Hippodrome Theater to be new site of local history . . . Sheridan museum expanding

The REPORTER

Many residents of the Sheridan community are aware that the Sheridan Historical Society has purchased what used to be the old Hippodrome Theater and is now converting it into a new museum.

The present museum – located catty-corner across the street from the Hippodrome building – is too small to accommodate all the materials that have been collected over the years, and there is no display space available for special exhibits.

The new museum is expected to be open by late Summer or early Fall 2019. It will contain space for up to a half-dozen permanent and rotating special exhibit alcoves depicting Sheridan's history. One of the permanent alcove displays will be dedicated to the Larry Hobbs basketball era, roughly 1948 to 1962. Plans call for lots of pictures and lots of authentic basketball memorabilia.

The Society already has many items to be used in the Hobbs exhibit, but there is a belief that many Sheridan residents may have other things in their possession that would make great additions to the display.

With that thought in mind, the Historical Society would like residents to dig through their attics or look out in the garage and see if there are any Hobbs era items that could be given to the Society outright or on a long-term basis for inclusion.

This includes items such as varsity letter jackets, player jerseys, score cards, signed basketballs, newspaper articles, pictures and other things of that nature. The items would need to be related to the Hobbs era. Whenever known, displayed items will be given full donor credit.

If you have such items, or think you do, please bring the items by the present museum and talk with us about them. The museum, located at 308 S. Main St. in uptown Sheridan, is open from 1 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

No Russians can hack Hamilton County voting

Hamilton County voters can feel safe and secure in knowing that the Russians cannot hack voting in Hamilton County, Indiana.

Our machines are not connected to the Internet, so there is no possibility of Internet hacking! The voting machines are stored in a secure area at the Courthouse. This secure area requires a passcode to enter, generally requires two witnesses to be present, and a log of activity of all persons who enter is kept by the Hamilton County Clerk.

Voter registrations do connect with the Secretary of State's office, but Connie Lawson, our Secretary of State, has served on several national committees and is the leader in keeping the registrations themselves safe. Local voters from each party inspect at each of the local polling sites as additional security.

Noblesville awaits Kozicki candidacy

A third candidate for Noblesville mayor? Very likely when a reception for Julie Church Kozicki is held Thursday afternoon at Forest Park. She is expected to join Chris Jensen and Mike Corbett in the 2019 Republican primary race. The winner will be the overwhelming favorite for election in November next year. No Democrat has yet indicated plans to run.

Noblesville Police Department earns CALEA re-accreditation

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Police Department has been awarded national re-accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies Inc. (CALEA). A highly prized recognition of professional excellence in the field of law enforcement, being re-accredited means the Noblesville Police Department is in compliance with more than 189 professional standards established by CALEA.

"CALEA accreditation has served to demonstrate the agency's on-going commitment to excellence and increasing public value through high quality service to our community," said Noblesville Police Chief Kevin Jowitt.

A team of CALEA assessors conducted an on-site visit in March to examine all aspects of the Noblesville Police Department including policies and procedures, management, operations and support services. During the on-site, the law enforcement practitioners from similar but out-of-state agencies spoke to several local residents as well as community leaders throughout their visit, observed procedures, and visited offices and places where compliance can be witnessed before forwarding their on-site evaluation and findings to CALEA.

The department was subjected to two more reviews, including an official CALEA Commissioners Committee Review at the Grand Rapids conference on July 28.

According to the Noblesville Police Department, receiving CALEA re-accreditation exhibits its commitment to meeting the highest standards of law enforcement

Fishers firefighters graduate medic school

The REPORTER

The Fishers Fire Department is proud to announce the graduation of Fishers firefighters Martin "Marty" Devine and Recruit Jordan Allen as Certified Paramedics from the IU School of Medicine Indianapolis Emergency Medical Services (IEMS) paramedic science program.

EMS Division Chief Steve Davison said, "We are proud of FF Devine and Allen's accomplishments in completing the intense year-long program. Their commitment helps insure that we continue to provide the best medical care to our patients. We are especially proud of FF Devine for receiving the Paul K. Joliff award for academic excellence."

