Indiana mourns loss of Jim Kinder

The REPORTER

Indiana lost a giant this week when Major James S. “Jim” Kinder died of heart failure on May 7 at his home in Fishers. Kinder, a 29-year veteran of the Indiana State Police, is often credited as the father of modern computing for law enforcement in Indiana.

Jim Kinder was born in Elwood on May 12, 1939, to Lowell Kinder and Madonna (Clyde) Kinder. He grew up in Tipton where his father served as a fireman and fire chief for 35 years.

At age 25, the young civil servant became a state policeman assigned to the post at Redkey. On the night of Dec. 13, 1964, within a week of getting his first patrol car, Kinder was struck by a drunk driver near Muncie while outside of his car helping another vehicle. He was hurled into the air and critically injured. Kinder remarkably survived, though he spent most of the next two years in Ball Memorial Hospital. Once recovered, he could no longer work as a trooper on the road and had to develop new areas of police expertise.

In 1968, Kinder was reassigned to the State Office Building where he joined a fledgling unit called Data Processing. By the early 1970’s, he was leading this unit and a technology revolution that took the Indiana State Police from the era of punch cards and room-sized mainframes to PCs and networks of shared crime data. From there, the department has continued its march forward and now uses mobile computers in patrol cars as well as real-time networks of crime data.

“Jim Kinder left an indelible mark on the Indiana State Police”, said Doug Carter, current Superintendent of the Indiana State Police. “He survived a horrific accident early in his career, but never let that define him. He went on to lead our computing

Noblesville man now more than 700 days sober . . .

Hamilton County celebrates National Drug Court Month

The REPORTER

Jason Shadoan has a lot to be grateful for. With a solid job and his first baby on the way, things are looking up for this 30-year old Noblesville man, but that wasn’t always the case.

“I should have been in prison, or worse, dead,” Shadoan admits. “My life today is unrecognizable from where it was two years ago.”

Shadoan started drinking and using drugs at the age of 13. His heroin addiction caught up to him after multiple arrests for theft and possession of drugs, but Hamilton County Superior Court 6 Judge Gail Bardach saw something in Shadoan. She admitted him into the Hamilton County Drug Court in July 2016. Monday, May 7, Shadoan graduated 733 days sober.

“Jason used to turn to drugs to dull his anger and frustrations,” Bardach recalls. “Now he mentors other drug court attendees and even started a Heroin Anonymous chapter.”

May is National Drug Court Month. Shadoan is the 54th participant to graduate from Hamilton County’s Drug Court since its founding in 2010. The ceremony marks the completion of an intensive 18-24 months of comprehensive substance use disorder treatment, close supervision and accountability.

“Jason’s graduation is evidence of the tremendous impact Drug Court has had on our community,” Judge Bardach says. “It sends a powerful message. These programs reduce addiction, crime and recidivism while saving lives, families and valuable resources for our state.”

This year, treatment courts throughout the nation are advocating to ensure continued federal and state funding. There are more than 3,000 treatment courts in the United States annually serving 150,000 people.

“I want to be sober so I can be present in my life,” Shadoan says. “For the first time in a long time, I can say, ‘My life is good!’”

Prank at Sheridan Schools leads to short lockdown

The REPORTER

Sheridan High School and Middle School went into lockdown on Wednesday for approximately five minutes. The school reported emergency personnel were on scene immediately after a student prank generated their response.

Although school officials did not confirm, the Reporter received information the incident involved a fake gun.

Sheridan High School Principal Jane Newbloom stated that all protocols and procedures were followed and students were never in danger.

The incident remains under investigation.

Reflections on an election

The most striking aspect of Tuesday’s primary election was the fact that in a county with a third of a million residents, a mere 10,000 votes will choose a Superior Court judge and 12,000 can elect a sheriff. This is not a criticism of the winning candidates for these or other offices. They did all they could to encourage folks to vote.

The problem lies with our general public which does not seem to understand the importance of a primary election. There is almost no use in preaching to the choir on this because we can be reasonably certain that most readers of the Reporter voted. But, there are tens of thousands of our citizens who don’t get the message.

Hamilton County votes reasonably well in the November election. But, if folks want to help choose their elected officials, they must vote in the primary. That is where the choices are made. In this county, most local primary winners will be elected without opposition in November.

The most overarching issue of the recent election was attention given to the spreading opioid epidemic which is both a local and national crisis. Most candidates for prosecutor, sheriff, judge and even county council promised that if elected they would attack the problem with renewed energy and new ideas.

