Janus thankful for $10K gift

Photos provided

Early last year, Ken Hahn, President of Metro Plastics, set a goal to run the 2019 Monumental Marathon in Indianapolis, despite the fact he hadn't run in years and would be turning 50 two days prior to the 26.2 mile event. But for Ken, the goal was not just to complete the race, but to raise $10,000 for Janus Developmental Services. Janus is a 40-year-old non-profit that provides services and programs for adults with disabilities throughout Hamilton County. (Left) On Nov. 25, Hahn presented a check in the amount of $10,790 to Janus Developmental Services from funds raised from his participation in the Monumental Marathon. (Right) Janus client John presented Hahn with a handmade thank you card from everyone at Janus.

The long-awaited 96th and Keystone interchange project in Carmel is nearing an end. Traffic on Keystone, both northbound and southbound, has been moved to the new lanes over 96th Street. The next phase will be to finish work on 96th Street under the new bridge, on the ramps and on the roundabouts. Full-traffic mobility should be restored by the end of the year.

Your donation to BGCN will be matched on Giving Tuesday

The REPORTER

On Tuesday, Dec. 3, the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville (BGCN) will participate in Giving Tuesday, a global day of giving that encourages and celebrates philanthropy worldwide.

BGCN will hold a campaign to find new donors who have never given to the Club or have not given in the past three years. The first $10,000 in donations from new donors will be generously matched by George Kristo.

"George has always been a champion and hero for the youth of this community, and he continues to leave a lasting legacy," said BGCN Executive Director Becky Terry. "We cannot thank him enough for the impact that he has had on our Club and the youth we serve each day."

Last year, the Club raised $10,536 on Giving Tuesday, including Kristo's matching gift. This year, the Club is looking to raise more than $20,000 with the generous help of Kristo's match. Last year, BGCN served 2,412 local youth with its affordable, high-impact after school programs. Members can attend the Club for $55 per year, while the true cost of services are $555 per member.

A social media campaign will take place throughout the day to update the public and supporters on the Club's campaign. Donations can be made by calling the Club, dropping off a do-

About the Boys & Girls Club

The Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville provides high-quality, low-cost programs for youth members with the help of donors and sponsors. Between the Club, the Community Center and Camp Crosser, BGCN provides opportunities for members to enjoy activities and experiences that help shape character and offer new perspectives. We are dedicated to inspiring and enabling all young people to reach their full potential as productive, caring, responsible citizens by promoting leadership, character, health and physical development.

A Hallmark story in the making

It's Friday night, the day after Thanksgiving. Chuck is tucked away near the ceiling of Lucas Oil Stadium, keeping the scoreboard for the Indiana State Football Championships.

Me? I'm tucked under a blanket, sitting in Chuck's recliner with a cup of decaf coffee. And, I'm watching a Hallmark movie.

Chuck always smiles whenever he walks in and sees me watching my favorite movies of the season ... all on the Hallmark Channel.

Chuck asks me, "Has the girl arrived into town yet? Has she met the guy yet? Have they kissed yet? Have they lived happily ever after ... yet?"

So many yet's. Well, it is Hallmark. I know it's all inevitable, but it's about the stories and the feelings that you snuggle up with whenever you watch a Hallmark movie.

I remind Chuck that our story is very much like a Hallmark movie. A little schmaltzy but oh, so sweet.

JANET HART LEONARD
From the Heart

We met ... unexpectedly. We were in the late fall and early winter of our lives. We were not looking to fall in love ... but we did.

I watched him singing in the choir at his church. I heard him tell about his family and heard the love in his voice. I saw the twinkle in his eye when spoke of his years as a school superintendent. I saw the wooden Christmas projects he crafted with such great skill in his workshop. I heard the kindness of the thoughts in his heart. Those thoughts made my heart smile.

Within weeks of our first date I realized, some six years ago, that I was living a Hallmark movie ... and I was falling in love.

I was reminded of that this week when something broke at our house. He said, "Well, I can't fix everything but I can fix a few things." I looked at him and said, "Yes Honey, I know you can fix broken things ... you fixed my heart."

