Noblesville Elk rises to state-level position

Pres. Geoff Robinson plans to better promote organization

By STU CLAMPITT
news@readthereporter.com

On June 4, Noblesville's own Geoff Robinson was sworn in as President of the Indiana Elks Association. The Reporter spoke to Robinson about his new role and the personal reason behind one of his goals for the organization.

"As president I am the face of the association," Robinson said. "With the Noblesville Elks, I am the secretary, so I can stay in the office. I have a behind-the-scenes role at the lodge. I have been the secretary for Noblesville for about 28 years now."

Robinson told the Reporter he did not seek the office, but rather other people wanted him to take a leadership role.

"The way the Elks works is you get nominated and proposed by your district," Robinson said. "I had represented the lodge in the district for several years doing different things and they asked me to run. I ran and won an election in the West-Central Indiana District, which includes Crawfordsville, Greencastle, Terre Haute, Noblesville and Lebanon. Once you are elected as a vice president of your district, you go through about five years of experience until you are state president."

The Elks provide scholarships, work with the Boys and Girls Club, and fund cancer research. Robinson will continue to promote all those projects, but he has a personal goal of raising money for the American Heart Association.

"About five or six years ago, I was running in a 4th of July race and I had a heart attack," Robinson said. "I died for eight minutes. Luckily, I had some good Samaritans on the Monon who came back and saved my life. The reason I know all this is there was a camera that was behind me, and I have seen the replay of where everyone was rushing to get me and when the

Rumbaoa

We continue to mourn the loss of Firefighter/Paramedic Arcenio (Rambo) Rumbaoa Jr. We struggle with letting go, wanting to do more, honoring him, and wishing everyone could know him the way we did. One of Rambo's many attributes was his dedication to education. In his downtime, he could usually be found in the bay or at the kitchen table studying to advance his medical knowledge. He suddenly passed on Sunday, Feb. 20 as the result of a cardiac event.

Noblesville Schools names
Dan Hile new superintendent

Northeastern Indiana's Superintendent of the Year will start July 1

The REPORTER

Noblesville Schools announced Wednesday that Dr. Daniel Hile has been named the district's new superintendent, replacing Dr. Beth Niedermeyer who is retiring at the end of this month. The Noblesville Schools Board of Trustees unanimously voted to approve the hiring of Hile at a special session held Wednesday evening. His contract begins July 1.

Hile, who was named the 2022 Northeastern Indiana Superintendent of the Year, takes on the top Noblesville role from his current position as superintendent of Smith-Green Community Schools in Churubusco, Ind. Located approximately 15 miles northwest of Fort Wayne, Hile also served previously as a principal, assistant principal, and teacher in Churubusco.

"The Noblesville community told us they wanted a trustworthy, approachable school leader with strong communication and problem-solving skills," said Dr. Joe Forgey, president of the Noblesville Schools Board of Trustees.

Noblesville Schools' new superintendent, Dr. Daniel Hile, was hired by the Board of Trustees with a unanimous vote on Wednesday evening. Hile spoke to The Reporter about what brought him to this community, and he answered questions about some difficult topics in modern education.

Hile's path to Noblesville

Hile said he began his educational career in the music department teaching choir and show choir for eight years. He then moved to a position as assistant principal in Middlebury Community Schools at Northridge High School and later as superintendent of Smith-Green Community Schools.

"When Dr. Niedermeyer stated her intent to retire earlier this year, I felt kind of called to look at this opportunity," Hile said. "Obviously I'm very glad I did. Noblesville is such an amazing district. It's a well-known top-tier district and one that has so many exciting things going on that I'm just very humbled that I am even sitting here speaking with you today."

Hile told The Reporter each of his moves within the education system felt like things he was called to do: First to move from direct education to the administration in the role of assistant principal, then to a superintendent role in northeastern Indiana, and now to the Noblesville district.

Hile spoke highly of the legacy of Dr. Niedermeyer, noting that when he asks people in the community what they think needs to be improved, most Aasen says "no"

to puppy, kitten
mills in Carmel

The REPORTER

Changes to city code would make Carmel the largest city in the state of Indiana to prohibit the sale of cats or dogs in pet stores.

Proposed amendments to city ordinance, sponsored by City Councilor Adam Aasen, would still allow responsible, licensed breeders to sell animals directly to consumers within city limits. The new policy would not prevent pet stores from collaborating with animal care facilities or rescue organizations to offer space to showcase adoptable cats or dogs.

Aasen said this change is needed because many pet stores who sell cats and dogs obtain their inventory from unlicensed puppy mills, many of which are out of state. One study from PAWS, an animal nonprofit, estimates 90 percent of dogs and cats sold at pet stores are obtained from puppy mills.

"The Carmel City Council has already prohibited puppy mills from operating in our city limits and we already prohibited pet stores from sourcing their animals from puppy mills," Aasen said. "This simple change takes the next step to protect animals and discourage abuse and mistreatment. This law would be actually easier for our city to enforce because we wouldn't have to track down where the animals are obtained from, which can often be out of state."

George Kristo: Committed to serve

Noblesville Kiwanis Sunrisers award Kristo for making county better

The REPORTER

The late Dr. Linda Kristo's personal philosophy was to "leave the place better than you had found it." That's exactly what her husband George Kristo has done and continues to do today.

To honor that commitment to service, last Tuesday the Noblesville Kinwanis Sunrisers recognized Mr. Kristo for his and his wife's decades of work to make Hamilton County a better place with the Maureen & Bob Anderson Community Service Award.

George and Linda moved to the area in 1990 from Toledo, Ohio, following George's 32-year career with Blue Cross. For nearly 20 years, they played host to the alcohol and drug-free New Year's Eve Party for county teenagers, as well as the Summer Family Fun Day. Linda's specialty was her homemade brownies.

For 22 years, George was the head of the Council on Alcohol and Other Drugs, which he led with the mission of reducing alcohol and drug use among the county's youth population.

Today, he has expanded his impact and supports the North Suburban Alcoholics Anonymous Club, the DARE program, the Hamilton County Drug Court, the Red Ribbon program in county schools, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), the various Youth Assistance programs across the county, Cherish, the Boys & Girls Club, the Hamilton County Historical Society, and Noblesville Main Street. # Sheridan's Boxley Cabin now open for visitors on Saturdays

By STEVE MARTIN

Sheridan Historical Society

The Sheridan Historical Society has begun offering Saturday open hours for the George Boxley Cabin up on the hill in Veterans Park. Society docents will be available to offer a tour of the cabin and its environs to the public from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays through Labor Day weekend.

The restored cabin was the original home of Sheridan founder George Boxley in 1828. Boxley was an abolitionist who fled to the Indiana frontier to escape a death sentence in West Virginia in 1815 for inciting a slave rebellion. While he was pursued for years because of a huge bounty on his head, he managed to hideout with his family among the frontier Native Americans who told him that the hill in Veterans Park was far enough off the Lafayette Trace trail to be safe for him to escape notice and survive.

In addition to Boxley Cabin, the Sheridan Historical Society's Museum at 315 S. Main St. will also be open on Saturdays this summer at the same hours the Cabin is open, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The museum offers community members and visitors alike an opportunity to learn more about Sheridan. There are multiple interesting exhibits to see including salutes to the basketball teams of Coach Larry Hobbs and the football teams of Coach Bud Wright.

If you have never been to either the Boxley Cabin or the Museum, you now have an excuse to visit downtown Sheridan. The

Virginia Lee Hughes

May 19, 1941 – June 12, 2022

With sadness and great love, the family of Virginia Lee Hughes announces her passing on June 12, 2022, at Five Star Residences of Clearwater in Indianapolis. Ginny (with a G-i, not J-e) was born on May 19, 1941, in Noblesville to William and Peg (Carmack) Deppen.

She graduated from Jackson Central High School in 1959. Her future husband, John E. Hughes, was one year ahead of her at JCHS. They were married on August 25, 1963. They lived in Ohio while John was stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base and then they returned home to Indiana, residing mostly in Noblesville. Together, they had a daughter, Peggy. Peggy married Steve Wood, who, it turns out, would be one of Ginny's most favorite people.

Ginny was widowed when John passed away in 1996. There was never anyone to take his place. She was preceded in death by her older sister, Judith Byrd. Ginny is survived by her younger brother, Bill Deppen; granddaughter, Erin (Glen) Collier; great-granddaughter, Penny Lane; sister-in-law, Debbie (Norman) Goode; and many loved nieces and nephews.

Ginny was a graduate of Indiana Business College. She served as an administrative assistant to several bank presidents, the Hamilton County Auditor, and the Hamilton County Engineer. She retired from Hamilton County in 2007 after 20 years of service. She also worked for Randall & Roberts as a greeter for over 10 years.

She loved watching Erin play basketball and then go on to coach the sport. She was thrilled to be a part of Erin and Glen's wedding and over the moon when great-granddaughter, Penny Lane, was born 10 months ago.