County Coroner John Chalfin said Tuesday night during election returns that 18 county citizens are likely fatal victims of the drug so far this year. The coroner’s grim news, as a coroner’s news usually is, was that deaths are running well ahead of this time last year.

On the lighter side, one candidate on Tuesday’s ballot made the unusual request that he not be elected. That was Mike McConnell who was on the ballot for Cicero Town Council. He had told his friends and neighbors that due to recent personal issues, he would rather not win. They heard him. He got 122 votes of the 1,651 cast in the Cicero voting.

The closest election was in Sheridan where only three votes separated Bill Curl from Steve Fisher; however, both earned at-large seats on the town council. Another close vote saw Paul Hensel, a member of a longtime political family, defeat incumbent Paul Bolin for a seat on the Clay Township Board by 26 votes in a four-way race where 23,322 votes were cast.

And, if you think the campaign for the U.S. Senate nomination was nasty, apparently 2,452 of our voters thought it was nasty enough that they chose not to cast a ballot for any of the candidates. Since 43,021 voters went to the polls, but only 40,569 ballots were cast at the top of the ticket where the greatest number is usually found, we can assume that the 2,452 did not want to vote for anyone of the three candidates.

For his efforts leading the Data Processing unit, Kinder was awarded a Sagamore of the Wabash, Indiana’s highest honor, by Governor Otis Bowen in 1979.

Jim Kinder graduated from Tipton High School and Indiana University. He served in the US Army from 1959 to 1964. He was honorably discharged from the Army and joined the Indiana State Police where he served until his retirement in 1993. He later served as head of communications for the City of Carmel and Tipton County.

Jim played an active role in the community. He was longtime member of Our Lady of Grace and Saint Louis de Montfort Catholic parishes. He led the building committee for Saint Louis de Montfort in 1978, and became the first Grand Knight of its Knights of Columbus council in 1980. Jim was a past president of the parent-teacher organization for Fishers Elementary School. He coached countless local children in little league baseball and football for Hamilton Southeastern Schools. He was a charter member of the Fishers Downtown Athletic Club.

Survivors include his wife of 54 years, Linda (Burton) Kinder; son James J. “Jeff” Kinder and his wife Julie Herlihy of Menlo Park, Calif.; daughter Julie Kweder and husband Jeff, Carmel; son John Kinder, Bend, Ore.; and eight grandchildren: Jaclyn Kweder, Andrew Kweder, Ashley Kweder, Joseph Kweder, James L. Kinder, Elliot Kinder, David “Max” Kinder and Eleanor Kinder.

He was preceded in death by his parents, his sister Mary Alice Nichols, Tipton, and his brother David Kinder, Sellersburg, who was also a longtime veteran of the state police.

Visitation will be from 4 to 8 p.m. on Friday, May 11 at Young-Nichols Funeral Home, 216 W. Jefferson St., Tipton. A second visitation will be held from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday, May 12 at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church, 9900 E. 191st St., Noblesville, followed by a funeral mass at noon. Burial will be at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 12 in St. John’s Cemetery in Tipton. Honors from the Indiana State Police and Tipton American Legion will be presented.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Indiana Concerns of Police Survivors, which supports families of officers killed in the line of duty. Anyone can make a donation to the group at incops.org or P.O. Box 2222, Indianapolis, IN 46206.

Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville named recipient of Noblesville Dental Associates Smiles For Life teeth whitening fundraiser

The REPORTER

Noblesville Dental Associates, a local family dental office, is pleased to announce the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville as the recipient of their Smiles For Life campaign. Dr. Kurt Rider and staff have partnered with the Smiles for Life Foundation to raise funds for children's charities through their professional teeth whitening services.

Noblesville Dental Associates gifts their time and services, using provided whitening materials, to offer professional whitening services at a reduced cost. Participants receive safe, professional quality whitening in exchange for donations. There is no donation minimum, thus making teeth whitening accessible to all while benefiting children in need.

Since 1998, Smiles For Life has raised over $40 million benefiting hundreds of children's charities. Since all materials and services are donated, 100 percent of the funds raised go directly to the selected charities. Fifty percent of the donations are earmarked for each dental practice's local charity partner. The remaining portion goes to the Smiles For Life Foundation to be distributed to worthy and approved children's charities across the U.S., Canada and worldwide.

Noblesville Dental Associates has a long-standing relationship with the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville. This relationship began with Dr. David Fink's involvement with the Club. For nearly 40 years he served the Club in varying capacities, including President of the Board, as well as serving the Noblesville community as a dentist. Dr. Kurt Rider and the Noblesville Dental Associates family are honored to continue his legacy of involvement with the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville.

