Nearly 400 attend Jake Laird golf tournament

Foundation in memory of fallen IMPD officer has awarded $800K

The REPORTER

The 16th annual Jake Laird Memorial Golf Tournament was held on Aug. 9 at Pebble Brook Golf Club to honor the memory of IMPD officer Jake Laird. Jake was shot and killed in the line of duty on Aug. 18, 2004. Soon after his death, his parents, Mike and Debbie Laird, established a foundation that provides financial assistance to public safety officers for equipment, support for various police and fire programs, and financial assistance for police officers and firefighters injured in the line of duty. To date, the foundation has been able to award approximately $800,000 to deserving public safety officers, precincts and fire stations. The annual golf outing, which ends with a catered dinner and auction, is the major fundraising event for the foundation. This year's outing was attended by nearly 400 golfers and volunteers. Opening ceremonies included the Indianapolis Metro Police Department Honor Guard presenting Colors, bagpipers, Lt. Bryan Wolfe singing the National Anthem and remarks from IMPD Chief Bryan Roach, Noblesville mayoral candidate Chris Jensen, and Mike and Debbie Laird. State Representative Donna Schaibley made remarks concerning The Jake Laird Red Flag Law, which she authored, and was signed by the Governor earlier this year. Anyone interested in donating can send a donation to any BMO Bank, noting the donation is for the Jake Laird Memorial Fund.

Janus enjoys $2 Tuesday at State Fair

Janus Developmental Services and its clients recently took a trip to the State Fair. The group left with many good memories and a single piece of advice for you: There are only a few days left for the fair, which ends this weekend, but you can still enjoy some of the same activities that Janus and its clients enjoyed. The group attended the popular $2 Tuesday, a day where many favorite edible treats were sample-sized for a few bucks. The group also got to experience waiting in lines – not only for food, but to get in the fairgrounds and to catch the tractor shuttle. Some of the Janus clients were challenged to make decisions, such as what to have for lunch, how to spend their money and what to see. To learn more about Janus visit janus-inc.org.

The Worry Shelf

Have you ever heard of worry dolls? Originating in Guatemala, children tell their worries to these tiny, handmade dolls. Boys and girls place them under their pillow when they go to bed at night, and by morning the dolls gift them with the wisdom and knowledge to eliminate their worries. I've loved this concept ever since I heard about it long ago. In my case I imagine the dolls acting as stand-ins for angels, who then deliver these worries to God. As an adult, however, I've modified the concept a bit. Ever since I've entered the sandwich generation and taken care of both my own family and my mother, I've created what I call a Worry Shelf. The Worry Shelf is actually a high window ledge near my bed. Whenever I've done everything I can to resolve a stressful situation – or two... or three... or four – but they're still not better, I stand before the window in the evening. I take some deep breaths. I literally cup my hands, imagine the problem sitting in them, and lift it up onto the ledge. I do this with each problem until the ledge is full. Amazingly it's always the

HSE Board authorizes superintendent to negotiate for new Durbin Elementary site

By LARRY LANNAN | LarryInFishers.com

The Hamilton Southeastern (HSE) school board has authorized Superintendent Allen Bourff to negotiate a recommended deal for the board to buy land for a new Durbin Elementary School. The board voted 7-0 Wednesday evening allowing the school administration to negotiate on the board's behalf. The board was told at the previous meeting that extending utilities to the current Durbin location would cost at least $5 million. Attorney David Day said Wednesday that local land owners would be involved along the utility extension route, with negotiations or condemnation proceedings, which would take time. Chief Financial Officer Mike Reuter said his financial analysis boils down to acquiring the 20 acres required for a new

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Prevail is strictly confidential, and since their core values include integrity and respect, they provide their services at no charge. Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

You can drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, located at 14701 Tom Wood Way. You can also donate directly to Prevail of Central Indiana by visiting Prevailinc.org.

Silvernotes recruiting new members

The REPORTER

The Hamilton County SSAA Chorus, "Silvernotes," is starting up the 2019-20 singing season. A dinner is planned for 6 p.m. Monday, Aug. 26 at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds O.V. Winks Building. Prospective members are welcome. Please enter on the west side of O.V. Winks Building that faces the Humane Society parking lot.

The new music for the season will be distributed and attendees will review the Silvernotes' Festival song critique by Dr. Scott Buchanan, Director of the School of Music/Director of Choral Activities, and Dr. Kristopher Sanchack, Assistant Professor/Director of Choral Activities at Alabama State University.

The chorus is part of the Indiana Extension Homemakers Association. There are 26 member choruses around the state. These choruses sing at festivals, community and sporting events, churches, hospitals, nursing homes, etc.