Ginny was a Purdue fan and would often engage in playful banter over the Old Oaken Bucket contest with her many cream and crimson minded peers. She also looked forward to taking small trips with her friends. She was an active member of Union United Methodist Church where she helped lead the singing during worship. Ginny's lifelong love of music was most evident in her long-running commitment as a member of the Hamilton County Silvernotes, a part of the Indian Extension Homemakers. For many years, she sang alto, served in various roles for the choir, and sold elephant ears at the 4-H Fair. Most importantly, she treasured the friendships that she developed through the group.

Services and visitation for Ginny were held on Friday, June 17 at Randall and Roberts Funeral Home at 1150 Logan St., Noblesville. Interment was at Oaklawn Memorial Gardens in Fishers following the service.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Hamilton County Silvernotes, c/o Hamilton County Extension Office, 2003 Pleasant St., Noblesville, IN 46060 (please make checks payable to Hamilton County Choral Club); or Union United Methodist Church, 19090 DeShane Ave., Noblesville, IN 46060.

Debbie Letourneau

March 5, 1951 – March 31, 2022

Debbie Letourneau, Dover, Fla., went home to be with the Lord on March 31, 2022. She was born in Noblesville on March 5, 1951 and was a graduate of Noblesville High School – Class of 1969.

She met the love of her life and future husband, Reggie Letourneau in high school. They were married in 1972 and lived in the Noblesville area for the next five years. In 1977, they moved to the Tampa, Fla., area and raised their family in the Tampa area over the next 42 years together. Debbie loved Reggie very much and they supported one another through the ups and downs of their life together. They thrived while teaming up to start two electrical contracting businesses, L&L Electric of Tampa, and Blackbird Electric. She supported Reggie while being mother to two sons, Bryon and Cory.

Debbie loved sports of all kinds and was a mainstay at every sporting event her sons participated in from Little League baseball and soccer to high school and college basketball. She loved college basketball especially. She knew more about the game and participants than even her own sports-crazed men. She loved Christmas so much that she had at least three Christmas trees every year and kept her Christmas decorations including her outdoor lights on nearly year-round. She and Reggie loved motorsports. They frequented NASCAR races in Daytona Beach, Fla., and most of all loved to go to the NHRA Drag Races. She and Reggie were glued to their bleacher seats many years watching the Gator Nationals in Gainesville, Fla., or their favorite the US Nationals in their beloved Indianapolis. # Arts with a Purpose, musical promiscuity at Pasto Italiano

news@readthereporter.com

The Reporter met musically promiscuous electric violinist Cathy Morris this month at Pasto Italiano, 3150 E. State Road 32, Westfield, when she was entertaining diners with violin music from a variety of genres.

Morris spoke to The Reporter about her musical journey and about her non-profit organization, Arts with a Purpose, which works with marginalized communities.

"I call myself musically promiscuous because I will play any style with anybody, anytime, anywhere," Morris said. "In a nutshell, I founded this organization that's kind of like a booking agency. I match artists of all disciplines – music, dance, visual art – to communities that don't necessarily have the arts available to them."

Morris works with a group of artists that, while it varies in membership, sometimes has as many as 80 artists available.

"We do work with children and youth, we also work with adults and seniors," Morris said. "We go to the independent adult care centers. They never had really great arts. They always had crafts, but never real art. Communities and neighborhoods. Displaced caregivers. We try to do stuff for nursing caregivers. Just people who can use the arts as an opportunity and maybe therapeutically as an opportunity to heal."

Morris founded the organization as a non-profit in 2016. Early in the pandemic, Arts with a Purpose produced 35 outside concerts in courtyards for low-income senior housing.

"Before that I was back and forth – but mostly forth – for about a decade because I had grandkids out in California," Morris said.

Morris has been involved in music since a very young age, and she learned in college that she wanted to learn music from musicians rather than from an institution.

"I came from a family where my dad was a bass player, music teacher and conducted out local symphony in Columbus, Ind.," Morris told The Reporter. "In the 70s and 80s, that was quite the artistic Mecca. My mother was director of the arts council down there. I got to witness from a very young age how to produce different arts activities working with different disciplines."

Morris attended Indiana University to study classical music, but said she found it all "too serious" for her tastes.

"So, I just jumped in there and started getting gigs and hiring people who were crazy better than me and learning from them," Morris said. "There was everything from bluegrass and country to Cajun to Celtic to blues and jazz. I just really dived in. I just made it my job to be the Pied Piper of violin. I'm the violin lady!"

Morris told The Report-

Robinson plans to raise at least $2,500. You can help by going to tinyurl.com/IndianaElksHeartWalk.

He has a list of goals he would like to accomplish as president, one of which is doing a better job of promoting the organization.

"I think our state does not do a good job of promoting Elksdom," Robinson said. "Our lodges don't promote what they are doing in the communities. We are trying to get the word out and get young members. I have told people this before: I want to run the Elks like a business. I have been a manager for my whole career in my personal life. I want to run it like a business and get the word out about Elks and what we do. We are the best-kept secret in a lot of the communities in the state. We do a lot of good things, but people just don't know about us."

The Indiana Elks Association is comprised of over 14,000 members belonging to 55 lodges within the six districts in Indiana.

Indiana Elks Charities, Inc. was formed in the mid-1940s to administer the state major project: to fight cancer, which strikes hundreds in Indiana each year. Indiana has two major cancer research facilities, one at Purdue University and one at Indiana University. Both institutions have become the recipients of Indiana Elksdom's generous fundraising efforts.

At the State Convention this month, the Indiana Elks Cancer Research Program at Purdue University was presented a check for $130,000.

At the same Convention the Indiana Elks Cancer Research Program at Indiana University was also presented a check for $130,000.

Combined contributions to both institutions total in excess of $9 million.

Doris Christine Beason August 2, 1931 – June 9, 2022

For 351 days, Doris Christine Beason, 90, Noblesville, was separated from her soulmate of more than 71 years, George. On Thursday, June 9, 2022, they were reunited, never to be apart again.

Doris was born on August 2, 1931, to Louis Edward and Annie Mable (Herb) Small in Vigo County, Ind., in the small town of Coal Bluff. Though the family moved to Tipton when she was still young, Doris would spend summers in Fontanet, often and fondly recounting the best of times with her cousins on the farm. As Doris grew, she would spend the days helping her mother hang wallpaper, wrangling her younger siblings, and babysitting to save dimes to spend summers at the pool. It was in Tipton that she met a lovely gentleman who would sweep her off her feet.

With George, Doris enjoyed raising three incredible girls in the small community of Noblesville, just south of where they first met. Friends and family were everything to them, and Doris never missed an opportunity to spend time with them, share a meal, or participate in her community.

She was no stranger to hard work, even working two jobs to go back to high school for her degree after her children were born, and later working as an insurance agent. Doris led a disciplined and diligent life, driven to persevere and overcome any setback, of which there were a few. She was devastated by the loss of her siblings, particularly her sister Judy Ann and brother Tommy at young ages.

Through it all, she still took every opportunity for fun, whether that was maintaining a pool and enjoying the water with her youngest daughter, to water skiing and enjoying the houseboat life, or her many creative outlets. Doris would paint the finishing touches on any woodworking project of George's. She would craft cookie jars and holiday décor from painted ceramics pieces to handmade Halloween costumes for her grandchildren.

Doris and George enjoyed the fruits of a large and bountiful garden. With the harvest, she would quart and freeze shelves of food for her family, bake a multitude of pies and "shelly" beans for her church community, and gift something every friend or family member who visited. You just didn't leave her house without a quart of tomatoes, a jar of jelly, or some fresh vegetables.

Doris was active in her community. She worked on the Noblesville tax board for nearly three decades and was a member of First Christian Church of Noblesville for nearly 40 years, serving in various capacities including as an elder, Christian Women's Fellowship member, and was an enthusiastic participant in Bible study groups. Doris also crocheted newborn hats, lap blankets, and pillows for various healthcare facilities and organizations around town. She and George especially enjoyed attending all the Noblesville ball games together and making peanut brittle annually with their church friends.

Doris is survived by her three beautiful daughters, Katherine Sue Brown, Diana Lynn Russell, and Christi Rae (Brad) Johnson; four grandchildren, Abigail (Paul) Moore, John Russell, Lily (Ben) Renner, and Amber Johnson; and two great-grandchildren, Arlie and West Moore.

She was welcomed Home into loving arms of her husband, George Ray Beason, her parents, seven brothers and sisters, her son-in-law, John "Tim" Russell, and countless friends she had made and lost over the year – most certainly a reunion beyond any Earthly words or measure.

Services and visitation were held on Friday, June 17, 2022, at First Christian Church of Noblesville, 16377 Heriman Blvd., Noblesville, with Nick Orange officiating. Burial followed at Fairview Cemetery in Tipton.

To allow Doris's community and God-centered spirit to live on, the family requests that donations be made to First Christian Church of Noblesville in lieu of flowers.

SUPER

"Dan rose to the top of our candidate pool as someone who exhibited not only these strengths, but who also brings skills in planning, engagement, and financial management. We're happy to welcome him to the Noblesville Schools family and are confident he will continue to grow our success into the future."

Hile said he's ready to lead Noblesville Schools, but he wants to ensure he understands exactly what the wider community wants in its public school system.