"Our office was drawn to the Smiles For Life campaign because the entirety of donations go directly to the children's charities. Since all work and materials are provided at no cost, it isn't 100 percent of the proceeds that go to the children in need, it is 100 percent of the donations. This was an important distinction to us, when looking for an opportunity to give back to our community," said Dr. Rider of his desire to make a difference through dentistry.

Firefighters were called to the Indiana Gun Club Tuesday evening, located on 113th Street in the Geist area of Fishers. Authorities received a report of an explosion and fire at the gun club around 6:40 p.m.

Fishers Fire personnel found a substantial amount of fire which was quickly extinguished. An enclosed trailer, storage sheds and garage were involved.

Fire investigators say the cause of the fire/explosion was a self-ignition of the smokeless powder inside the trailer. Fire officials believe the interior temperature of the trailer reached an ignition temperature, causing the rapid ignition of materials. The investigation will continue.

The club appeared to be closed at the time the incident was reported.

Brooks, Eshoo introduce National Non-Emergency Mobile Number Act

The REPORTER

Congresswomen Susan W. Brooks (R-IN) and Anna Eshoo (D-CA) have introduced H.R. 5700, the National Non-Emergency Mobile Number Act, a bipartisan bill which directs the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to facilitate the creation of a unified wireless number for critical non-emergency situations on our nation's highways.

"This commonsense, bipartisan bill ensures our 911 telecommunicators can focus on responding quickly and efficiently to phone calls reporting time-sensitive and urgent emergency matters," said Brooks. "When people are traveling from state to state, the short non-emergency number people call to report an instance deserving of attention but may not classify as an emergency varies across state lines. Designating a code for this specific use promotes a more cohesive and effective public safety response. This bill will make it easier for travelers to contact public safety officials when reporting non-emergency situations and enables our 911 telecommunicators to focus on helping people who are dealing with an emergency."

"In an interconnected nation, it is essential that we have a streamlined communication system across all states," said Eshoo. "The National Non-Emergency Mobile Number Act simplifies travelers' access to assistance in non-dire times, regardless of what state they're in and eases unnecessary call traffic to 911. I'm proud to partner with Rep. Brooks on this straightforward legislation that will allow emergency call centers to focus on urgent matters and save the lives of those in danger."

Background

Currently, there are at least 18 different wireless short codes in operation across 29 states throughout the country. Mobile wireless non-emergency numbers primarily used on highways allow individuals, especially the traveling public, to quickly and easily contact public safety officials (typically state highway patrols) in critical times of need that do not exactly rise to the emergency level, such as car malfunctions.

These numbers shift unnecessary calls away from 911 systems to help with congestion and allow emergency call centers, or public safety answering points (PSAPs), to focus on more significant matters. The National Non-Emergency Mobile Number Act directs the FCC to facilitate the creation of a unified wireless non-emergency number. This would help consolidate the multiple numbers existing today, thereby reducing traveler confusion and hastening response times.

Indiana State Parks "Origins" documentary available online

The REPORTER

Learn about the beginning of Indiana's system of state parks and the role an Indianapolis businessman played in their development in a new documentary available online.

"Origins," a 42-minute film, portrays the story of Richard Lieber, a German immigrant and early conservationist who spearheaded efforts to develop Indiana state parks more than 100 years ago. The film also tells how Lieber overcame disappointment after a failed first attempt to purchase the land that became Turkey Run State Park.

"It reminds us that sometimes our biggest successes come when we don't give up after failure," said Ginger Murphy, deputy director of Indiana State Parks.

Storyteller Bob Sander developed the film and narrates it.

Sander wrote "Origins" in 2016 with funding from an Arts in the Parks grant through the Indiana Arts Commission as part of the Indiana State Parks 2016 Centennial Celebration. Originally, Sander presented "Origins" live and in-person to state parks visitors.

In 2017, Sander received a grant to convert "Origins" to a digital presentation that could be shared through electronic media and used in state park interpretive centers.

A link to the "Origins" video is at StateParks.IN.gov/2410.htm.

Indiana's first state park, McCormick's Creek, opened on July 4, 1916, followed by Turkey Run later that year. The system has since grown to 32 properties statewide.

Higher salaries, more jobs may be coming for U.S. workers

StatePoint

Small and mid-size business owners are feeling more optimistic than they have for a long time, suggests a new survey, and experts say this could mean positive things for the overall economy — including for workers' salaries and job-seekers' prospects.

