Sheridan SADD Chapter receives Noffsinger Award

The REPORTER

Sheridan High School's Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) Chapter was recently named one of the co-recipients of the Jim Noffsinger Legacy Award for Outstanding Indiana SADD Chapter in 2018-19. Sheridan shared the honor with two-time winner Greensburg High School.

This school year, Sheridan SADD officers helped create and give a presentation exposing the dangers of teen vaping and nicotine addiction. The presentation has since reached nearly 20,000 students in schools throughout Indiana.

The award was named for the founder of Indiana SADD, Jim Noffsinger. It is given annually as a tribute to his legacy and his dedication to the health and well-being of Indiana's youth.

In addition to the recognition, both chapters will receive $500 to use at their discretion for future chapter activities, and a plaque will be presented at the Indiana SADD Fall Kick-Off event.

About SADD

SADD's mission is to empower young people to successfully confront the risks and pressures that challenge them in their daily lives, accomplishing this by creating, equipping and sustaining a network of student-led chapters in schools and communities focused on peer-to-peer education. SADD fosters a sense of belonging and promotes resiliency, leadership and advocacy skills so that young people make positive life decisions.

Options for cleaning up after the big storm in Carmel

The REPORTER

After Thursday night's heavy storms, City of Carmel crews from all departments worked through the night clearing roads of fallen trees and landscape debris. Many property owners are also dealing with hundreds of downed trees, broken branches and damage to their homes and property.

Disposing of landscape debris

The City's trash and recycling program already includes the ability to dispose of up to 20 extra bags or bundles of landscape free of charge during the months of April and May; and in the fall, from Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. These bundles must be cut into lengths less than 4 feet and tied. This program is for living/once living landscape waste only. No trash, construction debris, rocks, soil, etc.

Removing fallen trees

If you have a large tree that has fallen, you will need to contract a tree or landscape company to cut up and dispose of the tree. Carmel City crews have moved privately owned trees that have fallen into the public streets, but the owners of the trees are responsible for cutting them up and arranging for their disposal.

Need a dumpster?

If you have large amounts of landscape debris, you also have the option of contacting Republic Services to have a dumpster delivered to your home and landscape waste including tree trunks and other trash can be placed in the dumpster. You do not have to cut the landscape waste into specific lengths. If it can fit in the dumpster, you are good.

Because of the storm, Republic Services has reduced the cost of the dumpster for Carmel residents as low as possible. Neighbors or a Neighborhood can share a dumpster. For rental information including pricing, call Republic Services at 317-917-7300.

Important numbers

For information about the special landscape waste pick up, call Carmel Utilities at 317-571-2442. For information about renting a dumpster, call Republic Services at 317-917-7300.

Correction

The Congressional Art Competition story published on Thursday incorrectly listed the artist of Levels of Indianapolis as Angela Fritz. HSE student Nina Griger is the artist; Fritz is her teacher. The Reporter regrets the error.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn’t something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we’re breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County. – Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Janus Choir sings from the heart

Submitted
“When the sharpest words
wanna cut me down
I’m gonna send a flood,
gonna drown them out
I am brave, I am bruised
I am who I’m meant to be,
this is me”
– “This is Me” by Keala
Settles, The Greatest Showman

As these words, passionately sung by the Janus Change of Tune Choir, filled the huge ballroom at the 502 East Event Center in Carmel, there was not a dry eye in the house. The words were displayed on large video screens and the 530 guests attending the event sang along with the choir.

The hour-long annual Create, Connect and Commit fundraising event celebrated the achievements of the Janus clients by highlighting some heartwarming individual stories told by the participants and their families.

Carmel named Silver-level Bicycle Friendly Community

The REPORTER

The City of Carmel’s dedication to making Carmel a safe and enjoyable place to bike for all ages and skill levels has been nationally recognized. This week, the League of American Bicyclists recognized the City of Carmel with a Silver level Bicycle Friendly Community award, becoming one of only 96 cities at the Silver level and 475 other bicycle friendly communities across the country in building better places for people to bike.

Carmel has been a Bronze level city since 2006. With this announcement of 39 new and renewing communities, Carmel joins a team of communities that are transforming the American landscape and leading on livability measurements important to community members. The City of Carmel has more than 200 miles of path and greenway in its bike infrastructure network which creates safe access to nearly all of Carmel’s destinations by bike.

“We applaud communities like the City of Carmel for making bicycling a safe, comfortable and convenient option for transportation and recreation,” said Bill Nesper, Executive Director of the League of American Bicyclists. “We are inspired by leaders who see bicycling as a way to build more vibrant, healthy, sustainable and connected communities and be a part of the solution to many complex public health and safety challenges faced at both the community and national levels.”