"Noblesville Schools is well-known and highly respected throughout the state," Hile said. "I'm humbled and excited to have this opportunity to be part of such an outstanding school culture and community. Relationships are central to everything we do as educators, and I look forward to meeting and building strong connections with Noblesville students, staff, families, and community members."

Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen said that "the community is grateful to Dr. Beth Niedermeyer and appreciates everything she has done for Noblesville Schools." Jensen added "I want to welcome Dr. Daniel Hile and his family to Noblesville. A passionate advocate for public education, Hile is known for his leadership, communications, professionalism, and community involvement and I look forward to working with him."

Hile has served on several boards including the American Association of School Administrators, Indiana Association of Public School Superintendents, Northeast Indiana Public Schools Association, Northeast Indiana Regional Partnership, and the Purdue University Educational Leadership and Policy Studies Advisory Board.

He has also collaborated with the White County Economic Development Council, Churubusco Rotary Club, Churubusco Chamber of Commerce, Churubusco Redevelopment Council, and the Churubusco Main Street Committee.

In addition to a doctorate in educational leadership from Purdue University, where he has also served as a guest lecturer, Hile also holds a master's degree in education administration from Indiana University Fort Wayne, and a bachelor's degree in music education from Indiana University.

Hile, his wife Jana, and their two children plan to relocate to Noblesville. His son will attend Noblesville High School and his daughter will be a college student.

INTERVIEW

people struggle to answer. He credits that to Niedermeyer's work.

"She's done so many great things here and in the district already," Hile said. "In the first year or so my focus is going to be on relationships and getting to know everyone in this community as best I can. I want to fully understand what the norms are here. How does this community operate and what is important to everyone here? I am not a leader who thinks my job is to come in here and make a bunch of changes, especially in a district like Noblesville where things are already going so well."

Critical Race Theory

"If I am being honest, when this first became a topic a year or so ago, I think I speak for most of my peers in saying we were kind of caught off guard in a lot of ways because it was something that none of us even knew what it was," Hile said. "We all had to do some learning right alongside our communities."

Now that he and other educators have learned about Critical Race Theory and seen it become both a controversial and misunderstood topic, Hile told The Reporter in clear terms that he does not see a place for it in Noblesville schools.

"From everything I understand about what Critical Race Theory is, is that it is not something that is taught in our public schools, and it shouldn't be," Hile said. "It is a very advanced way of taking a look at society and it is not something that public schools should be doing. It does not match our academic standards here in the state of Indiana, so it is not something that we teach nor is it anything I have any intention of having in our Noblesville schools either."

Gender Identity

When asked about the challenges surrounding the debate over how to handle the gender identity discussion, Hile said it is a complicated issue and stressed that he wants to learn what Noblesville wants, rather than coming to his new role with a pre-set agenda.

"As a newcomer to the Noblesville community I will need to see where things already are," Hile said. "This is not a topic many folks have spoken to me about yet, so I have a lot of learning to do about the work that has already been done and what are the norms and expectations of this community on that."

Hile said in this area, as in others, his focus is about the quality of education and making schools a safe place for kids to be who they are.

"At the end of the day, regardless of what the specific approaches will be, I would hope that our focus always remains on making sure that every child who attends our schools and walks through those doors every day feels welcome, feels loved, feels cared for, feels accepted," Hile said. "I know there are a lot of other factors in this particular issue, and a community can feel very strongly on one side or the other or sometimes right down the middle. But at the end of the day I hope that we work through those conversations and see where things go nationally. I hope that we don't lose sight of the fact that we still want children to feel loved. We still want children to feel safe. They should feel like they can come to school ready to learn and not feel that they've been pushed aside or made to feel less."

Hile noted that he had not given The Reporter a specific answer and said that was because he wants to handle this, and other issues, in the way the community wants them handled.

"At the end of the day, different communities see this issue very differently and I think we all know that," Hile told The Reporter. "I think it would be presumptive of me to give a strong answer one way or the other before I truly understand what conversations have already happened and where we are in Noblesville right now."

School safety

"I don't think there is a school in the United States where school safety isn't at the front of their minds," Hile said. "Different cities have different perspectives on what that means and what they are ready to put into place or not. At my previous district, we had taken a pretty hard look at school safety. We made a lot of improvements to our facilities and to a lot of those physical things that I know a lot of schools have looked at and changed a lot of procedures."

According to Hile, Noblesville is one of the districts that many others in the state have looked to as a leader in school safety.

"A lot of the conversations that happened right here in this community impact what the rest of us did and is what we began to follow," Hile said. "We all learned a lot from that unfortunate incident that the Noblesville community had to go through. I'm very excited to get here and continue learning from the inside on some of those conversations that have happened, what are some of the lessons that were learned."

Director of Marketing and Communications Marnie Cook told The Reporter, "Since the school shooting, we have implemented over 50 different safety enhancements for Noblesville schools, including being one of only a few districts with full time NPD resource officers in all of our schools. These enhancements are thanks to funding from the 2018 community referendum."

To see a full list of those enhancements at tinyurl.com/5xfrcnhh.

Hile told The Reporter several times that he wants to hear from people in the community and build good relationships with the people and organizations here. Once his work email and work phone number are assigned and publicly available, The Reporter will pass them along.

Apples & seed

Belfry doubles down on nun humor with “Drinking Habits”

I recently read a letter from my mother, and it contained this quote: “Anyone can count the seeds in an apple, but only God can count the apples in a seed.” That quote reminded me of my grandma. Several years ago, I asked her to write her autobiography and after some coaxing, she did. Grandma wrote down all the main events and then said, “That’s all I’m going to write.” Grandma kept her word.

RAY ADLER
Ask Adler

For years my grandma regaled my mother with her life and times. Later, mother wished she had written grandma’s biography and included some of the stories. It’s too late now for the details as many events are no longer available.

Back to the apples. Grandma was not often down in the dumps, but she had her days. She told my mother of one such time.

Her good friend, a high school pal, had gone to China as a missionary. Both girls had gone to college and Grandma had just taught her first year at the Smith School, where my father eventually taught the last year this one-room schoolhouse was open.

After the third year of teaching, Grandma worked in the County Auditor’s office for over a year. Next came marriage. Two little ones came along during the seven years that followed. The down-in-the-dumps instance came sometime later.

Evidently Grandma had had a letter from her missionary friend. She was feeling sorry for herself and complained to Grandpa that she had never done anything worthwhile. He had a different idea and began listing all the things she had done. Then he played his final card, “Just look at these two healthy children we brought into the world.” He could have said “only God can count the apples in a seed.”

Praise the Lord that Grandma had those children! Hardly a week passed that Mom and Dad didn’t meet someone who was pleased to see their old school-teacher, Tom Adler. The comments ran something like this: “I learned more math in your class than any place else.” “My kids and grandkids sure need a teacher like you.” “You’re the best teacher I ever had.”

When a mother thanked my dad for not smoking, she said her husband always smoked and her boys didn’t smoke because their teacher didn’t.

The archaic one-room schoolhouses (and today’s small schools) may have had a few advantages over the bigger ones. Plus, they didn’t seem to have the same bad influences that are so prevalent in the larger schools today. The results speak for themselves. Among my father’s former pupils are doctors, lawyers, nurses, mechanics, farmers, salespersons, teachers, barbers, beauty operators, postal employees, bus drivers, pre-surgeons, and – if money is your criterion – several millionaires. The list is too long to continue.

There is scarcely a service my parents needed that a former student could not provide. From grocer to mechanic to heart specialist, my father’s students did literally everything. Toward the end of my parents’ lives, they saw their grandchildren entering the business world.

Like Grandpa, my parents had a final card. They had three healthy children. Mother remarked once about the number of lives our family have touched. “One apple – how many seeds? How many lives are touched?” How wonderful that God can count the apples in a seed.

Calling on Congress to keep prescriptions safe

Last November, Fishers police issued a warning about counterfeit pills they thought were linked to at least three deaths and several overdoses in the city. The fake pills seemed like legitimate prescription pills, but they actually contained fentanyl.

The reauthorization of the Prescription Drug User Fee Act (PDUFA) is coming up in legislation this year, and I hope Congress reauthorizes PDUFA with no changes. Prescription drug tampering can happen anywhere, even Hamilton County.

It is the role of government to protect citizens in ways we cannot do for ourselves. The PDUFA protects us from drugs that can be laced with toxins, and it speeds up the path for new, lifesaving drugs to safely come to market. Without the PDUFA and the importation of medicine from Canada, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) would not have oversight on many drugs that our citizens would receive. If PDUFA is not reauthorized, there would be millions of drugs pouring into our communities that have not been given the same oversight as American-made drugs, and that is not right. We need total confidence that all drugs in the country have passed the FDA safety standards.

The U.S. is known worldwide for our medical advances on drugs and the capability to produce drugs. With PDUFA, we need to have FDA oversight on all the drugs that our citizens take. We should not have to worry about what is in our medicine, especially since there are a lot of imported drugs that have been laced with toxins like fentanyl. We deserve to know that the drugs entering our community have followed the regulations and oversight from the FDA.

