County officials go live on Facebook to update residents

County's second case of COVID-19 confirmed

The REPORTER

On Wednesday evening, Hamilton County officials conducted a Facebook live broadcast to update residents on the coronavirus outbreak.

During the broadcast, officials confirmed two Hamilton County residents have now been diagnosed with COVID-19. Chris Walker with the Hamilton County Health Department refused to comment on what cities the two individuals reside in.

Emergency Management Director Shane Book-er announced the Hamilton

County Commissioners have issued an emergency declaration. The declaration activates the county's comprehensive emergency management plan. The declaration also activates the Hamilton County Emergency Operation Center, which will work to support each of the county's municipalities.

Commissioner Christine Altman announced the courthouse will be closed to any individual that exhibits signs of illness.

Taxpayers: Please pay taxes online or by mail

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Treasurer Jennifer Templeton is encouraging taxpayers to pay their property taxes online.

"In an effort to protect the community and our staff from the further spread of COVID-19, we're asking taxpayers to avoid coming into our office at this time," Templeton said. "We're still available to answer any questions you might have. We just encourage you to contact us over the phone."

Templeton

Taxpayers have several options for making their payments including the following:

- Pay online at this link. Online payment fees do apply. e-Checks are $1 and credit cards are 2.5 percent.
- Drop off payments at the antique drop box outside the east door of the Old Courthouse. If you'd like a receipt, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
- Drop off payments at the following banks: BMO, Bussey, Citizens State, Community First, Farmers, Fifth Third, First Farmers, First Merchants, Horizon, Merchants Bank of Indiana, and Star Financial.

Property tax bills will be mailed no later than April 15. To help expedite the process, the Treasurer's Office has made them available online for early viewing at this link.

Fishers police investigating two deaths

By LARRY LANNAN | LarryInFishers.com

Two people are dead after Fishers police responded to the report of a family disturbance overnight in the area of 126th Street and Cumberland Road. Officers responded to a home in the 12600 block of Ladson Street and located an adult female and an adult male, both having suffered injuries believed to be from a firearm.

The female was 73; the male, 20. Police say they were related.

Authorities say there is no threat to the community and officers are not searching for any suspects.

This investigation remains active. Anyone with information is asked to contact Detective Cesar Rodriguez at (317) 595-3346.

Quakenbush announces COVID-19 safeguards at Sheriff's Department

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Sheriff Dennis Quakenbush announced changes his office is making due to coronavirus.

Sheriff Quakenbush in a social media video message said, "All services to the public will continue."

"My number one goal for our community is to ensure confidence in the fact the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office will continue to operate and provide the duties and functions, while also making the necessary changes to allow us to carry out these functions in the safest possible way," Quakenbush said. "The safety of our community, employees and inmates is at the top of our priorities. When you call dispatch or 911, patrol deputies will respond. Some investigations may be handled by telephone if the complaint is not in progress. We will continue to proactively patrol and enforce the law."

The Sheriff said correction facilities will operate without interruption.

"We have medical housing, quarantine facilities and a 24-hour medical staff to maintain a safe correction environment," Quakenbush said.

Jail visits will be restricted to remote video visits. To register for a remote video jail visit, go to gettingout.com.

If you are symptomatic, sick or have been in the last 72 hours, please do not come to the Sheriff Department campus unless you are court-ordered. Quakenbush explained that if you must report to the Sheriff's

Carmel Police making modifications

The REPORTER

The Carmel Police Department (CPD) is committed to protecting the community. Based on recommendations by public health officials regarding what is currently known about COVID-19, CPD has made minor changes for the safety of the public and department personnel. The department's goal is to continue to provide as many services as possible while limiting opportunities for potential exposure and reduce the spread of COVID-19.

The following changes are in effect until further notice:

- CPD officers have been provided with additional personal protective equipment (PPE).
- CPD employees are following social distancing, hygiene and cleaning practices recommended by public health officials.
- Non-emergency calls for service and administrative tasks are being handled without in-person contact whenever possible.