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools has announced Mark Booth will no longer serve as Director of Special Education after being disciplined for a social media post published on his personal Facebook page.

The post was a photo of Donald Trump with a caption that referred to Trump as "special needs."

After learning of the social media post, Noblesville

Booth's new role in the school district will be analytical compliance. Booth served his position as special education director since 2004.

STORY

Yes, Virginia, there IS a Santa. Yes, my friends, there IS love in Hallmark movies. Yes, my friends, he IS my prince charming and yes, we are living happily ever after.

Maybe I should call Hallmark. I have a story I continue to tell. I love the characters in it. I love how they show that they care about each other. I love telling their story ...

Once upon a time in a cozy Midwest town there lived two lonely people with love that needed to be shared ...

Stay tuned. There are more chapters that need to be written.

But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don’t often hear about them. # State Rep. Tony Cook endorses Beth Henderson for Congress

The REPORTER

Indiana State Representative Tony Cook (R-Ind.-32) has officially endorsed Beth Henderson in her campaign for Indiana’s 5th Congressional District, an open seat. Henderson is a business owner, nurse, farm manager and mother who is seeking the Republican nomination.

Representative Tony Cook’s statement:

"As I serve in the Indiana State House of Representatives, I look for a partner in Washington who truly cares for Hoosiers, who brings business experience to the table, and who is willing to rise above the political fray to put our local interests and needs first. Beth Henderson is the ideal partner and voice for our 5th Congressional District. I am proud to stand with her. Like I have, Beth has lived in this district for over two decades and she understands the needs of the people who call the 5th District home."

Beth Henderson’s statement:

"I am incredibly honored to receive the endorsement of a friend and true Indiana leader. Representative Tony Cook has been a champion of our shared conservative Hoosier values. I look forward to working with him and all Indiana elected officials when in Congress. These are serious times and we need a voice in Washington who will cut through the hyper-partisan bickering and get Congress working again. Like Tony, I have the experience of building bridges, while holding true to my conservative principles. Tony and I will work together to produce real results for our Hoosier families."

New deer harvest website available for hunters

The REPORTER

Indiana DNR has launched a new website allowing deer hunters to access white-tailed deer harvest data as it is accumulated by the state.

During the check-in process, hunters report the county of harvest, sex of deer harvested, type of land the deer was harvested on, and type of equipment used to harvest deer. This data can now be accessed and viewed by individuals using an interactive website.

Visitors to the website can compare individual or multiple counties across the past five years. Results can even be limited to specific types of equipment or deer seasons.

Hunters have asked for more detailed harvest data and comparisons between years, and this new website is a direct result of that feedback to DNR. Harvest data is updated daily.

The website can be accessed at wildlife.IN.gov/10286.htm.

Dear Editor:
Thank you, Birch Dalton, for saying exactly what I was thinking.

The Democrats moving in are ignoring the fact that Hamilton County is great because of all the Republican leadership and work over the past years.

Keep up the good work, Republicans, and Mr. Democrat Party Chairman – quit insulting the people of Hamilton County. I have lots of friends in both parties and I don’t appreciate your blanket statement about any voter, regardless of party.

The REPORTER

1821 — Alexander Ralston published his map of Indianapolis, a one-mile square with diagonal streets and a circle in the middle. Ralston had worked with Pierre L'Enfant in the planning of Washington, D.C., and Indianapolis had many of the same features. Main streets were named after states and areas were set aside for the Statehouse, Governor's House, and a city market.

1894 — Indianapolis businessman Gilbert Van Camp started selling cans of pork and beans door-to-door. He soon had hundreds of salespeople throughout the area and, within 10 years, the company was a multi-million dollar enterprise.

1919 — The Circle Talking Machine Shop in Indianapolis, next to the Circle Theater, advertised the hit records for December. One of the top sellers was "Yellow Dog Blues" by the J. C. Smith Orchestra, featuring the "laughing trombone." Other hits were "Pretty Little Rainbows," "Tulip Time" and "When Preacher Makes You Mine."

