Governor initiates statewide mask mandate

Non-compliance could result in $1,000 fine, six months in jail

WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Gov. Eric Holcomb will initiate a mask mandate beginning Monday.

The order, which the governor will sign today, works as follows:

- Applies to anyone age eight or older in indoor public spaces, commercial entities or transportation services, or outside public spaces when people cannot socially distance.

- Mask use in schools required for Grade 3 and higher for faculty and staff, volunteers and anyone in schools. Masks also will be required for co-curricular and extracurricular activities, with exceptions for strenuous physical activity.

- Exceptions will be made for medical purposes, strenuous physical activity, eating, and drinking.

- Masks are strongly recommended for ages two to seven.

Indiana's mask mandate comes after neighboring Illinois, Michigan and Kentucky have already begun such mandates. Ohio's mask mandate begins at 6 p.m. today.

Holcomb said during the state's Wednesday coronavirus briefing, "I

Holcomb

"I know not everyone will be supportive of this mandate. Compliance and enforcement are always in question. Our approach, if you recall, since Day 1, since the very beginning of this pandemic, has been an approach of education, of appealing to one's civic duty and public good. You might even say public pride and being part of the solution. And it will continue to be."

proach of education, of appealing to one's civic duty and public good. You might even say public pride and being part of the solution. And it will continue to be."

Failure to wear a mask under the order will be a Class B misdemeanor, which is punishable by up to 180 days in jail and a fine of up to $1,000. But the governor added that "the mask police will not be patrolling Hoosier streets."

"Over the last several weeks, several things have happened," the governor said.

Synopsis
Hedda Gabler focuses on the frustrated existence of its title character, exploring core issues of power, control, and social expectation. Bored and restricted by her middle-class environment, Hedda plays out her own fantasies and psychological games with those nearest to her to an ultimately costly end.

Roles to be cast
• Hedda Tesman (née Gabler) – (Stage age late 20s-30s) The main character, newly married and bored with both her marriage and life, seeking to influence a human fate for the first time. She is the daughter of General Gabler (an aristocrat).

She believes she is an aristocrat, yet she has no funds.

• George (Jørgen) Tesman – (Stage age late 20s-30s) Hedda's husband, an academic who is as interested in research and travel as he is enamored with his wife, although blind to Hedda's manipulative ways.

• Juliana (Juliane) Tesman – (Stage age 60+) George's loving aunt who has raised him since early childhood. Desperately wants Hedda and her nephew to have a child.

• Thea Elvsted – (Stage age late 20s-30s) A younger schoolmate of Hedda and a former acquaintance of George. Nervous and shy, Thea is in an unhappy marriage.

• Judge Brack – (Stage age 45-55) An unscrupulous family friend. It is implied that the Judge has a lascivious personality, which he directs towards Hedda.

• Eilert Løvborg (Ejlert Løvborg) – (Stage age late 20s-30s) George's former colleague, who now competes with George to achieve publication and a teaching position. Eilert was once in love with Hedda. Destroyed his reputation in society by spending his money on depravity.

• Bertha (Berte) – (Stage age 45+) A servant of the Tesman's. Wants to please Hedda at all times.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault – it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County. (Nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children.) Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Indiana State Medical Association applauds Holcomb's mask mandate

The REPORTER

The following is a statement from Dr. Lisa Hatcher, MD, president of the Indiana State Medical Association in response to Gov. Eric Holcomb's announcement that face masks will be mandated statewide for Hoosiers effective July 27:

"The Indiana State

Medical Association applauds Gov. Holcomb's courageous leadership to require face masks for all Hoosiers throughout the state. This mandate is a necessary step to reverse the rising trend of COVID-19 and protect Indiana's health care system from further strain. Face masks are a proven and effective tool to prevent transmission of the coronavirus and will allow Hoosiers to more safely visit their doctors for the preventive and ongoing care needed to stay healthy."

Hoosiers are encouraged to visit HoosierDoctors.org for tips during the pandemic on when to seek care from a physician's office, a hospital or through telehealth, and how to obtain health insurance.

Indiana Hospital Association supports state's mask mandate

The REPORTER

Following Wednesday's announcement that Governor Holcomb will implement a statewide mask mandate beginning Monday, Indiana Hospital Association (IHA) Board President Rob McLin and IHA President Brian Tabor released the following statements:

"Governor Holcomb is doing the right thing and we applaud his continued leadership," said Lin, who also serves as the President and CEO of Good Samaritan Hospital. "Now, it is up to each one of us to do our part to keep Indiana on track by masking up. Our efforts will determine whether students can successfully return to school, small business owners can restart, and that our family and neighbors can stay healthy."