The League of American Bicyclists’ Bicycle Friendly America program sets the standard for how communities evaluate their quality of life, sustainability and accessibility, while allowing them to benchmark progress toward making biking better. The Silver level award recognizes the City of Carmel’s commitment to improving conditions for bicycling through investments in bike infrastructure, education programs and encouraging bicycling with pro-bicycling policies.

“We work very hard to plan a community that is safe for bicycling, which we see as a big component of raising the quality of life for our residents,” said Mayor Jim Brainard. “This honor will also help us in our economic development efforts of attracting new corporate headquarters with high-paying jobs and a talented workforce to help fill those jobs.”

More than 800 communities have applied for recognition by the Bicycle Friendly Community program, which provides a roadmap to making biking better for communities of all shapes and sizes. The rigorous application process is an educational tool in itself, and includes an opportunity for local bicyclists to provide input on their experiences and perceptions of bicycling in their community.

The five levels of this award – diamond, platinum, gold, silver and bronze, plus an honorable mention category – provide a clear incentive for communities to continuously improve. Awarded communities must renew their status every four years to ensure that they not only maintain existing efforts, but also keep up with changing technology, national safety standards and community-driven best practices.

Brooks votes against discrimination

The REPORTER
Congresswomen Susan W. Brooks (R-Ind.-05) provided the following statement after voting in support of H.R.5, the Equality Act:
“Discrimination of any kind, towards anyone, is wrong and at this time in our nation’s history, we cannot turn a blind eye to the discrimination the LGBTQ community faces. In order to work towards eliminating discrimination throughout our country, whether in the workplace, when purchasing or renting a home, staying in a hotel, at schools, applying for credit or in jury service, we must expand civil rights protections to the LGBTQ community. Including sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity among the prohibited categories of discrimination is a necessary step in order to make our country a safer place to live and work for all Americans.

“Because I’m aware of the discrimination members of the LGBTQ community face around the country when renting or buying a place to call home, I’ve authored legislation with Rep. Brad Schneider (D-Ill.-10) that has been included as a provision in the Equality Act. This provision ensures anyone, regardless of their race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, handicap, familial status and national origin is treated fairly and equally under the law as they buy or rent a home.

Brooks

“I must acknowledge this bill is not perfectly drafted. I am pro-life and share the sentiment of my pro-life colleagues and constituents that conscience protections need to remain in place for medical providers with religious or moral objections so that they cannot be forced to perform abortions. However, these conscience protections under the Weldon and Hyde amendments in current law are not altered by this bill and will remain in place under current law. As the legislative process moves forward, I will advocate for clarification language that would improve this bill.”

Celebrating the joys of ‘eating in the season’ now that warm weather is here

“Spring flew swiftly by, and summer came; and if the village had been beautiful at first, it was now in the full glow and luxuriance of its richness ... It was the prime and vigour of the year; all things were glad and flourishing.”

— Charles Dickens, Oliver Twist

I fully realize that it is not officially summer yet, however it seems that I have waited so long to welcome the warm months, fresh breezes, and all the wonderful produce available! Some say that aging has a lot to do with being uncomfortable in the cold weather months and unfortunately I can now understand that reasoning. I recently commented to my husband, Bruce, that it seems I am only truly warm about four months of the year!

We have had a rather wet spring season but I do believe that we can finally look forward to spending more time outside and enjoying the delicious opportunities for fresh produce. I am a firm believer in “eating in the season” and we have already pulled plenty of fresh kale from our small garden. Soon we will have radishes, cucumbers, beets, peppers, asparagus, spinach, and herbs such as parsley and cilantro, among others. Midsummer will offer up all kinds of berries, peaches, and late summer delights include eggplant, corn, tomatoes, zucchini, green beans, cauliflower, and Brussel sprouts.

This, of course, is a very partial list of all the delicious opportunities for us to not only enjoy locally grown produce, but to provide our bodies with what it craves – vitamin and mineral rich REAL food to keep us healthy and vibrant. Do be careful to wash your produce thoroughly, especially the items you consume with the skin or outer covering on the produce.

If this column was much longer I could go into detail about what we actually are offered on our standard grocery store shelves; so-called “food” laden with preservatives and chemicals. Unfortunately because we cannot always obtain all the fresh items we need, we must sometimes purchase shelf-stable and frozen food items.

Just be cautious when purchasing – learn to not only read the labels but be informed on what those labels are telling you and make conscious decisions. I sometimes use this analogy: Would you pump kerosene into your auto gas tank? Somehow I think the answer for most of us is “NO” of course not! How much more important is your health and well-being? Be mindful and particular about the fuel for your body.