Member choruses, like the Silvernotes, also join together across the state numerous times throughout the year to comprise the State Chorus known as "The Melody Makers of Indiana." Purdue University founded the choral group in Tippecanoe County in 1934. Other county choruses were formed in the following years. The Silvernotes joined them in 1936 and have been active ever since. The Melody Makers are directed by Dr. Buchanan and accompanied Alaskan officials have called in help from other states to fight fires such as this one on the Chandalar River.

DNR firefighters assist with Alaska wildland fire operations

The REPORTER

A total of 20 wildland firefighters comprising employees from the Indiana DNR, Indiana Department of Homeland Security, The Nature Conservancy, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Parks Service and Hoosier National Forest recently traveled to Alaska for a 14-day assignment to assist with wildland fire operations in the Upper Yukon Zone.

The crew was initially assigned to the Hadweenic River Fire within the Cornucopia Complex and then reassigned to the Chandalar River Fire. These fires were located near the villages of Fort Yukon and Veneite.

The firefighters worked to remove hoses and water pumps from fire lines as the fires reached containment levels. Due to a lack of road infrastructure, crews, equipment, and supplies were all transported via helicopters or boats.

USDA may kick some Hoosiers off food stamps

By DAVID WILLIAMS
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

The U.S. Department of Agriculture wants to close a loophole in food stamp benefits.

Members of the organization Feeding Indiana's Hungry, which represents food banks, worries some Hoosiers could be kicked out of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

The USDA said a proposed change to the eligibility rule would close a loophole allowing people who get only minimal benefits from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program to be automatically eligible for food stamps without undergoing further checks on their income or assets. According to the USDA, the proposed

"At this time, this is a proposed rule and there will be a comment period. We are continuing to receive information about the proposed rule from our federal partners. This rule change would be relevant to Indiana under IC-12-14-30-4 which was updated by legislation passed in 2017. Indiana is among the majority of states to have a Broad-Based Categorically Eligible policy for SNAP benefits."

— Marni Lemons, deputy director of communications and media, Indiana Family and Social Services Administration change will save billions of dollars and prevent abuse of the system.

Indianapolis resident Miri Tong gets help from food stamps and local food pantries as she struggles to make ends meet for herself and her three young children.

"It's very hard, sir," Tong said. "To make sure my kids and me eat, sir."

Tong said she would not like to lose her food stamps "for the simple fact we really need this stuff. We need the benefits, sir."

Vavette Blue said she also relies on food stamps. "It's very important to me because I need that. I really do need it."

Emily Bryant, executive director of Feeding Indiana's Hungry, said the proposed change "would restrict access to 3 million Americans across the country. It would impact people in 40 different states including Indiana."

"It's making it more cumbersome for folks to access benefits."

A former food stamp recipient, Brenda Gibson, said while she was inside the Lord's Pantry at Anna's House food pantry that the rule change would "make it really hard, I think."

News 8 is gathering data to determine how many Indiana SNAP recipients would be impacted if the proposed rule change is accepted.

The USDA's public comment period on the proposed rule change ends Sept. 23.

DNR confirms dead, sick deer from EHD in Clark County

The REPORTER

Preliminary lab results were positive for epizootic hemorrhagic disease (EHD) virus in a sample of a dead deer from Clark County the DNR staff submitted to a lab for testing early this month.

Additional testing is required to determine the strain of EHD virus. Results of testing of samples from deer from several other counties are pending.

EHD is a viral disease that may affect white-tailed deer to some degree every year. It typically occurs during late summer and early fall, and there is evidence that outbreaks may be worse during drought years. EHD is transmitted by flies commonly known as biting midges, sand gnats and "no-see-ums."

Humans are not at risk for contracting hemorrhagic disease.

The testing came about from investigations DNR staff have been conducting after receiving reports of sick or dead deer in central and south-central Indiana. Clark County seems to be experiencing the most intense outbreaks thus far, but suspect reports have come from 10 counties in total.

"Although the reports DNR is receiving are consistent with EHD episodes of past years, it's important for testing to be done on samples before it can be confirmed," said Dr. Joe Caudell, DNR deer research biologist. "Samples need to be collected as soon as possible after the deer dies to be most useful for testing."

Caudell worked with Indiana Conservation Officers to collect an adequate sample, the one that tested positive for EHD, on Aug. 2.

"Deer infected with EHD may appear depressed or weak and often seek out water. Other signs may include a blue-tinged tongue, swelling of the head, neck or eyelids, ulcers on the tongue and the oral cavity, or sloughed hooves," said Dr. Nancy Boedeker, DNR wildlife veterinarian.

