County Election Board will not review bribery allegation until after election

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County Election Board met on Friday to review a request filed by Democratic Party Chairman Joe Weingarten concerning bribery allegations in the Carmel mayoral election. Weingarten issued a letter to the Election Board requesting an investigation into allegations made that candidate Fred Glynn was offered $140,000 to withdraw from the race. Greg Purvis, the sole Democrat on the board, recommended the board review the claim or ask for assistance from the Indiana State Police. Board member Ray Adler agreed the board should investigate the matter.

Hamilton County Clerk Kathy Williams told the Reporter the board would review the matter but not until after the election. Williams said the board would reconvene on May 14: "At that time the names Joe Weingarten has listed in his letter to the Election Board will be asked to come and answer questions from the board."

Spare money can help bowlers hit $500K for Prevail

By BRANDON BENNETT
Guest Columnist

I am Brandon Bennett, Director of Parks and Recreation Department for the City of Noblesville. I have been involved with Prevail for the last 19 years through the City County Bowlathon, which I started in 1999.

I initially started the event as a way to get city and county employees together in a fun environment outside of work and create a friendly competitive competition between the two units of government. I decided to tie a charity to this event when we realized we had the potential to make some money in addition to our relationship building between the city and the county. I chose Prevail out of respect for my soon-to-be father-in-law, the Honorable Steven R. Nation. He helped to create Prevail when he was prosecutor as he saw a service that was needed for victims of domestic abuse and violence.

I reached out to Prevail to gauge their interest and they jumped right in and helped plan and implement the event as the benefactor of the proceeds.

The first year, as we were learning the ropes of putting on a fundraiser like this, we had a successful year and were excited to move forward. At this point I was really starting to understand just how important Prevail was to the community and, just how much their services were, unfortunately, needed. As the years progressed we have tried to look at many different ways to keep the event fun, competitive, successful and, most importantly, relevant.

We have worked with many different people at Prevail over the years with this event and all of them are passionate about the mission of Prevail. With their passion and my understanding of what they truly did, my passion grew for them as well. I desperately wanted to find ways to drive more and more money over the years to truly support them as much as possible.

We have always tried to make sure the experience has been a good one for the bowlers as well as they are the ones out raising the money. We wanted to find ways to connect them with Prevail's mission so they could truly understand what they were out raising money for.

We continue to try to connect with them every year and try to figure out how to push them to raise more money for this amazing cause. In the last few years my wife has become a board member at Prevail and serves to their mission. It has become a family passion for us and is one of the main charities we support personally and professionally. Over the 19 years of this fundraiser we have raised over $475,000! Wow! Who would have thought our little bowling event could have this impact on a cause in our community? Certainly not me!

Next year is our 20th anniversary in 2020 and we hope to hit the $500,000 mark to celebrate. I know we all have our causes that we believe in and support, but I would encourage you to consider making Prevail one of your causes. They won't stop working until their services are no longer needed.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. – Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Brooks announces introduction of bill to increase broadband access in underserved areas

The REPORTER

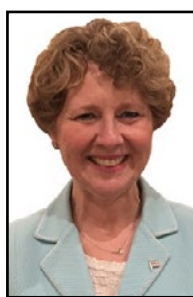

On Thursday, Representatives Susan Brooks (R-Ind.-05) and Paul Tonko (D-N.Y.-20) announced the introduction of H.R. 1328, the ACCESS BROADBAND Act, bipartisan legislation that would expand broadband access in underserved areas and create a simpler process for small businesses and local economic developers to access federal broadband resources.

"Hoosiers and Americans across the country who live in rural communities need better access to the internet so they can live and prosper in the 21st century economy," said Brooks. "Currently, pursuing and managing federal broadband resources is overly burdensome for small businesses and communities as they search and manage multiple federal agencies' application processes. The ACCESS BROADBAND Act will simplify this process for small businesses and local communities and will facilitate their interaction with government agencies as they apply for federal broadband assistance in order to bring internet connectivity to their communities."

Background

This bill would also fund local training workshops to help small businesses and economic developers put federal broadband resources to work. A companion bill was introduced in the Senate by Senators Cory Gardner (R-Colo.), Catherine Cortez Masto (D-Nev.), Ron Johnson (R-Wis.)