As a mother and grandmother, I hope this legislation will stay in place to keep our prescription drugs safe.

The Belfry Theatre will open its final show of the 57th regular season, “Drinking Habits” by Tom Smith, on Friday, June 24, and the show will run through July 3 at The Ivy Tech Auditorium, 300 N. 17th St. in Noblesville.

Although this is The Belfry’s second consecutive production that takes place in a convent, this story is hilariously different from The Belfry’s recent production of “The Lilies of the Field.”

That being said, The Belfry is not mocking or making fun of the commitment to the religious life shared by the Sisters of Perpetual Sewing in the play.

“We hold reverence and respect for all who have taken this spiritual path in real life, as well as on our stage,” show director Nancy Lafferty said. “Our story is about nuns trying to save a convent by selling wine in their local town. The extra layers of humor come from the arrival of two reporters and their antics, mistaken identities, doors opening and closing quickly, people hiding things, and just plain silliness.”

Don’t miss this delightful two-hour evening of entertainment.

The birds & the bees: Pollinator gardens

“If you look the right way, you can see that the whole world is a garden.” Every time I read those brilliant words of Frances Hodgson Burnett from the beloved The Secret Garden with my fourth and fifth grade students, I am left awestruck.

It is not just the eloquent and timeless story that I love, it is that the words are so poignant and true. Gardens are essential for life, most specifically pollinator gardens.

According to The National Pollinator Garden Network, “One out of every three bites of food we put into our mouth comes from a pollinator.” Pollinators include butterflies, birds, bees, bats, hummingbirds, wasps, flies, moths, beetles and other creatures. Pollinators are a necessity for flowering plants. Without pollinators many essential crops, medicines and spices would no longer be available to us. Did you know pollinators even play a role in producing coffee and chocolate?

MEGAN RATHZ
When Nature Speaks

According to pollinator.org, “Pollinators visit flowers to drink nectar or feed off of pollen and transport pollen grains as they move from spot to spot, and without the actions of pollinators, agricultural economies, our food supply, and surrounding landscapes would collapse.”

It is certainly an appropriate time to discuss pollinators and their role in our backyards and ecosystem since Pollinator Week is celebrated June 20-26. This week raises awareness to see what we can do to protect them. Pollinators are in danger mainly because of the loss of their habitats and the increased use of pesticides.

What can we do to help them? Choose with purpose when selecting plants for your garden. Select native plants in your area and be deliberate with what you plant. A native plant is one that is indigenous to where one lives and exists naturally. They are typically sturdy and easy to grow. They are conducive to a strong environment for pollinators. Some native plants to Indiana include Black-eyed Susan, Coneflower, Milkweed (the monarch butterflies will thank you), Columbine, Wild Geranium and Cardinal flower, just to name a few.

It is not just about aesthetics with plant selection; plant with intention. Make sure to find balance in bloom times. Select a variety of plants that bloom throughout the various seasons. Some of the other best plants to add to your backyard that attract pollinators include Marigolds, Verbena, Nasturtium, Lavender, Cosmos, Zinnia, Aster, Bee Balm (my favorite), Sunflower, Oregano, and many more!

Think about where to plant your garden. Many plants that are nectar-producing are sun-loving plants. Find a location that will provide ample sunlight for your pollinator plants to thrive. Know your soil; it matters! One place to check out and add plants to your garden if you are just starting out or looking to find something special is the Hamilton East Public Library’s Seed Library. You can select from a variety of seeds and leave some for others, too. Nature is speaking to us. It is imploring us to restore balance in our own backyard or balcony to help these vital creatures function and perform.

One does not need to have a sprawling expanse of acreage to contribute to the well-being of and offer protection to pollinators. Living in the state of Indiana in Hamilton County, agriculture is not only essential for our fellow Hoosiers to earn a living, but for all of us to eat. We need pollinators and they need us.

Elizabeth Lawrence describes the most important pollinator in the garden, the honeybee, “The hum of bees is the voice of a garden.” There is a reason we describe someone who is a productive worker as “busy as a bee.” Pollinators are protecting and providing for us. What can we do in our corner of the world to protect them?

Nature is speaking. Are we listening?

AG Rokita wins $2.9M TurboTax settlement

The REPORTER

Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita has finalized a $2.9 million settlement for Hoosiers with software company Intuit over alleged deceptive advertising for its TurboTax program – and his office’s recoveries for Hoosiers have now surpassed $385 million since he took office in January 2021.

“At my inauguration, I committed to the people of Indiana that my administration would serve with servants’ hearts,” Rokita said. “The work we have put into recovering funds on behalf of Hoosiers is just one manifestation of this spirit.”

The sum of total recoveries represents the work of four divisions: Complex Litigation, Consumer Protection, Litigation and the Medicaid Fraud Control Unit. Recoveries refer to money obtained via consumer settlements and court judgments involving civil penalties, restitution, contract or loan cancellation, costs and/or other financial recoveries. More than $44 million of the money recovered goes to Hoosiers in the form of restitution or canceled contracts. That is the case with the $2.9 million settlement with Intuit, which came in the form of an agreement of voluntary compliance.

In marketing TurboTax, Intuit advertised that it provided “free” tax filing online services but did not adequately disclose that the product was only free for taxpayers who did not need to file schedules. Only after the taxpayer entered extensive information did the product inform them that they had to upgrade to a paid service.

Additionally, Intuit failed to disclose to a subset of those taxpayers with incomes below a certain threshold that they were eligible to use an alternative – and truly free – product, regardless of the need to file schedules. Based on these facts, Rokita alleged that the advertising was therefore deceptive. Indiana’s settlement is part of a larger $141 million settlement with all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

“In my office, we not only exercise fiscal restraint and frugality, but we also work hard every day to give taxpayers a strong return on their investment,” Rokita said. “Hoosiers deserve total dedication from the people they elect to public office. As long as I am here, they can always depend on getting that from the Office of the Attorney General.”

Morse Lake cleanup set for July 16 in Cicero

The REPORTER

The Morse Waterways Association (MWA) is organizing its 18th annual lake cleanup from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, July 16. Volunteers are needed along the waterfront, in the water at the shoreline, and on boats and personal watercraft to gather the debris and bring it to Cicero’s Red Bridge Park for removal. Boats and personal watercraft of any type are needed and appreciated.

All residents are encouraged to remove and haul logs and debris from in front of their property or elsewhere to the southernmost dock at Red Bridge Park, just south of the kayak launch. They may be delivered as early as Thursday, July 14, and must be securely tied to the dock or shore so they cannot float out. (These CANNOT be logs or debris that are freshly cut and placed in the reservoir.)

Volunteers will pull logs out of the lake and use chain saws to cut the logs into manageable pieces to be placed in the dump trucks and hauled away by the Town of Cicero. These logs will be taken to Green Cycle in Noblesville and recycled into mulch. Other volunteers will work along the shoreline to remove smaller tree limbs and debris and load these onto a trailer to be hauled to the Red Bridge location or to the town burn site.

Volunteers should wear old clothes and footwear and plan to get wet and dirty while making a remarkable difference that can be seen and felt. The annual cleanup, conducted the third Saturday in July, is a collaborative effort among the MWA, Town of Cicero, and many volunteers who take part in the effort each year. To participate in this half-day beautification effort that benefits all who live around the lake, or for more information, contact Art Hall (arthall870@aol.com), Dave Vanette (vanetteda@hotmail.com) or info@morseh2o.org.

This year, the cleanup will benefit from a special effort by a boy scout (working on becoming an Eagle Scout) and friends who will attempt to remove as much metal from the lake as possible. This is just another way to improve the quality of the reservoir.

Surviving the awkward years

The topic of my adoption didn’t come up very often between my parents and me after that revealing Sunday. I do remember being a preteen brat once and claiming that they had said they regretted getting me during a fight. That brought on a lot of tears and sadness for all three of us. Mom and Dad reassured me that they never had such a thought.

of braces were gone along with my zits. And after encouragement from good old Dr. Erickson, my glasses were replaced with contact lenses. Of course, he never got to see my new look because every time I saw him I was sick and didn’t feel like putting in the contacts. That irritated Mom to no end.

My admiration for my parents grew thanks to learning all this information. I couldn’t imagine the pain they endured losing a child at such a young age. And I found out that my mom had some incredible courage and strength.

During a delightful dinner out over IU’s Parents Weekend, I broached the subject of my adoption once again. I remember we were at a beautiful candlelit restaurant in Columbus, Ind., and I had just tasted duck for the first time in my life. I asked my parents if they knew anything about my biological mother and father. Once again, Mom was the one who responded.

At one point she was getting ready to have one of the final interviews with Catholic Social Services in order to adopt me. The day before this occasion, she was hanging a mirror with my grandfather in the living room. I remember this mirror – it had to have been at least four feet wide and three feet tall. It was large, with an ornate, gold-plated frame. It fell off the wall and right on to the last three toes of Mom’s left foot. Needless to say, she broke all of them, and they still didn’t look right in her later years.

