightning on Monday with 20 minutes to go. The game is currently tied 3-3. Will Zachery scored two goals and Will Black scored one.

Hamilton Heights came from behind to beat Eastern 4-3 on Tuesday.

The Class 2A No. 20 Huskies found themselves down 2-0 after the first 10 minutes, but quickly got back on track, as Heights coach Derrick Dean said his team "started pressuring the ball very well and controlling the game."

Josh Thorpe got the Huskies' first goal, scoring on a free kick. Thorpe then scored again to tie the game at 2-2, which would be the halftime score.

In the second half, Heights took the lead when Donovan Trew found Drew Tomaszewski for the Huskies' third goal. Heights' fourth goal came when Jacob Luckey found Thorpe, who put the ball in for his third goal of the game.

"Co-players of the game go to Josh Thorpe for his hat trick and Drew Tomaszewski for his versatility on the field as he was moved around into several positions to help control the game," said Dean.

Carmel, ranked No. 16 in 3A, played Metropolitan Conference rival Pike to a 3-3 tie on Tuesday.

Riley Shives scored two of the Greyhounds' goals, with Jack Muller also scoring one. Oliver Shebek and Alex Cline both made an assist.

"Tonight was a very typical game versus Pike that ended in tie," said Carmel coach Shane Schmidt. "There were some really nice portions of the game where we were getting in behind their defense and were dangerous. We have two more games this week that we will prepare for and get back at it."

The 'Hounds are now 6-4-2 and host Cathedral on Thursday for their Senior Night game.

University, the No. 2 ranked team in 1A, beat Greenwood Christian Academy 2-1 on Tuesday.

Agastya Das and Sam Gailey both scored goals for the Trailblazers, who are now 9-3 for the season.

The halftime score was 4-1. In the second half, Halle Von Ah and Allen both found the back of the net, and Hudson finished the game with her fifth goal.

Sheridan stats for this game were unavailable at press time.

Westfield tied Pendleton Heights 0-0 on Tuesday.

Catie Cochran played an excellent game for the Shamrocks.