According to the PNC Economic Outlook, optimism is running at historic highs in all categories that the semiannual survey of small and medium-size business owners evaluates. This is reflected by the 85 percent of respondents who selected a positive emotion to describe how they feel about the business climate during the next six months, (from the time of the survey): Hope (39 percent), enthusiasm (37 percent) and joy (9 percent).

The survey also points to some good news for the American workforce: 49 percent of business leaders anticipate increasing their employee compensation in the next six months and 32 percent expect to add full-time staff. However, four out of 10 respondents say it's harder to hire qualified employees today compared to six months ago, with the biggest challenge being lack of experience or skill.

"Small businesses are a key source of economic activity and employment, and owners' perceptions can be a good indicator of what's to come," says Gus Faucher, chief economist of The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. "Our overall findings confirm that U.S. economic expansion will likely continue throughout 2018."

When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? Paul Michael Cain
June 12, 1988 – May 5, 2018

Paul Michael Cain, 29, was a resident of Waco, Texas, a devoted son, brother, nephew, cousin, friend and employee. Paul went to be with the Lord on May 5, 2018. Paul was born on June 12, 1988 in Indianapolis to Scott Cain and Penny Artman Cain.

Paul was an alumnus of the Sheridan High School graduating class of 2007. After graduating high school, Paul attended Purdue University, where he graduated with a bachelor’s degree in Public Relations in 2012. Paul was selected while attending Purdue to study aboard in Italy, where he studied marketing, international communication, journalism ethics and formed lasting friendships which produced many stories he loved to share. Following completion of his baccalaureate, Paul continued his education at Ball State University, where he obtained a Master’s Degree in Information and Communications Sciences.

Paul was an avid sports fan. His first love was the Chicago Bears. He never missed a game and was quick to let the team know with his cheering or his yelling at the TV how he deemed their performance. However, more importantly to Paul than sports was his family and friends.

Devoted does not come close to describing what you got with Paul when you became “one of his people.” Paul loved his parents. He was proud of the last name his father gave him and had a special name only he called his mother. Paul and his brothers were inseparable. If you messed with one of Paul’s brothers, you dealt with Paul. He was quick to bring a smile and joy to all his friends. Whether with his quick wit or deep insight, Paul knew just the right words to say.

Paul is survived by his parents Scott Cain and Penny Artman Cain; two brothers Wade and Cody; grandparents Tom and Jane Cain and Michael and Doris Waitt; uncles and aunts, Gerry and Kelly Barnes, Mark and Marylee Hagler, and Troy and Debby Artman; many cousins including Faith Henning, Levi Barnes, Nicole Cummings, Kayla Kinnaman, Matthew Hagler, Morgan Hagler, Mason Hagler, Alex Cain and Molly Moon. Paul is preceded in death by his great grandparents, John and Alice Artman, Floyd and Ruth Grinstead, grandfather William Artman, and uncles Mark Cain and Walter Payton.

Calling will be held from 3 to 8 p.m. on Friday, May 11, 2018 at The Bible Church, 1478 W. State Road 38, Sheridan. Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 12 at the Bible Church. A graveside service will follow at Spencer Cemetery, 25873 N. County Line Road, Sheridan. Directly following the graveside service, a celebration of life will be held to honor Paul. The dinner is open to any and all. Please bring your own beverages and chairs. Paul’s family would love for anyone to stop by, have a sandwich and smile, cry, laugh and to really celebrate the life of Paul Cain, Jesus loving, American Flag waving, steak eating, football cheering, rock ‘n roll jamming, son, brother, nephew, best friend anyone could ask for, a truly, deeply missed man.

In lieu of flowers, the family is asking all donations be made to The International Essential Tremor Foundation in Paul’s name. Donations can also be made to the Paul Cain Memorial Fund via PayPal. Online condolences may be made at fisherfunerals.com. Fisher Family Funeral Services is honored to serve the Cain Family.

Huskies hold off Shamrocks comeback

Hamilton Heights held off a late Westfield comeback to win on Wednesday, 6-5 at the Shamrocks' field.

The Huskies got on the board right away, with four runs in the first inning. In Heights' first at-bat, Taylor Ewing sent a home run over the left field fence. Later, Meredith Diller drew a bases-loaded walk to send Bayleigh Runner home, then Kelsie Albright smashed a two-RBI double to left field, scoring Adyson Baber and Aliyah Dorsey.

