4-H RESULTS SPECIAL EDITION

Dynamite 4-H Fair

The REPORTER

What a fair that was!

Nothing could hold back Hamilton County's enthusiasm for either a summer tradition or an opportunity to support the hard-working kids involved in the 4-H program.

This year's publication is bigger than ever, and this special edition is just the tip of the iceberg. We have filled 40 full-size pages, but thanks to all the people who offered us their own photos, anecdotes, and other forms of help, we could have filled at least 40 more.

To those of you who gave us literal thousands of photos this year, thank you. We wish we could have published every single picture, but at some point we had to wrestle the publisher to the ground and say, "Enough! Stop adding pages or this thing will never hit the press!"

The Reporter does not have any official numbers on how many people attended the fair, but from what we saw, it looked like more than ever.

What we can tell you for certain is that our 4-H results pages (the entire D-section of this edition) has more entries by far than the last several years. Thus, we know that 4-H participation in this county remains strong.

4-H offers so much to young people: life lessons, the old-fashioned American work ethic, new friends, the particular brand of fun and pride you can only get from working hard on something you care about, countless memories, and many more benefits.

Thank you, Hamilton County, for flocking to 2003 Pleasant Street en masse to support the next generation of American leaders.

Whether you went for the food, for family, for friends, or just to get out of the house on a string of days with perfect summer weather to have some fun, you are the reason this was one dynamite fair!

One photographer and two owners of The Reporter (all nerds) agree: Napoleon Dynamite and Pedro the Llama deserve to be on the front page.

X-tra Meaty Edition

All-Local 100% Homegrown Prime-Cut News*

Includes over 1/4 pound of Hamilton County 4-H results, stories & photos*

Below is a list of friends and supporters of The Reporter all stepped up in impressive ways to help us not only bring back full 4-H results in print this year, but also made it possible to give Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank's "Meating The Need" program our largest donation check ever (see Page A5).

Without the support of the advertisers you will see in this 40-page special edition, none of the Hamilton County 4-H participants would be getting any of the ink they deserve.

These pages are packed and stacked with every photo and bit of information we could squeeze in, and it is only possible because of the deep sense of community and willingness to give back exhibited by them. If you are reading this in print, you are holding more than a quarter pound of USDA prime cut locally sourced 4-H news. Think about that.

Just over 5 ounces of ink and paper. 40 pages of memories of sunny days, smiles, lessons and fun.

Thank you, one and all, for helping us once again earn the title "Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper!"

From a small club to the big stage Strawtown's Boggs wins 4-H crown

By RICHIE HALL

NOBLESVILLE – The person that was most surprised about Cheyenne Boggs winning the Hamilton County 4-H Queen Pageant was likely Cheyenne Boggs.

The Strawtown resident and senior-to-be at Hamilton Heights said after being crowned queen that dresses and makeup are "not my thing." But with confidence and her outgoing nature, Boggs won the crown at last Friday's Pageant, which took place at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds in Noblesville.

Boggs was one of 16 contestants at the Pageant, which dates back to 1961. The 17-year-old and nine-year member of 4-H has been the president of the Heartland 4-Hers for the past three years. She is the daughter of David Boggs and Mandy Boggs.

"It's just a small, little local club," said Cheyenne Boggs. "We love the way it is."

Boggs had to miss the first pageant meeting because she

In 2020, I ran for HSE School Board because I believe parents, teachers, and students needed an advocate who would listen to their concerns, do the research, and ask the tough questions in board meetings.

I have passionately carried out my responsibilities as a Board Trustee for you - the voters, taxpayers, teachers, and parents in the HSE School District. And I am asking for your vote again on November 5th, seeking a 2nd term as the incumbent candidate for Fall Creek Township At-Large.

As a business owner and realtor, I know highly rated HSE Schools drive our community's growth and property values. And as a single mom of four HSE Schools graduates (my youngest will attend Purdue this fall), I know the quality education that my kids received from HSE Teachers.

As your School Board Trustee, I want every student in our HSE Schools community to receive the best education that we can provide. When I state I want excellence in education for HSE schools that means excellence for all students. There is an increasing demand for career and technology education classes. Also, there is our exceptional learner's program that we need to continue with providing excellent teaching and services. Our students need the best curriculum and teaching methods available for literacy and math so they can build a solid foundation to guarantee academic success in the future.

This is the vision I see for HSE schools. Providing an excellent education for all students, encompassing all educational pathways.

Blood drive meets vital need

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

Local hospitals rely on blood donations. The Hamilton County 4-H Fair hosted a blood drive as yet another way to work together for the good of the community and show support for a vital cause.

The Versiti Blood Center bus was on site Friday, July 19, so that fair participants and attendees could donate in a clean and air-conditioned environment. Staff not only collected traditional blood donations but double red cell donations as well.

Blood Drive Team Lead Penne Reynolds said that the process for double red cell donations filters out the red blood cells allowing the other components of the blood to go back into the donor. These donors have to meet height and weight requirements as well as having certain hemoglobin levels.

"It can allow recipients to get the blood they need from one person rather than a little blood from a lot of people," Reynolds said. "It also cuts down on transfusion reactions. And it's a smaller needle, so that's a selling point."