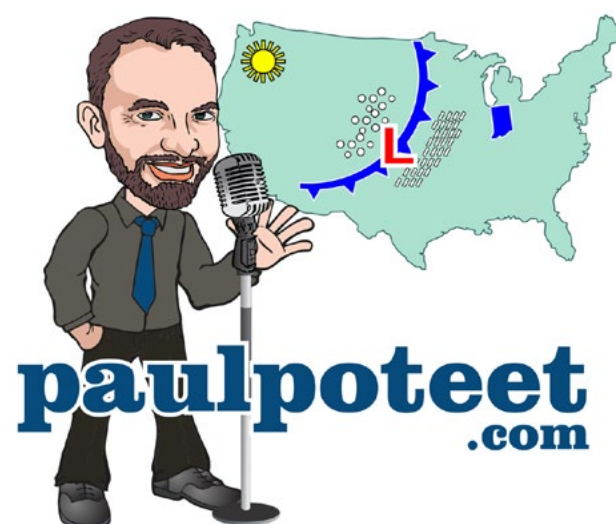

Brooks

and Doug Jones (D-Ala.).

The ACCESS BROADBAND Act:

- Stands for Advancing Critical Connectivity Expands Service, Small Businesses Resources, Opportunities, Access, and Data Based on Assessed Need and Demand

- Establishes an Office of Internet Connectivity and Growth at the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA): (1) Directs this office to simplify access for small businesses and local communities, possibly including small business workshops and other support resources; and (2) Streamlines process for small businesses & local governments to apply for federal broadband assistance; improves coordination across government and the private sector.

Turkey Run State Park listed on National Register of Historic Places

The REPORTER

Turkey Run State Park recently joined a number of state park properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The designation recognizes the park’s unique cultural value to Indiana as well as its national history. The park had to meet specific criteria to be listed on the register including its significance, age, and integrity.

To be considered for the National Register, the property must be associated with events, activities or developments – as well as with the lives of people – that were important in the past. For Turkey Run, that was its association with Parke County recreation and its intact state park architecture. Generally listings on the register are at least 50 years old and look much the way they did in the past.

The Lusk Home at Turkey Run was already listed on the register, but this new listing includes more. The historic district starts north of Sugar Creek, to Narrows Road on the east, to State Road 47 on the south and Cox Ford Road on the west. Trails and the Lusk Home are the farthest north resources and Ford Covered Bridge is the farthest west.

Pokagon, Mounds, Shakamak and Fort Harrison state parks already have historic districts within their boundaries. Other individual buildings listed within state parks include the Stanley Schoolhouse at Chain O’Lakes State Park and Tepicon Hall at Tippecanoe River State Park, among others.

Turkey Run’s state and national register certificates will be presented to property representatives at the State Fair in August.

Turkey Run State Park (on.IN.gov/turkeyrunsp) is at 8121 E. Park Road, Marshall.

Try to avoid “Titanic” investment mistakes

It’s been 107 years this month since the tragedy of the Titanic. Of course, this disaster has fascinated the world ever since, leading to books, movies, musicals and ultimately a successful search for the big ship’s remains. On the positive side, commercial shipping lines learned a great deal from the Titanic, resulting in safer travel across the oceans. And as an investor, you, too, may be able to draw some important lessons from what happened on that cold April night more than a century ago.

So, to avoid some “titanic” investment mistakes, consider the following:

Create a financial strategy with a solid foundation. Although considered a technological marvel, the Titanic had some real structural, foundational flaws – such as compartments that weren’t fully watertight. To withstand the inevitable rough seas ahead, your investment strategy needs a strong foundation, based on your needs, goals, family situation, risk tolerance and time horizon.

Be receptive to advice. The Titanic’s crew had received plenty of Marconi wireless warnings from other ships about ice in the area. Yet they did not take precautions, such as slowing down. When you invest, you can benefit from advice from a financial professional – someone who can caution you when you’re making dangerous moves, such as pursuing inappropriate investments, which could ultimately damage your prospects for success.

COREY SYLVESTER

Be prepared for anything. The Titanic had far fewer lifeboats than it needed, resulting in a tragic loss of life that could have been prevented. As an investor, you need to be prepared for events that could jeopardize your financial well-being and that of your family. So, at a minimum, you need to maintain adequate life and disability insurance. And it’s also a good idea to build an emergency fund containing six to 12 months’ worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account.

