Goodrich to seek District 29 seat

By FRED SWIFT
ReadTheReporter.com

Charles (Chuck) Goodrich, Noblesville resident and president of Gaylor Electric, has become the second candidate to file intentions to run for the District 29 State Representative seat, long held by Kathy Richardson. She announced earlier this month that she will not seek another term in the House of Representatives. A principal reason for Goodrich's decision to run is his interest in assisting in providing training for individuals wishing to enter the skilled trade job market. Goodrich has taken the lead in starting a job innovation center locally and actively supports Indiana Work Force Development. Gaylor Electric has an internship program for high school and college students.

Gaylor is a major electrical contracting firm. Their Noblesville office is headed by Goodrich. The candidate this week filed his campaign committee declaration which allows him to begin collecting contributions. Candidates can officially file for office starting Jan. 10 for the May 8 Republican primary. Previously announcing intentions to file was Noblesville City Councilman

Greg O'Connor. Goodrich, his wife and family have lived in Noblesville 20 years. He is member of the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce, Associated Builders and Contractors, the 50 Club and the White River Christian Church. He has participated in church mission projects in Panama where church members work to upgrade living standards for the native population.

In late June of this year, the Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) School

District agreed to hire the private firms of MilesHerndon and BitWise to work on branding the school system and updating the district's web presence. Nearly six months later, MilesHerndon is presenting some concepts to the school board. BitWise is not quite ready to preview website concepts until the branding decisions are made. School board members grappled with the choices of logos for the entire school district and individual schools at a Tuesday morning work session. After a lengthy discussion, MilesHerndon was given

LarryInFishers.com

ThyssenKrupp Presta is coming to Fishers, bringing 86 existing jobs and expecting to create 64 more positions by 2020. The firm will spend $7 million to renovate 47,000 square feet of space once occupied by Comcast. The Fishers City Council approved a five-year tax abatement for the ThyssenKrupp Presta as part of the Economic Development Agreement, along with a $50,000 commercial grant, conditioned on the jobs promised. The State of Indiana is also providing incentives, $950,000 in conditional tax credits and up to $200,000 in training grants. Company officials say all these jobs coming to Fishers will be engineering positions. The Fishers facility will be aimed at high-tech steering systems and other technologies tied to the automotive industry. ThyssenKrupp Presta has about 500 employees in the Central Indiana area, and is an international firm operating in 79 countries throughout the world.

The REPORTER

Big Woods restaurant coming to Westfield

The REPORTER
Those familiar with the Big Woods restaurants in Bloomington, Franklin, Nashville and Speedway will soon be able to enjoy those menu items in Westfield. Big Woods Restaurants has announced plans to build an 8,000 square-foot facility in Westfield next year. The restaurant will feature the familiar timber frame construction, full menu and outdoor seating. The restaurant will also feature their own Hard Truth Distilling Company spirits and Quaff ON craft beers. "Our intent is to take the best of everything we've done so far in our other locations and bring that to Westfield," said Jeff McCabe of Big Woods. The new, stand-alone location will be located on the southwest corner of State Road 32 and US 31.

"Grand Park is a wonderful facility that is bringing people from all over the country to Westfield, so it will be great to be close to the new development that is happening in that area," said McCabe. "Once again our community's investment in Grand Park is doing exactly what it was intended to do," Mayor Andy Cook said. "From its inception, Grand Park was seen as a way to spur long-term economic development for the surrounding area that will cater to our burgeoning hospitality industry." "The more people we've talked to from Westfield, the more confident we've become in our decision to build here," McCabe added. The restaurant is expected to open next winter. an idea of how to come up with a final version of the logo and phrases to brand the local school system.

The next step is for school administrators to work with the private firms and finalize the logo and phrases to identify the Hamilton Southeastern Schools.

MilesHerndon told board members it had conducted a number of “discovery group” sessions to get some idea how to design the logo and phrasing. The firm also conducted phone interviews with community members within the school district.

BitWise told board members they are not ready to present a new website design until MilesHerndon completes its work on the logo and phrasing.

Two of the phrasing options proposed by MilesHerndon are:

- Community of Thoughts – and Actions
- Inspiring Learning

At the June 28 session, the board approved contracts with MilesHerndon and BitWise. $50,000 goes to MilesHerndon for the branding and $98,599 to BitWise for the website redesign, for a total of $148,599.