Versiti will send all donations to their labs for testing as required by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

was at a Future Farmers of America (FFA) contest, which she admitted "totally threw me off. But I went in it with a confident, strong head. I was going to try my best no matter the outcome, so I guess that is what happened out of it."

But competing in FFA helped her during the interview portion of the contest, which took place the morning of the pageant when the contestants are interviewed by the judges.

"I was definitely nervous, but I am one that does not like to show my nerves at all," said Boggs. "So, with FFA I've been in a lot of interviews. I know I can talk about myself, that's not anything different. I knew I was going to answer questions to my best ability and once it's out of my mouth, I can't change it."

Contestants participate in an evening gown competition during the Pageant, where they are asked a question by Master of Ceremonies Adam Good. He asked Boggs, "What is your favorite 4-H project, and how has it helped you prepare for the future?"

"My favorite 4-H project is most definitely Junior Leaders," said Boggs. "I get to interact with all these lovely ladies back here and we get to learn our public speaking skills and a hundred other things that help us for our career and our future."

Boggs got to know her fellow contestants better as well, and she was appreciative of the relationships that they formed.

"I am going to go away with 16 friends forever, for sure," said Boggs. "I knew most of the girls going into it, but I did not know their backgrounds and certain things about them that I never would've known if I didn't do this pageant."

Queen's Court

Right before Boggs was crowned as the 4-H Queen, Good announced the members of the Queen's Court. It consists of Sophia Hulen (First Runner-Up), Josephine Kile (Second Runner-Up), Meghan Haws (Third Runner-Up), and Mac Smith (Fourth Runner-Up).

Kile was also named Miss Congeniality. She said it was "an honor to be Miss Congeniality," which is voted on by her peers, and that she is "so excited to work with all of these amazing young ladies" during the 4-H Fair.

"I learned a lot on public speaking skills as well as interviewing skills and how to communicate with people of all ages," said Kile.

Crash course in common 4-H terms

4-H Record of Achievement

It is very important that members have a current record, as this is how 4-H'ers are selected for trips, awards, and scholarships.

Record Book Completion

A 4-H member is considered complete in his or her project work if they have "completed" their project book record sheet(s).

It is the responsibility of the 4-H leaders to review the project books and contact the Extension Office prior to the 4-H project judging if a member is incomplete. The project record books should be neat and completed.

The degree of completion will vary with the age of the member. There may be areas that the 4-H member cannot complete – an explanation should be given for this blank space (you may have to discuss this with your leader). Discuss the activities you have completed on your project(s) with your adult leader.

Please remember, a project with an incomplete project record sheet cannot be considered for a champion.

It is important that all our 4-H volunteers are consistent in reporting incompletes. When you are in doubt, please do not hesitate to contact the Extension Office. There is an electronic version on the website at extension.purdue.edu/hamilton.

4-H Project

A project is described as a "piece of the world's work which I have chosen to do during this 4-H year. When completed, it will represent ME – my thinking, my skill of hands, my work ideals... my very best."

4-H uses the project as a tool to accomplish its major task: the development of boys and girls. It allows young people to "learn by doing." Its learning experiences expose young people to the knowledge, understanding, skills, and expected behavior of the particular area of interest chosen.

The project provides for individualized learning. The actual project work is done by the member, usually at home; familiar spaces become the laboratory or workshop of informal education. A member may complete several items related to a project area.

Subject Areas

Each project covers a definite subject area. The project may be divided into as many as 10 different divisions where the member completes one project division each year enrolled.

The project advances from simple skills to more advanced skills and information in later divisions. The member builds on prior learning at a pace appropriate to the individual 4-H'er, usually based on the member's grade in school.

Project Manuals

A 4-H project manual contains help, information and direction needed to complete the project. Some projects have a manual for each division of the project. Others have one manual that the member uses throughout his 4-H career.

Project Records

Most projects have a record sheet which the 4-H'er uses to record the project expenses, income, work completed, and progress made in developing the project.

Most records are simple, while others require the help of parents or club leader. Keeping up-to-date records is important to tell your project story.

Project Ribbons

The Danish system uses color to signify different award levels. The 4-H Youth Development program awards ribbons in these colors:

• Purple (Superior): A purple is awarded to those entries that far exceed the average standard or meet the standards established for that particular class. This award indicates a near perfect exhibit.

• Blue (Excellent): A blue is awarded to those entries that exceed the average standard. This award indicates a certain degree of excellence that exceeds the average expectation and may be given to multiple participants.

• Red (Good): A red is awarded to those entries that meet the average standard or are slightly below the average standard established for that respective class. The general level of accomplishment meets expectations, but is less than excellent. Shortcomings are found in certain aspects to cause this ranking.

• White (Fair): A white is awarded to those entries that do not meet average standard. The level of accomplishment is less than expected. A ranking of white is deserved due to the severe shortcomings from the good standard.

• Green (Participation): A green is awarded when required components or pieces are missing from the exhibit.

Project Exhibit

Exhibits are required for most projects. This represents the member's year of work, and is usually displayed and judged (evaluated) at the County 4-H Fair.