Don’t overreact to perceived threats. When the iceberg loomed directly ahead, the Titanic’s crew frantically tried to steer clear of it. While this move was understandable, it inadvertently hastened the ship’s demise, because it exposed a more vulnerable part of the hull to the huge ice mass. When you invest, you might also be tempted to overreact when facing perceived dangers – for example, if the financial markets plunge, you might think about selling your stocks. This is often a bad idea, especially if you’re taking a big loss on your sales. If your investments are still fundamentally solid, you might well be better off by staying patient and waiting for the markets to recover.

Give yourself time to reach your goals. Edward J. Smith, the Titanic’s captain, apparently wanted to break speed records on the Atlantic crossing – and this desire may have contributed to his somewhat reckless passage through fields of ice. As an investor, you could also run into problems if you rush toward a goal. To illustrate: If you wanted to retire at 65 with a certain amount of money, but you didn’t start saving and investing until you reached 55, you’d likely have to put a lot more away each year, and possibly invest a lot more aggressively, than if you had started investing when you were 30.

Put to work some of the Titanic’s lessons – they might help you improve your chances of smooth sailing toward all your important financial goals.

The bill also increases the penalty for deception involving the identity of a person or the identity or quantity of property to a Level 6 felony if the offense involves a misrepresentation relating to: (1) a medical procedure, device, or drug; or (2) human reproductive material and urges the legislative council to assign the topic of fertility laws to an appropriate study committee. The bill was amended by consent to delete “or” and insert “and” on page 4, line 21 of the bill.

The amended bill passed 12-0. Click here to read the bill.

Child support modification

The House Judiciary Committee heard SB 206 on child support modification, sponsored by Rep. Steuerwald. The bill defines, for purposes of child support modification, an order with respect to child support. The bill passed 9-0. Click here to read the bill.

Expungements

The House Courts and Criminal Code Committee heard SB 235, concerning criminal expungements and expungements of certain protection orders, sponsored by Rep. J. Young and Rep. Steuerwald. This bill requires the expungement of certain collateral actions to the criminal expunge-ment order, including administrative proceedings, arrests and delinquency adjudications which are related to criminal charge which is being expunged. The bill clarifies that records ordered expunged include arrests and criminal dismissals would be sealed.

The Committee adopted two amend-ments by consent – one which provides the need to get a court order to clean up older expungements, which occurred before this new law is effective, and another which requires the Indiana State Police or the agency which entered the criminal history into IDACS to remove the item from IDACS.

A representative from the Indiana Coal-ition Against Domestic Violence (ICADV) expressed concern about portions of the bill. The bill passed as amended 8-3. Click here to read the bill.

Various trust matters

For amend and vote only, the House Judiciary Committee heard SB 265 on various trust matters, sponsored by Rep. Steuerwald. The bill does the following:

- Defines “designated representative”, “judicial proceeding”, and “nonjudicial matter” for purposes of the trust code.

- Provides that current law regarding the duties and liabilities of a trustee of a trust under the control of a third person ap-plies to directions given to a trustee before July 1, 2019, by a person who has power under the terms of the trust to direct the trustee.
- Allows for the use of quiet trusts.
- Provides that an interested person may enter into a binding nonjudicial settlement agreement with respect to trust matters.
- Provides for nonjudicial account set-tlements.

The committee did not amend the bill and the bill passed 8-2. Click here to read the bill.

Parenting time

The House Judiciary Committee heard SB 323 on parenting time, sponsored by Rep. Cherry. The bill authorizes a court to require a parent to submit to drug testing as a condition of exercising parenting time rights if the court finds that: (1) the parent has a history of unlawful drug use within the previous five years; or (2) there is a reasonable likelihood that the parent is currently using unlawful drugs. The bill also specifies that the parent shall pay the costs of the drug testing and provides that, if a court grants parenting time to a person who has been convicted of: (1) child molesting; or (2) child exploitation; within the previ-ous five years, the court shall order that the parenting time must be supervised.

The Indiana Township Association and a parent testified in support of the bill. The bill passed 10-0. Click here to read the bill.