“We were only told three things,” she said. “That they were college students, they wore glasses, and had allergies.”

I thought that was really strange because at the time I wasn’t allergic to anything that I knew of. But the glasses part made sense, since my vision was terrible, and I was a college student after all. So I at least had two things in common with my birth parents.

But Mom refused to walk into that office using crutches or wearing any special shoes. She didn’t want the adoption agency to think there was anything wrong with the potential family I was going to be placed with. So the next morning, my grandma dropped Mom off. She walked into the building, had the interview, walked back out, and burst into tears upon climbing back into Grandma’s car due to the pain.

We had an interesting talk about how easily I had just fit into our family over the years. I also found out that one friend of the family was not so accepting of me. She would often ask my grandmother, who died when I was 10, about my brother and sister, but never about me. It was as if she had some sort of prejudice against me because I was adopted. I never found out who this woman was. But I am amazed that there were, and probably still are, people in the world who have these kinds of feelings.

Gentle ways, kind voices

His ways were gentle. His voice was kind. He always made me feel safe and secure and most of all ... loved.

His name was James Hart. He was my dad.

Father’s Day has had a hollow feeling ever since my dad passed in June of 2006. It was one month before I started writing my newspaper column. He never read any of my writing, yet so much of it is about him.

who worked for him called me. He wanted to tell me everyone on the second shift wanted to work for my dad. He was a fair man. He believed the best way to get people to work hard was to tell his workers that he appreciated them.

I never heard him swear – or cuss, as he put it. Once in a while, I did hear a quiet S#!&T! He was usually aggravated at himself. Dad never raised his voice to me or my mom. He did get my attention with a “Janet Kay!”

Dad believed I could sell cars and trucks before I ever sold the first one. I felt his presence while writing my book. Occasionally, a red bird would show up at our birdfeeder. I believe it is a sign he is still with me and is proud of me.

Dad believed I could sell cars and trucks before I ever sold the first one. I felt his presence while writing my book. Occasionally, a red bird would show up at our birdfeeder. I believe it is a sign he is still with me and is proud of me.

In my book, I talk about his four-year-old neighbor, Jonathan, who would call my dad “Mr. Rogers.” He may have seen that he looked like Fred Rogers, but I also think he knew he was a kind man like Mr. Rogers.

I never really saw my dad get angry, although I’ve been told that a relative once made the comment about me not being a “blood” relative and Dad wanted to jerk a knot in his tail. He was always very protective of me.

Dad worked long hours at a hot, smelly and hard job at Firestone, but I never heard him complain. When I was little, we only had one car and if my mom needed it, she would drive him to work, then he would walk the two miles back home from Firestone. He didn’t want her to wake me up to come and get him at 11 p.m. even if it was snowing. He was just that way.

I wish my dad could have known my husband, Chuck. Chuck is a lot like my dad. Oh, the conversations they could have had on our back porch.

Kind men are hard to find. I’ve been blessed to have one for a dad and one for a husband.

I just realized my dad waited 14 years after he and mom were married to become my dad. I waited 14 years, being single, to become Chuck’s wife. A lot of kindness and love were stored up in those years.

Gentle ways. Kind voices. I’ve truly been blessed and very much loved.

Happy Father’s Day, Dad and Chuck!

What I did on summer vacation (circa 1974)

“Put in a quarter / Turn out the light / Magic Fingers makes ya feel alright.” – Steve Goodman

My first vacation with my parents was at Beech Bend Park in Bowling Green, Ky.

the room alone. “By the way,” I imagined myself saying to my parents between a forced fit of lung-rattling fake coughs, when given the OK to stay behind, “Could you leave a quarter?” Nope, nothing suspicious there.

Our motel was one of those creepy motor lodges, the kind where fly-by-night guests leave fake names at the register and check out with fewer bodies than with which they had arrived. The motel sign advertised “heated pool,” meaning a lot of kids peed in it.

In the lobby, postcards with glossy photos of the motel were there for the taking. Mom mailed the postcards to extended family even though our two-day vacation was only two hours from home. We returned to Tell City several days ahead of the postcard deliveries. I think mom mailed them just in case we went missing in Bowling Green; at least authorities would know where to start looking once a relative showed them a postcard.

A motel room highlight was a Magic Fingers machine; though, being from the Midwest, and Catholic to boot, we were too shy to try it. Mom eyed it disapprovingly, as if the apparatus was more appropriate for the motel’s honeymoon suite. There were no Magic Fingers in Tell City.

Oh, but how this altar boy secretly wanted to try out Magic Fingers. When it was time to go to the amusement park, I considered feigning sickness, hopeful that I could stay behind in

I imagined the resulting church confessional dialogue. “Bless me, Father, for I have sinned. I used Magic Fingers without parental supervision.”

What ultimately foiled my plans for the Great Magic Fingers Caper was not the guilt from deceiving my parents but the fear of possibly eroding the coinage dad had precalculated for usage at the trio of toll booths between Owensboro and Bowling Green. Thoughts of those toll booths awaiting our return to Tell City made me anxious, so much so that I likely increased the motel pool’s water temperature by a couple of degrees. I was fearful we’d run out of change before completing the gauntlet of tolls, the anxiety due to the following memory, told in highly-exaggerated play-like fashion, of our first drive to Bowling Green mere hours earlier:

We passed over the first of a succession of rumble strips. BRUMMMMMMMMP. How I hated that menacing road burp beneath us, shaking the entire car. It was like the road was a prehistoric monster trying to eat us.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Mom (dumping assorted coins onto dad’s palm): Here dear.

Dad (glancing at the treasure): Not enough.

Mom: It’s enough.

Dad: Nickel short.

Mom: I counted it.

Dad: Count it again.

Mom (recounting): Oh God. We’re a nickel short.

Dad: Get another nickel.

Mom (madly digging in purse): There’s no nickel.

Dad: Hurry up, Patty. The booth is getting closer.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Mom: Slow down.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Dad: I can’t slow down. There’s an 18-wheeler on my—Brother (unbuckled, kneeling on the back seat while looking out the back window): Peterbilt.

My younger brother said only two words the entire drive: Peterbilt or Mack. He obsessed over semi-trucks. He couldn’t read, but he could differentiate between the grill of a Peterbilt or Mack truck from 100 yards away.

Dad: We’re getting closer!

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Mom (desperately searching beneath her floor mat): I just know there was a nickel when I handed the money to you.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Dad: Maybe you dropped it when we hit a rumble strip.

I sank to the floor mat, my head between my knees, as if a tornado, not a toll booth, was awaiting our southbound trajectory. The barrage of BRUMMMMMMMMPs vibrated within my innards.

Mom: We’re not going to make it!

I worried about what happened to families who ran out of change between booths. Were they forced to resettle in a Kentucky town adjacent to that stretch of tolled highway until the dad earned enough change to drive onward? Would we make new friends, I wondered, a doubtful scenario since the townies likely knew we were just toll-booth refugees who’d disappear just as soon as pops sold enough Grit magazines on the street corners to get the proper change. Townies probably had a nickname for the transients: “Tollies.”

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

Dad: Need. Nickel. Now. BRUMMMMMMMMP.

From the vantage point of my floor mat, I saw mom’s lost nickel among a trove of GAF View-Master reels I had strewn beneath mom’s seat earlier.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

I held the coin up to mom. She patted my bangs. She gave the nickel to dad.

BRUMMMMMMMMP.

“Just in time,” he said victoriously and tossed a fistful of coins at the toll booth’s basket. The nickel missed, forcing dad to idle at the toll basket, park and exit to reclaim the renegade nickel rolling across the pavement, holding up traffic.

I had saved the day. At least that’s how I like to remember our first family vacation, the siren song of Magic Fingers, the terror and triumph on a toll road. I recall nothing about Beech Bend Park. Still the magic lingers.

About Daniel’s
Daniel’s Family Vineyard & Winery is a full production winery. The idea to plant a vineyard was sown in the Tuscan foothills by husband and wife Daniel and Kimberly over – what else? – a bottle of wine. They soon began to put their dreams into action. In 2010, over 14,000 grape vines were cultivated into the Indiana soil just northeast of Indianapolis by family (including the couple’s five children), friends and neighbors. As the vines have flourished over the years, so has the Daniel’s Vineyard community.

— WESTFIELD —

NOTICE OF PROJECT ADVANCEMENT – State Road 32 Westfield Reconstruction Project, Westfield, Hamilton County, Indiana, DES # 1801731
June 2022

The City of Westfield held a public hearing in January 2022 for a proposed reconstruction project located along State Road (SR) 32 in Westfield, Hamilton County. This public hearing was held as part of the environmental analysis phase as required per the State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA). Public involvement is an important element of a comprehensive decision-making process. The purpose of the proposed project is to improve corridor mobility along SR 32 through the downtown Westfield area for both motorists and pedestrians alike.