Parents should provide the "parent helper" role of offering encouragement and advice, but the exhibit should represent the member's skills and knowledge learned in the project.

Remember, this exhibit is a small representation of what the 4-H member has learned through the 4-H process.

4-H Exhibit Judging

The exhibit judging is an evaluation held during the 4-H Fair.

The evaluation serves as a learning experience for the youth. The exhibit is only one measure of success and achievement. Members experience self-recognition, self-satisfaction, and the feeling of success and accomplishment as they complete and exhibit a project at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair.

As you prepare for the 4-H project judging, discuss the goals and procedures for the event with 4-H members in your club.

Workshops

Nearly everyone learns more quickly by listening, seeing and doing.

Workshops are held at the county level with resource leaders each year as needed. You are encouraged to take advantage of this learning opportunity. Leaders and parents are always welcome to attend. Workshop dates and locations will be announced in the newsletter.

Several areas also have workshops at local schools; contact your area leader for the dates. A workshop can also be held at the local club.

4-H: a different kind of youth organization

What is 4-H?

4-H is a leader in youth development, which began on the local level in response to evolving needs for new kinds of educational experiences for youth.

From the beginning, this youth-serving organization offered "hands-on" learning activities for young people so they might become productive citizens. Youth participants in 4-H activities have opportunities to offer positive contributions to our diverse and changing society.

4-H uses the far-reaching Cooperative Extension System network to offer youth programs and activities to diverse groups of young people in all 3,143 counties across the United States.

What is the 4-H Youth Development Education program?

The 4-H Youth Development Education program provides co-educational "hands-on" learning experiences in subject areas of interest to youth.

Young people who participate in 4-H programs develop citizenship awareness and leadership skills as they learn about new subject areas.

Kids in 4-H have fun while they learn! Non-formal educational activities help young people fully develop their skills and talents.

While they are learning about photography, the environment, job skills, or public speaking, young people practice a variety of skills in 4-H that will last a lifetime.

4-H is a community program.

How did 4-H evolve?

4-H began as a simultaneous response to needs throughout the country, rather than as the idea of one individual. The basis for this activity was to offer agricultural education to rural youth by organizing boys and girls clubs and through "learning by doing."

Is there a 4-H program in my community?

There are Cooperative Extension 4-H staff in nearly all 3,143 counties across the United States.

The county 4-H staff help people in local communities by providing information about projects and programs. They can tell you about fun and interesting "hands-on" learning opportunities available for youth in your community.

History of 4-H

4-H in Indiana was started in Hamilton County. In 1904, John Haines, Superintendent of Hamilton County Schools, held a meeting for boys interested in learning to grow corn. Mr. Haines visited the project sites, held two instructional meetings, and had his members exhibit their projects at the end of the year. Mr. Haines was credited with planning the first junior club in Indiana.

In 1912 girls' project clubs were added and in 1918 the club program became a part of the Agricultural Extension Program.

The mission of 4-H

The mission of today's 4-H is to help youth and volunteers in their development through experiential educational programs, using the knowledge and educational base of Purdue University and the United States Department of Agriculture. It is accomplished through direct involvement of youth, adults, and the community.

4-H educational programs are designed to empower young people to become independent and participating members of their family and community by creating experiences to build self-confidence, developing inquiring minds, encouraging interpersonal cooperation, developing concern for the community, and teaching decision-making through real life participation.

Helping when it matters most

Hamilton County comes together to fight local food insecurity

The REPORTER

In 2022, owners of The Hamilton County Reporter brought back the tradition of printing comprehensive 4-H results in a special publication filled with abundant color photos of 4-H kids and their projects. We also started a new tradition: using the advertising money from our 4-H publication as a way to help families in need.

For the last nine years, Hamilton County Harvest (HCH) Food Bank has run a program called Meating the Need which provides healthy LOCAL protein for the county's most vulnerable kids and families and strengthens the partnerships between farm families and the greater community.

On Tuesday, July 23 at the 4-H Livestock Auction, HCH purchased beef, dairy cattle, and hogs from LOCAL 4-H members. Meating the Need donations go towards the sale of the animals and to the 4-H members as they pursue their education and life goals.

On Thursday, July 18, Reporter Owner Ray Adler presented a check to HCH Executive Director Anita Hagen to help feed families in Hamilton County.

This year the need is greater and so is the donation.

No matter how many times some people will tell you that the economy is great, and that we are better off than we were only a few years ago, more people and more businesses are struggling now. One consequence of that fact is that HCH must pay more to have 4-H auction animals processed into protein portions for local families.

For those few of you who might dispute the fact that this economy is challenging, and the need for donations like this is greater than ever, consider this:

- 22,370 Hamilton County residents are food insecure, including 5,110 children.
- Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank reports a 30 percent increase in need in 2023 and a 50 percent increase in food purchasing.
- Meals on Wheels reports 62 percent of its clients are requesting financial assistance which is a 52 percent increase since 2022.
- Feeding Team is up to 67 self-service pantries.

When Hagen told this newspaper HCH would have to pay thousands of dollars more this year than they ever have before, we reached out to our advertisers asking them to help us help others.