In addition to going to school for over 1,200 hours of classroom, clinical and precepted runs, firefighters continued to work full-time on 24-hour shifts. This is a grueling course that provides Fishers emergency responders the ability to initiate life saving techniques and medications to those with medical and traumatic emergencies.

The Fishers Fire Department staffs three transporting ambulances and six engines with paramedics. All of Fishers firefighters are either a paramedic or basic Emergency Medical Technician (EMT).

excellence by continually demonstrating the “best practices and procedures” recognized internationally within the law enforcement profession.

“CALEA accreditation continues to provide value to the department by insuring strong internal review and accountability throughout our operational and administrative activities. The accreditation process allows the members of the Noblesville Police Department, as well as the members of the community, to be confident that the policies and procedures that guide the agency are based on current, effective and equitable best practices in policing.” Jowitt said.

NPD was first accredited for a three-year period in 2015. During that time, the department submitted annual reports attesting to the continued compliance with those standards under which it was initially accredited. 2018 marks the first re-accreditation process for Noblesville, which is good for four years.

The goal of CALEA is to strengthen crime prevention and control capabilities; formalize essential management procedures; establish fair and non-discriminatory personnel practices; improve service delivery; solidify interagency cooperation and coordination; and increase community and staff confidence in the agency. For more information regarding CALEA, visit calea.org.

VOTING

Hamilton County tries to maintain precincts of fewer than 2,000 voters but more than 600 voters. Voters need to know that 16- and 17-year-olds can work at polling locations if the proper forms have been completed. To keep the voter rolls current, it is important to the let the Voter Registration Office know if you move or know of someone who has moved.

The Hamilton County Election Board supervises all the local elections. It consists of the Clerk Tammy Baitz, the GOP representative and board president Raymond M. Adler and Democratic representative Greg Purvis. Kathy Richardson is the Elections Supervisor.

The Election Supervisor is currently looking for polling places in Westfield; approximately five are needed. Each site is required to have handicapped access, plenty of parking and restroom and phone availability. Early voting in the fall election will likely continue at Westfield Town Hall, Fishers Town Hall and the Carmel Library.

COUNTY LINE

School Board and a graduate of the Hamilton County Leadership Academy.

The likely candidate has remained largely mum on her plans, but will apparently make her full intentions known at the 3:30 p.m. Forest Park gathering. Already in the race is City Council president Chris Jensen, who joined Ditslear earlier in issuing a 10-point plan called Noblesville Now. It proposes a number of public works projects for the city.

Also indicating he will run, but yet to make his formal announcement, is local business magazine publisher Mike Corbett. He has run twice previously without success against Ditslear.

It is early for the beginning of a city election campaign. This year's statewide election is still more than two months away. Filing for the city election then begins in January of 2019.

The mayoral election campaign will have no shortage of issues. The ongoing debate over the future of the Nickel Plate Railroad is far from dead, although decisions have been made on new excursion train service north of Noblesville and redevelopment of the line to the south for use as a hiking and biking trail.

The nagging problem on downtown parking, the construction of a Pleasant Street bypass of downtown, the need for a new police headquarters and even school safety are all on the table. Most of all, the cost is certain to be a topic of interest.

Major bonding for many desired public works projects is an option, something that neighboring Carmel has used extensively. But, it can be controversial.

In any event, it should be one of the city's more interesting campaigns as candidates take positions on these and other issues that are almost certain to develop in the coming months.

HSE helps shed light on suicide prevention

The REPORTER

In recognition of National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month, Hamilton Southeastern Schools is holding "A Personal Conversation with Bob Kravitz," featuring a conversation and panel discussion about mental health awareness. The event will take place from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 5, at Hamilton Southeastern High School's Little Theater, 13910 E. 126th St., Fishers.

In an effort to shed light on this stigmatized topic,

Superintendent Dr. Allen Bourff and HSE senior class president and president of Bring Change to Mind, Sam Huston, will lead an interview-style conversation with Bob Kravitz, a well-known sports columnist, on his personal struggles with mental illness, depression and anxiety.

