Hamilton Co. Community Band to perform free Christmas concert

By BRIAN WUERCH
For The Reporter

Are you looking for a fun and free way to kick off your Christmas season? Put your family and friends in the holiday spirit at the Hamilton County Community Band's annual Christmas Concert. This event filled with seasonal music will be at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 3 in the Noblesville High School Theater.

The concert is free and will feature many familiar Christmas tunes, including "The Twelve Days of Band Camp," along with a Gustav Holst piece, "In The Bleak Midwinter" to honor Robert W. Smith, a prolific concert band composer and arranger who passed away in September of this year. Kids will also enjoy a special visit from the big elf himself, Santa Claus!

Guest conductor Joe Poio will take the podium to conduct Claude T. Smith's "Symphonic Prelude On Adeste Fidelis." Poio works as an adjudicator for the Indiana State School Music Association's solo and ensemble contests, concert organization contests, and state concert band/orchestra qualifications contests. He has twice conducted the symphonic band for the Ball State University Mid-America Band Clinic and served as interim director of the Butler University Symphonic Band. He was coordinator of the Indiana State Fair Band Day Contest for 18 years.

Poio currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Central States Judges Association. He has had the opportunity to judge marching band events in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee, Louisiana, Florida, Illinois, and Oklahoma.

Reducing the mental load at home: shopping for pet supplies & prescriptions

Now that we've discussed how to help with the mental labor of grocery and personal care shopping along with meal planning for humans, let's move onto our furry friends.

We are quite particular about what we feed our cat and dogs and prefer to get their food from a pet store. This is another avenue where you can order items online. In my research, I've seen many advantages for going this route.

First, it's nice to have one less errand to run and to save time and gas. Some people live in more rural areas where the nearest pet store is maybe 30 minutes or more from their home.

Second, lugging around huge bags of pet food can be challenging if you have a disability, back issues, or if you're just plain tired from a long day at work. Through Amazon and other online sites, you can set up a recurring delivery that comes to your front door. You'll never have to lift heavy bags for long distances or worry about running out of pet food ever again. Remember, automation is a wonderful tool to relieve mental labor!

Third, you'll find a greater variety of pet food and supplies online and often save money.

Finally, ordering pet food online is a nice way to send a gift to someone or to donate to an animal shelter.

Even with these advantages, I personally don't shop online for pet food. We only live five minutes from Tractor Supply Company which is literally right beside Aldi.

Fishers Tigers preparing to march into New York City

The Fishers High School Tiger Marching Band on Thursday geared up for this year's Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. The Marching Tigers say they are one of five high school bands selected nationwide. The Fishers community has shown its support to their marching Tigers. More than $120,000 was contributed to offset the cost for the students who will be going on the trip. Chad Kohler, the school's director of bands, says this trip will be the school's first-time participating in the historic parade. "I mean it's an honor, just a complete blessing and an honor for those students," he said. Fishers' 253 band members will depart Sunday for New York City. # Holidays at the Hill returns to Noblesville's Federal Hill Commons

The REPORTER

The Noblesville Parks and Recreation Department has announced that "Holidays at the Hill" will return for its fourth season at Federal Hill Commons Nov. 18 through Jan. 8, 2024.

"Holidays at the Hill adds to the offerings we have in Downtown Noblesville to enjoy time together and create lasting memories," Noblesville Mayor Chris Jensen said. "From ice skating to carriage rides, a walking lights tour to the holiday market, Holidays at the Hill has become a winter tradition with activities for all ages looking to celebrate with friends and family."

The temporary ice rink, with real ice, will open at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 18 and will close for the season on Jan. 8, 2024.

The 52-by-96-foot ice rink will be located at the Market Plaza at Federal Hill Commons.

From Nov. 18 through Dec. 22, Ice Plaza hours are 5 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday; 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday. Starting on Dec. 23, hours will be extended to 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday for enjoyment during Noblesville Schools' winter break. The rink will be open 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. every Sunday throughout the season. The rink will have special holiday hours on Nov. 24 (11 a.m. to 9 p.m.), and Dec. 24 and 31 (11 a.m. to 4 p.m.). The ice plaza will be closed on Thanksgiving and Christmas. Hours may change due to daily weather conditions for the safety of participants.