"The response was humbling," Publisher Stu Clampitt said. "All our costs are higher this year too: postage, press fees, gas for delivery. But this community has an incredible heart for service and our advertisers all stepped up in a big way to help the Meating the Need program. This year we were able to give $5,000 to help HCH fill the gap."

Reporter Owner Ray Adler said the newspaper is just doing what it should.

"This is exactly what newspapers are supposed to do," Adler said. "Don't thank us. Thank everyone who said yes when we asked them to pitch in."

In its history, the Meating the Need program has already provided over 32,225 pounds of meat for Hamilton County food pantries and meals programs.

"The Reporter is privileged to be able to support important programs like Meating the Need," Reporter Owner and Circulation Director Isaac Taylor said. "We make good on our commitments to the people of this county precisely because of the sense of responsibility we share with countless other conscientious businesses and organizations."

The HCH donation check was not from the newspaper, but from the numerous people and businesses who gave their support to both bring 4-H results back to print, and to help our neighbors who are struggling in the current economy.

For every flavor, churn, churn, churn, there is a freezin'

By AMY ADAMS

The Ice Cream Contest almost didn't happen this year because of the construction, but based on the number of people crowded in for samples on Saturday night, fairgoers are happy it did.

This year, the Ice Cream Contest featured three categories: Adult Hand Crank, Adult Electric and Youth Electric. The judges included County Attorney Connor Sullivan, County Councilmember Mark Heirbrandt, and John Jackson, architect with Mussett Nichols and Associates, the company tasked with the additions to the fairgrounds. They had their mouths ... er, hands full judging from all the delectable flavors.

The Parobachek family was back again this year, including Frank and Donna Parobachek, their son and daughter-in-law Jeffrey and Elisabeth Parobachek, and grandsons Andy Ransom and twins David and Luke Parobachek. Out of seven entries, the family took home four ribbons, including overall Reserve Grand Champion for Frank and Donna's Lemon Raspberry Swirl.

However, another family gave the Parobachek's a run for their money. The overall Grand Champion title went to Robert and Alyson Bray for their hand-cranked Blueberry Donut. Bret Burrow's Banana Split won Most Original, with its blend of strawberry, banana, pineapple, and nuts, and Ben Munson's Blueberry Cheesecake took first place in the Youth Electric division.

Newcomer siblings Lydia and Matthew Finkbeiner entered the Adult Electric division with a pineapple-orange-guava-flavored Tiki Room Treasure, despite Matthew being only 13.

The crowd, who got to partake of small sample cups after the contest, seemed to enjoy all the flavors, but this writer happened to favor Jeffrey and Elisabeth Parobachek's Indiana Peach. Made from their own peaches, the flavor took second place in the Adult Electric division.

Every dog family has its day

Becky Rushmore and her daughter Addison Rushmore are part of a multi-generational dog agility family. Becky's mother Sally Rushmore started the 4-H dog project in 1964 and continues to be involved to this day.

Any dog owner will tell you that dogs are part of the family.

In the case of the Rushmore family, they are also part of a tradition. Sally Rushmore began the Hamilton County 4-H dog project while still a Junior Leader, and she saw her daughter Becky Rushmore go through the program as well.

Now Becky's daughter Addison Rushmore is also part of the dog program, and she was there competing in the dog agility on July 13. Sally Rushmore said she also has a great granddaughter in the dog program, making it four generations.

Sally and a friend began the dog project in 1964, when the state of Indiana wanted to pilot a dog project for 4-H. The young women went to a dog training class in Broad Ripple to learn what to do.

"And then second year, we started having classes here at the Hamilton County Fairgrounds and I think we had four or five kids that joined us," said Sally Rushmore. "By the next year we had like 12 to 15 and it just grew from there."

"She's just been a great mentor and example for all the 4-Hers over the years," said Dawn Moos, a 4-H dog project leader. "I'm extremely grateful for her starting the project, because it's been so instrumental in my family. My mom, it's her 51st year. My daughter is a leader, my son is a judge."

"When I went to college, her mom took over from me because Dawn was just heartbroken that we might not have a program," said Sally Rushmore. "And so Linda (Arbuckle) took over, then Dawn stayed involved when she came back from college. And her sister did, too. And then Dawn's two kids, one of whom judged today, and the other one, who's helping run the program went through at the same time my kids did. And we just have always looked at it as being a family project for our families, and it's kept us really close as families."

Sally passed that enthusiasm for the dog program on to Becky, who said her favorite part of dog agility "was when I was a Junior Leader and I got to help other people do dog agility. That was really cool for me."

Becky's daughter Addison is now showing dogs, and she got advice from her mother and grandmother when it came to working with them. Addison competed with her dog Mia at this year's agility show.

"Give patience with dogs," said Addison. "I grew up helping with the show, so I learned from older people. I knew a lot when I got her. But I started with a different dog, so it was easier because she was already trained."

Sally Rushmore agrees, saying that patience is "very important," along with consistency in training.

"We're constantly telling the kids, 'practice, practice, practice,'" said Sally. "Praise your dog. Use patience. Be persistent." She calls those the "Four Ps" of dog training.