The Preferred Alternative consists of widening and reconstructing SR 32 from just east of the Poplar Street roundabout to just east of Timberbrook Run. Outside of the boundaries of the Stultz-Stanley House (209 W Main Street) and the Westfield Historic District (NR-2521), the existing 2-lane section of SR 32 will be reconstructed to consist of four, 11-to-12-foot wide travel lanes (two westbound, two eastbound), with a raised 13-foot wide center median, curb and gutter, and 8-foot wide sidewalks separated by 6-foot wide grass buffers on both sides of the roadway. Along SR 32 left turns will be restricted with left turn movements only available at Westlea Drive/Mill Street and Union Street. This reconstruction will result in widening the roadway to the south by approximately 25-feet. Additionally, new pedestrian crosswalks with refuge islands will be constructed along SR 32 in three locations: just east of Westlea Drive/Mill Street, just west of Walnut Street, and just west of Cherry Street. Rectangular Rapid Flashing Beacons (RRFBs) will be installed at these pedestrian crossings to increase driver awareness of pedestrians.

In front of the Stultz-Stanley House (209 W Main Street), SR 32 will be shifted north by approximately 34-feet, and the typical section of SR 32 will remain the same with the exception of no 6-foot wide grass buffer along the south side of the roadway between the sidewalk and roadway. Within the boundaries of the Westfield Historic District (NR-2521), SR 32 will be reconstructed to consist of four, 11-to-12-foot wide travel lanes, an 11-foot wide turn lane, a 2-foot wide raised center curb with 1-foot wide curb offset, curb and gutter, and 8-foot wide sidewalks separated by 6-foot wide buffers on both sides of the roadway. This will result in widening SR 32 to the south by approximately 25-feet and result in the removal of four buildings from the Westfield Historic District: 101 S. Union Street, 102 S. Union Street, 103 S. Union Street and 111 E. Main Street.

Moving east outside of the district, the intersection of SR 32 and East Street will be reconstructed to a two-lane roundabout with 11-to-12-foot wide travel lanes (two westbound, two eastbound) with 8-foot wide sidewalks separated by 6-foot wide grass buffers on all sides. North of the roundabout, East Street will be reconstructed to consist of two 11-foot wide travel lanes (one northbound, one southbound) with 6-foot wide sidewalks adjacent to the curb and gutter on the west side of the roadway. East Street will be realigned to provide the appropriate transition into the roundabout as well as to straighten out the existing S-curve along East Street, north of Penn Street. East of the roundabout and extending to just east of Timberbrook Run, SR 32 will be reconstructed to consist of four 11-to-12-foot wide travel lanes (two westbound, two eastbound).

The existing 186-foot long 6-foot tall by 10-foot wide box culvert between Westlea Drive and Camilla Court, which conveys the unnamed tributary (UNT) to Grassy Branch under SR 32, will have the portion within the proposed permanent right-of-way (ROW) replaced. The project will acquire approximately 3.34 acres of permanent ROW and 1.62 acres of temporary ROW from residential and commercial properties. In addition to the four buildings within the Westfield Historic District, the project will result in the relocation of eight buildings outside of the Westfield Historic District: 201 W Main Street, 123 W Main Street, 201 E Main Street, 211 E Main Street, 215 E Main Street, 221 E Main Street, 325 E Main Street, and 411 E Main Street. Overall, the project will result in the relocation of thirteen buildings.

Additional details regarding the SR 32 Westfield Reconstruction Project (DES # 1801731) are available in-person at the Westfield City Hall (130 Penn Street, Westfield, IN 46074) and the Westfield City Services Center (2728 E 171st Street, Westfield, IN 46074), as well as online via the project webpage at www.structurepointpublic.com/sr32westfield.

The purpose of this notice is to communicate the status of this project to community members. As part of the City of Westfield’s commitment to public involvement, it is important to keep the community informed of project developments. This is also an opportunity to formally announce the conclusion of the environmental analysis phase and transition to the next phase of development.

Subsequent to reviewing and considering all comments and materials received as a result of the public hearing held at the Grand Park Sport Campus Event Center on January 26, 2022, the City of Westfield will advance this project to the next phase of development with construction anticipated to begin in 2023.

Environmental analysis documentation, including written responses to public comments submitted as part of the public involvement process, are available for public inspection at the Westfield City Hall and the Westfield City Services Center, as well as via the project webpage at www.structurepointpublic.com/sr32westfield. Guerin basks in glory of first win

County teams dominate top three spots in golf state championship

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

CARMEL – With two birdie putts, the Guerin Catholic boys golf team earned some redemption – and a state championship.

The Golden Eagles had been battling with Westfield for all 36 holes of a hot IH-SAA state championship last week at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. The tournament finished last Wednesday afternoon in dramatic fashion, with the Shamrocks leading Guerin Catholic by one stroke with two groups left to play.

But thanks to those birdies from Connor McNeely and Jacob Modleski, the Golden Eagles overcame that deficit to finish first. Guerin totaled a two-day team score of 602, just ahead of Westfield’s 603. It’s the first-ever boys golf state championship for the Golden Eagles, and also brought Guerin Catholic full circle after last season’s state finals – where it finished second to Center Grove by one stroke.

“There’s a lot of pressure going down the last hole,” said GC coach Mark Mathews. “Last swing is a tough one to make and those were pretty good swings. I’m just almost speechless, which for me is impossible.”

McNeely went first, making his birdie to bring the Golden Eagles up to a tie with the Shamrocks. The senior held the lead after Tuesday’s first round, but struggled during the second round before getting it together on the last hole, which he called his “four best shots.”

“I ended on a high note,” said McNeely. “State championship as a team, that’s all that matters, so I’m happy as can be right now.”

DON’T TELL ME

Modleski came up next, and after a perfect wedge shot – “probably the best wedge shot of the two days,” he said – quickly put the ball in the hole for the birdie. While everyone around him was aware of how important his putt was, Modleski kept himself intentionally unaware of the score.

“I actually had no idea,” said Modleski. “I told Coach Mathews not to tell me, unless we needed some sort of heroics on 18.”

Coach Mathews can confirm this.

“It’s pretty cool,” said Mathews. “I went out with all intention to tell Jacob what he needed to do, and the first thing when I walk up is, he said ‘I don’t want to know anything, just help me with the shot. Don’t need to know anything, just help me with the shot.’ He’s a smart kid, so he knew that if I walked out there, that I was probably going to tell him what he needed to do.”

Modleski and McNeely both finished the tournament with two birdies, and Modleski would also earn an individual medal as well, tying for fifth place with a two-day score of 145. Modleski went under par for his second round, a one-under 71.

Leo Wessel tied for 10th individually, scoring a 148. Wessel drained four birdies, all on the front nine, during his second round, in which he totaled an even-par 72. Everyone on the Golden Eagles team made at least one birdie, with Zach Thieme collecting two and Scotty Smith one.

Modleski and Wessel were both named to the All-State team at the conclusion of the meet. In addition to being Guerin Catholic’s first-ever boys golf state title, it’s the fifth IHSA state title in school history for the Golden Eagles, following two each in boys basketball and boys soccer.

While it was a tough way for the meet to finish, the Shamrocks still had an outstanding state tournament. This was the first time a Westfield team had made it to state since 2017, and it did so with a young cast.

Junior Jake Cesare was part of the three-way tie for 10th place, scoring a 148 and making three birdies along the way. All five Westfield players drained at least one birdie, including three for freshman Alec Cesare and two for Will Harvey, another freshman. Nolan Hall collected two and Cam Kooi made one. Jake Cesare was also named to the All-State team.

“Our guys hung in there, they battled, they played great,” said Shamrocks coach Josh Bryant. The coach was also proud of his team for fighting until the end.

“It was awesome,” said Bryant, who called the event “a great golf tournament to coach in.”

“Sometimes it’s a bummer that there has to be a second place, but that’s the name of the game,” said Bryant. “I can tell you that I think our guys are going to look back and go ‘I’m proud of our effort.’ Hopefully we’ll be able to make a run again next year.”

ROYALS RISE

The top three was a Hamilton County sweep, as Hamilton Southeastern finished in third place with a two-day score of 615. The Royals played with remarkable consistency over the two days, rising to fourth place after the first round –

The Guerin Catholic boys golf team won the school’s first-ever boys golf state championship last Wednesday at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. The Golden Eagles edged out Westfield by one stroke thanks to 18th-hole birdies by Connor McNeely and Jacob Modleski.

While Southeastern’s consistency gave it the medals, there was also some excitement when junior Lane Zedrick made an eagle on Hole No. 7. That eagle had its origins when Zedrick’s coaches talked with him during the practice round.

“They wanted me to lay up on the par fives, just to a distance that I felt really comfortable with,” said Zedrick. On that hole, he laid up with the pitching wedge and got within 40 yards.

“That’s definitely a distance I’m not comfortable with,” said Zedrick. But he made the shot anyway.

“It was cool to hear the roars during the round,” said Zedrick. He wound up as Southeastern’s low man with a two-day score of 150, and also made a birdie during his second round.

Cole Starnes finished with a 153 and drained two second-round birdies, and also made the All-State team. Tyler Marcinko had two birdies and Jordan Huxford had one. It was a remarkable season for the Royals, who took third in the Noblesville sectional, third in the Muncie Central regional and third at state.