All ages are welcome to participate and rental ice skates range from kid to adult sizes. Admission rates are $13 for those ages 13 and older and $11 for ages 12 and younger. Multiple skate passes are offered online at a discounted price and skating aids will be available for $3. Guests may bring their own skates if they prefer, but skate rental is included in the admission fee.

“2023 will be the seventh consecutive year of the city hosting the Ice Plaza,” Parks Director Brandon Bennett said. “Instead of offering sessions, our Ice Plaza allows skaters to enjoy the ice for as long as they want. Admission is all day long so after skating for a bit, patrons can take a break to visit any of our fantastic nearby restaurants and stores and return to skate some more without having to pay again.”

Families can reserve a unique, private carriage ride through downtown Noblesville. Rides last approximately 15 minutes and can seat up to six adults and three to five children on adults’ laps. Carriage rides will be offered on six days in December.

Leading up to Christmas Eve, private rides with Santa will be available Dec. 15 to 18. In addition to Santa, rides will seat up to five adults and three to five children on adults’ laps. Each ride includes only one group and must be reserved in advance online at bit.ly/npcarriagerides. Carriage ride registration will open at noon Wednesday, Nov. 15.

Federal Hill Commons’ event lawn will again be transformed into a walkable lights display with festive, picturesque views and a warming shelter and food/drink trucks on select days. The Holiday Market, hosted by Noblesville Main Street, will take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 2 and will include local restaurants and holiday artisan vendors for shoppers. The Holiday in Lights Parade hosted by the City of Noblesville at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 2 will end at Federal Hill Commons.

Holidays at the Hill would not be possible without the support of the following businesses and organizations: Align Orthodontics, Bailey & Wood Financial Group, Building Envelope Allies, Burtner Electric, CCH+A, Context Design, CSI Signs, Federal Hill Apartments, Gaylor Electric, Horizon Bank, Indiana American Water, IU Health, McGavic Outdoor Power, Metronet, Midwest Paving, Mufflers and More, Myers Construction Management Inc., Old Town Companies, Pediatric Dentistry of Noblesville, Peterson Architecture, RCX Sports, Reggie’s Motorworks, and The Noble Mechanic.

Also guest conducting is Sabin Martinez. Martinez recently completed work on a dual master's degree in music performance and conducting from Butler University and served as the graduate assistant for the Butler University Athletic Bands. He was the winner of the 2021 concerto competition at Butler and frequently teaches and plays in bands and chamber ensembles in the Indianapolis area.

The Hamilton County Community Band (HCCB), with 80-plus volunteer members, was formed on Feb. 25, 2018, with a meeting between current director Brian Swart, Eric Thornbury, and Marc Feeney. These three men saw a need for a true community concert band in Hamilton County.

“Our mission is to have a “FUN” atmosphere that is HCCB performs multiple concerts in and around the Hamilton County area. Rehearsals are held weekly on Sunday evenings at Noblesville High School.

Please consider supporting this community endeavor at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 3 in the Noblesville High School Auditorium. Bring the family and grandkids and kick off your holiday season. A freewill offering

Their prices are rock-bottom because we are members of their Neighbors Club.

Our dogs and cats are small, and we can easily store a month’s worth of food for all our pets thanks to having large bins with lids. The bags of food aren’t too heavy. I enjoy seeing everyone at this store once a month, plus they are great community supporters. This is one load that is quite light for me. With a little bit of research and planning, you can discover the best options to help slash your labor in this area as well.

One mental load that I am working to decrease, however, is prescriptions. My husband John gets three a month from two different pharmacies. Many people are switching to getting their prescriptions via mail or delivery.

This is helpful, especially when you have the same prescriptions from month to month. Most pharmacies, even small local ones, offer this service for free for regular mail or no rush delivery. The advantages include:

1. Not waiting in line at the pharmacy.
2. Cutting you out of the middle and having prescriptions sent to the pharmacy right from your doctor.
3. Easy transfer of existing refills.
4. Saving time and gas.
5. Avoiding exposure to germs in crowded pharmacies.