Additionally, there will be a panel discussion of community leaders who are all working to create a community that is smarter about mental health and challenging others to discuss sensitive topics such as mental illness and suicide.

Indiana House Republicans now taking applications for 2019 internship program

The REPORTER

The Indiana House of Representatives Republican Internship Program offers paid spring semester internships at the Indiana Statehouse in downtown Indianapolis. This internship is a unique opportunity to gain practical knowledge of state government through active participation in the legislative process.

Working closely with legislators, interns develop professional skills while strengthening their political knowledge. The experiences gained while interning with the House Republican Caucus will benefit students' academic growth. During the legislative session, House Republican interns are a part of a governing body that produces laws and shapes public policy for Indiana's 6 million residents.

The House Republican Caucus offers internship opportunities in a variety of departments:

Legislative

- Work directly with an assigned group of state representatives.
- Research and respond to legislative questions.
- Track bills through the legislative process.
- Aid in committee coverage and preparing reports.
- Communicate directly with constituents via mail, phone and email.

Communications/Media Relations

- Work directly with an assigned press secretary and group of state representatives.
- Write press releases, guest columns and e-newsletters.
- Monitor news coverage and track social media.
- Help setup press conferences and media availabilities.
- Take photos during events and coordinate media interviews.
- Opportunities available to focus on social media, graphic design and audio/video production.

Fiscal Policy

- Create and maintain Ways & Means Committee bill tracking database.
- Prepare summaries of Ways & Means Committee action.
- Monitor tax- and finance-related bills assigned to committees other than the Ways & Means Committee.
- Assist the Ways & Means Fiscal Staff with the interpretation and analysis of committee and second-reading floor amendments.

Policy

- Research, track and analyze amendments and bills.
- Prepare committee reports for legislators.
- Search for existing language in the Indiana Code.
- Assist staff and legislators with legislative and fiscal inquiries.
- Public speaking.

Eligibility

Undergraduate sophomores, juniors, and seniors; recent college graduates; graduate and law school students are eligible to apply for internships. All majors are welcome to apply – no previous political or government experience is required. Top applicants will demonstrate strong writing and interpersonal skills, project a positive attitude and be willing to work in a fast-paced environment.

Benefits

- Interns are paired with a member of the House Republican Staff to work directly with an assigned group of state representatives.
- This is a paid internship. Interns earn a $750 bi-weekly compensation.
- Interns may be eligible for academic credit through their college or university.
- Scholarship opportunities are also available.
- Numerous networking opportunities with state legislators, state agencies and private sector organizations.
- Participation in a weekly speaker series featuring Indiana political leaders.
- Free parking in downtown Indianapolis across from the Statehouse is provided. Applications for the 2019 legislative session are now being accepted. If you have any questions please contact:

DNR Grasslands initiative committee receives award

The REPORTER

The DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife's (DFW) Grasslands for Gamebirds & Songbirds (GSS) Committee has received the 2018 Excellence in Conservation Award from the Midwest Association of Fish & Wildlife Agencies (mafwa.org).

Josh Griffin, private lands supervisor for the Division of Fish & Wildlife (DFW), was presented the award by DNR director Cameron Clark; John Davis, DNR deputy director; and DFW director Mark Reiter.

The GGS program is a partnership of more than 30 conservation-minded organizations led by the DFW. GGS provides technical and financial assistance to improve or develop grassland and pollinator-friendly habitat in selected regions in Indiana.

The GGS program expects more than 2,000 acres of grassland habitat to be established across six different regions of the state, providing habitat to a number of species ranging from quail to pollinators.

For more information on GGS, see wildlife.IN.gov/9467.htm.

Bipartisan Congressional coalition announces 'Startup Week Across America'

The REPORTER

Monday marked the beginning of Startup Week Across America. This week, a bipartisan coalition of House members will draw attention to the important role startups play in the U.S. economy and how Congress can help support their efforts to grow and succeed.

