Purple flowers from our wedding on June 22, 2013.

Something purple for your desk

I will never forget the first time my husband sent me flowers. It has been over 11 years since the first time I was surprised at work with a bouquet of flowers from him.

We had been on a couple of dates, and he knew that I loved the color purple. He sent me the most beautiful bouquet with varying shades of purple to my classroom my second year of teaching. The card read, "something purple for your desk." They were sent for no other reason than he liked me.

Not only could I not believe he was sending me flowers, but I was so surprised he remembered me mentioning my favorite color in passing. A year to the day we met, September 16, he proposed to me and took me to a variety of places we had been during our first year together. At each location, he gave me a purple rose. By the time he asked me to marry him, I had a bouquet full of purple roses and a ring.

Over the years, the guy that I had a couple of dates with that sent me purple flowers became my husband. I would be lying if I said I have not been spoiled over the years with my share of flowers – something that is truly one of my most treasured gifts. In a way, you could say it is my love language. He realizes this about me, and not only does he make a point to purchase flowers, he educates himself on what to look for when purchasing a bouquet.

Prom Night Murder Express '84 a mystery 39 years in the making

The REPORTER

A total of 200 people boarded the Nickel Plate Express on Feb. 11 and 12, 2023, only to exit the train on the exact same dates in 1984 at the Nickel Plate High School prom. It was a night of big hair, bright colors, music, murder, and mayhem!

The Prom Night Murder Express was a little bit of everything: a train ride through beautiful northern Hamilton County, a catered dinner, live music, a mystery to solve, and a fine excuse to relive the decade of decadence.

A band rivalry played on stage and almost came to blows, jealousies flared, affairs were revealed, alcohol was consumed, and a star quarterback was killed – twice!

Special thanks go out to our friends at Earthly Endeavors, 155 W. Main St., Atlanta, for providing the perfect venue for dinner and death. Gaylor Elec-

Flowers are not cheap, and if you're going to spend the money on them, you need to make sure to get the biggest bang for your buck. This is the time of year with Valentine's Day that we are flooded with flowers when we walk into the grocery store. If you are like me and purchase flowers on a regular basis, you cringe at how the supermarkets capitalize on the holidays like Valentine's Day by raising their prices, but that is beside the point I suppose. The question is, how do you choose the best bouquet?

What should you look for when you're in the grocery and looking for a bouquet yourself? To start with, you will want to make sure that you look for the tightest looking flowers you can find. I used to look first at the colors, but I have trained myself over the years to look for which flowers look the healthiest and have the tightest blooms before even selecting. Some days, I am completely surprised because it will be something I was not expecting to purchase or a color that I would not typically buy, but because of the way it looks and the health of the flowers, I will select a certain bouquet over another for the sake of longevity.

My husband jokes that nobody can repurpose a bouquet more than me. You give me a half-dead bouquet with a few stems that still have life and I will whip that bad boy into a brand-new bouquet. It is amazing what a smaller vase and trimming back some of the dead blooms and some fresh water will do for a dying bouquet of flowers. I have been known to get easily two or more weeks from a store bought grocery bouquet, simply because I take care of them.

Fresh water is essential. It sounds like common sense, but you'd be surprised how many people receive a bouquet of flowers and leave it in the stagnant water for days on end and they are surprised at how short they last, and the smell of the water begins to have a rancid odor. I change the water on all of my bouquets daily.

I always steer clear of the mixed bouquets at the grocery store. It is too hard to gauge the overall health of the bouquet because typically they do not last as long as a bouquet that is the same flower and has tight blooms. When I say tight blooms, I'm referring to bouquets where the flowers are not completely opened because the more open the flowers in the bouquet are, the longer they have been alive, and hence, the shorter life it's going to have in a vase at your house.

Most recently, my husband did something completely unexpected. Rather than purchasing a pre-made bouquet from the florist and sending it, he made his own. It was the best surprise ever. I walked into my classroom on a Friday morning and turned on my light to see one of the most gorgeous arrangements I've ever seen. He went to the grocery and purchased seven individual bouquets and made his own gigantic arrangement. To this day, besides my purple flowers, it is the most beautiful and special arrangement he's ever given me because I knew every single flower in it, he hand-selected it, and it was absolutely beautiful.