Let’s get outside when we can – with copious amounts of sunscreen of course! – and pick up the pace by walking your neighborhood or other safe area, and focus this summer on finding some great recipes for your local produce. The Farmers’ Markets are a great place to start and you still have time to plant some tomato, pepper, and herbal plants.

Some of you may be familiar with the Teter Organic Farm which is owned by the First United Methodist Church in Noblesville. The Farm often provides items for sale and also provides produce at no cost to local residents who are food insecure. Find out more at teterorganicfarm.com.

Lastly, for those “wordsmiths” among us, I do understand that the word “vigor” is spelled differently in the quote I have used this week. However, Mr. Dickens chose to use the British spelling and who am I to argue with this esteemed author and master of prose?

Enjoy the warm weather and sunshine, the bountiful produce, and most of all enjoy life!

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting. Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again. And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

AG Curtis Hill wins legal battle in case involving enforcement of immigration laws in Indianapolis

The REPORTER

A U.S. appeals court this week sided with Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill in his efforts to defend Indiana statutes requiring local police cooperation with federal immigration detainer requests.

The victory for Hill is the latest twist in a case that began when Marion County officials colluded with the American Civil Liberties Union to avoid following state law.

In November of 2017, a U.S. district judge approved a consent decree between the Marion County Sheriff's Department and Antonio Lopez-Aguilar, who was represented by the ACLU. In the agreement, the Sheriff's Department pledged not to cooperate with U.S.

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention requests.

No one, however, informed the Office of the Attorney General of the consent decree until it was already entered by the federal court. Immediately upon learning of the collusive decree, Hill moved to intervene in the case to argue the agreement violated state law. The district judge refused the request.

In its May 9 ruling, however, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit not only declared that Hill had the right to intervene on behalf of the State, but it also held that the district court never had jurisdiction to approve the consent decree between the ACLU and the Marion County Sheriff's Department in the first place.

"This appellate ruling is a win for common sense, state sovereignty and public safety," Hill said. "When federal authorities ask an Indiana police agency to detain a person in the agency's custody, Indiana law requires the agency to cooperate. To establish any contrary policy at the local level not only violates Indiana law but jeopardizes the safety and security of Hoosiers."

The case stems from a September 2014 incident in which federal authorities asked the Marion County Sheriff's Department to detain Lopez-Aguilar until ICE officers could take him into custody for allegedly being in the country illegally. At the time, Lopez-Aguilar was appearing in Marion County Traffic Court on a misdemeanor charge of driving without a license.

In its decision, the appeals court stated: "Indiana seeks to protect a state prerogative of constitutional dimension ... The State seeks to protect its sovereign prerogative to cooperate with the federal government and to require subordinate entities of state government to comply with that legislative policy directive."

Boys track and field sectional

Carmel wins team trophy, 44 county athletes head to regional

By RICHIE HALL

CARMEL - After a one-day delay, the Carmel boys track and field event took place Friday at Carmel Stadium.

It was worth the wait, especially for the host Greyhounds, as they claimed the team trophy. It was the first sectional title for Carmel since 2017 and its 26th overall championship. In addition, the Greyhounds had four champions and had 14 qualifiers for Thursday's regional at Lafayette Jefferson.

"The guys did a great job," said Carmel coach Ken Browner. "We're a young team and we really scored where we needed to score. We didn't really lose much on our seeds today. The guys we expected to get out got out, and we just competed well. We got to be better next week, because the regional's going to be very tough for us."

The hurdlers led the way for the 'Hounds, with 1-2 finishes in both the 110 and 300 races. Jakob Pearson won the 110 race, with Brandon Tester placing second. Colton Parker was first in the 300, followed by Logan Sandlin.

The junior Sandlin a 1-2 finish himself, as he won the pole vault. Pearson was second in that event. Carmel also won the 4x800 relay, with Drew Thornton, Charlie Schuman, Robert Kinney, Ben Johnson on that winning team.

Other regional qualifiers for the Greyhounds were Donovan Duffy in the 100 dash, Eli Konow in the 800 run, Thomas Gastineau in the 1600 run, Patrick Campbell in the 3200 run, Caleb Shaffer in the shot put, and Carmel's 4x100 and 4x400 relays.

Fishers placed second with 137 points. The Tigers had the most event wins of any team with five, and advanced 11 on to the regional.

Fishers dominated the throwing events, with 1-2 finishes in both the shot put and the discus. Wyatt Puff was first in the discus, followed by Hayden Tobias in second. The two switched places for the shot put: Tobias was the winner, with Puff the runner-up.