Probate matters

The House Judiciary Committee heard SB 518 on probate matters, sponsored by Rep. Steuerwald. The bill does the following:

- Allows a person to contest two or more wills if there is prima facie evidence that: (1) the decedent suffered from an irreversible medical or psychiatric condition that predated the earliest will to be challenged; or (2) a party beneficially in-terested in one or more of the challenged wills had a direct and active nexus with the preparation or execution process for each will to be challenged.
- Requires that the court review all at-torney’s fee claims at the conclusion of the will contest, and the award and allocation of attorney’s fees paid from the estate be solely at the discretion of the court.
- Specifies that the issuance of a court order on any matter related to an unsuper-vised estate does not revoke the personal representative’s authority to continue the administration of the estate as an unsuper-vised estate.
- Authorizes the Indiana Supreme Court and office of judicial administration to establish and administer a statewide electronic estate planning documents reg-istry (registry).
- Allows certain individuals to deposit the following items into the registry: (1) An electronic will. (2) An electronic trust instrument. (3) An electronic power of at-torney. - Allows certain individuals to act on behalf of a specified adult in certain in-stances involving the financial exploitation of the specified adult.
- Provides that if a transfer on death deed has been recorded before the death of the owner, a subsequent conveyance is void if it is not recorded before the death of the owner with the recorder of deeds in the county where the real property is situated.
- Establishes dates that determine when certain probate statutes apply.
- Requires a court to issue certain find-ings before exempting encumbered real property from certain restrictions concern-ing the sale of the real property.
- Allows the devolution of real estate title to be demonstrated by prima facie evi-dence.
- Specifies how devolution of real es-tate title may be demonstrated.
- Requires the estate recovery unit of the office of Medicaid policy and planning to provide notice of a claim against an es-tate in certain instances.

The bill was amended by consent to do the following: recognize the small estate threshold of $25,000 for the estate of an individual who dies before July 1, 2007; add a definition of “petition for adminis-tration” and “unit address”; provide a pro-cess for filing a notice of administration; remove certain reporting requirements re-garding small estate administration to the estate recovery unit of the office of Med-icaid policy and planning; and make tech-nical corrections. The Indiana State Bar Association and the Office of the Attorney General testified in support of the bill and amendments. The amended bill passed 9-0 and was recommitted to House Ways and Means.

For amend and vote only, it was also heard this week in House Ways and Means. The bill passed 16-0. Click here to read the bill.

Drug penalties

The House Courts and Criminal Code Committee heard SB 519 on drug pen-alties, sponsored by Rep. McNamara. The bill provides that if a person commits the offense of dealing or an attempt or con-spiracy to commit dealing in a controlled substance, the person may be tried in any county where the person performed an act in furtherance of the offense. Replaces her-oin with cocaine or a narcotic drug in cer-tain offense enhancements in the offense of dealing in cocaine or a narcotic drug. It also adds an element to certain offense enhancements relating to controlled sub-stances by aggregating the weight of a drug over a period of not more than 90 days.

Rep. McNamara introduced two amendments adopted by consent, which sent the legislation to an interim study committee. The first amendment sent a portion of the bill to an interim committee to study drug penalties and their fairness and the second amendment sent a part of the proposed law to an interim study com-mittee to explore proportionality of criminal penalties and enhancements.

Representatives from the Indiana Pros-ecuting Attorneys Council and the Attor-ney General’s Office testified in favor of the bill. The amended bill passed 11-0. Click here to read the bill.

Department of Child Services

For amend and vote only, the Senate Appropriations Committee heard HB 1006 on the Department of Child Services (DCS) sponsored by Sen. Houchin. This bill:

- Provides that the caseload of a family case manager may not be more than: (1) 12 active cases relating to initial assessments; (2) 12 families in active cases relating to ongoing in-home services; or (3) 13 chil-dren in active cases relating to ongoing ser-vices who are in out-of-home placements;
- Requires DCS to initiate an assess-ment immediately, but not later than two hours (rather than one hour, under cur-rent law), after receiving a report of child abuse or neglect if DCS believes the child is in immediate danger of serious bodily harm.