With the larger pharmacies, by using a simple app on your phone, you can receive notifications when your prescription is ready, choose a delivery method, upload a payment method, and even track your prescription.

If you’re not tech savvy, you can still get prescriptions mailed or delivered to you and often save money. Many insurance plans allow a reduced copay when ordering a 90-day supply for home delivery. Talk to your doctor and ask for a 90-day supply with the appropriate number of refills. Ask them about generic options as well.

To get things started, you can bring in your prescription to the pharmacy, submit it by mail, ask your doctor to call, fax, or e-prescribe it, or fill out a refill submission form by hand.

I’m working with my husband to switch to this option because it feels like one of us is always running to our local pharmacy at least once every week or two. Even though we get automated reminders of when a prescription is due for pick up, this errand gets old and adds to our load.

By the way, there are similar systems for your pets’ prescriptions. Some sites offering this service are chewy.com, drsfoster-smith.com, 1-800PetMeds, and PetCareRx. You may also save money for your furry friends’ medications this way!

Update No. 117

I take great pleasure in highlighting the accomplishments of our students and alumni at every opportunity.

Theresa Morris ('88), an accomplished mentor and resource, has been a guiding force for students seeking opportunities in the literary field. Kelly Lewis ('88) has joined Theresa in supporting the efforts of young authors and illustrators from Heights with plans to release new books soon.

Ryan Adkins is set to release his third book with a fourth in development. His Monsters of Math series is illustrated by Lu Hubbell ('23), who has also illustrated and/or contributed to three other published works. Sarah Adkins' second book in her series, Tasha's Adventures in Cooking, with Abi Burk ('23) as the series' illustrator along with her sister Kai Burk ('23), who contributed to that series as well as illustrating the Mama

DR. DEREK ARROWOOD
Heights Superintendent

Tembo series. New author Abraham Martin's first book in a developing series about an adventurous anthropologist is set to be released in 2024.

Hailey Montgomery ('21) reached out to share that she is Director of Funds for the Ball State University Dance Marathon executive board and fundraising for this year's event. She credited her interest and involvement in helping others to her experience with a Meals-on-Wheels trip her junior year at Heights. She said it was so impactful, it helped lead her to helping Riley Children and families in need at BSU. I couldn't help but feel proud of this former student who was inspired in high school to continue to do good work for others. Anyone can support her efforts for Riley here.

Speaking of accomplishments, senior Camryn Runner, a University of Evansville recruit, passed Jessica Carr's ('11) career scoring record of 1,340 points on Saturday (1,347) to become Heights' All-Time Leading Scorer in the women's basketball program. After Tuesday night's game, Camryn now stands at 1,377 points scored for Heights. Amazing!

Interested in a career in aviation? Then you won't want to miss Aviation Career Exploration Day on Dec. 2 hosted by Republic Airways, Leadership In Flight Training (LIFT) Academy, and The Pursuit Institute for students and their families in Hamilton County. Information and registration can be found here.

On a side note, the Indiana Department of Health (IDOH) is administering a survey seeking input on what your household needs to be healthy and what is needed to support your well-being. Your feedback will help IDOH better serve you and others across Indiana. This survey, open through Dec. 15, is voluntary, anonymous, and available here. Here for Spanish.

Heads up. A waterline improvement project is underway in the Town of Arcadia through the end of December. Because there is a slight possibility that water service throughout our campus could be impacted, we are encouraging our families to be prepared for the possibility of synchronous e-learning day(s). In the event of losing water service for an extended period, communication will be sent out in a similar manner to that of a weather-related closure. We're keeping our fingers crossed that the project continues through completion without incident.

With the Thanksgiving holiday coming up next week, I can't help but reflect on the importance of gratitude in our lives. Gratitude is a powerful force that can foster a sense of well-being, improve relationships, and enhance the overall quality of our lives. Wishing you a Thanksgiving season filled with joy, love, and a profound sense of gratitude.