"You learn out of every 4-H project," said Sally Rushmore. "But this one, I think because we actually train an animal instead of just showing it, there's a lot more involved."

Good dogs 'come' for competition and 'stay' for demonstration

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

Several members of the dog drill team participated in a demonstration for the public in the rabbit tent on Saturday afternoon, July 20. Although there are 10 4-H'ers on the drill team, some were showing other animals at the time of the demonstration.

Dawn Moos, project leader for dogs, said that all participants in the dog project must begin with obedience training with all dogs being on a lead. Then participants can progress to showmanship, agility, and drill team.

"Participants learn patience and that dogs and people learn in different ways," Moos said. "They learn self confidence and leadership."

Despite the distractions of the smell of food and of rabbits and chickens nearby in the Small Animal Barn, the dogs and their handlers demonstrated a wide variety of skills. Moos said it is an opportunity for participants to learn that no matter how much they practice and train, things can go wrong when showing and they have to make the best of the situation.

Aubrey Johnson and Panda opened the presentation by demonstrating heeling, where Panda walked in a straight line next to Johnson and sat whenever Johnson stopped.

Carly Herring and Nici demonstrated a figure eight, in which Herring guided Nici to heel as she walked between and around two volunteers from the audience.

Caitlin Clark and Jimmy demonstrated recall, where Clark had Jimmy sit and stay and then walked away and called Jimmy to come to her.

"If your dog does something wrong, do not call your dog and punish them," Moos said. "Whenever you call your dog, you want it to be positive."

The participants went on to demonstrate showmanship and agility skills.

According to Moos, all the participants will be going to compete at the Indiana State Fair.

The Dog Project meets weekly on Tuesday nights from March through July.

Lawn mowing cuts a clear path to life skills

By ANNA MITCHELL
anna@readthereporter.com

The 4-H lawn and garden tractor driving and operating skills event took place July 21.

Contestants maneuvered a John Deere lawn mower through an obstacle course. Their time was recorded, and they were graded on how well they could do zero point turns and weave through the course.

Contestants were also required to show their safety knowledge regarding the mowers. Competing in this event gives kids the chance to compete in an area competition and potentially move onto the Indianapolis State Fair, but more importantly, it gives them valuable life skills.

Awards announcer Jason Reynolds said that lawn mower skills and knowledge may spark an interest in agricultural mechanics or lawn and garden mechanics in a contestant. More commonly, he said that these skills give kids a head start on driving. Safely driving a lawn mower lays the ground work for safely driving a car.

Usually, around eight kids sign up to drive the lawn mowers. This year, they doubled that number and welcomed 16 kids into the competition.

"Having that reception with all the number of kids who wanted to come drive and participate in it was pretty cool," Reynolds said. "As far as the kids and how well they've done, they've done phenomenal. They truly did phenomenal. I mean, we've got some very young kids who handled this 60 inch zero turn better than probably their parents could. It was kind of cool. It really was."

Leading llamas has its ups & downs

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

Usually held in the Llama Barn, the llamas and their handlers made themselves at home this year in the Show Arena for their leaping and limboing competitions due to recently laid wood chips in the Llama Barn, which make for a more slippery surface.

Llama entrants lead the llamas they are showing toward an obstacle with an adjustable rail and coax their llamas over in the leaping competition and under in the limbo competition. Llamas knocking over the rail or refusing to leap or limbo are disqualified, and the rail is raised or lowered each round. Leapers and limboers continue until a champion can be determined by process of elimination.

Llamas Maggie, handled by Lyla VanAlstine and Giselle Effing, and Smoke, handled by Olivia Puetz and Zoe Rearick, both leapt cleanly over the rail at its second-highest level, however they also both balked at the rail in its highest position. After multiple face-offs, it was determined that Maggie and Smoke would be named co-champions.

Perhaps surprisingly, the llamas, for the most part, were more reluctant to crawl under the rail than they were to jump over it, despite pushing and prodding from many handlers. Hinto, handled by Bria Robertson and Paige Wiser, emerged as the clear winner.

In the end, most llamas just prefer to walk, which they got to do quite a lot in the llama tent at multiple Walk-a-Llama events where little kids, and big kids alike, can walk along with a llama and its handler through a set course.

By ANNA MITCHELL

At Hamilton County 4-H Fair, the llama costume contest has been a popular event over the years, and 2024 was no different.

Many costumes revolved around references to shows and movies such as Napoleon Dynamite and Up.

Bennett Walters received the Intermediate Champion award for his marching band llama. This strapping llama was bedecked in sparkling red gear with a drum strapped to its back. Maybe it couldn't play the drum, but it wore it well.

Other costumes were out of this world.

Amelia Wiggins dressed her llama as space, giving it an Unidentified Flying Hat. She dressed herself as a person being abducted by an alien. Wiggins won Grand Champion for her creativity.

Wiggins' llama fashion journey started when she was in fifth grade, eight years ago. She entered a princess llama for her first competition. In other competitions, she dressed her llama as Harry Potter and even a bathtub.

Although 2024 was her last year at the 4-H llama costume contest, Wiggins plans to pour her creativity into becoming an artist.