Give a copy of this column to your spouse as a friendly nudge to go buy you some flowers. Nature is speaking to us and giving us a chance to show others we love them and tell them they are special. Are you listening?

I was born and raised right here in Noblesville. I grew up in a home without domestic violence or assault - it wasn't something I saw, or even heard about. But when I was introduced to Prevail of Central Indiana, I was shocked by the number of individuals who are affected by domestic violence. In 2018 alone, Prevail helped more than 4,000 clients in Hamilton County (nearly 80 percent of clients are women and children). Domestic violence and abuse are hard topics to discuss, so you don't often hear about them. But at Tom Wood Volkswagen in Noblesville, we're breaking the taboo and raising awareness for Prevail, an organization that helps families in Hamilton County.

Heart-healthy living will let you pursue your dreams before you run out of time

"You know people don't run out of dreams, people just run out of time."
— Glenn Frey, River of Dreams

I believe we are all aware of the American Heart Association's use of February as recognition of the importance of good heart health and the very serious situation that we face when we don't care for our hearts. (In this column, I am writing about the physical aspect, not the emotional aspect — although that can certainly affect our health as well.)

Additionally, unfortunately some of us are born with heart issues that are not a result of our lifestyles, and again, that is not a subject specifically referenced here.

The statistics on heart disease are staggering, much like the statistics on obesity.*

- Heart disease strikes someone in the U.S. about once every 43 seconds.
- Heart disease is the No. 1 cause of death in the United States, killing over 375,000 people a year.
- Heart disease is the No. 1 killer of women, taking more lives than all forms of cancer combined.

In 2011, about 326,200 people experienced out-of-hospital cardiac arrests in the United States. Of those treated by emergency medical services, 10.6 percent survived. Of the 19,300 bystander-witnessed out-of-hospital cardiac arrests in 2011, 31.4 percent survived. Less than 1 percent of U.S. adults meet the American Heart Association's definition for "Ideal Healthy Diet." Essentially no children meet the definition. Of the five components of a healthy diet, reducing sodium and increasing whole grains are the biggest challenges.

Eating patterns have changed dramatically in recent decades. Research from 1971 to 2004 showed that women consumed an average of 22 percent more calories in that span and men consumed an average of 10 percent more. The average woman eats about 1,900 calories a day and the average man has nearly 2,700, according to the government figures. Hypertension is projected to increase about 8 percent between 2013 and 2030.

Valentine's Day? Sure, why not? (Careful of the sugar!) However, let's celebrate February with healthy heart habits and continue to pursue those dreams before we "run out of time."

Look at all those people pouring over the pages of our special edition for clues. It warms an old publisher's heart. Democratic candidates looking to change landscape of Westfield City Council

Submitted by the Hamilton County Democratic Party

The Hamilton County Democratic Party has announced two candidates running for Westfield City Council: Gary Lane (At-Large) and Alexis Lowry (District 4).

"Westfield is going through a period of change, and we are excited to present every voter with a choice this November," Hamilton County Democratic Party Chair Dayna Colbert said. "More young professionals and new families are moving into the area, attracted by safe neighborhoods, great schools, and economical housing. Lane and Lowry are focused on bringing more exceptional quality of life amenities to the city, and managing them responsibly."

Colbert said issues with transparency surrounding Grand Park and crossing obstacles and proper lighting for the city's trail network shows its time for Democrats to have a place on the city council.

"Grand Park was a great asset to the city," Colbert said. "However, a lack of transparency and accusations of nepotism have led to headache upon headache for Westfield residents. The expanding trail network in Westfield is another highlight for the growing community, but the inability to address crossing obstacles and installation of unclear light systems pose a serious concern to pedestrians. Ensuring that residents can use the amenities the city develops is key."

The Primary election will be held Tuesday, May 2, and the General Election will take place Tuesday, Nov. 7. This is the first time Democrats have been on the City Council ballot since 2006, when still a Town Council, which Colbert said reflects the trend of Westfield voters looking for choices in their city leadership. The Hamilton County Democratic Party encourages voters to make their voices heard in the Democratic primary.

About the Candidates

In the community, Lane has served for three years as the Treasurer of his neighborhood HOA and as President of his fraternity alumni chapter.

to have an opportunity to use his planning skills in service to Westfield. Outside of work, he and his wife, Becky, can be found at practices and events for their two sons who are involved in diving, karate, and music. He also works to support Becky's local small business, Becky the Baker.