OneZone announces 2024 legislative priorities

Submitted

OneZone Chamber of Commerce has announced its 2024 legislative priorities for local lawmakers to address during the legislative session at the Indiana Statehouse. This year OneZone will concentrate its efforts on childcare and workforce development.

OneZone's focus on workforce will be to support policies and incentives that encourage attracting, training, and retaining talent to meet the needs of the area's current and future workforce. OneZone believes while the labor market remains robust, the number of qualified workforce participants continues to dwindle, with job vacancies causing problems for industries across the board.

It is critical that Indiana allows businesses to remain competitive and, thus, spurring growth in existing and future economic development. This could include policies that encourage quality of place and infrastructure investments that attract and retain talent, remove overly burdensome regulations, and keep Indiana's tax climate business-friendly.

"Workforce plays an important role as we look to attract talent, not just in neighboring states but across the country," OneZone President & CEO Jack Russell said. "We will continue to be a voice for businesses to help attract and retain talent."

OneZone will also focus on improving childcare policies. OneZone supports increased access to quality educational programming for Hoosier children – specifically for childcare and pre-kindergarten programs. OneZone supports regulatory change to decrease undue burdens on facilities. Additionally, OneZone supports innovative ideas to grow the workforce to meet the needs of employers and employees.

Quality childcare and pre-kindergarten programs are essential to grow our future talent pipeline and promote a strong educational foundation before starting a formal K-12 education. In addition, quality programming for children allows parents to have the ability to participate in the workforce, have financial stability, and even continue furthering their own education. Decreasing regulatory burdens for childcare providers allows for increased access and availability and allows them to focus on providing quality care.

"We saw great discussion in the 2023 session around childcare and hope to build off the momentum," Russell said. "We look forward to working with our Hamilton County legislators on creating a strong foundation for Hoosier children while finding new and innovative ways to allow parents to participate in the workforce."

As the session approaches make sure to attend the January, February, and March Eggs & Issues. Hear from state legislators on these topics and more. The first Eggs & Issues will be from 8 to 9:30 a.m. on Jan. 12 at The Bridgewater Club.

Better health starts with better sleep

“Be thy sleep silent as night is, and as deep.” – Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

I have a hunch that my subject matter this week will resonate with a few of you. Sleep – the kind that lasts for several hours – renews brain and body functioning, leaving us awake and refreshed ... remember? I am sure there are people reading this and unsure of why I would select this topic and if you are one of those people – good for you!

For most of my life sleep was never an issue: wash face, brush teeth, jammies, head on pillow, done. And while I usually have no issues falling asleep, my brain sometimes knocks on my skull around 2 a.m. or so, maybe later or a bit earlier, saying, “Hey! Let’s talk!” One never knows!

How common are sleep problems? Having trouble sleeping is commonly reported throughout the world. According to the American Sleep Association (AMA), sleep disorders currently affect as many as 50 to 70 million U.S. adults and insomnia is the most frequently reported.

It is often accepted that since we are all different that our specific sleep needs are different, and of course that would apply to toddlers, adults, teenagers, etc. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, adults need seven or more hours of sleep per night for the best health and wellbeing.<sup>1</sup> Short sleep duration is defined as less than seven hours of sleep per 24-hour period.

It is also commonly accepted that as we age our sleep habits and patterns change; I personally can attest to my own experiences thus far. So what is going on and how can we make the necessary changes to ensure that we have better sleep – therefore better health, stronger immune systems, increased cognitive abilities, and increased longevity? Unfortunately, there are no “easy” answers to that question. Many of the random articles you read, and I concur with their suggestions, advise us to turn off electronics of all kinds, make sure your bedroom is comfortably cool, no caffeine in hours leading up to your bedtime, keep the lighting off or very low, etc.

Most of us are aware of these suggestions and follow them, as I do. However, the awakening issue persists. Sigh. While, thankfully, this does not occur on a regular basis it occurs frequently enough to further study the subject.

There is so much information about sleep issues and disorders that it can be confusing and unclear regarding how we can identify whether we should seek medical advice and/or make changes in our own habits and lifestyles which can benefit our bodies to get the proper rest it requires. It is important to seek the advice of your physician.

