Time capsule from 1962 found in cornerstone of Noblesville church

By STU CLAMPITT
ReadTheReporter.com

On Tuesday afternoon, a time capsule from 1962 was opened in the cornerstone of the First Church of God located off Field Drive across from Noblesville East Middle School. Community members, including members of the 1962 congregation, gathered to open the time capsule and revisit the history of the church and of Noblesville.

The church was disbanded 12 years ago, and the property was purchased five years ago, initially for storage, and the land will now be used to construct the new Noblesville High School tennis facility.

Noblesville Schools Director of Communications Marnie Cooke told The Reporter she had heard rumors of a time capsule being present in the cornerstone. When it was found and opened on Tuesday, rumor became fact.

Betty Clark (seated), a former congregant at the First Church of God, attended the opening of the time capsule with her two sons and one of her two daughters. She has another daughter who lives in Colorado and thus was unable to attend on Tuesday.

Betty Clark, 84, who was a congregant at the church when the time capsule was sealed and was present when it was opened, spoke to The Reporter about seeing some history from her youth.

"I was there but I didn't remember what was inside," Clark told The Reporter. "I was very young then."

Local food pantries getting more than 4,700 pounds of meat thanks to 4-H'ers

The REPORTER

Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank (HCH) has sponsored its sixth year of "Meating" The Need, a partnership between 4-H Beef, Dairy, and Swine projects and the Food Bank. HCH is a non-profit organization that supports local food pantries and meal programs year-round in Hamilton County.

This year HCH purchased nine beef cattle and eight swine at the Hamilton County 4-H Livestock Auction on Tuesday, July 20.

More than 4,700 pounds of meat will supply 20 Hamilton County food pantries with farm fresh beef and pork raised by 4-H members. Meat Distribution Day is Saturday, Aug. 7. This is the fifth year that volunteers from St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Carmel will help with Meat Distribution Day.

The 16 4-H members, including 10-Year 4-H members Jenna Peterson and Andrew Holloway, designated their animals for sale to the Food Bank will be helping to feed families and children across Hamilton County with the equivalent of 18,800 meals of good, healthy protein.

Protein is an item that is often missing from HCH clients' meals and hard to provide consistently by the pantries because of cost. When beef and pork are available, the families are so appreciative. Donations to this program went towards the appraised market purchase price of the 4-H animals and to the 4-H members as they pursue their 4-H, education, and life goals.

Thank you to Hoosiers Feeding the Hungry for donating all of the processing fees for all 17 animals and the Hamilton County 4-H staff and 4-H Livestock Auction Committee who help make Meating the Need happen every year.

County budget hearings underway

The REPORTER

On Tuesday, the first of two days of budget hearings began at 8 a.m. The hearings are effectively a work session where the public can watch or attend, but there is not time set aside for public comment or input. The meetings are being broadcast live and on demand with links available each day at facebook.com/HamColIndiana. Tuesday's hearings are available for streaming at youtu.be/AgWGbQHFB_E.

The Reporter spoke with County Council Member At-Large Sue Maki and County Council District 4 Member Ken Alexander about the first day of hearings.

According to Maki, the first day was smooth and non-confrontational.

"The trend we heard from department heads and elected officials in charge of departments was that quality staff is hard to get," Maki told The Reporter. "If they have an opening or are looking ahead planning for retirement for some of their staff, they need to be able to find, train and retain good employees. That was the biggest issue I took away from it. But any industry right now has that issue."

According to Alexander, this is not a government issue, but one for all employers in the current economy.

"This is not an anomaly to government," Alexander said. "Everywhere around there is the opportunity to go make money in the same industry, just with a different company. We as a government are not just competing with other governing bodies, we are competing against the private sector. The private sector can be nimble. It can make changes. They don't have to go to a budget hearing to come up with how much they are going to pay someone, they make the change and bring on the people and move on and change the cost of their product. We're different. So there are challenges working on plans to face the issue of employee succession. According to Alexander, she has already come to a previous council meeting to discuss the number of soon-to-be-retirees leaving her department and her concerns for getting new people in place and trained in a timely manner.

Maki

The Parks Department was, according to Maki, asking for the largest increase in staff. They are requesting money for four new full-time maintenance personnel.