"Front-line workers in Indiana's hospitals have put their lives at risk each and every day to care for patients and contain the spread of the virus," said Tabor. "They will continue these efforts throughout the pandemic and beyond. In return, the least we can do is wear a mask, wash our hands, and social distance."

MASK MANDATE

- The goals of getting children back to school and keeping Indiana businesses open and operating.

- The recent increase in COVID-19 positive cases.

- The recent increase in number of Hoosiers hospitalized for COVID-19.

- Additional counties seeing more cases.

- The recent increase in cases in neighboring states.

"We have, as Hoosiers, worked very hard to get to where we are today. Businesses are open and operating at various levels of capacity. People are getting haircuts, myself included," Holcomb said. "We're eating in restaurants and we're working in all kinds of facilities, both large and small. And if you want to keep it that way, we want businesses to stay open, we want more Hoosiers to continue this trend of going back safely to work. We don't want to dial it back or put it in reverse or, as some are, shutting down again. Face coverings can and will help us blunt this increase. It has in other places around the country and, indeed, around the world.

"And this is time-sensitive now. It's that time of the year, after all, when schools are going back. This might be one of the most important reasons, when you really stop and think about it, for all of us to wear face coverings. We're asking our kids and their teachers to mask up. And our kids should not be getting mixed messages throughout the day. When they leave school grounds, they need to see that everyone is doing what they're doing. That best practices are best for all, by slowing or stopping the unknowingly transmission of COVID-19."

Dr. Lindsay Weaver, chief medical officer of the Indiana State Department of Health, said a growing number of newer studies have shown the wearing of cloth face coverings have helped reduce the spread of the coronavirus. The masks can reduce the distance of droplets from a cough or sneeze can spread. Some studies have shown the masks reduce transmission of the virus by up to 80 percent.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures, Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ. Mary Evelyn Cady

January 14, 1937 – July 15, 2020

Mary Evelyn Cady, 83, was ushered into Heaven on July 15, 2020 after a short but courageous battle with ALS. Mary was born in Indianapolis to Ernest and Martha Ruth Outland on January 14, 1937.
On September 3, 1954 Mary married the love of her life, Chester Duane Cady. Their courtship began at an early age as they were neighbors and Duane would show up at her house to play basketball. Shooting hoops together would eventually lead to enjoying 64 years together raising their family.
Mary retired in 1998 after working over 20 years at Mt. Vernon High School as a cook and baker. In retirement, Mary and Duane enjoyed playing bingo (and regularly winning) at weekly games sponsored by area senior care facilities. They also enjoyed traveling and supporting their grandchildren by attending their numerous school and sports activities.
Besides being a hard worker, great cook and good friend, Mary leaves a legacy of faith drawn from her commitment to follow and serve her Savior, Jesus Christ. Her willingness to give of herself will remain a testimony of her faith and an example to her family.
Mary was preceded in death by her parents, husband, and sisters, Phyllis Jean Outland and Marcella Gallet. Family members surviving are son, Don (Sharon) Cady; daughter, Kathy (Rich) Moorlach; and grandchildren, Stephen (Jill) Cady, Sarah (Josh) Carroll, Olivia Moorlach, Alexandra Moorlach and Leighton Moorlach.
Family and friends will gather from noon to 2 p.m. on Friday, July 24, 2020 at Trinity Church, 9709 Allisonville Road, Indianapolis, followed by a funeral at 2 p.m.

Drew Colvin tentatively hired as Head Boys Soccer Coach at Hamilton Heights

Pending board approval, Drew Colvin has been selected to lead the Hamilton Heights Boys Soccer program. Drew will be filling the shoes of veteran head coach, Derrick Dean, who resigned to take a new full-time job outside of education/coaching.

Colvin graduated from Sheridan High School in 2003 where he earned varsity letters in soccer, basketball, and track and field. After high school, Drew attended Grace College on a soccer scholarship before transferring to Purdue University after marrying his wife, Hannah. Drew and Hannah have been married for 16 years and have four kids, Micah (14), Abby (13), Ethan (10) and Bri (8).

"Drew is going to bring a lot of energy to the program and with the help of his coaching staff, implement a different system than in the past. The numbers are large and the excitement for the continued success of the program is just as big. We are looking forward to what Drew and his staff will bring to the table to help establish a culture of hard work, discipline and sportsmanship," said Kurt Ogden, Hamilton Heights Athletic Director.