Get to the Thanksgiving table safely

Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership stepping up patrols during peak Thanksgiving travel

The REPORTER

Thanksgiving is a time for families to gather. However, with more people on the roadways, there is greater potential for crashes. That is why the Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership is joining law enforcement agencies from across the state to make sure everyone gets to their destination safely.

“This holiday season, we expect to see a lot of traffic on the roads. Please make smart decisions by not mixing drinking and driving,” said Devon McDonald, Executive Director of the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute. “Be proactive and plan for a sober driver.”

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), impaired driving and fatal crashes spike during the Thanksgiving holiday. In 2021, 190 people throughout the nation died in alcohol-impaired driving crashes in the holiday travel period ranging from the day before Thanksgiving to the Monday following Thanksgiving.

NHTSA data shows there are more motor vehicle traffic crash fatalities during holiday periods due to increased travel time, more alcohol usage, and excessive driving speed.

The issue is made worse by Thanksgiving Eve, also known as “Drinksgiving” or “Blackout Wednesday.” On that day, there is an increase in overconsumption of alcohol.

From November 2017 to November 2021, 137 drivers involved in fatal alcohol-impaired crashes on the night before Thanksgiving. In 2021 alone, 36 drivers in fatal crashes were alcohol impaired. The Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership reminds people that impaired driving is a matter of life and death.

“The goal of law enforcement in addressing overconsumption of alcohol is not only to enforce the law but also to promote public safety, reduce accidents, and create an environment where individuals can enjoy themselves responsibly,” said Hamilton County Sheriff Dennis Quakenbush. “Education, prevention, and intervention are essential components of the approach to mitigating the negative effects of excessive alcohol consumption. We want everyone to make it their destinations safely for the Thanksgiving holiday.”

Officers will be on the roads on high alert for impaired drivers. Motorists are encouraged to plan ahead to get home safely by designating a sober driver or by using public transportation or a ride service like Uber or Lyft. Never drive impaired or let friends get behind the wheel if they have been drinking.

By working together, we can save lives and make sure there are no empty places at the Thanksgiving table this year.

Indianapolis man sentenced to five years in federal prison for manufacturing counterfeit currency

The REPORTER

Jacob Seyfried, 47, Indianapolis, has been sentenced to five years in federal prison after pleading guilty to manufacturing counterfeit currency.

According to court documents, on Nov. 13, 2021, a Carmel Police Department Officer initiated a traffic stop on a Cadillac with stolen license plates near 96th street. The driver was Seyfried.

Seyfried stated that he had been released from jail about six days prior and had been staying at the nearby Clarion Hotel. He claimed that he borrowed the Cadillac and just finished shopping at Kohl's.

The Carmel officer searched the vehicle and found a $100 bill under the console that appeared brighter in color than normal. The officer also found several receipts on the floorboard of the vehicle, a paper shredder in the trunk, and a Kohl's shopping bag containing a Nike coat and backpack.

The officers searched Seyfried's person and removed a wad of $50 bills. Seyfried told officers he had about $400 in cash on him at the time. Officers examined the money and noticed that most of the bills had the exact same serial number. Officers recovered a total of $300 in counterfeit $100 and $50 bills. Officers went to Kohl's and recovered the bills that Seyfried used to pay for his purchases, which were also counterfeit. A $50 bill Seyfried used at Kohl's had the same serial number as the counterfeit bills police later found on his person.

At the Clarion Hotel, law enforcement officers searched the room Seyfried checked out of that morning. During their search, they located items used to manufacture counterfeit bills, including gel pens, double-sided tape, a water proofer, a printing paper booklet, several articles of ink and paint, and two printers. Officers also recovered eight pages of printed, counterfeit $100 bills, and four pages of printed counterfeit $50 bills.

Seyfried has a lengthy criminal history including convictions for forgery, possessing a handgun as a convicted felon, and a prior federal conviction for mail fraud. He was caught with a counterfeit title for a stolen $50,000 Dodge Charger while on pretrial release in this case.