- The level of civilian staff working at CPD headquarters has been reduced by enabling employees to work remotely.
- Services provided at CPD headquarters such as fingerprinting for job applications and permits and car seat checks have been suspended.
- Events and programs such as Citizens Police Academy, Carmel Cares: A Mental Health Awareness Forum, tours of CPD headquarters, and ride-alongs have been canceled or suspended.

- CPD employees will not accept paper documents other than emergency documents.

Carmel Mayor directs $25K in support for food pantries

The REPORTER

Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard directed checks be written Tuesday to support four Carmel food pantries in need of donations to help provide food to those who are now home-bound during the COVID-19 crisis. Those checks – totaling $25,000 – were hand delivered today by the Carmel Police Department to the Merciful Help Center at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, the Carmel United Methodist Food Pantry and the Bread of Life Pantry at Venture Christian Church. A fourth check was hand-delivered Wednesday to Carmel Friends Church.

The mayor directed that the City use funds in his annual budget for immediate distribution to the Carmel food pantries. These funds were in the budget to support local initiatives that provide vital services to those most in need in our community.

"Nothing is more important at this time than helping our neighbors, especially the elderly and under-privileged who rely on our local food pantries for survival," said Brainard. "With children home from school and many working from home, the need is even greater. I urge all of our residents to check on their neighbors and help provide support during this trying time."

The City learned late Tuesday morning that the city's largest food pantry, Merciful Help Center, completely ran out of food on Monday. The demand has been great and financial assistance will help them resupply the pantry.

Because of the threat of spreading the virus, those in need of food cannot simply enter the food pantries; now they must pull up to the curb and work with volunteers to place orders and wait on their food to be carried to their cars. Because of this, food pantries are also in need of more volunteers.

Each of the three largest food pantries – Merciful Help, Carmel United Methodist and Bread of Life – received $7,500 checks Tuesday while the smaller pantry at Carmel Friends Church (open only one day a week) is getting $2,500.

The City urges local residents and businesses to help support this cause. Below is a list of food pantries and their hours of operation.

PREVAIL
Advocating for Victims of Crime and Abuse
www.prevailinc.com

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

- Mike Bragg, GM of Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville

To help Hamilton County families affected by domestic violence and sexual abuse, you can donate the following items:

- Art supplies (for children to journal and express their emotions)
- Bottled water (8 oz. bottles, preferably)
- Individually packaged snacks
- Gas cards (many women have no access to funds after fleeing their abuser)

Drop off items at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, 14701 Tom Wood Way.

#LoveHC website offers support, information for residents in need

The REPORTER

Social service agencies have worked nonstop to support the youth, families and seniors of Hamilton County during the impact of COVID-19. A group of county officials want to build on that support, so they teamed up to launch

#LoveHC, a website to help direct residents where to go to help their neighbors during this crisis.

The #LoveHC portal provides COVID-19 business resources, encourages donations to Good Samaritan Network and offers support of local businesses.

“There are many workers across the county – particularly in the service and hospitality industry – who cannot work right now, stock up on food and supplies or let alone feed their families,” said Hamilton County Tourism President and CEO Brenda Myers.

“Due to this dire situation, officials quickly connected to see how we could come together and help.”

The partnership includes Hamilton County Tourism, the Hamilton County Board of Commissioners and the Good Samaritan Network, which assists agencies such as the Youth Assistance Program, Shepherd Center, Fueled for School, food pantries and other non-profits to provide needed support.

“This partnership with tourism allows us to focus on finding essentials that are in short supply everywhere,” said Good Samaritan Network Executive Director Nancy Chance. “They know how to get the word out – we know how to help people.”

The website launched Wednesday evening after the Hamilton County Commissioners gave live updates via Facebook on the COVID-19 situation.

“We are pleased to partner with our county tourism agency in helping Hamilton County residents understand how they can help each other,” said Commissioner Christine Altman, who serves as the representative to the county’s emergency management response plans. “While our first concern is the health and safety of our residents, the county recognizes that supportive services provided through our valued community partners are equally as important.”