Department of Child Services matters

For amend and vote only, the Senate Family and Children Committee heard HB 1198, sponsored by Sen. Grooms, on Department of Child Services (DCS) matters, which generally provides for implementation of requirements from the federal Families First Prevention and Services Act (FFPSA) by DCS. The legislation:

- Defines “child” for purposes when termination of parental rights must be filed, to be under 18 years of age and either a delinquent or CHINS;
- Requires background checks on all individuals (employees, volunteers and contractors) who work at an institution, not just direct care staff;
- Permits denial or revocation of licenses for all individuals (employees, volunteers and contractors) who work at an institution, not just direct care staff;
- Requires a foster care verification form be given to a child leaving foster care or was in foster care for six months or more;
- Deletes the $500 threshold amount of child support in which a Title IV-D agency may begin to collect a fee and requires use of the threshold amount in federal law under 42 U.S.C. § 654(6);
- Amends the list of nonwaivable offenses of offenses and provides certain convictions have five-year limitations for waiver, when conducting background checks for placements for children in accordance with reimbursement requirements under federal law, including placements for adoptions, temporary out-of-home placements for alleged CHINS taken into custody, placements of a child in another home as a disposition in a CHINS case, placements as part of a permanency plan, and placements as a disposition in a delinquency case;
- Adds DCS employees to the list of persons who may request a court, municipality or township to restrict access to the individual’s home address.

Representative Frizzell, author, explained the amendment to the list of non-waivable offenses was required by new FFPSA requirements, as were other aspects of the legislation. Sen. Houchin proposed an amendment to the legislation which passed, to require the completion of sentencing as part of the five-year limitation on waiver of certain offenses.

The amended bill passed 6-0. Click here to read the bill.

Prohibited name changes

For amend and vote only, the Senate Committee on Corrections and Criminal Law heard HB 1208, sponsored by Sen. Grooms and Sen. Houchin on prohibited name change. The bill that passed the House amended the current law that prohibits a person who is confined to a Department of Correction facility from filing a change of name petition. It added to the persons prohibited from filing a change of name petition anyone who has been convicted of being a sex or violent offender as defined in IC 11-8-8-5(a).

Committee Chairman Michael Young offered Amendment No. 6 that: 1) prohibits seeking a name change to only a lifetime sex or violent offender, and allows even a lifetime offender to petition for a name change based on a sincerely held religious belief; 2) adds to the information to be provided on a marriage application, divorce petition, application restoring a previous married or unmarried name, and a petition for adoption, whether a person is a lifetime sex or violent offender; and, 3) allows for the approval of marriage, divorce, name change, or adoption only after the offender provides proof of written notice of filing for approval with the sheriff of the county of conviction and county of residence. This amendment was adopted by voice vote without dissent.

The amended bill passed 6-0. Click here to read the bill.

Electronic criminal case management system

The Senate Judiciary committee heard HB 1299 sponsored by Sen. Glick concerning an electronic criminal case management system. This bill provides that the Office of Judicial Administration shall develop and implement a standard protocol to electronically send or receive at least one time each week criminal case information between the administrator’s court case management system and an electronic repository to determine if the individual is a veteran in the U.S. Department of Defense database of individuals with prior active military service and in the national guard registries for use by county prosecutors, a veterans’ court, and other entities to address the needs of veterans in the court system.

The bill was amended by consent to provide an information sharing agreement between the Office of Judicial Administration and the office of United States Veterans Affairs. Testifying in support was Amy Levander on behalf of the Indiana Supreme Court; the Reserve Officers Association; the Indiana Public Defender Council, and the Veterans Coalition of Indiana. The amended bill passed 9-0. Click here to read the bill.

Electronic estate planning

The Senate Judiciary committee heard HB 1591, sponsored by Senator Koch, concerning electronic estate planning and other probate matters. This bill allows a person to contest two or more wills if there is prima facie evidence that the decedent suffered from an irreversible medical or psychiatric condition that predated the earliest will to be challenged, or a party beneficially interested in one or more of the challenged wills had a direct and active nexus with the preparation or execution process for each will to be challenged.

The bill specifies that the issuance of a court order on any matter related to an unsupervised estate does not revoke the personal representative’s authority to continue the administration of the estate as an unsupervised estate.

The bill further provides that restrictions concerning the sale of real estate by an estate executor or administrator for the purpose of defraying the debts or obligations of a decedent are inapplicable in certain instances, specifies how prima facie evidence of the devolution of real estate title to distributees may be established, and specifies recording requirements for affidavits concerning the devolution of real estate titles.