"The Parks Department had to do a cut in staff back in 2010 as a result of the 2008 recession," Maki said. "They had a reduction of staff then and they have not added any maintenance staff since then. They are basically trying to

we have to deal with."

Alexander pointed to County Clerk Kathy Williams as someone who has already been make themselves whole to where they were over 10 years ago. We asked them to go back and look at what kind of outsourcing of the maintenance of the park could be done, so it would not be full-time staff. But the cost of that might end up being more than having employees do it because the landscape industry as a whole is hurting for workers and paying high rates for their employees, therefore we might not be any better off than doing it ourselves."

Other than staffing concerns, another issue at Tuesday's hearing was the potential for a $4.6 million income tax revenue shortfall for the 2022 budget.

"We started the meeting with a presentation by our financial consultant, Mike Reuter, who had conservative estimates of what our local income tax revenues will be as released by the state, but he was waiting for final figures to verify what he was estimating," Maki told The Reporter. "After he left, he

Shields to be honored as first judge of county's Superior Court 1

The REPORTER

A special ceremony honoring the first judge of Hamilton Superior Court No. 1, V. Sue Shields, will be held at 10 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 23, 2021, in the Ceremonial Courtroom of the Hamilton County Historic Courthouse. The event is open to the public and will feature comments from Judge Sue Shields and Commissioner Steve Dillinger.

The Hamilton County Commissioners, who are playing host to the event, will unveil a plaque which shall permanently honor the numerous achievements of Judge Shields. The event was originally planned to take place during the Centennial Year of the 19th Amendment, but was postponed due to COVID.

Judge Shields was not only the first judge of the Hamilton Superior Court following its creation by the Indiana General Assembly, but she was the first woman judge elected to a court of general jurisdiction in the State of Indiana. That "first" was followed by her appointment as the first woman to serve on the Indiana Court of Appeals by then-Governor Otis Bowen. She capped off her judicial career by being the first woman Magistrate appointed in the Federal Court for the Southern District of Indiana.

Judge Shields and her late husband Bill raised their family in Sheridan where they resided for many years. Bill Shields served as Sheridan Town Attorney for many of those years.

Fishers police, fire save life at Geist Reservoir in weekend water rescue

The REPORTER

On Sunday afternoon at 2:40 p.m., Fishers police and fire were called to Geist Reservoir to make a water rescue. The first rescue boat was in the water seven minutes later.

Initial reports indicated two people were in the water. The first had self-rescued, but the second was unaccounted for.

Divers were deployed based on witness accounts in the area of the incident. Prior to arrival, witnesses were able to mark an area they believed the victim was last seen. This gave divers a starting point for their search.

Once divers located the second individual, that person was brought to shore and transported to IU Saxony hospital.

First responders were assisted by the Fishers Police Department, the Indianapolis Police Department, and the Indiana DNR. Because the incident occurred on water, the DNR is the investigative agency.

Fishers police and fire remind boaters to always have a life vest with you in the water, especially when you're on water you can't see into. Also, remember that whenever you see an emergency boat in the water, stay far away from its location.

Application deadline nears for state park deer management hunts

The REPORTER

Indiana DNR's Division of State Parks is seeking volunteer hunters to participate in deer management hunts at 17 locations this fall.

Properties where hunting will be allowed with firearms only (i.e., any firearm legal to take deer on public land in Indiana) are Chain O'Lakes, Indiana Dunes, Lincoln, Ouabache, Pokagon, Potato Creek, Shakamak, Spring Mill, Summit Lake, Tippecanoe River, Turkey Run, Versailles, and Whitewater Memorial state parks, and Cave River Valley Natural Area.

Properties where hunting will be allowed by archery only (i.e., any archery equipment legal to take deer in Indiana) are Clifty Falls and Fort Harrison state parks, and Trine State Recreation Area.

The dates on which hunting will be allowed on these properties are Nov. 15 and 16, and Nov. 29 and 30.

Volunteers can apply online at on.IN.gov/reserved-hunt, where additional guidelines can be found under State Park Deer.

Applications must be received by 11:59 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 9.

Management hunts are carried out exclusively to achieve an ecological objective – to ensure balanced and healthy natural communities for all plants and wildlife within park boundaries.