In 2015, startup firms created 2.5 million jobs, roughly 15 percent of all new job creation that year. In 2017, startups represented almost 9.5 percent of all private sector firms in the United States. Firms less than a year old and with 10 or fewer employees created 1.9 million jobs, and more than half of these jobs were created by firms with four employees or less.

"With exciting new technologies hitting the market and a continued increase in innovation, American entrepreneurs are creating startup companies that are thriving in the Internet of Things era and are contributing to our nation's overall economic success," said Brooks. "Startups challenge the status quo by using technology to solve problems and create innovative products and services in industries ranging from health care to education, entertainment and more. As new startups are launched, we are seeing more job and career opportunities for people across the country. These dynamic companies act as entrepreneurial leaders, innovators, and job creators within our communities and it is Congress' responsibility to ensure they can work in an environment that encourages success and growth. I am proud to represent the local startup community in Indiana's 5th District and remain committed to providing them with the resources needed to succeed."

Susan Sarah Westrum
November 16, 1939 – August 19, 2018

Susan Sarah Westrum, 78, Fishers, passed away on Sunday, August 19, 2018 at her home. She was born on November 16, 1939 in Joliet, Ill.

Susan completed 15 years of education, graduating with a diploma in nursing from St. Barnabas Hospital School of Nursing. She worked as a registered nurse, and then became a flight attendant for three years. She then served for over 40 years as a missionary with Wycliffe, translating the New Testament into the Berik language where her nursing and flying experience became great assets.

She was a member of First Baptist Church of Branson, Mo., and enjoyed playing piano, traveling and visiting with family. Sue was the author of “The Best Life: A City Girl Thrives In The Jungle,” which records how living God’s purpose for your life leads to experiencing peace and true joy. She was a pioneer, nurse, linguist, wife, mother and grandmother.

Susan is survived by her husband of 50 years, Peter N. Westrum; children, David (Tanya) Westrum, Scott (Chris) Westrum, Yaufun (Sharon) Leong and George (Doris) Sunarjo; siblings, Mary Lathrop, Jim Palmer and Nancy Palmer; 11 grandchildren, Stephan, Nadia, Carlie, Josh, Nate, Benji, Jonathan, Rebecca, Lucas, Nathan (Betsy) and David; two great-grandchildren, Aaron and Wesley; and stepmom, Evie Palmer.

TODAY’S BIBLE READING

And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith? And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

Mark 4:38-41 (KJV)

Thomas E. Spencer, Jr.
October 20, 1953 – August 17, 2018

Thomas E. Spencer, Jr., 64, Greenfield, passed away on Friday afternoon, August 17, 2018 at Community Cancer Care North in Indianapolis. Born October 20, 1953 in Sheridan, he was the son of the late Thomas Eugene and Joan Alice (Rider) Spencer. Thomas was a 1972 graduate of Sheridan High School, where he was a member of the Blackhawks’ swim team.

A lifelong mechanic, Tom started learning the ropes as a youngster. His love affair with working on things started in the passenger seat of his dad’s semi, where he rode shotgun whenever his dad had close runs. Watching him do daily maintenance and pre trip inspections on the truck helped pique his interest. Since then, Tom spent a lifetime continuing the traditions of his father, keeping the world moving, one piece of equipment at a time. For the last seven years, he worked for Crown Lift Trucks in Plainfield as a mechanic, as well as working in the parts department.

Thomas had many interests in his life. Being a mechanic, Thomas was naturally geared toward an appreciation for classic automobiles. He always wanted to rebuild and restore a cool old car from scratch. He was a member of the Carmel Car Club. He also loved tinkering with his motorcycles and was a member of the Honda Gold Wing Riders Association. Thomas also had a passion for NASCAR. He followed the Earnhardts’ – both Sr. and Jr. – careers like a man on a mission. When he wasn’t tinkering around on things or watching a race, he loved to try to get in some fishin’.