"This year, I think it looked pretty great," Wiggins said. "Honestly, I was kind of nervous because there are a lot of great costumes, but I think it turned out fine and it turned out really great. It was a good way to end my time in 4-H costumes."

Feeding Team founders love llamas, too

Photos provided by Mark and Lisa Hall

Feeding Team Founders Mark and Lisa Hall (above) went to the Hamilton County 4-H Fair for a variety of reasons, but if you look at this page you might think it was just to pet the llamas. Mark spends a great deal of time taking care of his duties as Hamilton County Councilman. He and Lisa also run Feeding Team, a non-profit that helps provide resources for families facing food insecurity. If they want a little llama-time, that's fine by us! (Editor's note: be careful, Mark. Lisa likes to take in strays and we don't know if your house can handle a pet llama.)

Did these kids read that Odgen Nash poem?

Just when we though we were done with llama photos this year, Krissy Schultheiss sent us this great shot of the Llama Llama Red Pajama crew and we knew we would have to find space for one more. When we realized their 4-H club was surely named for the Odgen Nash poem we published on page B1 in this edition, our publisher decided this photo needed to be a full page wide. That is enough llamas, though. Time for some flowers . . .

Lucky Robots draw wide-eyed crowd

By ANNA MITCHELL
anna@readthereporter.com

Reporter photos by Anna Mitchell

Move over, dinosaurs, the upcoming generation has found a new sense of wonder in the world of robotics.

Karey Hideg and her family joined Lucky Robots Robotics Club about nine years ago. Karey's son Luke Hideg is the leader of the group, guiding his fellow members through the different challenges.

The members start by building their own robot. Then, they learn to code it with a tablet, giving it instructions to complete tasks on a tabletop layout. At 4-H, the Lucky Robots displayed two sets of challenges: The Green City layout and the Space layout.

For the Green City layout, the robots can turn a wind mill, push blocks through a dam, and other tasks. For the Space layout, they can launch a rocket and open a space station, amongst other tasks.

Through these challenges, the members learn to problem solve, work together, and present their robots to others. If one of their programs doesn't work, they try, try again.

"You to work individually and you have to work as a team because as a team we want to demonstrate as many positive things as we can to other children," Karey said. "We encourage each other because not all robots work, and they don't all do the programming that they're supposed to. They may run into difficulties like bumps in the table or the placement of the robots on the table. Sometimes they work, sometimes they don't. We do not put each other down. We always encourage and we offer suggestions. We practice our public speaking. We practice how to behave in public. It's a lot of self-confidence building."

As the members progress, they can build and program more advanced robots. Luke built a Five Nights at Freddy's set up. His robot had six motors, and constructing it took around three months.

Each member puts a lot of work into their robot, taking the time to problem solve and find solutions while encouraging each other through failure and success.

Talent that runs in the family

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

Hamilton County 4-H is largely a family event with siblings entering multiple events in the fair. The Talent Show is no different. At least four families had more than one entrant performing in the Talent Show, including the Allens, the Felicianos, the Montemers, and the Naths.

Fishers Junior High School choir teacher Cindy Baney and Riverside Junior High School choir teacher Will Rogers once again judged the contest, which included dance, instrumental, novelty, and vocal categories in both junior and senior divisions.

Last year's Senior Instrumental Reserve Grand Champion Ethan Feliciano played "Carmen Fantasy" by Sarasate on violin with his older sister Ella accompanying him on piano. They were named overall Grand Champions. Their younger brother Evan, who was named Grand Champion last year in the junior division, played Breval's "Sonata in C Major" on cello in the senior division this year and was named overall Reserve Grand Champion.

One reader's view of the Hamilton County 4-H Fair

Photos provided by Tonya Cassell

Every time we publish 4-H results, more people in the community send us their own photos to publish. We always try to get as many in as we possibly can, and this year we had to add more pages. There are three reasons this special edition is 40 pages long. 1.) Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank needed a little extra help with their Meating the Need program this year and advertisers jumped at the chance to help. 2.) There are far more kids listed in the results pages (the entire D-section of this publication) than last time. 3.) Our readers are the best humans on this planet. So many of you sent us your views of the 4-H Fair that we could have put out two special editions and still not fit everything. Thank you, Hamilton County, for your big giant heart for service and for your continued support of Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper!

Fashion Revue sewn up for 2024

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

Participants took the stage for the Sewing and Consumer Clothing Fashion Revue on Friday, July 19, before a standing-room-only crowd. The young men and women walked the runway, modeling everything from back-to-school wear to pajamas and from summer skirts to winter coats.

Consumer Clothing teaches participants life skills such as how to select clothing, how to put together an outfit, how to choose accessories, and more. Participants are judged in three categories: beginner, which includes grades three through five; intermediate, which includes grades six through eight; and advanced, which includes grades nine through 12. While 30 percent of the judging is about the outfit and how it looks, 40 percent of the final scores come from a notebook each participant creates about the process of creating the outfit, and 30 percent comes from an interview.

In Sewing, participants learn how to select fabrics and patterns, how to properly use a sewing machine, and how to sew projects with increasing difficulty. They also learn the fundamentals of construction using fabric. In Sewing, junior level participants are judged by grade, while senior level students are judged by categories, such as Informal/Casual, Dress-Up Wear, and even Free Choice.