Hemorrhagic disease is often fatal to deer, but some will survive the illness. Not every deer in an affected area will contract hemorrhagic disease. Localized death losses during an outbreak can range from negligible to greater than 50 percent. Outbreaks can be more severe in years in which there is a wet spring followed by a hot, dry fall. Severe outbreaks rarely occur in subsequent years due to immunity gathered from previous infections.

"If you see a deer that you suspect may have died from EHD, you can report it directly to the DNR through our website at deer.dnr.IN.gov," Caudell said. "Just click on the link for Report a Dead or Sick Deer."

The DNR monitors for EHD annually. The most recent significant outbreaks were in 2007 and 2012.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole. And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day. But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work. Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

Westfield, Guerin Catholic ready for strong seasons

By RICHIE HALL

NOBLESVILLE - It was appropriate that the Westfield and Guerin Catholic boys tennis teams scrimmaged against each other Thursday at the Golden Eagles' courts.

Both teams are enthusiastic about the upcoming season, and with good reason. The Shamrocks will field their biggest team ever, while the Golden Eagles have a sizable roster as well, including a solid cast for its singles lineup.

Westfield coach Tony Peters said there are 30 players on this year's team, "which is the biggest team we've ever had," he said. The coach credits the Westfield Youth Sports (WYSI) summer youth program with helping to spur interest.

"We've really started to grow tennis in Westfield," said Peters. "It's starting to funnel up and we're starting to get bigger teams."

Peters said that Westfield's middle school team also has 30 players this season.

"We're looking to really grow the program and hopefully be able to compete this year and continue to compete with the big schools in the state," said Peters.

The Shamrocks will do that with an experienced singles lineup. Senior Connor Maris will play at No. 1 singles.

"He was successful there and has played a ton over the off-season, and I'm super excited to see what he can do this year," said Peters.

Also back is junior Quentin Markle at No. 2 singles, a position he's held for the past two years. Senior Harrison Sindelar

Fishers boys are young, but talented

Anyone who has followed Indiana high school cross country over the past 15 years is aware of how the Fishers boys program has become very successful in a short period of time.

The Tigers won state in only their second year (2007) after the high school re-opened (2006). Fishers has been on a recent string of success, finishing in the top four in each of the past four years, including the state runner-up last season. And it looks as if the Tigers could do it again.

Fishers will be a young team this season. Out of 69 runners on the team, only eight are seniors. Coach Nathan Warnecke said that only two runners have experience in the state tournament.

"However, we are also as talented as we have ever been," said Warnecke. That has gotten some notice. Indiana Runner has listed the Tigers as its pre-season No. 3 team, and "the first of our legitimate state contenders," Indiana Runner said on its website.

Fishers has a state runner back in senior Drew Smith, who finished 32th at Terre Haute last year. Smith was the lone

The Fishers boys cross country team finished third in the state last season, its fourth consecutive top four finish. While the Tigers are young this year, they have enough talent to contend for another high finish.

Girls golf

University

wins opener

The University girls golf team won its first match of the year, beating Crawfordsville 191-200.

Trailblazers sophomore Becky Williams, a state qualifier last year, was the meet medalist with a one over par 37, followed by freshman Kelsey DuBois with a 47. University will compete at the 18-hole Elwood Invitational on Saturday.

Hamilton Heights dropped a dual meet to Tipton, 175-192 Thursday at the Tipton Municipal Golf Course.

Sydni Zebraskas led the Huskies with a 44, followed by Alyx Harley 47, Ellie Arrowood 48, Rebekah Steffen 53, Anna Rickey 54 and Kaylee Rhoton 59.

Six runners from state return...

Bates to lead the way for Carmel girls

Every year, the Carmel girls cross country team can be counted on for a high finish at the state meet.

Last year was no exception, when the Greyhounds placed fourth. But believe it or not, that was the lowest finish for Carmel since 2006, when it finished fifth. The Greyhounds have set that high of a standard.

It wasn't too long ago when the 'Hounds won five consecutive state titles, and Carmel always wants to win more. The Greyhounds have a chance to do that, as they return six of their seven state runners from last season.

Carmel coach Andy Dalton said this year's team "has the potential to do some really special things and take many by surprise. Our young team has really grown up since and I think they can build on the experience they gained in championship races last year."

The 'Hounds will be led by senior Phoebe Bates, who has been a star for Carmel since her high school career began. Dalton said that Bates' primary focus for the season is the team, and winning a state championship with her fellow runners.

"Anything else that happens individually is just the gravy on top," said Dalton.

The other five returning state runners, in order of how they finished in Terre Haute, are junior Abby Parker, sophomore Jamie Klavon, junior Brooke Waldal, sophomore Alivia Romaniuk and junior Anna Christie.

Carmel tends to use more than seven runners during its journey through the post-season, and last year was no exception.