‘Rocks finish strong in victory

In order to have a chance against a tough team from Anderson, Westfield coach Ginny Smith said that her Shamrocks tried a strategy that was "very out of the ordinary for us."

"We played a zone," said Smith. "We've never played a zone."

It was a different kind of defense from the 'Rocks, but it worked in the end: Westfield finished the game on a 7-0 run to secure a 46-40 victory over the Indians Tuesday at The Rock. With the win, the Shamrocks improved to 10-5.

Westfield trailed 40-39 late in the fourth quarter. Sophia Kreag tied the game with a free throw, then later gave the 'Rocks the lead with a layin. Westfield's defense did its job on the other end, and Jade Shipley made four consecutive free throws to clinch the win.

"I'm glad that Jade hit those free throws down the stretch," said Smith. "That's been big. We had struggled from the line all year long, so I'm never comfortable if that's what it's going to come down to. But I will say, Jade went up there, she was confident and she knocked down her free throws, and that was big for us."

The Shamrocks led 12-8 after the first quarter and 24-19 at halftime. Ryann Bunting helped out big-time in the second period, hitting two 3-pointers on her way to eight points in the quarter.

Anderson began to make its way back into the game in the third quarter, and caught up to the 'Rocks into the fourth before Westfield made its big finish.

"At this point, we're relying on our defense, just trying to keep us in games and then hoping that we can get some buckets down the stretch, which we did," said Smith.

In fact, the 40 points the Shamrocks allowed is under their defensive average of 45.3 points per game. The zone worked, even if it was an unusual strategy.

"I'm not a zone person, never have been," said Smith. "But I felt like to give us a chance, we'd have to play some zone. We played more zone in this game than we played man, and that's probably the first time ever in Westfield history that's happened, since me or Shane (Sumpter) was the coach."

Sumpter coached Westfield from 2008-15 before becoming the Shamrocks' boys coach; Smith started as the Westfield girls coach in 2015.

"I think this is one of those situations where we did what we had to do," said Smith. "They're just so quick and athletic, I don't know that we could've contained the dribble one-on-one."

Shipley finished the game with 13 points, while Bunting wound up with 10. Kreag led the rebounding with nine, followed by Annabelle O'Hair with six, and Ava Henson and Bunting with five each. Bunting also blocked two shots.

The 'Rocks are now off until next Thursday, Dec. 28, when they play at Frankton.

Blackhawk girls overwhelm Western

Sheridan's girls team got a dominating win on Tuesday, overwhelming Western 87-31 at Hobbs Memorial Hall.

The Blackhawks took care of business from the beginning, leading 20-4 after the first quarter and 47-17 at halftime. Sheridan outscored the Panthers by at least 10 points in each period.

"I was very pleased with the demeanor tonight," said 'Hawks coach Jeff Guenther. "I felt like we took it seriously. We were enthusiastic. We were involved. All 12 kids from the start, until the horn went off, and that's all you can ask of them."

Audrey Reed led Sheridan with 29 points, including 13 in the second quarter. Heather Barker added 11 points. Emma Went played well, scoring all seven of her points in the fourth period. Ten different Blackhawks scored.

"It's not about the points, it's about the effort," said Guenther. "And it's about playing with the right attitude. It's about being a good teammate. It's about putting the team first and I felt like we really did that tonight."

Sheridan is now 9-4 for the season. The 'Hawks are off until Wednesday, Dec. 27, when they travel to Lapel.

Noblesville Tournament is next week...

Millers fall to Pike

Noblesville's boys basketball team dropped a 67-31 road game to Pike on Tuesday.

The Red Devils led 13-8 after the first quarter and 27-16 at halftime. Pike then outscored the Millers 40-15 in the second half.

"Tonight was disappointing because our offensive and defensive execution was not sharp," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley. "Pike really hurt us with their ball pressure which led to 15 turnovers. We need to continue to do a better job of cutting and screening."

"Defensively we struggled stopping the drive and rebounding. Pike out-rebounded us by eight and they had seven offensive rebounds for 10 points."

Zack Johnson led the Millers with 12 points and four rebounds.

"We need to use this as motivation to keep working to improve in practice and get prepared for our holiday tourney coming up on Dec. 27," said McCauley.

Noblesville will host Indianapolis Lighthouse East at noon on Dec. 27 in a first-round game of the Noblesville Holiday Tournament.