"In addition to teaching 4-H'ers how to put together an outfit that suits them, Fashion Revue allows the participants the chance to show off their hard work and build their confidence in front of an audience," Fashion Revue Project Leader Amber Blakely said.

An honor group was selected in each category with reserve and grand champions being named. In addition, overall reserve and grand champions were chosen in three categories. In the Consumer Clothing category, Liesl Thompson was named Reserve Grand Champion, and Faith Lehman was named Grand Champion. In the Junior Sewing category, Melanie Clinebelle was named Reserve Grand Champion, and Bexley Stan was named Grand Champion. And in the Senior Sewing category, Avery Hills was named Reserve Grand Champion, and Whitney Waterman was named Grand Champion.

Trifecta: kids, pets & costumes

By AMY ADAMS
news@readthereporter.com

I'm not going to lie. The Pet Parade is my favorite 4-H event. Kids. Pets. Costumes. How can you not love it?

Every year, kids ages two to eight dress up with their beloved pets and parade in front of a cheering crowd. Judges evaluate the costumed entrants according to age ranges: two to three, four to six, and seven to eight. They select reserve and grand champions in each category as well as an overall reserve and grand champion.

This year's entrants did not disappoint. From the creators of last year's chicken in a KFC bucket came "Two Chicks and a Hammer." And perhaps the entry that elicited the biggest response from the crowd was Natalie Allen with her "Fresh From the Grill" rabbit Quincey. Returning participant Tyler Horney dressed as Paul Bunyon with his Jersey cow Blue dressed as Babe the Blue Ox. They took the prize not only for Tyler's four- to six-year-old division but as overall Grand Champion as well.

We don't know if it was Bo-Peep, but someone lost control of a sheep during the Supreme Showmanship awards. He gave it a good try and we could have shorn he had a chance. The shear audacity of the attempt has earned him a place in these pages. We should probably stop bleating around the bush and let ewe know he was eventually captured. (Editor's note: I tried to think of one more pun for this cutline, but I've got mutton.)

Little Boy Blue,

The sheep's in the meadow,
The cow's in the corn.
Where is the boy
Who looks after the sheep?
He's under a haystack,
He's fast asleep!

No, not I,
For if I do,
He's sure to cry!)

Grand Champion has the horse gene

By ANNA MITCHELL
anna@readthereporter.com

The contestants in the Horse Versatility Show paraded their horses around the arena in different events. They showed their skills in riding and controlling the horse, keeping in mind their presentation and style.

For the last competition, riders urged their horses around blue barrels. They showed how quickly their horse could turn and complete the course.

Seth Salgado, who won multiple Grand Champion awards this year, has been riding from a young age.

"I have been riding just about every day of my life since I was probably about 18 months old," Salgado said.

Salgado's mother showed quarter horses until he was around three years old, and his grandmother owned horses, so he has been surrounded by horses from his infancy.

"I got the horse gene," Salgado said.

While the sport is expensive, he said it was worth the money. He said he had a fun time competing in the event.

Turtle & owner have Grand Championship in their pocket

By AMY ADAMS

Through the Pocket Pet Project, youth not only learn about the care, housing, and nutrition of small pets, they also learn responsibility and communication skills.

Participants spent about 10 minutes each with the judges presenting their pets and answering questions. Pets ranged from dwarf hamsters to guinea pigs and from bunnies to bearded dragons. Participants were evaluated in three divisions: third through fifth grades, sixth through eighth grades, and ninth through twelfth grades. A reserve and grand champion were selected in each division.

4-H Farmer Olympics had events you are guaranteed not to see in Paris this year

By RICHIE HALL
sports@readthereporter.com

Hamilton County 4-H Fairgoers got a little taste of the Olympics on Sunday, July 21, farmer style.

The annual Farmer Olympics took place in the Show Arena, where 4-H'ers of all ages had a wild time competing in activities such as sack racing, clothes pinning, as well as transporting watermelons, sod bags and each other up and down the arena. There were two categories: Senior and Junior.

In the middle of it all was 4-H Queen Cheyenne Boggs. She was there as a cheerleader, encouraging the competing teams as they vied for first place.

"I've been in Farmer Olympics since the year that I could," said Boggs. "Me and my friends growing up, we had different costumes. The one that I always like to talk about is, it was Farmer Boggs, my last name, and her Barn Cats. So, all my friends were cats and I was a farmer."

Boggs moved into a supporting role with the Farmer Olympics a couple years ago when some of her friends joined the 4-H Council.

"I think supporting the kids is better than competing against them at some point," said Boggs. "So, that's when I started supporting them."

In addition to the competition in the arena, there was also a costume contest. The Senior costume winner was the Emotion Rollercoaster team, with members decking themselves out in wigs, face paint and fluorescent colored tights.

The Junior Costume winner went to the Willy Wonka team, which included several members dressed as Oompa Loompas.

"There are some that I did not expect, that's for sure," said Boggs. "These kids go all out for it and they think about it months ahead of time. You've got to give these kids some credit."