Other tournament runners back for the Greyhounds are two semi-state runners, senior Lily McAndrews and junior Roni Ledezma. Senior Elle Nichol ran at the regional, and seniors Emily Hand and Halle Welch both competed at the sectional.

Two more seniors, Martha Hunter and Sydney Haines, ran on Carmel's state qualifying 4x800 relay (with Hand and Christie), and Bates finished fifth in the 1600 run.

"Not far behind Phoebe, we have an amazing pack of Hounds who will be fighting together," said Dalton.

Carmel begins its season Aug. 24 at the Zionsville Invitational.

"There is plenty of racing to do between now and November 2nd, but we are excited to see where it goes," said Dalton.

junior running for the Tigers at state in 2018 – the other six were seniors. Also returning is junior Max McCollum, who ran for Fishers at the regional and semi-state level.

The Tigers also have a couple runners back that had solid track and field seasons. Junior Jaylen Castillo emerged as a strong runner, as he and Smith were both part of the Fishers' state champion 4x800 relay, and also won a sectional championship in the 800 run. Will Clark, another junior, ran in the state meet as a freshman and reached the regional in the 3200 run last season.

After that, the Tigers have a large group of underclassmen waiting to show what they can do.

"If we learn how to consistently perform up to that potential we could have another fantastic season," said Warnecke.

will move from No. 1 doubles to No. 3 singles.

As for the doubles, there are five players competing for four spots. They are seniors Nicholas Mabe and Danny Hildebrand, juniors Connor Housefield and Christian Emigh, and sophomore Brett Barnes.

"All eight of those guys have worked a ton in the offseason and I think we've really looked to this season to be one of the best seasons that Westfield tennis has ever had and we're excited to play, excited to compete," said Peters.

The Shamrocks open their season Monday by hosting Hamilton Southeastern, then play at Zionsville on Thursday.

Guerin Catholic is being led by second-year coach Chris Sciaudone. The Golden Eagles have 38 players on their team this year.

"We have a lot of enthusiasm," said Sciaudone. "We have boys who are trying to get better and that's what we're about. We're about player development and having players be better at the end of the season than they are at the start."

Guerin Catholic has an experienced lineup in singles, with all three of its players returning. Junior Cole Metzger will be back at the No. 1 position, with sophomore Ty Harrington currently playing at No. 2.

"He played quite a bit of singles for us last year," said Sciaudone.

Another sophomore, Jak Kolb, is at No. 3 singles. Sciaudone said Kolb "played pretty much every varsity match last year, some singles, some doubles."

"And then in the doubles lineup, we have a lot of new faces this year, and it's really a work in progress," said Sciaudone. "We probably have about eight to 10 players who are competing for four spots, but we think that competition just makes us better."

There will be plenty of competition for the Golden Eagles, starting on Saturday when they play at Fishers. Guerin Catholic then heads to Park Tudor on Tuesday and has its home opener Thursday with Brebeuf Jesuit.

"All three finished last season in the top 10 in the rankings," said Sciaudone. "We certainly will get a taste of competition early in the year. But we also play Carmel and North Central and most of the traditional powerhouse programs and that's what we want to do. That helps us understand where we're trying to be."

SHORT COURSE SEASON TRY-OUT'S

Wednesday, August 28 or Thursday, August 29, 2019 @ 6pm

Competitive swimming has long proven to be one of the best activities for the health and social development of young people. No other activity offers the unique opportunity to teach young people sportsmanship, a sense of fair play, responsibility, and the value of hard work. Boys and girls are able to grow and develop in an atmosphere of friendly competition, forming lasting friendships. USA Swimming offers an opportunity for children of all ability levels to compete. There is the opportunity for success at the child's own level, and winning is not overemphasized. Every child on the team will have an opportunity to swim competitively.

Try-outs are open to any child age 6 and older and will consist of one length of freestyle and backstroke. You may be asked if they know breaststroke or butterfly. 11 and older swimmers must be legal in all 4 competitive strokes. Speed or endurance will not be tested during the tryout. You only need to come to one of the two nights to tryout. You will enter Gate 7 on the Southeast side of Noblesville High School. Once inside those doors you will pass through another set of black doors and then to your left you will see some silver doors. Please come in those doors and we will greet you on the pool deck.

Practices will be held in the early evenings (between 4:30-7pm) 3 to 5 days a week, depending on what group they are placed in, at Noblesville H.S. Most of these new swimmers will practice from 45 minutes to an hour on M-Tu-Th nights. The winter season will start the week of Sept 1st and lasts through February for most of the newer swimmers.

Swim Meets: Each swimmer will be encouraged to compete in meets that they are eligible for during the season. A lot of our competitions for new swimmers will be here at Noblesville High School and the rest take place in the Central Indiana area and are held on the weekends.