Hamilton County Tourism traditionally markets to out-of-area visitors but will be shifting focus to the current needs of the local residents and community.

“This is critically important,” Myers said. “Never was there a time for us to come together and love Hamilton County.”

AG Curtis Hill urges Hoosiers to submit price-gouging complaints online amid coronavirus outbreak

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Curtis Hill is urging Hoosiers who believe they have been subjected to excessive prices for consumer goods during the coronavirus pandemic to file a complaint online with the Office of the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

While specific price-gouging authority in Indiana law refers to fuel prices during a state of emergency, the Office of the Attorney General has authority to enforce the Deceptive Consumer Sales Act, which permits appropriate enforcement of any unfair, abusive, deceptive or unconscionable conduct. In an executive order issued Monday, Gov. Eric Holcomb said Hoosiers who believe they've been subjected to excessive prices for consumer goods should contact the Attorney General's Office.

In accordance with the executive order and the authority of the Office within Indiana law, the Office of the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division is accepting complaints related to excessive prices for all consumer goods.

To submit a price-gouging complaint, the Office is encouraging Hoosiers to utilize the online consumer complaint form, which can be found at indiana-

consumer.com, then click on "File a Complaint." If you have questions about the types of complaints handled by the Consumer Protection Division, you may call the Consumer Protection Division at 1-800-382-5516 or (317) 232-6330.

For more information about the coronavirus outbreak, please contact the Indiana State Department of Health at (877) 826-0011, or visit in.gov/coronavirus.

Fix leaks, stop wasting water and money

The REPORTER

Indiana American Water is encouraging customers to decrease water waste and save on their bills by fixing household water leaks during the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Fix-a-Leak Week. The annual awareness campaign, organized by EPA's WaterSense program, is being observed this week through March 22.

"Fix-a-Leak Week is all about empowering people to save water and money," said Indiana American Water President Matt Prine. "A small investment of time and a few dollars to repair plumbing and fixture leaks can really pay off in the long run by reducing water and sewer bills."

According to the EPA, the average household's leaks can account for nearly 10,000 gallons of water wasted every year and 10 percent of homes have leaks that waste 90 gallons or more per day. The most common types of leaks result from worn toilet flappers, dripping faucets, and other leaking valves. Fixing these leaks can save homeowners about 10 percent on their water bills.

Indiana American Water offers these tips for detecting water leaks:

- Assess your water usage during a colder month. If a family of four uses more than 12,000 gallons during the month, there is likely at least one – or more likely several – serious leaks.

- If your water meter is accessible, check it at the start and end of a two-hour period during which no water is being used (i.e. when no one is home). If the meter changes, there is most likely a leak.

- Place a drop of food coloring in your toilet tank and see if the water in the bowl changes colors within 10 minutes.

- At least once a season, and especially after extreme temperature changes, check faucet gaskets and pipe fittings for surface leaks, indicated by water on the exterior of the pipes.

To further assist customers with at-home leak repairs and prevention, American Water has also produced a helpful infographic including tips on finding and fixing common, and some not-so-common, indoor and outdoor water leaks. A downloadable leak detection kit is also available online through Indiana American Water's website at indianaamwater.com.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt, Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands. Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness? Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

Thirty-nine senior and junior student-athletes...

County wrestlers named to IHSWCA Academic First Team, Honorable Mention

Wrestlers are known for their toughness and intensity, but something that might get overlooked is their intelligence. The Indiana High School Wrestling Coaches Association is more than happy to put that in the spotlight. The IHSWCA recently released its Senior and Junior Academic All-State team, and the list of athletes on those teams is a long one. A total of 146 student-athletes made the Senior Academic All-State First Team, with another 175 wrestlers earning Honorable Mention.

The Junior Academic All-State First Team is just as long, with 113 wrestlers on the list. Another 155 received Honorable Mention.