The Tigers also swept the middle to long distance races. Freshman Keefer Soehngen cruised to a win in the 400 dash; his time of

49.62 seconds was over a second ahead of second place.

"I think I did well," said Soehngen. He called the experience of running in his first-ever sectional "very nerve-wracking" at first, but is now ready for the next level at regional.

"I'm just looking forward to some good competition and getting pushed to my limits," said Soehngen.

Jaylen Castillo won a tight 800 run, where the difference between first and fourth place was 0.29 seconds. Ethan Meyer paced the 1600 run.

Also making it to out to the regional for Fishers were HL Lewis in the 200 dash, Anthony Campbell in the long jump, and the Tigers' 4x400 and 4x800 relays.

Hamilton Southeastern finished a strong third with 115 points. Sprint sensation Noah Malone had another great performance, as he had a part in three of the Royals' four event wins.

Malone started with a victory in the 100 dash, finishing the race in a new sectional record time of 10.72 seconds. Malone later won the 200 dash, and also was part of Southeastern's first-place 4x100 team, joining Stephen Sydnor, Gage Pratt and Caleb Durden.

"The 100 went really well, but my ankle was tweaked at the end," said Malone. He admitted it threw him off a little bit, but things got better by the 4x100, which he called "extremely good. We finished strong."

As for the 200, Malone said he "could've had a cleaner race, but the 200, just making it to regionals was the ultimate goal."

Pratt finished as runner-up to Malone in the 100 and 200 dashes, giving the Royals 1-2 sweeps in both events. Jacob Wiggers was HSE's fourth winner of the day, pacing the 3200 run.

Other regional qualifiers for the Royals were Emilio Rios Rojas in the 400 dash, Eric Carothers in the 1600 run and Xan Cluff in the pole vault.

Noblesville placed fourth as a team with 79 points, winning two events and sending five on to the regional. Shomari Rogers-

Walton was first in the long jump, and he later joined Shawn Kinslow, DeVontez Cox and Mitchell Conard to win the 4x400 relay.

"It was fun," said Rogers-Walton. "And I've been working at this. Last year I didn't do too well on long jump." Rogers-Walton finished eighth last year in the long jump.

"To win this year meant a lot to me," said Rogers-Walton. "And winning the 4x4, I just got put on it this year and I've been trying my hardest to try to get better at it. And I'm really trying to help the team win, and today, to get the win, it just meant a lot."

Also qualifying for the regional were Cox in the 400 dash, Andrew Anderson in the 800 run and Andrew Herman in the high jump.

Westfield finished in fifth place with 65.5 points. The Shamrocks had four advance to the regional, led by the runner-up 4x800 relay team of Mahamat Djour, Max Gutwein, Noah Douthit and David Mannella.

Other Westfield regional qualifiers were Calvin Grenda in the 300 hurdles, Jacob Netral in the discus and the Shamrocks' 4x100 relay team.

Guerin Catholic's Quinn Gallagher finished third in the 3200 run, also making it to regional.

Hamilton Heights' Bayden Lutz placed fifth in the pole vault to lead the Huskies, while Sheridan's Nick Burnell took seventh in the 110 hurdles and eighth in the high jump.

Several other performances were good enough to likely receive callbacks to regional. Those will be announced at a later date.

Girls tennis

Southeastern, Carmel win sectional titles once again

The Hamilton Southeastern girls tennis team won its sixth consecutive sectional title on Friday, beating rival Fishers 4-1 to claim the Noblesville sectional championship at the Noblesville East Middle School tennis courts.

All of the matches were decided in straight sets. The No. 16-ranked Royals won both doubles matches, in addition to victories from Adalyn De Witt at No. 2 singles and Tea Vrkic at No. 3 singles.

"We knew Fishers was a tough team and they were going to battle," said Southeastern coach Kirk Webber. "We had a couple close sets, the first set at 1 doubles, and the girls were able to pull away. And it's just always good to get those first sets under your belts, get the momentum going into the second."

The No. 11 Tigers' win came from Lucy Loy at No. 1 singles. Loy won both of her sectional matches, which moves her into the individual tournament. That will start next week.

As for the Royals, they advance to the North Central regional. Southeastern will play Mount Vernon on Tuesday in a semi-final match.

Fastest lap of the day at 231.704...

Conor Daly sets the pace on “Fast Friday”

INDIANAPOLIS - It's dubbed "Fast Friday" and the final full day of practice before qualifying for the 103rd Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge was just that.