Letter to the Editor

Readers have terrific time at Carmel Symphony Orchestra

Dear Editor:

It was a beautiful night as we arrived for the Symphony at the Palladium. The sparkling lights around the Ice Rink were stunning as the near perfect sunset stretching across the western skyline.

The closer we got, the more the grounds themselves became the focus. It felt theatrical and brilliant walking the brick sidewalks and past sculptures without being overdone, stuffy or opulent.

Once inside the beautiful lobby, and when the doors opened to the hall itself, we gasped and felt excitement in the coming concert. It was beautiful, too. The harmonics were clean and uncolored, all defined with the passion and artistic intent.

It was wonderful for both of us. Thank you for

Civic Theatre's The Diary of Anne Frank makes tragedy of Holocaust feel all too real

Booth Tarkington Civic Theatre opened its production of The Diary of Anne Frank last Friday. The haunting 1955 play we have become familiar with — by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett — is presented in an adapted form. The newer 1997 version by Wendy Kesselman has a freshness in its vision which is welcomed as “a new adaptation for a new generation.”

Clair Wilcher directs. Her sensitive handling of the material provides action as measured as music, with proper rises and falls, and a heartbreaking climax.

Gemma Rollison takes the role of young Anne and offers a very polished portrayal of her character and her dilemma. Ms. Rollison shows Anne's youthful presence — annoyingly bouncy and fun-loving at first as she alone ignores the hardships, thoughtfully recording her feelings in her journal, excitedly experiencing her burgeoning adulthood — tr-ly a tragic figure whose hopes for her future are snuffed by her doom.

The entire cast expertly shows how eight very real people lived through two years in a hideout, longing for their former lives while enduring the hardships of confined living. Director Wilcher has orchestrated an evenness in her cast's characterizations which strengthens the ensemble aspect of the script. As written, no one player is set in the spotlight — though, of course, Anne remains the central character. Highlights include Garrett Rowe's fine work as young Peter Van Daan, Jay Hemphill and Carrie Reiberg — coupled as the often-disagreeable Mr. & Mrs. Van Daan, Brittany Magee as an overwrought Edith Frank, and David Wood as an iconic father figure — Otto Frank, whose powerful ending speech is truly devastating. Mookie Harris (Mr. Dussel), Rebecca Piñero (Margot Frank), Kevin Caraher (Mr. Kraler), and Kelsey VanVoorst (Miep Gies) turn in solid work to complete the cast.

The play is performed on Ryan Koharchik's very expressive set design. It features hints of confinement with barb wired fences, tight spaces, and dark hues. Michael Lasley's projections aid the storytelling with visions of Hitler's power and the torment of the concentration camps. Adrienne Conces' costume designs are timely.

Bottom line: This familiar story gets new impact in Wendy Kesselman's adaptation and Civic Theatre's production is fine in every aspect. All the problems, fears, and turmoil of these eight people are balanced somehow by the forward-looking positivity of one young girl. The tragedy feels real — the horror of those times must never be repeated.

The Diary of Anne Frank continues at The Tarkington theatre through Saturday, Feb. 25. Tickets are available by calling the box office at (317) 843-3800 or by going online to CivicTheatre.org.

Don Deputy releases new novel, Sign of the Seed

The REPORTER

If you think you might enjoy a story that includes incidents involving counterfeit cheeseburgers, privacy fence jumping heroics, toilet tumblers, poultry perpetrators, or characters such as a one-legged, basement-dwelling boyfriend of an exotic dancer, well, Sign of the Seed may be the novel for you.

Local author and Fishers resident Don Deputy has released a new book called Sign of the Seed. Deputy served as a Lawrence police officer for 37 years, as a Detective for 23 years, and was Captain in Charge of Investigations for seven years. He served as his department's Public Information Officer for 20 years and received the Officer of the Year award twice.

Deputy investigated and successfully prosecuted a homicide that received an eight-second profile on the popular television show America's Most Wanted. He investigated two criminal cases that ended up in the Indiana Supreme Court with favorable outcomes. In total, he's investigated everything from the theft of a hamburger to Police Action Shootings and once investigated the theft of Pablo Picasso's pencil drawing, Femme Vue de Dos.