A wrestler must have a grade-point average of at least 3.75 to make First Team, while those with GPAs between from 3.25 to 3.74 are placed on the Honorable Mention list. Seventy-two seniors and 50 juniors had GPAs of 4.00 or better.

Hamilton County wrestlers are well-represented on both the senior and junior lists, with 39 total wrestlers receiving on the First Team or Honorable Mention lists. Carmel had 17 wrestlers place across the four lists. Hamilton Southeastern had six wrestlers on the lists, Hamilton Heights five, Westfield and Guerin Catholic four each and Noblesville three.

Here is a list of county wrestlers named to the IHSWCA Academic First Team and Honorable Mention, along with each of their grade-point averages:

SENIORS
First team
Suhas Chundi, Carmel, 4.50
Carson Eldred, Westfield, 4.40
Laurel Williams, Carmel, 4.39
Andrew Irick, Hamilton Southeastern, 4.26
Samuel Crousore, Hamilton Southeastern, 4.24
Garrett Sharp, Carmel, 4.16

Carmel's Suhas Chundi had the highest grade-point average of Hamilton County wrestlers on the Senior Academic First Team, with a 4.50.

Bruce Wolf to retire as Carmel assistant AD

Longtime Carmel assistant athletic director Bruce Wolf has announced his retirement at the end of the school year.

Wolf is retiring after 40 years at Carmel High School, the last 25 years in his current role as assistant AD. He also served as the interim athletic director during the 2000-01 school year.

“Wolfie’ is a tireless advocate for all student-athletes and started the Champions Together initiative,” said Carmel athletic director Jim Inskeep on Twitter. “A friend to all, Wolfie is the first Greyhound in the building each morning. His 6 a.m. emails are the first, second and third ones in your inbox. He is the consummate professional and mentor to those in and out of our building.”

Indians postpone games, cancel Victory Field events

The Indianapolis Indians have announced that all games have been postponed and all other events at Victory Field are canceled.

The Indians are among the many sports teams that are putting their seasons on hold due to the COVID-19 pandemic. An article on the team's website said the Indians are following "the guidance and precautionary measures set forth by public health experts from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), World Health Organization (WHO), State of Indiana and City of Indianapolis."

Fans are asked to hold on to their tickets, and the team will provide information on options once they are available.

There is no public access to Victory Field at this time. Indians fans are encouraged to visit IndyIndians.com or follow the team's social media accounts for more information.

Five Fuel games affected by ECHL cancellation

The Indy Fuel said that five scheduled home games at Indiana Farmers Coliseum have been affected due to the cancellation of the remainder of the ECHL's 2019-2020 season.

The five games are:

Friday, March 13 vs. Wichita
Sunday, March 15 vs. Kalamazoo
Friday, March 27 vs. Wheeling
Saturday, March 28 vs. Toledo

Saturday, April 4 vs. Fort Wayne

"This is an entirely new and fluid situation that has developed amongst the sports world, so we greatly appreciate your patience as we work through each issue," the Fuel said in an email. "We look forward to having you back at an Indy Fuel game next season."

Visit this website for information on the Fuel's cancellation ticket policy.

Anderson University cancels remainder of spring sports season

Anderson University announced on Wednesday that the school's athletic department all practices and athletic events for the remainder of the spring semester have been canceled due to the COVID-19 outbreak.

This coincides with Anderson canceling all in-person classes for the semester.

Anderson athletic director Marcie Taylor said in a release on the university's website that there is "rightfully so much concern surrounding COVID-19, and things are changing so quickly nationally and locally," that it was necessary to cancel the remainder of the spring sports season.

Taylor also said: "We know this makes a significant impact on student-athletes because there is such a limited time to compete in college. We are particularly heartbroken for our seniors and empathize with our student-athletes and coaches who have worked so hard to prepare for their spring sports season."

Several Hamilton County athletes are members of AU's sports teams. The NCAA said that all 2020 spring-sport athletes will receive an eligibility waiver for next season.