One thing at which Thomas excelled was telling a story. You better have your high waters on because it could get pretty deep pretty quickly. He loved making people laugh and many of his quips did just that. The people he enjoyed entertaining the most were his family. Nothing else came before them in his world.

Thomas is survived by his loving wife, Katherine (Leppert) Spencer; his son Kyle E. Spencer (Mandy), Avon; aunt and uncle, Jim and Sue Spencer, Crawfordsville; his aunt, Pat Foster, Sheridan; and his canine BFF, Sassie. Thomas was also looking forward to the birth of his first grandchild, William Kyle.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his infant son, Kevin Eugene Spencer; sister, Candice Jo Grider-Spencer; stepmother, Pauline Grider-Spencer; and by his Lhasa Apso, Casey.

Visitation will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. on Friday, August 24, 2018 at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th St., Sheridan. Private family services will be held at a later date, along with a private Burial at Spencer Cemetery in Sheridan. Thomas’s uncle, Jim Spencer, will be officiating.

Memorial contributions may be presented to either the A.S.P.C.A. or to the American Cancer Society.

Junior Bryn Roberts stretches to dig the ball out, which the Tigers converted score a point during their home opener against Bishop Chatard on Tuesday. Fishers won the match in straight sets.

The Noblesville volleyball team fought off a determined young Pendleton Heights squad in four sets Tuesday at The Mill.

The Millers won 26-24, 25-16, 19-25, 25-20. After edging out the Arabians in the first set and cruising through the second, Noblesville ran into some resistance from Pendleton. The Arabians took the last three points of the third set, ending it on an ace.

In the fourth set, Pendleton jumped ahead 6-2, then led 15-10 and 17-14. After that, the Millers quickly rolled to victory, taking 11 of the next 14 points.

"I think we had a greater sense of urgency in the fourth set," said NHS coach Steve Hawthorne. "In the third set, I think we got a little bit too relaxed. They're a good team, so if we let up, they're going to take it to us."

The Millers started their run when sophomore setter Ava Nichols put the ball down for a kill, starting a run of five straight points. That included an ace from freshman Ella Peter and a couple kills from junior Lexie Almodovar.

"We definitely were connecting better with our setter today and I felt like we used all of our players really well instead of just any one person," said Almodovar.

Noblesville led 19-17 before the Arabians ended the run with a kill. After that, the Millers went on another five-point streak, jumping ahead 23-18. Izabella Hines hit a kill, then teamed with Nichols for a block.

Pendleton served at 19-23, but Almodovar put down a kill to give Noblesville a handful of match points. The Arabians saved one, but sophomore Rose Crist ended the match with a kill.

"Rose is going to be a kid who's going to surprise a lot of people this year," said Hawthorne. "I think she's going to play a big role as she gets more confident through the season. She's going to be a force."

Almodovar finished the game with 24 kills.

"I just felt like energy is key for everything with this team," said the junior, who also played a fine defensive game with 17 digs.

"We're running a little bit style of defense that should actually play into her strengths and really focus on funneling the ball to her and our libero quite a bit," said Hawthorne. "It's doing exactly what we need it to do."

Crist finished with nine kills and three blocks, while Peter hit seven kills. Lexie Thompson made 13 digs and served four aces, while Nichols handed out 39 assists and made two blocks.

The Millers are 2-1, and play two huge road games this week, taking on defending Class 4A state champion Avon on Thursday for their first Hoosier Crossroads Conference match, then play defending 3A state champion New Castle on Saturday.

Hamilton Southeastern improved to 6-1 with a 25-14, 25-14, 25-18 win at Lawrence North on Tuesday.

Grace Hunter hit eight kills, while Olivia Phillips handed out 21 assists. Annaka Pyle served three aces and Carly Mills collected 11 digs.

The Royals play their first HCC match Thursday at Brownsburg.

Fishers won its home opener on Tuesday, sweeping Bishop Chatard 25-17, 25-18, 25-10.

Two sophomores led the Tigers' attack.

Jada Allen hit 11 kills and Camryn Haworth put down nine. Another sophomore, Emily Waldrop had six kills, while senior Haley Soper spiked three of five attempts.