Successful applicants are allowed to take up to three deer, only one of which can be antlered. Deer harvested at a state park management hunt are not counted toward regular statewide bag limits. "Trophy hunting", i.e., passing on does or smaller bucks to wait to take a larger buck, is counter to the ecological objective of state park management hunts and is strongly discouraged.

Rep. Spartz co-sponsors bipartisan, bicameral bill to help provide critical new resources to federal judiciary

The REPORTER

Congresswoman Victoria Spartz (R-Ind.-05), member of the House Judiciary Committee, joined representatives Darrell Issa (R-Calif.-50), Juan Vargas (D-Calif.-51), and Scott Peters (D-Calif.-52) in introducing bipartisan and bicameral legislation to provide the federal judiciary critical resources in the form of new judges to relieve overcrowded dockets and streamline vital court proceedings.

A Senate companion bill of this legislation was introduced by Senators Todd Young (R-Ind.) and Chris Coons (D-Del.).

"Our judicial system is overwhelmed with hundreds of thousands of pending cases," said Rep. Spartz. "It has long been said that justice delayed is justice denied. This legislation addresses this issue for the most overworked regions of our country, including Indiana, in a productive not political manner."

"Bicameral and bipartisan support for the JUDGES Act underscores the urgency of the judicial crisis we are facing in America," said Sen. Young. "The overload of cases and shortage of judges, which has only worsened during the pandemic, is a serious problem that needs to be addressed. Our legislation will help ensure all Americans receive a timely day in federal court."

Background

Congress last increased the number of federal district court judgeships more than 17 years ago – the longest gap since the original establishment of federal district courts in 1789. As of March 31, 2021, there were 696,789 pending cases in federal district courts across the country, averaging 803 filings per judgeship. These cases include civil rights claims, criminal prosecutions, environmental and consumer protection litigation, discrimination claims, challenges to government power, and holding corporations accountable for misconduct.

Earlier this year, the Judicial Conference of the United States, a nonpartisan policy-making body for federal courts, recommended that Congress create 77 new district court judgeships to help alleviate this crisis. This legislation would enact the report's recommendation and create the recommended judgeships after future presidential elections – with half of the judgeships being authorized on Jan. 21, 2025, and the remainder on Jan. 21, 2029.

League of Women Voters urges support of For the People Act

To the editor:

Sen. Todd Young has announced his opposition to S.1, For the People Act, which sets forth reforms to voting, ethics rules and campaign finance that would strengthen the country's democracy.

Sen. Young attacks the bill for "taking a system that is actually working quite well and applies drastic election reforms." Unfortunately, Indiana's voting system is not "actually working quite well." Even in 2020, a year that witnessed high voter turnout, Indiana ranked 43rd out of 50 states and D.C.

The reasons for Indiana's low turnout can be attributed to Indiana's voter registration deadlines, voter ID law, and other voting structures that create unnecessary barriers for Hoosier voters. For example, our Voter ID law is one of the most restrictive in the nation; only six other states employ such an ID law. Voter registration ends 29 days before Election Day, the earliest date allowed under federal law. The 6 p.m. polls closing on Election Day is the earliest in the nation.

The For the People Act would offer options to the ID requirement in federal elections, would allow two weeks for early voting, would allow access to absentee ballots to all registered voters upon request, and would unify standards for updating voter rolls, among other changes.

Sen. Young says he opposes S.1 because it "federalizes states' authority over their election processes" and is a partisan "power grab." States and local governments would continue to administer all elections and would continue to set policies for their jurisdictions. Wanting every eligible voter to have equal access to the ballot box is not partisan.

Call Sen. Young (202-224-5623) and remind him that the For the People Act is in the best interest of his constituents and of our country's democracy. Click here to learn more.

California reader: Braves next to go?

Dear Editor:

Hello Cleveland! Thanks for finally doing the right thing by grudgingly ditching your city's Major League Baseball franchise name "The Indians" at the end of the 2021 MLB season.

Yes, the name "The Indians" was racist as all get-out, and Cleveland's recently retired team logo "Chief Wahoo" was even more ridiculously reprehensible than the team's soon-to-be former moniker. But who doesn't love the possibility of redemption for long-time losers and ultimate underdogs, like Cleveland itself.