About Sign of the Seed

The story involves the Templeton Police Department, which is in the midst of its annual Christmas robbery season. During his patrol duties, veteran Officer Jeramy Doodeman witnesses numerous situations demonstrating other people's faith through signs of the seeds of faith. A series of robberies comes to a climax when Templeton police officers have an armed confrontation with Piper, a small-time hold-up man, at the same time that Jeramy is confronting his faith in God.

Among other characters, Detective Derek Wilson is a policeman who, oddly enough, is uncomfortable with confrontation and has his lack of confidence and bravery put to the ultimate test.

Meanwhile, Officer Teresa O'Brian, a sassy Irish policewoman, is frustrated with the juvenile antics of some fellow officers. Gil, a small-time thief, finds his Gran dead and, fearing the police will blame him for her death, disposes of her body in an usual way.

While there are some adult situations, what this story lacks in gratuitous sex scenes and raunchy cursing is well made up for with compelling situations and easy humor. Sign of the Seed takes a gritty and earthy look inside police work using realistic scenes and easy humor to intersect the often violent and chaotic world of Law Enforcement with faith.

Spartz: U.S. must have “proper response” to Chinese spy balloon

The REPORTER

Rep. Victoria Spartz issued the following statement on the Chinese spy balloon and unidentified aerial objects entering U.S. airspace.

“These actions have to be seriously investigated with proper U.S. response,” Rep. Spartz said.

“Any intentional hostile actions against our country must carry repercussions. We have to learn from the mistakes of Prime Minister Chamberlain with Germany in 1938 or President Obama with Crimea in 2014 – perceived weakness only emboldens aggressors.”

Susan S. Gorby

August 13, 1943 – February 6, 2023

Susan S. Gorby, 79, died peacefully in the early morning of Feb. 6, 2023, surrounded by loving family, in Noblesville, where she resided.

Mrs. Gorby was a lifelong learner whose love of books, particularly children’s literature and storytelling, inspired her professional and volunteer work in libraries. She held a Bachelor of Arts in English and a Master of Arts in Student Personnel Administration, and in her early career was employed in student counseling services at Ohio Wesleyan University and Indiana University. While raising her two children, she worked at the Michigan City Public Library, and later led a volunteer program to expand library services at Shawmut Hills Elementary School in Grand Rapids, Mich., where her children attended. After a divorce in 1995, she received a Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology and Holistic Health from Western Michigan University, and was the coordinator for the displaced homemaker program at the Women’s Resource Center in Grand Rapids, counseling women seeking to re-enter the workforce unexpectedly after 20 or more years in caregiving roles.

Mrs. Gorby was born Susan Margaret Spiers on Aug. 13, 1943, in Michigan City, Ind., the daughter of the late Albert and Lois (Ericson) Spiers. She met the love of her life, James D. Gorby, of Sparta, Mich., through mutual friends in Grand Rapids. The two married on Sept. 7, 2002, and moved to Clifton, Va. With Mr. Gorby, she discovered a love of world travel and cruising, but her greatest inspiration after retirement was her relationship with her grandchildren, who she said kept her young, active, and fearless.

She is survived by her loving husband of 20 years, James D. Gorby of Noblesville; two children, Christopher (Nikol) Elliott of Sterling, Va., and Katherine Raz (Jem Hilton) of Lakewood, Wash.; three grandsons, Malcolm, Eero, and Remy; sister, Sally Spiers of Indianapolis; brother, Richard Spiers (Johanna Lewis) of Spartanburg, S.C.; as well as four stepchildren and four step-grandchildren.

A memorial service is scheduled for 2 p.m. on April 6, 2023, at Flanner Buchanan – Hamilton Memorial Park (Prairie Waters), 4180 Westfield Road, Noblesville.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be directed to the Senior Citizens Organization, Inc., 18336 Cumberland Road, Noblesville, IN 46060.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Flanner Buchanan – Hamilton Memorial Park. Online condolences can be shared by visiting flannerbuchanan.com.

Celebrate Ukrainian culture with Lviv National Philharmonic Orchestra in Carmel on Feb. 24

The REPORTER

On the day its home country marks the first anniversary of an ongoing armed invasion, the Lviv National Philharmonic Orchestra of Ukraine will headline a celebration of Ukrainian culture at the Center for the Performing Arts.

Remarkably, the Feb. 24 date at the Palladium is coincidental. The Center booked the performance in 2021, months before Vladimir Putin announced a “special military operation” in February 2022.