The score would stay at 4-0 until the bottom of the sixth inning, when the 'Rocks tied it up. Ashley Swartout sent a triple into right field to score Regan Nickel. Savannah Arvin then scored on an error.

Rebekah Davidson got a base hit, then Madeline Hunter came in to courtesy run for her. Hunter would eventually score on a center field hit by Sara Harmeyer. Then, Hunter was sent to courtesy run for Harmeyer, and would score again, on a single by Alexis McClure.

With the score tied at 4-4, the Huskies got the lead back in the seventh inning. Ewing scored her second run of the game on Jessica Kaurich's RBI groundout, then Baber hit a sacrifice fly to get Runner home. Westfield would score one more run, with Nickel getting home after Swartout reached on error, but Heights got the third out to secure the win.

Ewing and Baber both finished with two hits. Baber pitched a complete game for the win.

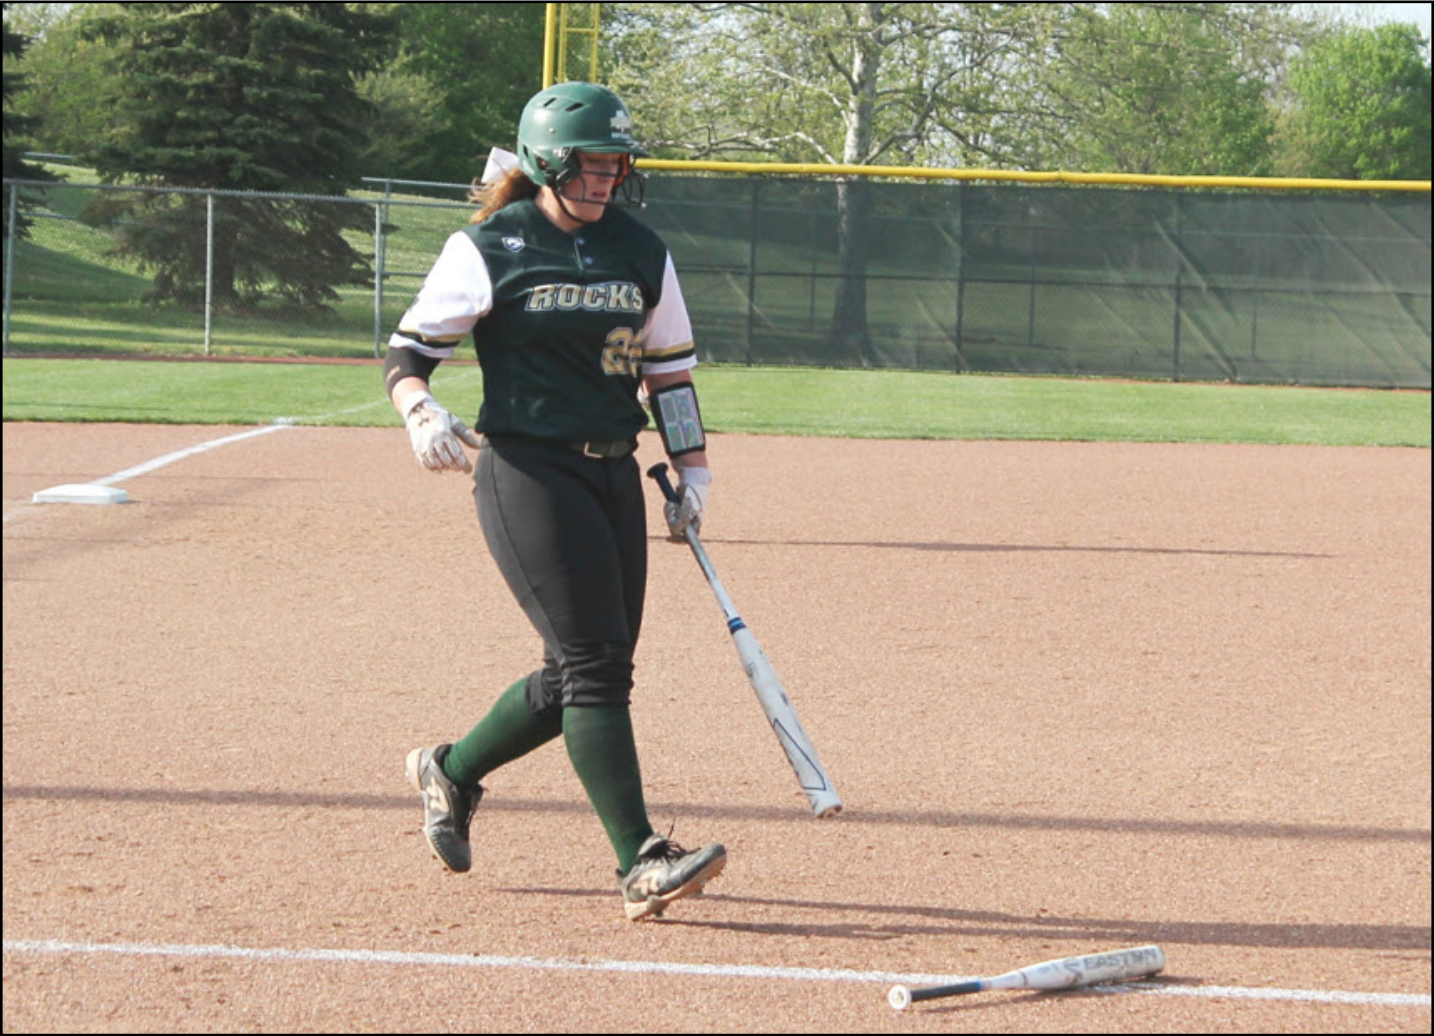

"We played a pretty good game tonight coming off of last night's loss," said Heights coach Landi Lockwood. "We did a much better job at the plate and minus a couple of errors, played pretty solid on defense."

Nickel was 3-for-4 at the plate, while Caroline Maymon went 2-for-3.

Heights will play at West Lafayette on Friday for the Hoosier Conference playoff game crossover game. Westfield will play a doubleheader against Southmont Friday.

University's Garrett Hill batted in six runs for the Trailblazers in their 15-1 win over Anderson Prep on Wednesday.

The University baseball team continued to roll on Wednesday, taking care of Anderson Prep 15-1 in a five-inning Pioneer Conference game at Roundtripper Academy. The Trailblazers scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning to set the tone early. Garrett Hill got the first of his six RBIs when his right field base hit scored Dawson Estep for the game's first run. Hill would score later in the inning when Tyler Galyean drew a bases-loaded walk. University scored at least one run in each inning, including seven in the second. Hill started it with a three-run home run. In the third inning, Hill's center field single scored two more runs, getting Nate Shatkowski and Ryan Williams home. Hill finished the game 3-for-4 at the plate. Williams was 2-for-2, batting in two runs in the second inning. He was also one of six University