One amendment was taken by consent. The amendment removed the previous language of the bill that increased the small estate cap from $50,000 to $100,000, allows a judge to decide on attorney fees in a will contest, and provides for the establishment of an electronic will registry. The Indiana Bar Association probate section testified in support of the bill. The amended bill passed 9-0. Click here to read the bill.

Judicial evaluation of dangerous individuals

The Senate Judiciary Committee heard HB 1651 sponsored by Sen. Houchin regarding judicial evaluation of dangerous individuals, otherwise known as the Jake Laird law. This bill requires the Office of Judicial Administration to collect, monitor, and publish certain statistics related to the confiscation and retention of firearms taken from dangerous individuals.

The bill requires a court to wait until after the conclusion of certain hearings before providing findings related to a person’s dangerousness to the Office of Judicial Administration. The bill further provides that a dangerous person is not a proper person for the purpose of applying for or receiving a license to carry a handgun and provides that a dangerous person who knowingly or intentionally rents, purchases, receives transfer of, owns, or possesses a firearm commits dangerous possession of a firearm as a Class A misdemeanor. A person who knowingly or intentionally rents, transfers, sells, or offers for sale a firearm to a person that a court has found to be dangerous or prohibited from owning or possessing a firearm commits dangerous transfer of a firearm, a Level 5 felony.

The bill also details the procedure for a law enforcement officer that seizes a firearm from a dangerous person without a warrant and the court procedure when the State petitions for seizure of firearms from a dangerous person and the court finds, or does not find, the person to be dangerous.

Four amendments were passed by the committee.

The first amendment eliminated certain reporting requirements for individuals not yet afforded an opportunity to be heard and raised the burden of proof for the State by changing the definition of “dangerous.”

The second amendment allows qualified retired law enforcement officers to carry a weapon without a permit.

The third amendment provides waiting periods for children alleged to be delinquents—a child alleged to be delinquent that commits the equivalent of a Level 6, 5, 4, and 3 felony must wait until age 26 to possess a handgun and a child alleged to be delinquent that commits the equivalent of a Level 1 or 2 felony or murder must wait 10 years from conviction to possess a handgun.

The fourth amendment allows a person to legally possess a handgun on school property if they are participating in a worship service and eliminates the fee for five-year handgun permits.

Testifying in favor of the bill was the mother of Jake Laird; the Hamilton County Prosecutor; a Second Amendment attorney; two citizens; and Everytown for Gun Safety. The amended bill passed committee 5-4 and is recommitted to the Tax and Fiscal Policy Committee. Click here to read the bill.

Eagles stop Fishers, HCC series finishes in split

Another day, another close Hoosier Crossroads Conference game for Fishers. The Tigers played their second game with Zionsville on Friday, hoping to earn an HCC sweep after an eight-inning victory on Thursday. Friday's game was close, but it went the Eagles' way by the score of 4-3. As a result, Fishers and Zionsville split the conference series.

The Eagles scored a run in the first inning, with Fishers answering in the bottom of the second. Collin Shelton was hit by a pitch, then moved to third on Daniel Owens' base hit. Shelton got home on a wild pitch. Zionsville added one run in both the third and fourth innings. The Tigers tied it up again in the fifth. Shelton drew a walk, then Owens was hit by a pitch. Joey Brenzewski advanced both runners on a sacrifice bunt.

Charlie Walker came up next, and his fielder's choice to third base scored Shelton. JJ Woolwine was walked, sending Walker to second, and Walker was soon running home after Nick Lukac base hit into left field.

Zionsville scored on an RBI groundout in the top of the sixth, and the Eagles held the lead from there. Fishers had runners on second and third base with two outs in the bottom of the seventh, and tried to steal home, but Zionsville got the home-plate tag for the third out. It was a tough way to end the game, but Tigers coach Matt Cherry was pleased that his team kept competing throughout the entire contest.

"I love how they competed," said Cherry. "They fought back. We found a way to tie it. We found a way to be in a position to tie it again with the winning run on base. We were in position. It's a tough way to end it like that, but it is what it is. One game."

Zionsville held Fishers to just two hits, the singles from Owens and Lukac.

Anthony Castellani pitched the first five innings for the Tigers, with Jack Minns relieving him in the sixth. Minns struck out four and Castellani had three strikeouts.