Haworth and sophomore Mikayla Christiansen both served four aces. Fishers had 11 aces as a team.

Senior Emma Rosenberg played what Tigers coach Steven Peek called "a nearly flawless match," as she got 15 digs out of the 16 balls hit at her. Senior Audrey Haworth collected seven digs, with junior Bryn Roberts making six.

Fishers hosts Zionsville on Thursday for its first HCC match of the season.

Sheridan dropped a three-set match to Lebanon on Tuesday, 25-19, 25-20, 25-14.

Junior Becca Merritt led the blocking with five, while classmate Cheyenne Brooks had three. Sophomore Allie Delph had four kills, 10 digs and three assists, while senior Maddie Zola had 10 digs, two assists and one ace.

The Blackhawks' junior varsity lost 25-16, 25-17. Freshman Kaiden Wilson hit one ace and made one block, while sophomore Baylee Murray had one ace and one assist. Sophomore Lillie Dickerson and freshman Kendra Blankenship both had one block. Sophomores Abbi Clouser and Kayla Beahrs both collected five digs.

Sheridan will play at the Indiana School for the Deaf tournament on Saturday.

Hamilton Heights lost a tough five-set match to Tipton on Tuesday, 25-12, 25-18, 21-25, 11-25, 15-11.

The Huskies totaled 33 kills for the match, with Kennedy Lewis putting down 14 and Hannah Crist hitting 11. Crist also served four aces, with Kennedy McGill and Lexi Hayden both hitting three. Heights had 13 aces overall.

On defense, the Huskies made 70 digs. Kelsey Smith collected 18, Jillian Osswald

Dixon collects 500th win in Carmel victory

The Carmel girls soccer team picked up a milestone win on Monday.

The Greyhounds defeated Metropolitan Conference rival Ben Davis 5-0 in their MIC opener. It was the first win of the season for Class 3A No. 1 Carmel and also the 500th career win for 'Hounds coach Frank Dixon.

"I am so lucky to do something I love for such a long time at a great school," said Dixon. "I've always been supported by the school administration while having truly gifted assistant coaches but the most important factor in my success has been the hundreds of fantastic student-athletes who have taken the field and won all those games for Carmel High School."

The Greyhounds led 3-0 at halftime. Goals were scored by Brooke Bailey, Riley Pennington, Cassidy Eckstein and Emma Antoine. (The Giants also had an "own goal.") Jessica Greven, Kelsie James and Emily Roper each made one assist.

Carmel is now 1-0-1 for the season. The 'Hounds host the Carmel Invite on Saturday, with games against 2A No. 2 Cathedral at 9 a.m. and 3A No. 17 Fishers at 7 p.m.

The Carmel girls soccer team celebrated coach Frank Dixon's 500th win after the Greyhounds beat Ben Davis 5-0 on Monday.

Fishers won its Hoosier Crossroads Conference opener Saturday over new opponent Franklin Central 4-1.

The Tigers scored their first goal in the second minute, when Taryn McFarland found Ellen Stump for the goal. Sophomore Kaysey Castro got Fishers' second goal, scoring from the top of the box.

After the Flashes scored their lone goal, Stump scored again in the beginning of the second half, with Lindsay Elick putting in the Tigers' fourth goal.

Fishers is 2-0 and plays at 7 p.m. tonight at 3A No. 13 Zionsville in another HCC game.

Westfield coach Sandra Burks said the team had some extra practice the past week, concentrating on communication and sets. It paid off, as a more confident Shamrocks were never really threatened by the Arabians.

"We have been focusing on our middles and setter connection, helping establish that really helped open up our pins on the outside," said Burks. "Our first touch, whether on defense or serve receive has been a very consistent piece for us. That continuing and our middles and setters connecting really helped open up our offense Monday night."

University beat Central Christian Academy in three sets on Monday, 25-7, 25-12, 25-22.

The Trailblazers are now 2-1 for the season and host International on Thursday.