“Undeterred by multiple convictions and jail time, Mr. Seyfried continued to use fraud and deceit to line his pockets,” said Zachary A. Myers, United States Attorney for the Southern District of Indiana. “Creating counterfeit currency is not a victimless crime, it harms everyone in our economy-stealing income from businesses and raising prices for consumers. The serious prison sentence here demonstrates that fraudsters and forgers will face serious punishment for economic crimes. I commend the Carmel Police Department and the U.S. Secret Service, along with our federal prosecutor, for their diligent work to ensure that this criminal is held accountable.”

“The sentencing in this case is a testament to the outstanding work of the Carmel Police Department,” said Jeffrey R. Adams, Special Agent in Charge of the U.S. Secret Service Indianapolis Field Office. “We would like to thank the U.S. Attorney's Office and the Carmel Police Department for their partnership in this investigation.”

The Carmel Police Department and U.S. Secret Service investigated this case. The sentence was imposed by U.S. District Court Judge James P. Hanlon. Judge Hanlon also ordered that Seyfried be supervised by the U.S. Probation Office for three years following his release from federal prison.

U.S. Attorney Myers thanked Assistant United States Attorney Adam J. Eakman, who prosecuted this case.

Sen. Braun: “If we do not embrace AI, we won’t be able to counter it”

Sogility to partner with Hoosier FC

The REPORTER

On Thursday, U.S. Senator Mike Braun (R-Ind.), Ranking Member of the U.S. Special Committee on Aging, delivered the following opening remarks at the committee’s hearing titled, “Modern Scams: How Scammers Are Using Artificial Intelligence & How We Can Fight Back.”

While the most common scams are still old-fashion impersonation, we are now seeing fraudsters leverage artificial intelligence (AI) to carry out sophisticated attacks.

Scammers utilize voice-cloning and deepfakes to pose as much more realistic threats than consumers are used to.

With the amount of personal information already online, these scammers can target practically anyone.

These damages, as highlighted in our Fraud Book, can amount to billions of dollars in losses.

We must also recognize that AI has facilitated an extraordinary number of positive developments.

AI has made a massive resurgence in the past 10 years to become more widespread, powerful and easier to use than ever before.

AI has materialized across multiple industries, being used to detect cancer, predict equipment failure for manufacturing, and detect fraud in banking.

It is consumer demand that has been a driving force in AI investment and advancement. It is estimated that worldwide spending on AI will reach nearly $98 billion this year.

I know first-hand from being an entrepreneur the importance of embracing technology to grow your business. There are clear benefits to AI, but it is also something we need to be careful about unrolling.

In the context of frauds and scams, AI can be leveraged negatively - but it can also be part of the solution.

The private sector has utilized AI and machine learning since the 1990s to combat fraud.

It is important that the government embraces similar technology by testing promising solutions to systems that suffer the most from fraud, like Medicare.

Taxpayers are losing more than $60 billion every year in Medicare-related fraud and payment errors, and individuals are sometimes charged up to $1,200 in co-pays per scam.

I will be introducing the Medicare Transaction Fraud Prevention Act, which empowers CMS to conduct a fraud detection pilot utilizing machine learning.

This bill targets two categories of historically high-fraud Medicare-covered products, Diagnostic testing and Durable Medical Equipment.

By notifying beneficiaries in real time with suspicious purchase alerts, this bill uses successful techniques that are already employed by private industry.

While some of my colleagues have called for heavy-handed federal regulations on AI, I am very concerned that we do not smother it.

I am proud of championing solutions like this to help the government better integrate working solutions and look forward to learning about similar commonsense solutions for long-term fraud reduction.

ISAAC AND ABIMELEK

Isaac's servants dug in the valley and discovered a well of fresh water there. But the herders of Gerar quarreled with those of Isaac and said, "The water is ours!" So he named the well Esek, because they disputed with him. Then they dug another well, but they quarreled over that one also; so he named it Sitnah. He moved on from there and dug another well, and no one quarreled over it. He named it Rehoboth, saying, "Now the Lord has given us room and we will flourish in the land."