1933 — The 21st Amendment was ratified in Congress, ending prohibition across the country. The end of the "Noble Experiment" was welcomed by many Hoosiers. Harry's Place, on Highway 52 south of Lafayette, celebrated by offering live music by the "Rhythm Boys," a fish sandwich and a glass of beer, all for 10 cents.

1940 — Franklin, Ind., was the focus of a major

1968 — Featured as "Lady Soul," Aretha Franklin was in concert for one night only at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum. Reserved seats were $3 to $5. At age 26, Franklin had already scored a huge hit with "Respect," which became her signature song in a legendary career which lasted another 50 years.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb. Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God. Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

took care of the ball and we were able to convert on getting first downs and able to roll down the clock.”

The Trojans made another long drive during the final six minutes of the period, but it was halted when Ty Wise intercepted a pass at the Carmel 17 and took it into Trojan territory. The Greyhounds pushed it down to the eight-yard line, where Hanna made a 25-yard field goal, giving Carmel a 13-3 halftime lead.

Zach White gave the ‘Hounds a rushing touchdown late in the third quarter, powering into the end zone on a 10-yard run. Hanna’s kick made the score 20-3.

But Center Grove made it interesting in the fourth quarter, as Trojans’ quarterback Tayven Jackson threw two touchdown passes. His first one came in the early part of the period, on a 41-yard throw to Trent Veith. After holding Carmel to a three-and-out, Center Grove made another scoring drive that took it down to the Greyhounds’ 11-yard line. Carmel’s defense got Jackson on the run, but he found a wide-open Mason Long for another TD throw. Watson made both extra-point kicks.

The Trojans tried for an on-side kick, but Ty Pennington recovered it for the ‘Hounds at the 50-yard line. Center Grove held Carmel back to third-and-10 on the 50, but Downing kept the drive going with a 17-yard run, giving the Greyhounds a first down.

Center Grove had already taken a timeout, and they used their other two timeouts during Carmel’s next sequence. Still, the Trojans were able to get the Greyhounds into another third-down situation. But never fear, Downing was there, making a nine-yard run for a first down with the clock at 1:39. After that, Carmel took a knee, and had the trophy.

“They’re going to make their adjustments and we have to be able to capitalize on them and we did,” said Downing.

“That 17-point lead, they weren’t going to go away,” said Hebert. “We knew that we were going to have to claw and scrape and put it together. I’m happy that it fell on our offense there at the end because it really sends a message to the young players in our program that taking care of what you can control on your end and running out the clock takes the doubt out of the picture.”

Downing finished as the game’s leading rusher, with 102 yards on 11 carries. Quigley completed 5 of 8 passes for 93 yards, with John Rogers making two receptions. Ty Wise led in tackles for Carmel with 13 total stops (10 solo and three assists), while Sam Saliba had 10 tackles (five solo and five assists).

Carmel finished its season 11-3, while Center Grove completed its season with an 8-6 record.