“We had our strategy in plan and we stuck with it for the most part,” said Southeastern coach David Young. “We knew that our biggest test would be recovery, nutrition, hydration, just because of the temperature swings and how grueling these two days are already. And then of course you add in the heat and the level of competition and everything that only ups the ante. We focused on all the things that were in our control, we released the things that were not in our control, and that’s how we were able to really have the run that we had.”

A HISTORIC LIST

Noblesville finished with a two-day score of 641, placing 10th. The Millers were led by senior Will Perkins, who blazed through his second round with a score of 68, four under par. In fact, Perkins is now part of a historic list of players who have scored 68 or better during 18 holes at a state meet.

Coming into the meet, only 43 players in the history of the meet had carded 68 or better over 18 holes. That list now totals 47 players.

Perkins and Cathedral’s Ryan Ford both scored 68s on Wednesday. Two more players totaled 67s: New Castle’s Derek Tabor, who tied for third, and Valparaiso’s Aidan Gutierrez, the individual champion. Gutierrez beat Ford in a three-hole playoff for first place.

Perkins made an eagle on hole No. 5, and followed that up with a birdie on the sixth hole. He totaled three birdies in all.

“I played great,” said Perkins. “After a rough round yesterday, or a rough hole, I knew I could come back, do something good today and just play my game, and I did. I just went out there and had some fun.”

Alex Peck also made three birdies, while Rory Bushong collected one.

Fisher’s Connor McMillan and Carmel’s Owen Sander both totaled 157 for their two rounds. McMillan made two birdies in his second round, while Sander had one.

HOT FIRST ROUND

The buildup to the state finals was a little different this year.

There was the usual excitement of who would

— NOBLESVILLE —

DES. # 1801438/1902009
LEGAL NOTICE OF PLANNED IMPROVEMENT
The Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) is developing plans for a proposed multi-use trail construction and bridge rehabilitation project in the City of Noblesville, Hamilton County, Indiana. The project will take place on Little Chicago Rd. from Elderberry Rd. to Carrigan Rd.
The purpose of this project is to improve north-south connectivity of non-motorized transportation facilities and connectivity to neighborhoods along Little Chicago Rd. from Elderberry Rd. to Carrigan Rd. Additionally, the purpose of the project is to improve Hamilton County Bridge No. 106 (29-00106, NBI #29000094) to condition ratings greater than 7 (good) of 9 for all bridge elements.
The need for the project stems from the lack of north-south connectivity for non-motorized transportation facilities (pedestrian and bicycle) along Little Chicago Rd. from Elderberry Rd. to Carrigan Rd. Presently, there are several residential neighborhoods (South Harbor, Pine Knoll, and The Bluffs), apartment /condominium complexes (Lions Creek and The Villas on Morse Reservoir), and businesses within the Harbour Town Shoppes strip that lack connectivity for non-motorized transportation facilities along Little Chicago Rd. Another need for the project stems from the deteriorated condition of Hamilton County Bridge No.
106. According to the most recent bridge inspection report, the existing bridge has a condition rating of 5 (fair) of 9 for all bridge elements and the channel bank protection has a condition of 6 of 9 (bank slump, widespread minor damage).
This project involves construction of a 10 ft. wide, multi-use, asphalt trail adjacent to Little Chicago Rd. along the east side of the roadway for its entire length, providing the connection between the current terminus of the trail at each location and linking the north and south side of Morse Reservoir. The project will involve constructing curb and gutter and storm sewer along the east side of the roadway. The northbound travel lane will be widened to 12 ft. and the roadway will be resurfaced alongside the limits of the trail work. The existing causeway and bridge will be widened over the reservoir.
The bridge rehabilitation will include widening of the piers and end bents and replacement of the beams, bridge deck, and railing. An 11 ft. wide raised sidewalk will be constructed over the bridge. The bridge rehabilitation will include widening the travel lanes to 12 ft. and shoulders to 4 ft. Deterioration and cracking of the piers and end bents will be repaired. The widened portion of the substructure will sit on a pile foundation and riprap scour countermeasures will be placed.
The project will also include replacement of the bridge approach slabs, standard guardrail components, curb ramps and geometrics for ADA compatibility, retaining wall construction, public road approach and driveway reconstruction, utility relocation, and roadway mitigation.
The proposed construction of this project will require 1.17 acres of new permanent right-of-way and 0.02 acres of temporary right-of-way. The project will result in 0.51 acres of impacts to the Morse Reservoir, which is a jurisdictional Waters of the United States.
The project is expected to take 11 months to complete. The maintenance of traffic (MOT) plan proposes a road and bridge closure of approximately four months and for one lane of the road to remain open with temporary signal or flaggers for approximately seven months. During the full road closure, an official detour route utilizing SR 38, Hague Rd., and Carrigan Rd. will be used during construction. Other local roads may be used by local traffic. Access to all properties will be maintained throughout construction. School corporations and emergency services will be notified of closures prior to construction. The proposed start of construction is 2024.
The cost associated with this project is approximately $7 million which includes preliminary engineering, right-of-way, and construction with both federal, state, and local funds anticipated to be used. The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) and INDOT have agreed this project falls within the guidelines of a Categorical Exclusion (CE) Level 3 environmental document. Preliminary design plans along with the CE are available for review at the following locations:

HSE’s Olivia Brown

commits to Akron

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern girls basketball star Olivia Brown has announced her commitment to the University of Akron.

Brown, an incoming senior for the Royals, made the announcement on Twitter last Friday afternoon. The Zips are a Division I school that competes in the Mid-America Conference. Akron finished its 2021-22 season with a 17-12 record, going 13-7 in the MAC, under fourth-year coach Melissa Jackson.

Last year’s season was a great improvement over the 2020-21 campaign, when the Zips were 4-14 in the MAC and 7-13 overall.

Brown was a first team all-county and all-Hoosier Crossroads Conference selection during her junior year. She averaged 9.0 points per game and was one of the best ball distributors in the state, dishing out 8.3 assists per game. Brown also collected 5.4 rebounds per contest last season.

contend for the state championship, and several Hamilton County teams were in the running after the first round of play last Tuesday. Guerin Catholic was the early leader, with Westfield a close second and Hamilton Southeastern waiting in the wings in fourth place. Noblesville was tied for eighth and not out of the equation.

But another unavoidable topic dominated the meet as well: The heat. Temperatures by mid-afternoon were in the mid-90s at Prairie View, with the heat index well over 100. While there aren’t official weather records, it’s likely this state golf meet is one of the hottest ever in history.

“I drank 12 bottles of water,” said Mathews after the Golden Eagles finished their round. And if the coach is drinking quite a bit, you can bet that he is making his players do the same thing.

“We hydrate every hole,” said Mathews. “I had 60 bottles of water. Today’s one of those days and I’m a weirdo about hydration anyway, so I don’t think my guys had a problem at all.”

Heat or not heat, Guerin Catholic had to be happy about their position once it finished the first round. The Golden Eagles totaled a 299, 11 over par, which put them four strokes ahead of Westfield going into the second round of the 36-hole tournament.

McNeely led the way for Guerin. The senior finished his first round with a one under par 71; McNeely was the only player under par during the day. McNeely drained three birdies on his to the top of the leaderboard, although he has the team leaderboard in mind as well.

“It is a team sport today and tomorrow,” said McNeely. “You got to think about not just yourself, but your team and what the right shot is for the team.”

Modleski made four birdies for his first round, finishing with a 74. Wessel was next with a 76; he played the entire back nine even par. Thieme added a 78 (two birdies) and Smith scored an 84 (one birdie).

Mathews admitted that the front nine was a little shaky, but the Golden Eagles seemed to get it together for the back nine, which is a common theme for Guerin Catholic.

“We did the same thing at sectionals and regionals,” said Mathews. “We didn’t play very well on the first nine holes and played extremely well with six holes left at both of those tournaments.”

Westfield’s score of 303 was achieved with two freshmen leading the way. Jake Cesare and Harvey both totaled 74s in their first round of play; each made one birdie.

All five Shamrocks players made birdies. Kooi made four, Hall had three and Alec Cesare drained two. Alec Cesare is the only Westfield player back with state experience, so the fact that the ‘Rocks are in contention made Bryant very happy.

“The heat obviously affected everyone in the field,” said Bryant. “Our guys were prepared for it. All in all, the goal of the day was to give yourself a chance on the second day.”

Five Hamilton County golfers were named to the All-State team at the conclusion of the meet. From left: Cole Starnes (Hamilton Southeastern), Will Perkins (Noblesville), Leo Wessel (Guerin Catholic), Jacob Modleski (Guerin Catholic), Jake Cesare (Westfield).

Hamilton Southeastern finished the first round only three strokes behind Bloomington South; the Royals scored 311 to the Panthers’ 308. Huxford, who had a breakout meet June 9 at the Muncie Central regional, continued his fine play with a team-leading 77. Huxford made birdies on holes 1 and 2.

Southeastern had a consistent day across the board. Cole Starnes, Zedrick and Marcinko all carded 78s. Starnes and Zedrick both made two birdies, with Marcinko and Tyler Lacy each getting one.