Retta Faye Edwards

July 17, 1944 – November 15, 2023

Retta Faye Edwards, 79, Lapel, passed away on Wednesday, November 15, 2023, at her home surrounded by her family. She was born on July 17, 1944, to Samuel and Thelma (Brumett) Estes in Union County, Ky.
Fay spent many years working for Riverview Hospital in the housekeeping department and was a member of Bethel Baptist Church in Lapel. She enjoyed making and selling crafts and was the "go to" seamstress for all her family and friends. Fay would go all out for Easter with an egg hunt and dressing up as the Easter Bunny. She volunteered for Operation Christmas Child for many years, and it was her goal to outdo herself from the previous year by recruiting help from family and friends, who could never say no. Fay liked spending time with her church family and loved having sleepovers with her grandchildren. She liked to travel and taking "snapshots of life" pictures.
She is survived by her daughter, Barbara (Tom) Roark; sons, Mark Edwards and Matthew (Shirley) Edwards; 14 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; brother, Bill Estes; nephew, Mike Estes; and several self-adopted children and grandchildren.
In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Gerald D. Edwards; daughters, Michelle Wiltermood and Tina Brown; granddaughter, Jessica Brown; twin sister, Rita May Estes; and sister, Jewel Lee.
Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 21, 2023, at Randall & Roberts Funeral Center, 1685 Westfield Road, Noblesville, with Pastor Jimmy Gilbert officiating. Visitation will be from 12:30 p.m. to the time of service at the funeral home. Burial will be at Chester Friends Cemetery in Westfield.
Memorial contributions may be made to Operation Christmas Child, c/o Samaritan's Purse, P.O. Box 3000, Boone, NC 28607 (samaritanspurse.org).

championship game.

Claire is also a long-time athlete in her sport; she started her running career at Our Lady of Mount Carmel in the third grade. She also understood what it was like to go through a competitive sectional, as Guerin Catholic had to advance out of the tough Noblesville sectional and Shelbyville regional just to qualify for state.

"It has been great competing against girls that are faster because it has pushed us harder and therefore we have been able to run faster times and reach our goals," said Claire. "It has been not only challenging but a wonderful learning experience and as a result, we have proven we can compete at a higher level!"

They may be two sisters in different sports, but they now have the common bond of being state qualifiers. And, each other's biggest fans.

"I don't quite chase her around the full length of the course like my mom does, but I have seen her run," said Ava.

Claire said "it's been a joy watching my sister her whole life but particularly in her senior year play soccer for the last time!"

New video seeks to restore respect for game officials

The REPORTER

Community members can now view a free video on the Hamilton County Sports Authority \(HCSA\) website about good sportsmanship and respecting officials through a partnership with Officially Human. Officially Human exists to restore respect to game officials and recognize them as authorities on the fields and courts.

"Officially Human is thrilled to partner with Hamilton County Sports Authority," said Officially Human Founder Brenda Hilton. "In my first conversation with the HCSA team, they shared a desire to drive change in the Hamilton County area by being the first sports authority to partner with Officially Human. This organization sees the value of raising awareness surrounding the positive treatment of officials, and we look forward to working alongside their communities."

The Elevate Respect

video on HCSA's website informs viewers about the job of an official and how to restore respect on the fields and courts. Recommended viewers include spectators, coaches and players of any sport.

"We want to raise awareness throughout the community regarding the difficult jobs officials have and how to increase respect for them, no matter what sport," said Hamilton County Sports Authority Director Carl Daniels. "We can't support sport tourism without supporting our officials."

United Umpires, an organization that schedules baseball umpires for Westfield's Grand Park, is a strong believer in Officially Human's mission of "humanizing" officials and umpires.

"We are thrilled that Hamilton County Sports Authority is partnering with the Officially Human team and look forward to seeing them around Hamilton County and Grand Park as we all work together to solve the shortage, retention and treatment of sports officials," said The United Brand Chief Executive Officer Alex Skandalis.

This partnership will continue to grow with new resources and programming in the weeks to come. For the latest information, go to HamiltonCountySports.com.