Still, the date carries special significance. The audience will include representatives of the Consulate General of Ukraine in Chicago. Two local nonprofit groups, Indiana Supports Ukraine and the Ukrainian Society of Indiana, will have lobby tables to share information about their work in celebrating Ukrainian culture and shipping supplies to people living through a winter of war. Since December, the Center has kept collection bins in the Palladium lobbies to assist in ISU’s winter sock drive.

For the occasion, the Center staff has created a specialty cocktail in Ukraine’s national colors, blue and yellow. The “Stand with Ukraine” is made with Stoli vodka (produced in Latvia from Slovakian grains), blue Curacao liqueur, sweet and sour mix, and a lemon slice.

“European orchestras are a staple of our classical programming every season, but this event clearly stands out,” Center President/CEO Jeffrey C. McDermott said. “We’re pleased to have this opportunity to partner with the local Ukrainian-American community and support their efforts.”

The Lviv National Philharmonic Orchestra of Ukraine was founded in 1902 and is currently led by the esteemed Ukrainian-American conductor Theodore Kuchar, best known for his prolific recording career with various orchestras. The Feb. 24 program at the Palladium will feature music of Brahms, Grieg and Dvořák (his New World Symphony) with piano soloist Oksana Rapita.

Tickets start at $25, with student tickets at $15 and discounts offered for military personnel and first responders. Tickets are available at the Palladium’s Fifth Third Bank Box Office, online at TheCenterPresents.org and by phone at (317) 843-3800.

The event is part of the Center’s Printing Partners Classical Series and the 2022-2023 Center Presents Season, presented in partnership with Allied Solutions.

Carol Louise Albright

November 26, 1961 – February 11, 2023

Carol Louise Albright, 61, Indianapolis, formerly of Carmel, slipped away peacefully at home on February 11, 2023, after persevering against cancer for nearly eight years. She was born on November 26, 1961, in South Bend to the late Marilyn Sands Albright and Richard O. Albright who survives. The family moved to the Carmel area in 1963.

Carol was a proud Purdue graduate and initially worked in human resources, then started her own successful recruiting business. She developed an affinity for supporting differently abled individuals, which led her to volunteer for several organizations and eventually worked for Easter Seals and Hamilton Southeastern Schools.

Carol amazed and inspired her many friends with her sense of adventure and unpredictability. She found some of the most obscure things imaginable and turned them into appropriate gifts. In return, wonderful friends supported her in her journey, including many long road trips to Ohio State and the Mayo Clinic for treatment; they undoubtedly extended her life.

Carol loved horses and could relate to their healing and comforting qualities; this led her to volunteer with Agape Therapeutic Riding. She found many of the same qualities in dogs and adopted many that others could no longer care for. She wasn't defined by her work; although she did love it, she was most certainly characterized by her way of connecting people, her offbeat sense of humor, her devotion to others who were differently defined, and her love of her dogs and horse.

Survivors include her father; Richard Albright; sister, Susie Highley (Jerry); nephew, Brett Highley; niece, Margaret Highley Connors (Kevin); uncle, Bob Boggus, and several beloved cousins.

Family and friends will gather from 4 to 7 p.m. on Friday, February 17, 2023, and from 11 a.m. to noon on Saturday, February 18, with the Funeral Service beginning at 1 p.m., all at Orchard Park Presbyterian Church, 1605 E. 106th St., Carmel. Carol's request was that those in attendance wear Purdue attire.

Following the service, burial will take place at Carmel Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in memory of Carol may be made to K9s for Warriors (Ponte Vedra, Fla.), Leader Dogs for the Blind (Rochester, Mich.), the Central Plateau Scholarship Program (Haiti) of Powell, Tenn., or a donor's favorite charity. Envelopes will be available at the service.

TODAY'S BIBLE READING

When he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

Another angel, who had a golden censer, came and stood at the altar. He was given much incense to offer, with the prayers of all God's people, on the golden altar in front of the throne. The smoke of the incense, together with the prayers of God's people, went up before God from the angel's hand. Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and hurled it on the earth; and there came peals of thunder, rumblings, flashes of lightning and an earthquake.

Exciting double overtime game sees Trailblazers triumph over Shamrocks

The REPORTER

University won an all-county game in double overtime Tuesday, coming back from a 13-point deficit to beat Westfield 71-67 at the Shamrocks' CSI Gymnasium.