Fishers is 1-1 in the conference and 3-4 overall. The Tigers will finish the series with Zionsville at noon today at the Eagles' field;

Huskies fall to Anderson

Hamilton Heights dropped the second game of a two-game series with Anderson 1-0 Friday at the Indians' Memorial Park.

Anderson scored its run in the first inning. Dylan Zachary pitched an incredible game for the Huskies, throwing all six innings and allowing Anderson just one hit. Zachary tossed six strikeouts.

"We had six hits over seven innings but just couldn't get the timely one we needed," said Heights coach JR Moffatt. "We were solid defensively but really showed our youth at the plate tonight. Too many strikeouts, period. Pratt is a really good pitcher with a good arm and solid command. We have to find a way to get the ball in play. He made key pitches and we just didn't respond. It's early, we will get better."

The coach said he felt for Zachary - "he was great," said Moffatt. "He threw six innings giving up one hit and one unearned run, tough not to have him walk away with a W.

The Huskies are back in action Tuesday when it begins a Hoosier Conference series at Western.

"The only thing this means is that we are not going undefeated," said Moffatt. "It's a long season and we will get back to work tomorrow."

Pacers cooled by hot Celtics, 117-97

In a matchup between two teams likely to meet in the playoffs, the Pacers were unable to slow the sharpshooting Celtics, who scorched the nets at Bankers Life Fieldhouse en route to a 117-97 win over Indiana on Friday night.

After the Pacers were able to win the opening quarter, the Celtics had the upper hand in the next two, outscoring Indiana 67-47 to take a sizable 17-point lead into the fourth quarter. From there, the Celtics closed out the game without issue, giving Boston the inside track towards capturing the fourth seed in the postseason.

"They won the game. They were more physical, they were faster, they were stronger," Pacers head coach Nate McMillan said. "They pretty much dominated the game."

With a 48-32 record, Boston now sits one game ahead of the Pacers (47-33) in the standings with two games remaining. Indiana's only shot at moving back into the fourth seed would be winning their final two games with Boston losing both.

The Celtics weren't particularly dialed in from distance, where they shot just 7-of-27, but seemed to be locked in from everywhere else, finishing the night shooting 52.2 percent from the field.

Boston was led offensively by second-year forward Jayson Tatum, who connected on 9-of-19 shots for 22 points. Coming off the bench, former Butler standout Gordon Hayward was flawless, making all nine of his shots for a 21-point evening.

The Pacers, still without starting point guard Darren Collison (sore groin), struggled shooting all night, ending the game shooting 41.8 percent as a team.

Myles Turner led the Blue & Gold in scoring with 15 points, with Domantas Sabonis and Tyreke Evans each chipping in 12 off the bench.

"We're going to put this game behind us as fast as we can, have a good day of practice tomorrow and continue to try and get better," said McDermott, who scored 11 points. "We feel like we can play with anyone in this league."

The Celtics started the game out in front, taking an early 10-3 lead over the Pacers thanks to a 3-pointer from Irving. the Pacers managed to close the quarter strong, as Sabonis scored eight of Indiana's 11 points to close the frame, giving the Pacers a 27-24 lead after one.

Boston had the hot hand to begin the second quarter, opening up with seven unanswered points to retake the lead from Indiana. With Indiana in the penalty, the Celtics started to do their damage at the free-throw line, extending their lead to 48-40 on a pair of makes from Jayson Tatum.

Despite a quick Pacers run to narrow the deficit, a late pair of buckets from Al Horford and Hayward closed the half strong for the Celtics, with Boston leading 58-47.

The Celtics continued to control the game out of the halftime locker room, pushing their lead to as much as 15 when Gordon Hayward converted on a layup, forcing a Pacers timeout with 3:32 remaining in the third.

The timeout did little to slowdown the Celtics, however, as Boston closed the quarter strong, leading 91-74.

In the fourth, Indiana's offense still struggled to find anything, scoring just seven points over the first six minutes of the quarter as Boston's lead ballooned into the twenties.

From there, the Celtics were able to close out the game, with the reserves for both teams finishing things out.

"We can't play against the Celtics on Sunday and we can't play against them on Wednesday, unfortunately," said Wesley Matthews after the tough loss. "So, we have to get our minds back to get ready for Brooklyn and get ready for Atlanta. They pose different threats, different challenges, which could help us."