If there is one thing that Cleveland's MLB franchise has been consistent at since the era of World War II – back when all Americans could openly and unapologetically agree that "the only good Nazi is a dead Nazi" – it's that Cleveland couldn't win the World Series (except in 1948). Maybe a new team name is just what Cleveland baseball needs.

Cleveland's new MLB team name "The Guardians" will debut in 2022. Perhaps Atlanta will follow suit and drop their MLB franchise's name "The Braves" before next season? "The Bandits" would be a much more appropriate choice for the city of Atlanta. (I'm pretty sure Burt Reynolds, Sally Field, Jerry Reed, and Jackie Gleason would all agree with that.)

Damond Avery Coates

July 26, 1972 – July 26, 2021

Damond Avery Coates, youngest child of the late Charles and Rosia (Baynes) Coates, was born on July 26, 1972, in Baltimore, Md. His angels took him home on July 26, 2021.

Damond was known by many different names throughout his lifetime. Big Avery, Avery, Fats, Baltimore, Boss Man are just a few. No matter which name you knew him by, to know him was to love him.

Damond lost his mother at an early age and was surrounded by angels ever since. Whether in human or spiritual form, his angels helped guide him through a difficult childhood. He felt their presence his entire life. Relationships with his godmother, Tobie, and his lifelong best friend Ty Howard's mother, Theresa, gave him strength, love, and support. His many aunts, uncles and cousins were a blessed foundation in his life.

On September 2, 1993, Damond met the girl of his dreams, Alisa Lynn Rose Coates, his daughter. His world was changed forever, and he worked very hard to be the best dad he could be.

Damond was larger than life. His laugh was contagious, and he had the most beautiful smile. He truly never knew a stranger, and his personality filled any room he was in. As a truck driver for more than 20 years, he traveled near and far and found ways to enjoy every place where he was. Damond was a human GPS and was always just a phone call away. He was the best person to talk to – whether it be funny stories, sports, or life advice. He was a kind soul despite his strong exterior. Damond, or pops, loved his family more than anything – even Chinese food and crabs. He would do anything for his children and grandchildren including his fur babies. Damond is going to be missed by every person who has ever known him. But like a true leo, his legacy will forever reign on.

Damond leaves to cherish his memory his daughter, Alisa Coates; granddaughter, Aniyah Richardson; fiancée, Elizabeth Paquette; and their combined families, Cierra (Zach) Stewart, Lucas (Amber) Spink, Jacob Spink, Donna (Eric) Langlois, and Jessica (Jose) Alfaro; grandchildren, Landin, Bentley, Isabella, Olivia, Afton, Kylie, and Kaysen; brother, Michael Coates; sister, Terese Thompson; life-long best friend, Ty Howard; and best friend, Wayne Bell.

A Family Celebration of Life gathering will take place at a later date.

'Hounds, 'Rocks, GC get season-opening victories

History has shown that once the Indiana high school girls golf season begins, it never takes too long for the top teams to put good performances together right out of the gate.

Carmel and Westfield did that during the season's first two days. On Monday's opening day, the No. 2-ranked Shamrocks put on a show at Shadowood for the Bloomington South Invitational, winning that tournament with a score of 295. The No. 3-ranked Greyhounds placed second with a 302.

On Tuesday, the order was reversed, with Carmel coming out on top at the Hamilton Southeastern Invitational, which took place at Stony Creek Golf Club. The 'Hounds carded a team score of 282, while Westfield scored 285.

So fierce was the competition that four players finished with a two under par 68 at Stony Creek: Carmel's Claire Swathwood and Michaela Headlee, Westfield's Sam Brown and Lapel's Macy Beeson. Those players contested a one-hole play-off for medalist honors off the par-3 ninth hole. All four players birdied the hole; Swathwood was the winner based on closest distance to the hole.

The Greyhounds had five players finish in the top 10. Ava Nguyen scored a 72, while Ava Hedrick carded a 74. Kamryn Williams, playing on Carmel's second (Gold) team, scored a 73. The Gold team finished fifth with a solid score of 330.

"It was a great match, for sure," said Greyhounds coach Kelly Kluesner. "The girls just stuck to their game plan. Some of the best ball-striking that I've seen out of them all summer. It's great to see them just focus and get the job done."

The Shamrocks totaled four players in the top 10. Allie Hildebrand carded an