"I am extremely excited and humbled to be the next Boys Soccer Head Coach at Hamilton Heights High School," said Colvin. "The shoes to fill are big. Derrick Dean built this program from almost nothing. While I coached with Coach Dean, I plan on implementing my own coaching style and culture for the team moving forward. My goals for the program are simply to improve in our ability to compete at a higher level while teaching the boys some life lessons along the way. I truly enjoy coaching and I am extremely excited for the future of the program."

Samantha Brown's Southern Masters victory among county junior golf wins

The past seven days have been busy for junior golfers across the state, including those from Hamilton County that are playing on the Indiana Golf Association's Junior and Prep tours.

There have plenty of victories as well. Westfield's Samantha Brown took home one of the biggest crowns as she won the Southern Junior Masters, a two-day event on July 19 and 20 at Chariot Run Golf Club in Laconia (about a half-hour southwest of Louisville).

Brown scored a 145 over 36 holes, including eight birdies. County golfers swept the top four, as Carmel's Michaela Headlee was the runner-up, Noblesville's Macy Beeson was third and Westfield's Brette Hanavan tied for fourth.

Hanavan was the winner of the Girls 13-15 division at the Junior Tour's Wednesday stop at Fox Prairie in Noblesville. She scored a 76, which included two birdies and an eagle on the fifth hole. Grace Dubec of Fishers, competing in the Girls 16-19 division, also eagled the fifth hole. Meanwhile, two Fishers boys golfers made an eagle on hole No. 7 at Fox Prairie in Boys 13-15 play: Vijeet Akala and Jacob Mieling.

Indy 500 releases 88-page detailed plan to host race

Officials from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Wednesday released a detailed 88-page plan they have put in place to welcome the estimated 25 percent of capacity crowd expected to attend the 104th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge on Sunday, Aug. 23.

Mark Miles, Penske Entertainment Corp. president & CEO, also announced that this year's race will air live in Indianapolis on NBC, allowing more Hoosiers to watch in real-time from their homes.

"Everything will be different about this year's race, from the reduced crowd size, to a new distanced seating arrangement, to mandatory masks and a live broadcast throughout Central Indiana," Miles said. "We will welcome fans to the '500' based on a highly detailed, careful plan that was developed in collaboration with national, state and local health experts."

The plan was developed over the last four months by a team of Indy officials and national health experts, including Dr. Edward Racht, chief medical officer of Global Medical Response, the largest emergency medical services provider in the nation. It has also been approved by the Marion County Department of Public Health subject to continued review.

"The IMS plan has been developed in consultation with the Marion County Public Health Department and the Indiana State Department of Health, and reflects the current best practices and mitigating steps outdoor venues should have in place to host public events," Marion County Public Health Department Director Dr. Virginia Caine said. "It meets or exceeds all local guidelines and is approved subject to continued review. I appreciate the serious and collaborative approach IMS has displayed throughout this process."

"The IMS plan is detailed and extensive and takes all the right steps to ensure the best measures and precautions are in place," Indiana State Department of Health Commissioner Dr. Kristina Box said. "Speedway officials have been transparent and communicative throughout this process, and we appreciate the opportunities we've had to provide input."

Highlights of the plan include:

- Attendance will be at approximately 25 percent.
- Seats will be reassigned to provide for greater distancing.
- Masks will be mandated throughout the entire venue, both indoors and outdoors.
- Everyone will be screened with a contactless thermometer, and individuals with a temperature in excess of 100.4 degrees will be prohibited from entering the Speedway.
- All drinking fountains and misting stations will be removed.
- Capacity limits on elevators will be enforced.
- Options from concession stands will be limited to mostly pre-packaged foods.
- To reduce crowding, many activities will be eliminated, including all concerts, the VIP Red Carpet and the Indiana Press Foundation's Last Row Party.

- To help the venue and community prepare for Indy 500 Race Day, all Saturday activities, including Legends Day at IMS and the downtown 500 Festival Parade, have been canceled. Key 500 Festival programming will transition to digital platforms.
- Signage will be displayed throughout the venue to encourage healthy practices, and staff will move about the facility to monitor conditions and assist customers.

The plan dives deeply into facility sanitation, cleaning and disinfecting practices, and workforce preparation training and deployment.

"We think it's important to welcome race fans to the '500' and to demonstrate that America, Indiana and Indianapolis do not need to shut down," Miles said. "We can and will operate with every precaution we can think of as we welcome fans to the race. We will continue to work with our local and state health officials to ensure we're doing whatever is necessary to protect our fans."