Noblesville is in a three-way tie for eighth place with a 323. Perkins made three birdies on his way to a 77. Bushong collected two birdies, with Brady Mangin and Drew Decker both getting one.

Sander had a nice round of 76 for his first 18 holes, making two birdies. McMillan totaled a 79, also collecting two birdies along the way.

Noblesville’s own Palmer Ault named Soccer Player of the Year

Gatorade recognizes Ault for leading team to state championship

The REPORTER

In its 37th year of honoring the nation’s best high school athletes, Gatorade announced last Thursday that Palmer Ault of Noblesville High School is the 2021-22 Gatorade Indiana Boys Soccer Player of the Year. Ault is the first Gatorade Indiana Boys Soccer Player of the Year to be chosen from Noblesville High School.

The award, which recognizes not only outstanding athletic excellence, but also high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the field, distinguishes Ault as Indiana’s best high school boys soccer player. Now a finalist for the prestigious Gatorade National Boys Soccer Player of the Year award to be announced in June, Ault joins an elite alumni association of state award-winners in 12 sports, including Alexi Lalas (1987-88, Cranbrook High School, Mich.), Steve Cherundolo (1996-97, Mt. Carmel High School, Calif.), Abby Wambach (1997-98, Our Lady of Mercy School of Young Women, N.Y.), Heather O’Reilly (2001-02 & 2002-03, East Brunswick High School, N.J.), Matt Besler (2004-05, Blue Valley West High School, Kan.), Jack Harrison (2013-14, Berkshire High School, Mass.) and Mallory Pugh (2014-15, Mountain Vista High School, Colo.).

The 5-foot-11, 170-pound senior midfielder led the Millers to a 20-1-1 record and the Class 3A state championship this past season. Ault tallied 26 goals and 16 assists, including a goal in Noblesville’s 3-1 win over Carmel in the state title game. The unanimous choice as the Indiana Soccer Coaches Association Player of the Year, Ault is also a two-time United Soccer Coaches High School All-American selection. He concluded his prep soccer career with 67 goals and 39 assists.

Ault has volunteered locally at the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville and as a youth soccer coach. He has also donated his time on behalf of multiple community service initiatives through his church. “Noblesville had an incredible season and Palmer Ault was the catalyst for their great success,” said Rob Jordan, head coach of Zionsville Community High School. “He is intuitive and has a great understanding of the game. He was always in the right position at the right time.”

Ault maintained a 3.80 GPA in the classroom. Taking advantage of NCAA early signing rules, Ault inked a financial-aid agreement that paved the way for him to enroll at Butler University. He graduated from high school in December and attended classes in the spring semester.

Ault is the fifth winner of a Gatorade Player of the Year from Noblesville. Other winners and their respective sports are Courtney Cox (girls basketball, 1987-88), Tom Browning (baseball, 1991-92), Ashley Ault (girls soccer, 2007-08) and Ashlynn Shade (2021-22). With Shade and Ault both winning, this is the first time in Noblesville history that two Millers student-athletes have been named Gatorade Player of the Year in their respective sports during the same school year.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one winner in the District of Columbia and each of the 50 states that sanction high school football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, boys and girls soccer, baseball, softball, and boys and girls track & field, and awards one National Player of the Year in each sport. The selection process is administered by the Gatorade Player of the Year Selection Committee, which leverages experts including coaches, scouts, media and others as sources to help evaluate and determine the state winners in each sport.

Ault joins recent Gatorade Indiana Boys Soccer Players of the Year Zack Bowser (2020-21, Chesterton High School), Chris Freeman (2019-20, Zionsville Community High School), Jack Eaton (2018-19, Chesterton High School), and Andrew Cross (2017-18, Reitz Memorial High School), among the state’s list of former award winners.

Gatorade has a long-standing history of serving athlete communities and understands how sports instill valuable life-long skills on and off the field. Through Gatorade’s “Play it Forward” platform, Ault has the opportunity to award a $1,000 grant to a local or national organization of their choosing that helps young athletes realize the benefits of playing sports. Ault is also eligible to submit a short video explaining why the organization they chose is deserving of one of twelve $10,000 spotlight grants, which will be announced throughout the year. To date, Gatorade Player of the Year winners’ grants have totaled more than $3.5 million across more than 1,300 organizations.

Since the program’s inception in 1985, Gatorade Player of the Year award recipients have won hundreds of professional and college championships, and many have also turned into pillars in their communities, becoming coaches, business owners and educators.

Coach Heffern: No signs of slowing down

From Park Tudor to Fishers, tennis coach Dave Heffern still loving every moment

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

When Dave Heffern took over the head coaching position for the Fishers High School tennis teams, he said, “Well, it’s probably a 10-year program to try to get it to the top.”

Heffern just finished his ninth year as coach of the Tigers’ boys and girls teams. Fishers’ girls nearly made it to the top this season: On June 4, the Tigers played in the state championship match.

Fishers lost to Carmel 5-0, but that loss certainly didn’t diminish the Tigers’ season. In fact, the appearance of Fishers in the final two was significant, as it made the Tigers the first Hamilton County team besides the Greyhounds to play in the championship match.

“The only team that we lost to all year was Carmel,” said Heffern. “We lost to them in the regular season, we lost to them in the state championship match. We had a great season. We won a few tight matches, even though we had some injuries and everything. A great bunch of kids, fun to work with.”

Heffern was speaking on June 10 at the individual singles and doubles tournament at Park Tudor, a place with which he is very familiar. Prior to coming to Fishers, Heffern was the Panthers’ tennis coach, guiding them to remarkable heights between 1995 and 2013. In the team tournament, Park Tudor won six boys state titles and six girls state titles during Heffern’s tenure.

In the individual tournament, the Panthers claimed three boys doubles and a singles champion, while the girls won six singles titles, including four in a row from Katie Martzolf from 1998 to 2001. The Park Tudor girls scored a rare triple crown – winning the team, singles and doubles championships – in 1998. Brookley Crews and Brooke Sagalowsky won the doubles title that year.

After leaving Park Tudor, Heffern was immediately hired at Fishers. He said that when he arrived at the Tigers’ program, the goal was to get the tennis program consistently ranked in the top 10. Fishers continued to improve over the next few years, with the boys team winning sectionals in 2017 and 2018.

“And last fall, the boys team was ranked fifth or sixth at the end of the year and I thought we were probably the fourth-best team in the state,” said Heffern. “Unfortunately for us, HSE was the third best team.” Hamilton Southeastern won its third straight sectional last fall.

As for the girls, Fishers made its way to the state finals in 2021, winning its first sectional title since 2012, then triumphing at the regional and semi-state for the first time. The Tigers defended all those championships this season, including a tough sectional where they beat No. 15 Noblesville and No. 10 Southeastern.

“It’s been exciting,” said Heffern. “It’s something I’ve expected because we have a nice summer program going and the kids seem more interested in tennis out in Fishers now.”

Heffern had come to Park Tudor after spending the morning at his summer program, and he said there were 30 players in the younger group, and 34 more in the high school group.

The Tigers also have a great opportunity to do well again next season, as everyone that played varsity for this year’s team is back. Fishers had a freshman – Mischa Briggs, playing at No. 1 singles, while junior Izzy Mokra played No. 2 singles. Everyone else is a sophomore: No. 3 singles Caroline Ober, No. 1 doubles Cassie Maurer and Emma Beehler and No. 2 doubles Madelyn Barron and Meredith Ober.

“Hopefully, the success they had this year will make them work hard to get back to that point and to finish next year, to win the whole thing,” said Heffern. “Anytime that you’re so close that it inspires you to want to take that last step, and I’m hoping that’s what all the girls do.”

Next year will be the 10th year for Heffern, but he doesn’t plan on stopping anytime soon. He told his assistant coach Matthew Foley that he would coach until Foley’s daughter graduates.

“She’s going to be an eighth-grader,” said Heffern. “I got five more years anyway.”

“I figure I’ll be around 80 when I finish, when I give it up,” said Heffern. “But I’m still feeling as good as I feel now. I love this. Here I am showing up to cheer on HSE because I’ve coached those girls privately and in clinics since they were 10 or 11 years old.”

Heffern was there to cheer on Southeastern’s Mischa Bukkasagaram and Emily Orme, who were playing in the doubles tournament and eventually reached the semi-finals.

“And I see all sorts of kids here that I’ve worked with over the years,” said Heffern. “I really enjoy this.”

HSE state doubles tennis team honored at North South cup

The REPORTER

Hamilton Southeastern’s state doubles team Misha Bukkasagaram and Emily Orme participated in the 24th annual North South Senior Tennis All-Star Cup, which took place Sunday, June 12 at the Community Sports & Wellness Center in Pendleton.

Bukkasagaram and Orme played two doubles matches together, then each played a singles match. The Royals team and the other players were honored at the conclusion of the meet.

In addition, Westfield’s Trudy Coler was awarded the District 3 Coach of the Year by the Indiana Coaches of Girls Sports Association. Coler coached the Shamrocks to a successful season and a No. 9 state ranking in the final tennis poll of the season.

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.