A dozen drivers turned laps in excess of 230 mph as teams dialed in their NTT IndyCar Series cars for the emotional next two days when the 33 grid positions for "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" will be determined. Noblesville's Conor Daly set the pace in the No. 25 United States Air Force Honda for Andretti Autosport with a lap of 231.704 mph, followed by teammate Marco Andretti with a lap of 230.851 mph in the No. 98 U.S. Concrete/Curb Honda for Andretti Herta with Marco & Curb-Agajanian.

It was the first time in four practice days that anyone exceeded the 230-mph mark.

"I'm just super thankful to be here, honestly," said Daly, a veteran of 39 career NTT IndyCar Series starts, whose only scheduled race this season currently is the Indianapolis 500. "It's incredible to be a part of this team."

"I've been super happy with my group and our engine and our car. We're just (taking it) step by step, one change at a time - trying to make this thing go as fast as possible - and we'll see what happens tomorrow."

All 36 entered cars benefited from an extra 1,000 millibars of turbocharger boost that increased engine output by some 50 horsepower Friday and through qualifying weekend. While most of the fastest laps were also aided by an aerodynamic tow from a leading car, Ed Jones did eclipse the 230 mark with a no-tow lap of 230.106 mph in the No. 63 Ed Carpenter Racing Scuderia Corsa Chevrolet.

Other drivers to surpass 230 mph with tow-aided laps on Friday were Takuma Sato, Spencer Pigot, Ryan Hunter-Reay, Ed Carpenter, Simon Pagenaud, Charlie Kimball, Josef Newgarden, Will Power and Tony Kanaan.

While they were jockeying at the top of the speed chart, two-time Formula 1 champion Fernando Alonso spent the day regaining his footing with his first time on track since crashing in Wednesday practice. Alonso totaled 77 laps on the day - the most of any driver - in the backup No. 66 McLaren Racing Chevrolet, with his final circuit of 229.328 mph on the 2.5-mile oval standing as his best and 24th among all drivers.

"It was a positive day for us," Alonso said. "We were able to put the car on track and try different directions on the setup and learn a little bit about the track and the day. Obviously, the boost was up today, so the speeds were higher and it was more a (qualifying) preparation than race setups.

Noblesville's Conor Daly led the way on “Fast Friday” at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Day turned the fastest lap of the day at 231.704 mph, and put himself on top of the speed chart as qualifications begin today.

"But we had a lot of new tires (unused) from the last couple of days, so we were able to do a lot of runs. Hopefully, that information will give us tomorrow a little bit of confidence into qualifying."

Daly's day got even better when his team drew the first spot in the qualifying order for his entry. It means the 27-year-old Indiana native and son of former Indy car and F1 driver Derek Daly can make his initial four-lap qualifying attempt in potentially the coolest, best conditions of the day.

"All right, I'll take it," Daly said. "That's good. We'll take that. I hope it's nice and cool - 65 degrees, no wind and full power. We'll see."

Pigot drew the second qualifying position, with 2016 Indianapolis 500 winner

Alexander Rossi third. Zach Veach, Rossi and Daly's teammate at Andretti Autosport, drew the last qualifying position of the 36 primary cars.

Kyle Kaiser was involved in the only incident of the day when his No. 32 Juncos Racing Chevrolet made hard contact with the SAFER Barrier in Turn 3. The 2017 Indy Lights Presented by Cooper Tires champion was uninjured. The car sustained heavy damage and the Juncos crew expected to work into the night to repair it in a bid to qualify on Saturday.

A final pre-qualifying practice begins at 8 a.m. ET Saturday (livestream on INDYCAR Pass on NBC Sports Gold) and is split into three parts - 30 minutes for half the qualifying order, 30 minutes for the other half and 30 minutes open to all cars.

First-day qualifying runs from 11 a.m.-5:50 p.m. Saturday, with the fastest 30 drivers at the end of the day securing a spot in the race. Drivers may make as many qualifying attempts as they wish, weather and time permitting. Grid positions 10 through 30 are locked in then, while the fastest nine drivers on Saturday advance to the Fast Nine Shootout.

Sunday's qualifying conclusion features the Last Row Shootout at 12:15 p.m., where each driver who failed to qualify on Saturday makes one attempt, with the fastest three earning the final spots in the 33-car field. Following that comes the Fast Nine Shootout at 1:15 p.m. to determine the pole sitter and grid order of the first three rows.

Saturday's qualifying streams on INDYCAR Pass on NBC Sports Gold from 11 a.m.-5 p.m., with coverage switching to NBCSN from 5-6 p.m. Sunday's qualifying airs from noon-3 p.m. on NBC, with a practice for the 33 qualifiers airing on NBCSN from 3-6 p.m.

The Indianapolis 500 airs for the first time this year on NBC, with race coverage starting at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 26.