After the Pacers swept their four-game homestand with a win over the Atlanta Hawks yesterday, they took to the road to complete their third back-to-back of the season against the Philadelphia 76ers on Saturday night. Unfortunately, the strenuous schedule of playing three games in four nights caught up to the Blue & Gold (12-7), and they fell 119-116 to the 76ers (14-6) at Wells Fargo Center. The loss ended a five-game winning streak for Indiana, its longest of the season. T.J Warren led all Pacers with 29 points, and Malcolm Brogdon added 28 in the loss. Warren sank three free throws to give Indiana a 114-113 lead with 41.4 seconds remaining. But, his bad pass on the next Pacers possession led to an easy Tobias Harris dunk, giving the 76ers a 115-114 lead with 9.9 seconds to go. After head coach Nate McMillan called a timeout to set up a play, Indiana struggled to inbound the ball, causing their 19th turnover of the night. With the Pacers forced to foul, the 76ers put the game away at the free throw line. Philadelphia finished the game 32-of-36 from the charity stripe, including 15-of-15 from Joel Embiid. He also finished with a game-high 32 points and 11 rebounds. The 76ers finished the first quarter ahead of the Pacers 38-29 behind a 10-0 run in the early moments of the quarter. Four Embiid free throws sandwiched a Furkan Korkmaz 3-pointer. Al Horford then nailed another three to make the score 15-7 before coach Nate McMillan called a timeout with 6:48 left in the frame. Indiana soon managed to cut the 76ers lead to 17-15 on T.J Warren's baseline 3-pointer with 5:27 to go in the quarter. But, the length of the 76ers proved to be a tough challenge for the Pacers' big men. Philadelphia used three consecutive shots in the paint to extend its lead to 26-19 with 3:50 left in the first. Soon after, James Ennis III connected on 1-of-2 free throws to push the 76ers lead to double digits, 31-21, for the second time in the quarter. In his first game against his former team, T.J McConnell nailed a jumper with 4.6 seconds remaining in the frame to trim the lead to single digits. He finished the game with six points and three assists. Embiid continued to give Indiana fits down low at the beginning of the second quarter. The seven footer scored the 76ers' first eight points of the quarter, including two 3-point plays. His free throw with 10:01 remaining in the quarter pushed Philadelphia's lead to 46-32. To make matters worse, on Indiana's next possession, Domantas Sabonis was on the receiving end of an errant swat attempt from Embiid. With 9:49 remaining in the half, he jumped up for a layup attempt. Embiid missed the block and slammed Sabonis on the head. Though Embiid was called for a flagrant 1 foul on the play, Sabonis laid on the floor in obvious pain. He did, however, brush off the hit to sink both free throws and stay in the game. After trailing by as many as 15, the Blue & Gold finally began cutting into the deficit at the 5:12 mark of the quarter. Trailing 58-48, Warren connected on back-to-back buckets to get the Pacers within six. After a pair of Ben Simmons free throws, Malcolm Brogdon sank a jumper and hit two free throws to cut the 76ers lead to 60-56 with 2:49 left in the half. Then, with 3.5 seconds remaining Jeremy Lamb grabbed a rebound and launched a pass to a wide-open Justin Holiday on the opposite end of the court. His two-handed slam tied the game 65-65 as the halftime buzzer sounded. His heads-up play before the half provided the Pacers with some momentum. After a highly contested first six minutes of the third, the Pacers managed to grab their first two-possession lead, 79-75, on Sabonis's putback layup with 5:55 remaining in the frame. Just over two minutes later, Warren continued his impressive outing, converting on a tough baseline jumper to give the Pacers an 86-79 lead. Philadelphia managed to climb back into the game as the quarter ended. Korkmaz's 3-pointer with 15.9 seconds remaining grabbed a 93-92 lead for Philadelphia. Indiana managed to escape the third with a 93-93 tie after Sabonis connected on 1-of-2 free throws with 2.6 seconds left. Continuing the trend from the third, both teams matched each others' play, resulting in 10 fourth-quarter lead changes. The Pacers found some early success behind the 3-point line, connecting on their first 2-of-3 attempts of the quarter. Justin Holiday's baseline three with 9:34 left to play gave Indiana a 99-97 lead. The lead was short lived, however, as Embiid scored four straight points to push the 76ers back in front 101-99 with 8:45 to play. Less than three minutes later, Indiana managed to tie the game 106-106 on a pair of free throws from Lamb. Then, with 5:24 to play, Sabonis kicked a pass out to a waiting Brogdon on the left elbow. Brogdon rose up and drilled the 3-pointer to give the Blue & Gold a 109-106 lead. Shortly after, Lamb then broke a 109-all tie with a jumper from the high block. With 2:38 left to play, Embiid sank a pair of free throws to force a 111-111 tie. After Brogdon missed a deep 3-pointer, the big man found the charity stripe once again at the expense of Sabonis' sixth foul. He connected on both attempts to give the 76ers a 113-111 lead with 1:54 remaining. With 41.4 seconds to go, Warren rose up from the left elbow beyond the arc. As he fell back to the ground, Harris made contact with his feet, and Warren drew the foul. He sank the resulting free throws without a hitch. But after Myles Turner collected a steal on the defensive end, Warren attempted to make a backwards pass to Lamb. The ball was intercepted by Simmons, who found Harris for the easy slam. Their defense then forced a turnover on the subsequent inbound play, and Philadelphia finished off the game where they had success all night – the free throw line.