With beautiful weather, tasty treats and abundant activities, everyone we saw at the 2024 4-H Fair was all smiles. Here are just a few of the literal thousands of photos we took this year. (Above left) AnnaMarie Belt, Adeline Allen, Seth Salgado, and Rebekah Vanderpool ready to take care of customers at the Junior Leader Shack. (Above right) Vickie Stemper, Justin Grantham, and Josie Grantham give The Reporter's camera a smile while getting some Sheriff schwag. (Left) Gina McDonald, and Owen McDonald show off the ever-popular 4-H Fair elephant ears. (Right) Mavis Doty and Luna Doty got into the food at the 4-H Fair.

With so much to see, we could do this till the cows come home . . . What's that you say? Oh. Then I guess it's time for that auction story.

I have a 25, I oughta get 35 and now a 50 make it 50

By ANNA MITCHELL & STU CLAMPITT

First Farmers Bank & Trust supports over 30 4-H auctions in Indiana and Illinois. Senior Vice President and Chief Lending Officer Jeff Rodibaugh said the auctions are an important part of every 4-H Fair.

Rodibaugh and many other leaders and officers at First Farmers are former 4-H members. They are personally invested in the participants' successes and believe that it is important to reward and encourage them for all their hard work.

"We see it as a very important way to give back to the next generation of leaders in our communities by helping to support them," Rodibaugh said. "We feel it's important to continue to encourage them to work hard and to see value and return for that hard work that they put in over the course of the year that they may have that livestock project."

The children auctioning off their animals receive many benefits. They learn valuable life lessons by caring for their animals.

"Some of the value of the livestock project is just the life lessons that are learned," Rodibaugh said. "Everything from economical life lessons to the life and death and caring for another animal that are just so important in society. Sometimes we get selfish, and when you're taking care of another animal, I think it makes you a better human being."

There are also benefits in life well beyond the bounds of 4-H.

Gaylor Electric's Jim Crews has been attending 4-H auction on behalf of the company for years, and like Rodibaugh, sees it as a way to support the kids and reinforce the value of hard work. But Crews said Gaylor is more likely to hire long-term 4-H'ers because of the work ethic they have to demonstrate to succeed.

"We'd love to hire a bunch of 4-H kids because they realize that they've got to get up every day that they get fed or walked or cleaned up the barn," Crews said. "It's every day for months. Those are the kids that understand that every day you've got to do some work. It's not like, 'well, I don't feel like it today.' That's why we like farm kids and also kids that are involved in other projects. It's a good experience."

Rodibaugh also sees 4-H as a path toward success in life.

"You're utilizing these animals to raise kids and raise the next generation of community leaders," Rodibaugh said. "I think that's why it's so important to invest in them and encourage them, no matter if they've got the highest quality animal or they've got an animal that they just did a good job taking care of – it's important to encourage them. There is always value in working hard and taking care of another living thing."

Before this year's auction began, it was announced that Gary Reynolds would add $50 to each winning bid as a way to honor the memory of his late wife, Cindy, and help 4-H'ers in her name.

You just never know who you might run into at the 4-H Fair. (Above) Hamilton County Superior 6 Judge Stephenie Gookins and Gaylor Electric CFO Jim Crews chat before the auction on July 23. The event was complete with a surprise gift from the Reynolds family to every 4-H kid present, refreshments handed out by young 4-H'ers, and a very talented auctioneer. In the words of Leroy Van Dyke from his song "The Auctioneer," "He said, 'Oh my, it's do or die. I've got to learn that auction cry. Gotta make my mark and be an auctioneer!'"

CONGRATULATIONS HAMILTON COUNTY 4-H MEMBERS

In the end, it is all about relationships

The REPORTER

When we started bringing 4-H results back into print in 2022, the goal was to get every kid's name in the newspaper and, hopefully, live up to the name "Hamilton County's Hometown Newspaper."

Now, it's all about the relationships in this community.

It is about friends and families coming together at the fair. It is about giving as much as we can to the Meating the Need program to help our neighbors who are struggling in a horrible economy. And it is about bringing all our community partners together to help with all the above.

"The Hamilton County 4-H Fair is a wonderful place for people to gather, enjoy great food, display talent, and to learn about and appreciate farming and animals. It's a celebration of our relationship with nature," Duke Energy Government and Community Relations Manager Mark LaBarr said. "The Hamilton County 4-H Fair is a great venue to support Hamilton County Harvest Food Bank's Meating the Need program. It's a natural fit for HCH to purchase products locally from 4-H members at the livestock auction to be distributed locally. Thanks to all who make that possible."

Purdue Extension staff are the ones behind the scene who make it all happen, and they too know it's about relationships.

"Any of the 4-H'ers will tell you what they remember from the 4-H experience is the friends that they made at the fair and at the club meetings and the different activities," Purdue Extension's Lisa Hanni told The Reporter. "That's what they take away from the 4-H program in addition to all those life skills that they're learning from the program."

The owners and staff of The Reporter are proud to be a small part of the web of relationships that make Hamilton County the great place it is.

Now, without further ado, here is the name of every single 4-H kid who participated this year …

Without the hard work and dedication of the ladies in the Purdue Extension office, there would be no fair. Thank you, for all the things you do!