players to score two runs during the game; the others were Estep, Hill, Cade Carlson, Asher Thompson and Shatkowski. Galyean totaled two RBIs, as his groundout sent Carlson home in the third. Shatkowski pitched five innings, giving up just one hit in the game, in the fifth. He tossed six strikeouts. "We've got a great blend of young kids and older kids," said 'Blazers coach Chris Estep. "The older kids, seniors, juniors, are stepping up and starting to do some really good things." "You get thrust into a leadership role, and you're not really sure how to lead yet. Our guys have figured that out. They're doing a fantastic job. Our young kids, our freshmen, they're following their lead. It's working out pretty well right now."

University is 5-0 in the Pioneer Conference with two games left to play, against Liberty Christian on May 15 and Shortridge on May 18. Overall, the Trailblazers are 16-5 and play a doubleheader at Lutheran on Saturday.

HSE boys upset No. 1 Cathedral

The Hamilton Southeastern boys lacrosse team scored an upset of No. 1-ranked Cathedral 12-11 on Tuesday. The fourth-ranked Royals started off slow with a couple of quick penalties and found themselves down 4-1 at the end of the first. In the second quarter, Southeastern found its rhythm with nine shots to Cathedral's three. Tyler Renschen and Keegan Logan found the net for the Royals and only one goal was scored by the Irish. The Royals went into the half down 5-3. The third quarter was a back and forth battle with both teams possessing the ball well making it tough of the defense, the Irish lead coming out of the third 8-5. In the fourth quarter the momentum started to swing towards the Royals. After a quick goal by Cathedral, Lukas DeVoe and freshman Ryan Kemp found the net three times to rally the troops get the crowd back into the game. Cathedral answered with two quick goals but with 4:30 left in the game, it was all HSE the rest of the night. David Sage, Ryan Kemp, and Keegan Logan all scored to knot the score at 11-11. With two minutes on the clock, Southeastern played patient to make sure it would take the final shot. After a dodge by Renschen and DeVoe and then another by Logan the ball moved to Cam Smith who beat two defenders and took a shot as time expired. The referee signaled the goal was good and the Royals celebrated a hard-fought victory.