After trailing 40-27 in the third quarter, the Class 2A No. 5 Trailblazers went on a 15-0 run that lasted well into the fourth quarter. Sabien Cain hit a 3-pointer to give University its first lead of the game at 43-42 with around five minutes left.

The teams were tied at 50-50 by the end of regulation. Sam Bishop started the first overtime with a put-back for Westfield, but Cain nailed another 3, then Kahmi Bracey scored off a Cain steal. University led 57-54 after Bryce Gray hit two free throws, but Trey Buchanan drained a 3 to tie the game again at 57-57, and it was on to double overtime.

The Trailblazers never trailed in the second overtime. University started with a Cain basket, then Seth Hogg scored off a steal and layin. The 'Blazers eventually led 67-60 before Westfield cut it to 67-65. University's Andre Ozlowski made a dunk, then Westfield's Alex Romack scored to keep it within two, but Ozlowski sealed the game by making two free throws with 1.9 seconds left.

"I just can't say enough about the effort, the energy, toughness, the desire to win from my entire team," said Trailblazers coach Brandon Lafferan. "We struggled when we've tried to play 4A teams over the years. This is just a huge win for our program at a tough place to play against a very well-coached team that's always prepared to play."

"Hats off to them. I thought Romack and Bishop made a ton of plays when they really needed them," said Lafferan. "But proud of my guys. They just found a way and kept making plays. And Sabien, 36 points. He had a huge game for us. And I'm really proud of Bryce Gray and how he finished the game making free throws for us down the stretch. That was huge."

Although Westfield led through the entire first half, it was tight throughout. The Shamrocks got up by as much as six points twice, but the 'Blazers got the baskets they needed to stay close. Cain scored 18 points in the first half, including four 3s. Bishop had 13 points for the 'Rocks, making three 3s, with Romack scoring 11.

Westfield pulled away in the third quarter with a 14-3 run. The run began with three straight Shamrocks triples: Bishop made the first one, then Buchanan hit a 3, followed by a second Bishop triple. Hogg interrupted the stretch with another 3, but Buchanan answered that with a 3, then Romack made two free throws to put his team up 13. Cain made a traditional three-point play and another layin, then Hogg nailed a second 3 to get University with 40-35 going into the fourth.

Cain finished the game with 36 points for the 'Blazers, including seven 3s, while Hogg scored 11. Romack scored 29 for the 'Rocks, followed by 25 for Bishop, who made five 3s. Buchanan finished with three 3s for nine points.

University is 18-1 and plays Saturday at Decatur Central. Westfield is 13-7 and plays Friday at Franklin Central to finish Hoosier Crossroads Conference play for the season.

Hamilton Heights' own Camryn Runner has been named the Week 15 Girls District 2 IBCA/ Franciscan Health Player of the Week. The 5-9 guard was highly accurate, making 6-8 shots from the field, 3-3 from beyond the arc, and a perfect 10-10 from the free throw line, scoring 25 of their 44 points. She also snagged six rebounds and managed to block a pair of shots in the big victory.

Eagles & Chiefs fans gather in central Indiana to raise money for charity

By DANIELLE ZULKOSKY
WISH-TV | wishtv.com

Indianapolis is a sports city, and that was on display as fans from both teams held large Super Bowl watch parties in central Indiana.

Chiefs fans gathered in Westfield at Birdies for a watch party that brought in fans from across state lines to join together in supporting their team as they won Super Bowl LVII.

These Chiefs fans have raised thousands of dollars to support those with pancreatic cancer this year. They even did a raffle at halftime to help them reach their goal.

The Eagles fans at Hoagies and Hops were just as generous during the game. They raised well over $1,000 for the Indy Steelers Youth Football program during the game.

Both teams said having a strong community here in Indiana is very important to them.

"It's the only place to watch," said Heather Cobel, an Eagles fan living in Indianapolis. "I mean the energy in the room when you're with the home team just can't be replaced and it's amazing to hang out with all the Birds fans."

"Now we have 66 people here tonight and a lot of die-hard Chiefs fans and it's nice to get them together and have that kinda community with us," said J.R. Dover, a Chiefs fan also living in central Indiana.

Both of these teams showed what central Indiana is all about – supporting others while supporting your team.
